

TWENTY-SECOND YEAR.

LAST EDITION.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1905.

TWO CENTS.

OPPOSING ARMIES ARE INTRENCHING IN NEW POSITIONS

Otherwise Everything Is
the Front.

Several Minor Attacks
Were Made on Saturday and Sunday.

No Apparent Advantage
Was Won By Either Side.

Tokio, Feb. 6. (non-official announcement) is made that everything is quiet in the vicinity of Changshan with the exception that the Russians are strenuously intrenching.

The Russian force which attacked Chingshan Feb. 4 retired northward Feb. 5.

On the afternoon of Feb. 4 and the morning of Feb. 5 the Russian artillery, west of Tangshan, shelled Manchurian mountain and vicinity.

Small bodies of Russian infantry attacked, but they were repulsed.

Before abandoning Songshan in northeastern Korea, Jan. 24, the Russians burned all their stores.

It is thought that the Russians intend to abandon all operations in northeastern Korea.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 6.—Telegraphing under date of Feb. 5, Gen. Kuropatkin reports as follows:

A Russian detachment marched to Santziz, twelve miles southwest of Shengyang. The Japanese at Santziz and Shengyang were repulsed. The Russian losses were insignificant.

The Japanese assumed the offensive along the line to Chanchuanzhi today. Several of their batteries advanced, but the Russian artillery repulsed them.

SMALL FORCE AT LIAO YANG. Sachatun, Manchuria, Sunday, Feb. 6.—Chinese arrivals here report that the only Japanese force at Liao Yang is composed of a few gendarmes and police, though 200 troops are quartered in nearby villages. The higher officials live at the railroad station, where a large commissariat and ammunition depot has been established.

Large quantities of rice, fish, sugar, etc., are stored there. The railroad from Port Arthur to Liao Yang is intact. The railroads of the Japanese are constructing from the Yalu river to Liao Yang is not completed. Meanwhile the Japanese have built a narrow gauge road for horse traction.

GRIPPING LEAVES. Russian Headquarters, Hunan Mountain, Feb. 5.—Lieut. Gen. Gripenburg, former commander of the second Manchurian army, left here today for St. Petersburg.

The Japanese are feverishly fortifying their east flank and center, evidently apprehending a Russian offensive move. The Russian movement on the Hun river having demonstrated the possibility of operations, despite the winter. The Japanese are attempting vainly to take the Russian wing northwest of Sandegga.

MANY MINERS
RESUME WORK

Believe That Government Will Readjust Their Difficulties.

Berlin, Feb. 6.—Two to three thousand coal miners who struck in the Silesian district returned to work today, believing that the government's bill now in preparation will readjust their relations with their employers.

The government's proposed law limits the working day to nine hours in galleries where the temperatures are about 70 degrees Fahrenheit, including the time going in and coming out of the mines. In temperatures of 24 degrees and higher only six hours a day is permitted. Within two or three years the nine-hour day is to be shortened to eight and one-half hours.

About nine-tenths of the miners of Germany come within these provisions. The disallowing of the cars of coal because of the presence of foreign substances is to be forbidden. Fines may be assessed, but these must not exceed $1 to $1.50 per month. Overhaul is to be paid for at the highest rate.

Workers' committees shall be recognized by mine owners as representing the miners.

Making the present condition of the miners worse in any particular than it is now is forbidden.

Here Sachtle, a member of the Reichstag, speaking at an immense meeting of miners at Essen yesterday, said that the government's bill only concerned four out of fourteen demands of the strikers and was not fully satisfactory.

Charleroi, Belgium, Feb. 6.—As a result of the decision of the miners' congress yesterday to declare a general strike to begin today, work was completely suspended this morning at eight collieries and there was a partial strike at thirteen others. Work is proceeding as usual at twelve collieries.

OFFICER ATTEMPTS TO ASSASSINATE THE FINNISH PROCURATOR

Enters House at Helsingfors and Fires Several Shots.

Late Report Says That the Procurator Was Killed.

His Son Was Also Struck
By One of the Bullets.

Stockholm, Feb. 6.—A dispatch from Helsingfors, Finland, says: Senate Procurator Johnson was assassinated at his residence today by a man in uniform. An officer entered his house, drew a revolver and fired several shots killing Johnson instantly.

Johnson's son, who rushed to his father's assistance, was wounded. The assassin, who gave the name of Alexander Gadd, was arrested.

Johnson was a Finn, but was very unpopular because of his pro-Russian tendencies.

The report of the assassination of Senate Procurator Johnson is incorrect. The would-be assassin fired several shots but he did not hit Johnson.

Johnson's son, however, was struck by one of the bullets.

London, Feb. 6.—A dispatch to a news agency from Helsingfors, Finland, says:

"The report of the assassination of Senate Procurator Johnson is incorrect. The would-be assassin fired several shots but he did not hit Johnson."

Johnson's son, however, was struck by one of the bullets.

London, Feb. 6.—A few factories were enabled to partially resume work this morning following the return of some of the employees.

The majority of the strikers, however, are still out and attempt to prevent the return of some of the workers from returning to their employment. Soldiers are guarding the factories and they do not permit mail-carriers to enter.

Later several conflicts occurred between Cossacks and strikers at the Helsingfors railway station.

A Cossack and a workman were killed and fifteen strikers were wounded.

Batoum, Caucasus, Feb. 6.—With the exception of one factory, which is partially working, all the factories and oil wells and many warehouses and shops are closed because of the strike.

The railroad stations have been closed and the footpaths have been closed. Patrols manage to maintain order among the crowds in the streets, but the traffic is suspended.

The full of snow and sleet, varying from one to three inches, extended as far as Louisville and several miles of the railroad have been wilfully damaged.

For several hours Atlanta and New Orleans were cut off from the rest of the country. All wires were down from Memphis to Natchez, New Orleans, and the telegraph companies sent messages for those points to New York and down the coast, but even this service was interrupted for a time.

At Chattanooga the streets were filled with broken wires and a Western Union lineman was killed by a live wire.

The wires and telegraph poles were turned over to avoid further damage to pedestrians and linemen.

UNCLE SAM WILL SOON HAVE A SMALL FLOATING NAVY YARD

New York, Feb. 6.—A strange craft is nearing completion at the New York navy yard. It is in fact a "miniature floating navy yard" and will take its first plunge into the waters of the East river in about six weeks.

When the craft is completed the United States navy will be in possession of a floating repair shop, the like of which has never been seen, and one which, according to the officials of the navy yard, will make it possible to repair cruisers, gunboats, torpedo boats and torpedo boats wherever there is water enough to anchor.

The craft is about 120 feet long, 40 feet wide, and will draw about six feet of water.

It is built entirely of steel and every inch of space has been utilized. At one end will be a steam derrick capable of lifting twenty tons, while at the other end will be the boilers that will furnish steam to operate dynamos, air compressors and the derrick. Amidships will be the navy yard proper.

Practically every machine used in repairing ships will be installed on board. In this space, including a miscellaneous assortment of electrical and pneumatic lathes, drills, slotters, shears, punches, etc.

The apparatus will be capable of taking off the smaller guns on battleships and armored cruisers and of making minor repairs to the superstructure and interior of great ships. There is nothing particularly remarkable about the floating navy yard except a hole below the water line that cannot be attended to. The roof will be fitted with a number of big skylights, which can be opened or closed at will, and through which ordnance and parts of ships can be lowered to the shops.

The craft is practically non-sinkable, but must be towed, as there is no propelling machinery aboard. Should the experiment prove successful, larger ones will at once be constructed.

MADDENED HUSBAND FILLS HIS WIFE'S PARAMOUR FULL OF LEAD

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 6.—Maddened by the alleged infidelity of his wife, James C. Kennedy, foreman at the plant of the Union Spring and Manufacturing company at New Kensington, fired bullets into the body of Howard M. Ebner, a young telegraph operator, yesterday. Kennedy gave himself up immediately after the shooting and was lodged in jail here. Mrs. Kennedy was also arrested and is being held as an accomplice. The shooting was seemingly planned with deliberation. Kennedy and his wife lived in Ebner's house at 1144 Broadway, the family of J. M. Lynch. Ebner boarded with the latter. Ebner was night agent at Pittsburg for the Pennsylvania railroad and Kennedy knew he would return from work yesterday morning on a train which arrives from Blueburg at 9:25 o'clock. He kept watch until Ebner, who was accompanied by Lynch, came in sight. He then left the house and walking up to the man, pressed the revolver against Ebner's body and fired two shots, both taking effect. The wounded man started to run. Kennedy stood still and fired three more shots. Kennedy then started in pursuit, throwing the empty shells from his revolver as he ran and replacing them with two more cartridges. Ebner had by this time reached the back door of the boarding house, where he fell, face downward, a few feet from the door. Kennedy strode to the police station and surrendered. Last week Kennedy is said to have discovered that Ebner had been carrying whisky to the mine and giving it to Mrs. Kennedy, while the husband was at work.

CHADWICK CREDITORS NUMEROUS BUT THEIR CLAIMS ARE UNKNOWN

Receiver Presents List In United States Bankruptcy Court.

Only Foots Up $63,310, But Will Exceed $2,000,000, It Is Believed.

Foreign Creditors Appear to Amount of $17,142 For Merchandise.

Cleveland, Feb. 6.—Receiver Loesser filed a list of the creditors of Mrs. Chadwick, together with the amount due each, so far as known, in the United States bankruptcy court today.

While it is understood, unofficially, that Mrs. Chadwick's debts will aggregate close to $2,000,000, the claims thus far presented to the receiver foot up a total of only $63,310. The list, as filed today, shows that the sums due the big creditors are as follows:

Adrian De Leveau, Paris, France, accepted draft for merchandise, $350,000. Kilpatrick & Co., New York, for jewelry, $35,000.

Scores of other creditors' names are given who hold claims running from a few dollars up to $1000.

Mrs. Chadwick and her attorneys refused to furnish any information concerning her creditors and in the absence of such assistance, Receiver Loesser filed the list for her, so far as obtainable. The names of other creditors and amounts due them, will be added as fast as they become available.

Harold Remington, referee in bankruptcy today, set Feb. 17 as the date for the meeting of Mrs. Chadwick's creditors, at which a trustee will be elected to take charge of her property.

The meeting will be held in Mr. Remington's office.

EXTERMINATION OF PRIVATE CAR LINES

Demand By Mr. Ferguson In His Address to Senate Committee.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Hearings before the interstate commerce committee of the senate on the subject of private car lines was resumed today, E. M. Ferguson, of Duluth, Minn., representing a number of jobbing associations, continuing his statement.

Mr. Ferguson said that in order to get around the requirement to publish rates the Santa Fe operates about 5000 cars under a separate system or corporation distinct from the railroad corporation. During the hearings Mr. Ferguson referred to the fact that the railroad, and Senator Newlands asked why reference to that road was so frequently made.

"Because we have been able to get hold of a contract between that line and the Armour Car Line company, and it is of that contract I am speaking," said Mr. Ferguson.

He concluded with a demand for the extermination of the private car line companies. He said he believed that the majority of the railroads will favor the elimination.

E. F. Perry and Robert Higbee, of New York, representing the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' association, were recognized. Mr. Perry offered as his statement, resolutions passed by his association, asking for the enactment of a law conferring on the interstate commerce commission power to fix rates. Mr. Higbee will appear at another meeting.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Opposition to federal control of private car lines was presented today before the subcommittee of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce by President Reichman of the Streets' Western stable car line. He detailed the operation of his company to support the contention that it was not engaged in interstate commerce.

George F. Mead, of Boston, president of the National League of Commission Merchants, opposed federal control of private car lines on the ground that these lines were a part of the machinery of interstate commerce and should be controlled through the common carrier.

MILLION DOLLARS IN

Distributed By Steel Corporation
Among Heads of Departments.

New York, Feb. 6.—The United States Steel corporation believes in rewarding faithful service and thereby keeping its experts immune from the tempting offers of rivals. This was amply proved by its January payment of the regular annual bonuses. This year the gifts far exceeded that of any previous year.

A million dollars was distributed by the finance committee on orders from the board of directors among forty heads of subsidiary companies, vice presidents and managers, and presidents of the various steel and iron ore, steamship and railroad companies controlled by the great Steel corporation as a reward for the work successfully accomplished in 1904.

The decision to distribute cash to the meritorious officials this year dates back to a dinner held in city weeks ago, at which the officials of the Steel corporation and the presidents, vice presidents and managers of the scope of more or subsidiary companies of the Steel corporation were present.

There were present also the members of the finance committee, which includes George W. Perkins, of J. P. Morgan & Co.; H. H. Rogers, H. C. Frick, Norman B. Ryan, and E. A. Tilden. It was a gathering of steel combine officials, remarkable in its composition. One of those present described the visiting steel officials in this manner:

"One could search the world over and not find a more intellectual set of men. Physically and intellectually they were strong and big. They would put the United States senate to shame if a comparison were to be made. There was altogether about thirty or forty of these men, vigorous in health and mentality."

"In the entire assembly only two were college men. They were the pick of upward of 250,000 men employed by the Steel corporation, who had pushed their way to the top by sheer force of ability and work. They had every detail of their department at their fingers' ends. One could ask a question and there was no delay for details. It was a remarkable gathering. With such a force of brains at work, working in harmony, results can be accomplished."

J. F. MCGOVERN PASSES AWAY

Mayor of Wabasha Succumbs to Heart Disease on Sunday.

St. Paul, Feb. 6.—A special to the Dispatch from Wabasha says: Hon. J. F. McGovern, present mayor of Wabasha, died yesterday morning, aged 44 years. He had been a patient in the hospital for several years from heart trouble. His friends are numbered by his acquaintances. He had been a resident of this city for twenty-five years, and had practiced law ever since he had been here, being at the time of his death senior member of the law firm of McGovern & Mudgett. He has been county attorney, city attorney, clerk of the school board and held many other offices of trust, and honorably filled them all. He was also affiliated with the following fraternal organizations: Independent Order of Foresters, the Moderns, Woodmen of America, the Ancient Order of United Workmen and the Modern Samaritans.

HE OUTRANKS
THE JUSTICES

Why Speaker Cannon Declined to Dine With President.

Washington, Feb. 6.—To "Uncle Joe" Cannon, the speaker of the house, belongs the distinction of being the first man who has declined to dine at the White House since Mr. Roosevelt became president, and all social and official Washington stood still in astonishment when it heard the news.

"Uncle Joe" was invited to the state dinner which was given last Thursday night to the supreme court. It was decreed that since this dinner was to be the members of the supreme court, it was not to be a social occasion, but a business one. In what he claimed that he as speaker of the house could not dine with the president, and he begged the president to excuse him.

The president did, and will doubtless be the speaker of the house, but the position of his full rank without offending his guests of the evening. It is explained that if the president had done anything else than to give the supreme court of the United States the precedence at the dinner given especially to its members the dignified judges would have felt mortally affronted and some of them might have marched out and gone home, leaving the dinner untasted.

But what Washington is wondering about is what the plain folk of Danville, Ill., will say when they hear what their democratic idol, the chief of the clan of plain people, has been doing.

When Speaker Cannon learned that the court, to whom the dinner was to be given, were to be accorded precedence over him, he sat himself down and jumbled the words of his mind. He was so confused that he could not remember what he said, but he claimed that he as speaker of the house could not dine with the president, and he begged the president to excuse him.

Being alone Mrs. Curd became thoroughly frightened as the dogs, infuriated because of the near approach of the woman, began to bark and growl. She drove faster and faster, but the dogs kept up with her and made strenuous efforts to get into the buggy.

Mrs. Curd had all she could do to keep the wheels of the buggy running over the wheels of the dogs. Several of the hounds were injured by the wheels of the buggy running over them. After an exciting drive and in an exhausted condition she reached home, where her husband succeeded in driving the hounds away.

It was explained that the faithful dogs were turned from the original trail by the smell of the furs in Mrs. Curd's possession, and that they were coming across the road when she was driving away them.

FIVE BUSINESS HOUSES BURNED AT CRYSTAL FALLS.

Crystal Falls, Mich., Feb. 6.—Five business houses in the lower portion of the city were burned today. Loss, $50,000; insurance, about $10,000.

EVANS IS HELD.

Bedford, Ind., Feb. 6.—Justice McLaughlin today rendered his decision in the preliminary hearing of Frank Evans and Elmer Browning, charged with the murder of Miss Sarah Schaefer. Evans was released and Browning was held to the grand jury, which will meet Feb. 20.

It was explained that the faithful dogs were turned from the original trail by the smell of the furs in Mrs. Curd's possession, and that they were coming across the road when she was driving away them.

RURAL CARRIERS.

Washington, Feb. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry F. Hopfensperger has been appointed a regular and Theodore Bethke a substitute rural carrier on Route No. 2, at Morgan, Minn.

A WEAK AND FALSE NOTION

Will Be Conveyed to Students By Inaugural Parade.

New York, Feb. 6.—In an address to the undergraduates Chancellor McCracken, of New York university, today, expressed himself as opposed to the plan to have college men in the inaugural parade at Washington, saying:

"My first objection is that the whole plan would convey to students a weak and false notion regarding the best way of extending patriotism. It asks nothing from the brains of the students."

It asks for their legs and feet. This call to prove our patriotism by marching is like a demand that we prove our religion by ceremony and genuflection."

SHIPWRECKED SAILORS BROUGHT INTO PORT.

New York, Feb. 6.—The Atlanta transport liner Mesaba, from London brought into port today eight distressed and shipwrecked seamen, who had been taken off the three-masted schooner Amenda, of St. John, N. F., which was sinking at sea. The wreck was set on fire before it was abandoned.

BUSINESS GOOD

The Northwestern Lines Handle More Freight Than Last Winter.

Passenger Traffic Shows Decrease In Past Few Months.

Local railroad men claim that roads entering the head of the lakes region have been doing an exceptionally good freight business during the past month, and for the preceding winter months, for that matter, while the passenger men complain that the cold weather and other causes have put their business, to use the railroad men's vernacular, in a condition where it "is all shot to pieces."

Travel throughout the Northwest, whether on the lines entering Duluth or on Twin City lines, according to the traveling passenger agents, has been very light for the past two months or more, but they all express hope of seeing business pick up right along through the coming months.

The shipments from Duluth by rail have continued heavy this winter, and the aggregate tonnage moved, it is claimed by some of those in authority to speak, has been heavier than for corresponding months a year ago.

Takes for instance, the coal shipments from the head of the lakes. The reports which are being turned in to the general freight office of the various roads show that there has been a handsome increase over coal shipments for January, over the movement a year ago.

This may not be shown true of almost one point, for there are three coal shipping points at this end of the lake, Duluth, Superior, and South Superior, but the aggregate shows a larger amount moved. Where, for instance, the highest reports will show an amount moved by one road from Duluth, last month, practically the same as the amount moved for the same month a year ago.

While the weather has been continued quite cold, there has not been so long a period of low temperature as a year ago this season of the year, but more coal is being shipped out to the country points now than then.

This is, it is claimed, due to the fact that at the time coal was most needed last season there were not the cars available to move it. The local roads also have better supplied this winter to take care of the country trade depending on these three mentioned coal districts.

Every now and then something is heard about a car shortage, but, in the main, the lines doing business at the head of the lakes have profited by past years' experience and there has been a far better management of the car supply than that which has had for many winter seasons past. It may be said that there has been no serious car shortage at this point during the past winter.

The steam coal shipments continue in about the same volume as last year, but the hard coal shipments have increased.

If you want a good business administration of public affairs, vote for Edward R. Ribenack for alderman, Fifth ward.

LEADS TO HELL

Judge Tells Young Girl the Road She Is Following.

Sad Story of Ruin Exposed In Municipal Court.

"There is only one end to the road you are leading. The end is straight and broad and it leads to hell," said Judge Winckler to a 16-year-old girl, who was arraigned in municipal court this morning on the charge of disorderly conduct.

Not even a small percentage of the girls who tread that path escape. The percentage of those who are destroyed morally and physically is 100.

The girl came to Duluth from her home on a farm in the southern part of the state. For a time she was an inmate of a disorderly house in Superior, but left it a few days ago and came back to Duluth.

She followed up the bad associations she had formed in Superior and began a life of dissipation in this city. Yesterday afternoon she was found drinking and carousing in a saloon in West Duluth with a young man who has a notorious reputation in that part of the city.

The two were arrested by Patrolman Huchard and Lieutenant Briggs and arraigned in the municipal court on a charge of disorderly conduct. They pleaded guilty to the charge.

After his lecture to the girl, Judge Winckler sentenced her to the training school for girls at Red Wing, to remain until she is twenty-one years of age or until released for good behavior. The man was given a jail sentence.

WHITEWASHING IS INTIMATED
Illinois Committee Refuse to Hear Comerford Charges Read.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 6.—Representative Frank D. Comerford, author of the charges of corruption that precipitated the legislative investigation now in progress gave his fellow senators today a still greater shock. He attempted to read what he called a bill of particulars, reinforcing his attack and giving charges in detail for more sweeping investigation.

The document read, after half an hour's deliberation in the committee announced that a full investigation would be made of everything touched upon in the bill. A heated wrangle ensued. Mr. Comerford intimating that there was but a faith and an attempt to whitewash.

New York Police Find Additional Wives of Hoch.

New York, Feb. 6.—Johann Hoch, who is being held in this city to await the arrival of extradition papers from Chicago, is not likely to start for that city until Wednesday or later. He was arraigned in court again today and remained to police headquarters pending the receipt of the papers.

Detective Foy said the papers had been in Albany since Friday, awaiting not paid the signature of Governor Higgins. It is expected that the papers will be received Wednesday morning, when Hoch will be rearraigned.

The New York police announced today that they had discovered two women whom Johann Hoch had married, one of them, the police said, is Mrs. Minnie Westphal, of Jersey City, whom Hoch is said to have married in 1898 under the name of William Frederick Bessing and from whom he is said to have secured $900. The name of the other woman is not disclosed by the police but they say Hoch married her in 1897 and secured $200 from her.

Detectives working on the case today said that a glass tube containing white powder believed to be poisonous, was found last week in the room formerly occupied by Hoch in this city.

SKATING TOURNAMENT!

EXTRADITION PAPERS WILL BE FORWARDED.

New York, Feb. 6.—When Mrs. Brodie L. Duke was arraigned in police court today for her alleged examination, it developed that the Texas authorities had not, as has been reported, given up their intention of securing her extradition to that state. Just before court opened District Attorney Jerome received a message from Governor Panham of Texas stating that extradition papers would be forwarded soon.

PLANS FOR SEWERS

Engineer Prepares Estimates For Two New Sewer Systems.

The Plans Cover Duluth Heights and Lester Park.

Plans for two new sewer systems will be submitted to the council this evening by City Engineer McGilvray.

The council at a meeting last fall, called for plans and estimates of cost for sewer systems for the territory beyond Lester river, and for Duluth Heights. In accordance with these resolutions the city engineer has prepared the plans.

The system for Duluth Heights will involve an expenditure of $68,569. This will provide for the fifth and sixth divisions of Duluth Heights and will give mains large enough to take care of Maple Grove and Lester river sewerage for that district.

The system will drain into Brewery creek through a septic tank. The system will connect with 1750 city lots, making an average cost of $35.55 per twenty-five foot lot for the sewer and a total cost of $77.72 per lot for the sewer and outlet combined. The cost of the outlet and the intercepting sewer, which is included in the total of $68,569, will amount to $2700.

The sewer system for the district lying East of Lester river will include the land between the fifth and sixth divisions of Duluth Heights and will give mains large enough to take care of Maple Grove and Lester river sewerage for that district.

The estimates will be submitted to the council tonight and fled away for future reference, whenever there shall arise a demand for sewer construction in either of these districts.

TWO HUNDRED DELEGATES
Y. M. C. A. Convention Will Be a Representative Gathering.

Over 200 delegates from all parts of the state and from North and South Dakota will be present at the convention of the Y. M. C. A., which opens in Duluth Thursday morning.

Among the prominent speakers who will be present at the convention will be George D. McDill, international secretary of the railroad department of the association, Mr. McDill was formerly chief clerk in the Union Pacific offices at Omaha, and he is well known to many of the railroad men at the head of the lakes.

Rev. J. S. Montgomery, of Minneapolis, will also speak. He is one of the best known pastors in the Twin Cities, and has recently accepted a call to the Trinity M. E. church in Denver, the largest Methodist church in Colorado.

The Y. M. C. A. quartet will be present. Harry George will replace Paul Gilbert, who is at present conducting some evangelical work in Liverpool, England.

The majority of the delegates will be entertained in the homes of Duluth citizens, who have offered to provide for them.

SALARY OF ATTORNEY
Wording of Code Much Discussed Matter Just Now.

The new code now before a committee of the legislature is the subject of much discussion at the courthouse these days. One of the things that have arisen for discussion is the matter of the county attorney's salary. According to the new code, in counties where the population is less than 1000 the salary of the county attorney is to be fixed at $2000 which is $500 less for this county than it is now. But there is a dispute among officials at the courthouse as to whether or not this cannot be a figure not exceeding $2000 a year.

The law covering this office says that the county board shall fix the salary of the county attorney, but it does not say if the amount as fixed is found inadequate the county board may increase it. The county board may similarly fix the salary of the county clerk.

The liquor license law is to be enforced strictly and impartially, with a view to the removal of the evils of intemperance. The influence of the Dominion alliance in the province was thrown at the provincial election for candidates who will strive for the leadership process by the alliance. In the event the candidates of both parties being unfavorable to temperance legislation, the nomination of an independent temperance candidate was advised, and this recommendation was followed, and on the whole the temperance cause in the new legislation has been strengthened. The anti-election manifesto of the alliance declared that under present conditions this country the liquor evil can be met most effectively by legislation abolishing the bar and treating system, and drinking in clubs, and imposing upon the liquor traffic such other restrictions as most effectively will curtail its operation and remedy its evils.

SCHEME OF REFORM

To Be Inaugurated By New Premier of Ontario.

Expected to End Land Grant and Other Abuses.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 6.—James H. Whitney takes office as premier of Ontario, pledged to inaugurate an extensive scheme of reform. A rigid investigation of the principal departments of the government is to be undertaken at once. The books and accounts of some of these departments, dealing with millions of public money, never have been properly audited since the Liberals first assumed control, thirty-two years ago.

Improvements in the breeds of cattle are to be made for the special purpose of promoting the meat trade with Great Britain, now practically monopolized by United States shippers. Legislation will be introduced facilitating public ownership of public utilities. Transportation charges are to be tackled. An educational council consisting of experts, representing all the provinces, is to be formed to adapt the educational system of the province to the needs of the people, is to be created.

The liquor license law is to be enforced strictly and impartially, with a view to the removal of the evils of intemperance. OF VITAL INTEREST To Railroad Stockholders Is Rate Bill Before Congress.

New York, Feb. 6.—President Underwood of the Erie road has sent out a circular to stockholders of that company, in which he says: "It is obvious that the owners of railroad securities have a vital interest in the disposition of the bill relating to interstate commerce, now under consideration by the committee of congress. Any law enacted that will prevent the cutting of rates, unjust discriminations and all other dishonest practices would be beneficial, not only to the public in general, but to the railroads as well. It is, however, the opinion of those who have had the best opportunity for studying the situation that it would be a serious mistake to have a bill passed authorizing the interstate commerce commission to fix rates for transportation."

The circular suggests that the congressional committee now considering the matter will doubtless appreciate the views of stockholders as well as all others interested in the welfare of the country.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Acting under instructions of the Republican caucus the house committee on rules today agreed on a rule to govern the consideration of the railroad rate bill in the house. The rule provided for general debate, beginning immediately after the adoption of the resolution, and being continued until the bill is reported to the floor. The rule also provided that the bill should be taken up for consideration on the day after it is reported to the floor.

BROTHERS HELD

For the Murder of Young Girl in West Virginia.

Pretty Rose White Killed a Few Days Before Christmas.

Logan, W. V., Feb. 6.—After four days spent in patient and searching investigation, the Logan county grand jury has made a finding in the Rose White murder case. As a result of the labors of the jury, three indictments have been made against Floyd Stollings, charging murder in the first degree, and a joint indictment against Ballard Stollings, his brother and Ballard's wife, who are being held as accessories before the fact. The work of the jury, the number and prominence of the witnesses summoned to testify before them and the nature of the crime, which depicted the beautiful young girl of life, have tended to revive and accentuate interest in the case. White was for weeks been the chief theme of conversation among the people throughout the southern section of West Virginia. Sixty summonses were executed, and out of the total only one witness failed to respond.

One surprising feature of the case is that the wife of Ballard Stollings was indicted jointly with her husband. Before the convening of the grand jury it had not been rumored that she was in any way identified with the murder. Friday she was arrested by Sheriff Moore, and she now occupies a cell in the county jail almost directly across the corridor from that in which her husband is incarcerated.

A few days prior to last Christmas Rose White, the daughter of a farmer near the town of Whitesburg, was murdered. She was a beautiful girl, about 18 years of age, and was well known in the community. Her father, a farmer, was a prominent man in the community. She was a very popular girl, and was well known in the community.

Stephens from her home an hour before the murder. She was a very popular girl, and was well known in the community. She was a very popular girl, and was well known in the community.

There was a heavy snow on the ground, and the discovery of the body of the girl was made by a hunter. The body was found in a field, and was in a very bad state of preservation. The girl was a very popular girl, and was well known in the community.

As his assistants, Prosecutor Chadwick has secured Mr. Marcus, of Huntington, and John Stafford, of Williams, both noted criminal lawyers. These men command high fees, and in order to engage their services to assist in the prosecution of the slayers of Rose White.

WANTS TWO DIVORCES

At Same Time and From Same Man.

Richmond, Ind., Feb. 6.—A peculiar divorce case was filed here by Mrs. Clyde Buxley Amrein, who asks legal separation from Peter John Amrein and from John C. Hoffman, who, strangely enough, are one and the same man. In June, 1902, they were married in the city of Chicago. The ceremony was performed by a priest, and the couple were married in the city of Chicago. The ceremony was performed by a priest, and the couple were married in the city of Chicago.

Later his wife learned that his real name was Amrein and she insisted on a second marriage. The ceremony was again performed in 1903, the true name of the husband being used. A child was born to them, and another child came into their home after the second ceremony.

In filing divorce proceedings Mrs. Amrein was in a quandary as to whether the securing of a divorce would annul the first marriage. She consulted the attorney, and he advised her to file for divorce from both men. She did so, and the court has granted her the divorce from both men.

upon as "lucky" charms, as well as little colored porcelain flowers to hang from chains, the color depending upon the month in which one was born. Thus, blue is the color for January, red for February, yellow for March, violet for April, white for May, pink for June, mauve for July, cream or beige for August, green for September, gray for October, orange for November, while a blackberry of a black pearl stands for December.

There are certain superstitions which are quite noticeable in their way and likely to offend by their ostentatious display, but such a one as that suggests nothing but a dainty little freak of fashion which can hurt no sensibilities.

The same charm carried out in gold, either enameled to represent the color for the month or adorned with little stones chosen to produce the same effect, is likewise to be seen and suggests a pretty, although a more costly alternative. Birds are equally in vogue as porters bonheur, and I have seen the most dainty girl had been provided with as well as others in plain gun metal.

The Matinee Girl.

Serfless: The dominant influence in Broadway is unknown in any European country—her serene highness the Matinee Girl. What insures her popularity is her possession of leisure. Her man is too busy in the pursuit of wealth, too absorbed in the spending of it, to devote his mind and heart to any matter of the imagination. His little sister or some other fellow's little sister does his reading for him, and tells him what plays he is permitted to take her to.

There seems no limit to the power of the Matinee Girl. She is even abolishing that old-time stronghold of the ever-masculine, the balheaded row. The pink tights and powder-puff skirts of old evolved, through half skirts and three-quarter skirts, into flowing draperies in a La Folle Puller. If the goddess of the Matinee Girl had been properly, surely these would have satisfied her. But her ruling passion is not so much modesty as modesty. What Amarty's wants is real gowns, new gowns, rich gowns, fashionable gowns, gowns like those one wears, or wants to, and she is planning for the winter or the spring, here are ideas in abundance. If she hasn't, she can still feast her eyes on the window display of a dissonant that is sublime.

FATHER GOPON GETS SAFELY AWAY FROM THE CZAR'S DOMAIN

Leader Priest Is En Route to England In the Best of Health.

Grave Troubles Reported From Warsaw, Lodz, Radom and Kutno.

New York, Feb. 7.—A Russian priest, who has arrived in Geneva, Switzerland, reports, according to the Herald correspondent there, that Father Gopon, recently leader of the workmen in St. Petersburg, traveled with him to Paris, his final destination being London. Gopon is said to be in the best of health and was not wounded.

Lodz, Russian Poland, Feb. 7.—The factories were opened today but scarcely any of the workmen appeared. At one factory the men worked until lunch time and then left and refused to return, saying they did not want to be killed by a bullet from the street. The situation appears to be growing worse and a critical time is expected Feb. 8, the date on which some of the largest manufacturers have decided to pay their employees the balance of their wages, dismiss them and shut down the mills indefinitely. The strikers are becoming more aggressive. This morning they forcibly entered a mill and destroyed the machinery.

LEFT HER PENNILESS CLOTHES ALL UNION MADE

Hoch Said to Have Got $6000 From New Jersey Woman.

New York, Feb. 7.—Among the numerous women now coming forward in the vicinity of New York claiming that a man answering Johann Hoch's description married them several years ago is Mrs. Wilhelmina Bannister, of Christchurch, N. J. She has not yet seen the prisoner, but has examined his picture. Mrs. Bannister claims to have lost $6000 in her matrimonial venture and is now almost penniless. On May 27, 1903, she said, "I had a prosperous little business in West Nyack, N. Y. A man applied to me for a job as foreman. He gave his name as Johann C. Hoch, and said he came from Chicago. His manner of talking charmed me, and at last he proposed and I decided to marry him. Twenty minutes after the ceremony my husband asked me if I had any money. I told him that I had $6000, and within the next week he had drawn it, and told me that he had just $6000 more, and that he was going to put the $12,000 in a safe investment. He was so nice and kind and kissed me so often that I believed him."

"Every day he would go to the post-office himself and return with a bundle of letters. He never allowed me to read any of them. On Dec. 22, 1903, Schultz disappeared. I heard later that he had been seen in Cincinnati, and threatened to kill me if I did not keep silent. Since that day I never spoke of him. That man stole every penny I owned in the world, and I was left alone with my three children to make my living."

Chicago, Feb. 7.—A variation in the experience of Johann Hoch's alleged wives was told today by Mrs. Anna Kauke-Hoch, of Elgin, Ill. She says she married Hoch as Froie at Aurora, Ill., two years ago. Shortly after the marriage she became violently ill after taking some white powders administered by her husband. A physician gave her an emetic and she believes saved her life. A small portion of the white powder was given to a cat. The cat's death quickly followed.

MISS SCHALLER Is Governor's Choice For Sponsor of Minnesota.

St. Paul, Feb. 7.—If Governor Johnson is invited to name a sponsor for the battleship Minnesota, he will select Miss Rose Marie Schaller, of Hastings, daughter of Senator Albert Schaller. The governor has not been invited as yet, and the published statement that he has selected the sponsor is rather embarrassing to him. However, it is considered certain that the committee will call on the governor of the state to select the young lady who will christen the ship. In private conversation the governor has declared his intention to bestow the honor upon Miss Schaller.

BAYONETTED JAPS. Kuropatkin Reports Slaughter of Fifty In a Village.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 7.—Gen. Kuropatkin reports that a detachment of Japanese, commanded by Prince Masamichi, attacked a village occupied by the Japanese in the night of Feb. 6, bayoneted fifty men and retired without sustaining any loss. The Berlin Tagblatt today printed a report to the effect that Emperor Nicholas, in a letter to the Japanese emperor, threatened him with assassination. An investigation of the rumor elicited a semi-official statement that it was unfounded.

VERY COLD IN IOWA

Mercury at Charles City Registers Twenty-Six Below Zero.

Communication With the Southern Points Is Being Restored.

Des Moines, Feb. 7.—Twenty-one degrees below zero was the minimum reached here today. Charles City is the coldest spot in Iowa, the thermometer registering 26 below at that place.

Memphis, Feb. 7.—Wire communication with Southern points is slowly being restored by the telegraph and telephone companies through the efforts of hundreds of men. The temperature in Memphis today was 18. The situation in North Texas is reported to be the worst in years. A blizzard has been raging over the cattle ranges in the western part of the state and live stock has suffered severely.

Baltimore, Feb. 7.—The ice embargo on Chesapeake bay on coastwise shipping is now complete, only the heavy draught ocean steamers being able to make their way through the dangerous channel to the capes. Not only is the thickness of the ice a cause for concern among shipmasters now, but a rise in the temperature makes a break up of ice and a run out a thing to be expected at any time. Battling with ice in the bay between Cove Point and the Seven-Foot knoll are four big steamers from London, Cardiff, the Yodubra, from New York; the Fryh, from Baltimore; and the Vabon, from Jamaica. These boats have been in the ice since early yesterday.

FORMER RICH GIRL Is Now Forced to Earn Her Living.

New York, Feb. 7.—Mrs. Reginald Foster, grand niece of Ward McAllister, and petted child of fortune, is learning to earn her living by her own hands. She is a New York business school, in order that she may be prepared to fight the world for her own support. The divorce courts freed her from her husband.

Living in a small bedroom of a boarding house in Harlem, the woman who was a courted and flattered belle in Washington before her marriage is now a penniless girl. She is a friend of the small courtier who is still under the spell of her face and form, but she alleges that her husband's cruelty drove her from her home, and that for four years she has lived unhappily.

LOST HER JEWELS. Gems of Minneapolis Woman Disappear at Frisco.

San Francisco, Feb. 7.—E. M. Holbrook, a wealthy lumberman of Minneapolis, who accompanied by his wife, has been spending some weeks in this city, en route for home. He was about to board the Overland train. Mrs. Holbrook discovered that a basket containing jewels valued at $3000 had disappeared on the way from the hotel to the railroad. The travelers placed the matter in the hands of the police, but so far no detectives have succeeded in finding the slightest clue to the missing gems.

GIRL CIRCUIT RIDER Is to Preach the Gospel in Pennsylvania.

Cornellville, Pa., Feb. 7.—Licensed by the United Brethren church as a missionary, Miss Cora Pinkney announced today that she will ride through the fastnesses of Salt Lick and other townships of the Laurel Hill mountains, preaching to the natives of this remote section. Like the pioneer circuit riders who first brought the gospel to the Western slope of the Alleghenies, she will hold open air meetings and will preach from the steps of country stores, from stumps in the forest and in the rude little churches that dot the mountain regions.

BID FOR ARMOR By the Midvale Company Will Be Rejected.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The board of officers appointed by Secretary Morton to investigate the capacity of the several armor plate companies, has recommended that the bid for $600 tons of armor for the battleship New Hampshire, and the armored cruiser North Carolina and Montana, of the Midvale steel company, be rejected, for probable that two-thirds of the contract will be awarded to the Bethlehem and the remaining one-third to the Carnegie company.

PREPARING TO DIE

While Thousands of Persons Are Trying To Save Her.

Many Women Making Every Effort To Save Mrs. Edwards.

Reading, Pa., Feb. 7.—Letters from all parts of the country continue to pour in upon Oliver Jentz, attorney for Mrs. Kate Edwards, who is to be hanged here on Feb. 16, for the murder of her husband. It is estimated that at the meeting of the board of pardons next week petitions signed by 5000 persons will be presented asking for mercy for the woman. The press department of the W. C. T. U. has written that it is trying to get concentrated action on the present entire association in the matter. In the meantime, Mrs. Edwards is preparing for death with her prison-born daughter, Alma, in her cell.

CIRCULAR LETTER Sent In Answer to Requests For Commutation.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 7.—So numerous have been the requests from all over the country from people who wait Governor Pennypacker to commute the life imprisonment of Mrs. Kate Edwards, who is to be hanged at Reading on Feb. 16, that it has been found necessary for the executive department to prepare a circular letter in answer to their requests. This letter quotes the state constitution to show that the governor has no power to commute a death sentence to life imprisonment, except upon the petition of the executive council of the board of pardons.

JOE MANLEY DIES SUDDENLY

Former Political Lieutenant of Blaine Dead In Maine.

Augusta, Me., Feb. 7.—Joseph H. Manley, former chairman of the national executive committee of the Republican party, died suddenly at his home here today. Joseph H. Manley was born in Bangor, Me., Oct. 12, 1842. He was a lawyer by profession and largely interested in and a director of many of the railroads, banks and mills of Maine. He was a delegate to the Republican national conventions in 1872, 1880, 1888 and 1900. He was a member of the Maine house of representatives in 1867, 1868, 1869, 1890, 1900, 1901 and speaker of the house in 1901. He was a member of the state senate in 1903.

ST. BERNARD DOG Finds Little Boy Asleep In the Snow.

St. Paul, Feb. 7.—Lying unconscious and nearly frozen in the snow, 7-year-old Percy Hanley, 344 West Seventh street, was discovered through the intelligence and faithfulness of a large St. Bernard dog, the pet of the family. Saturday morning the boy was standing in front of his playmate's, a few blocks away, but lost his directions and wandered out into the open prairie near by. Numb and exhausted he finally dropped to the ground in the snow, and was found by the dog. The big dog, his nose close to the ground, started on a whim, but soon sort impressed Nero into the search. JOHNSTON IN TROUBLE Because a Girl Said They Were Married.

Marshalltown, Iowa, Feb. 7.—Ira Johnston, of Muscatine, is in a peck of trouble because he consented to allow Margaret Esperson to tell her folks they were married. In order that she might secure possession of her illegitimate child who was in possession of the girl's grandmother in this city. The girl's relatives here published the news of the marriage, and Johnston was not divorced. Mrs. Johnston at once sent a warning to Johnston's aunt and she was brought to this city on the charge of bigamy.

SHIP WILL BE FLOATED. NOT NEW YORK'S BUOY.

Newport, R. I., Feb. 7.—The Nantucket lightship, which is aground in Buzzard's bay, will, it is expected, be floated at high tide today. A wireless dispatch from the lightship said this morning that the gunboat Hist was lying close by and would attempt to release the lightship.

COAL POCKETS BURN. Port Jarvis, N. Y., Feb. 7.—Several coal cars and several small buildings here were burned today. The loss is about $10,000.

END OF CIGARETTES DEMANDED BY BILL IN THE LEGISLATURE

MEASURES DIRECTLY AIMED AT RAILROADS

Are Numerous and Various In the Minnesota Legislature.

Bill To Abolish Hanging In First Degree Murder.

St. Paul, Feb. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The anti-cigarette bill made its biennial reappearance in the house today, and its author is Burdett Thayer, of Spring Valley. It makes it a misdemeanor for anybody to sell, give or keep in stock, cigarettes, cigarette papers, or any substitutes therefor, and the penalty is $50 to $100 fine.

Representative Erickson goes after certain patent medicines strongly in the bill introduced this morning in the house. It provides that nobody may sell patent medicines containing more than 20 per cent of alcohol without first taking out a regular retail liquor license. All such medicines must have printed in bold type upon their labels, the exact percentage of alcohol they contain, and the state, dairy and food department is required to test all medicines to ascertain their exact alcoholic strength. Disobedience of this law is punished. Just the same as the crime of running a "blind pig" is punished.

Representative Walter L. Lemon of St. Paul, introduced a bill requiring all owners of dogs to annually in the house. It provides that nobody may sell patent medicines containing more than 20 per cent of alcohol without first taking out a regular retail liquor license. All such medicines must have printed in bold type upon their labels, the exact percentage of alcohol they contain, and the state, dairy and food department is required to test all medicines to ascertain their exact alcoholic strength. A measure proposing to place the statue of the late Alexander Ramsey as Minnesota's contribution to the galaxy of fame in the statutory hall of the national capital at Washington, was introduced by Senator and ex-Governor A. R. McGill in the senate this morning. It was accompanied by a memorial from the State Historical society asking such action. The bill appropriates $15,000 and makes James J. Hill, (Congressman J. T. McCleary and T. B. Walker a commission to design, erect and install the statue.

MACHEN ET AL ARE IN JAIL

Convicted Men Give Themselves Up to the Authorities.

Washington, Feb. 7.—August W. Machen, former general superintendent of the free delivery postal service, and Diller E. Groff, of this city, both under sentence of two years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine for postal conspiracy, today surrendered themselves to the United States marshal and were placed in the cell room in the city hall. Samuel A. Groff, whose counsel sought to have his removal to the penitentiary deferred because of illness, was ordered brought into court, and later was placed in the cell room with the others.

PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER OF WIFE.

Towanda, Pa., Feb. 7.—In court here today Bigler Johnson pleaded guilty to the charge that he murdered his wife, Maggie B. Johnson, and her niece, Annie Benjamin, 10 years old, on Sept. 18 last and afterwards burned the bodies. He is 26 years old and his wife was 40. At the December term his elder brother, Charles Johnson, was convicted of first degree murder, as an accessory and is now waiting argument on a new trial.

WOULD MOVE THE CAPITAL TO OSHKOSH.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 7.—In the senate today a bill was introduced to change the seat of government of the state of Wisconsin to Oshkosh and appointing a committee to determine the site of the state building.

MOVEMENTS OF THE EMPEROR AND EMPRESS.

Berlin, Feb. 7.—The date of the emperor and empress departure for Italy and of their Mediterranean cruise is fixed with some positiveness for March 23. It is not unlikely that their majesties will meet Prince Adalbert, their third son, in Mediterranean waters on his way home from Asia. The emperor and empress will be away four or five weeks.

INSURRECTION SUPPRESSED.

Buenos Ayres, Feb. 7.—The local newspapers announced today that there is no insurrection in the city of Buenos Ayres, the city to which it had been restricted, without any further fighting. The insurgents surrendered unconditionally and their leaders fled.

NO PEACE IN SIGHT.

London, Feb. 7.—The charge d'affaires of the Russian embassy informed the Associated Press today that there is no peace in the renewed rumors of peace prospects. The Russian attitude, he declared, had not changed. Peace could not be considered under the present conditions.

DEWAR SAILS.

New York, Feb. 7.—Sir Thomas Robert Dewar, M. P., the well known British sportsman, was a passenger on the Deutschland, which sailed today for Naples and Genoa.

SOCIALISTS TURNED DOWN.

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 7.—The journeymen tailors of America today voted down the proposition submitted by the Socialists in the form of a preamble to the constitution, which was an endorsement of the National Socialist party, the vote being 102 to 28.

Would Make It Misdemeanor to Sell or Give Them Away.

Proposal to Place Alexander Ramsey's Statue at Washington.

Scheme to Increase St. Louis County Officers' Salaries Reported.

Representative Walter L. Lemon of St. Paul, introduced a bill requiring all owners of dogs to annually in the house. It provides that nobody may sell patent medicines containing more than 20 per cent of alcohol without first taking out a regular retail liquor license. All such medicines must have printed in bold type upon their labels, the exact percentage of alcohol they contain, and the state, dairy and food department is required to test all medicines to ascertain their exact alcoholic strength. Disobedience of this law is punished. Just the same as the crime of running a "blind pig" is punished.

A measure proposing to place the statue of the late Alexander Ramsey as Minnesota's contribution to the galaxy of fame in the statutory hall of the national capital at Washington, was introduced by Senator and ex-Governor A. R. McGill in the senate this morning. It was accompanied by a memorial from the State Historical society asking such action. The bill appropriates $15,000 and makes James J. Hill, (Congressman J. T. McCleary and T. B. Walker a commission to design, erect and install the statue.

Two bills aimed at the railroad and other mergers were introduced in the senate this morning. By Senator George F. Wilson, of Minneapolis, both are similar to bills introduced last year. One provides that foreign corporations owning stock in corporations organized in this state must appoint resident agents, upon whom service of summons and other process can be made in this state. The other bill prohibits Minnesota corporations from holding stockholders' meetings for the election of directors outside of the state, the penalty for violation of this proposed law is a violation of the charter of the offending corporations and a fine of $500 to $10,000 for each offense.

Senator J. T. Schain introduced a bill requiring the state high school board to exercise general supervision over all school buildings in the state, to condemn any that are unsanitary or unsafe; to pass upon all plans for new buildings or alterations in old ones, etc. If a school district fails to send its plans to the board it is to forfeit its share in the state aid to schools.

Senator Dunn, of Ramsey county, introduced a bill providing for a commission to look into the advisability of locating an asylum for indigent, crippled and deformed children at St. Paul and to report to the next legislature. J. Gillette, Stephen Mahoney and R. O. Earl are named as the members of the proposed commission.

Senator Dunn also introduced a bill authorizing common councils in cities over 50,000, when improvements are made on streets and there is no property to be assessed therefor, to issue bonds not to exceed $10,000 by a two-thirds vote.

Senator Collier introduced a bill making it a crime to wantonly kill any animal punishable by two years in the penitentiary, six months in the county jail or $500 fine.

Senator Collier also introduced a bill putting loan companies under the same provisions as to taxation as banks. He was the author also of a bill providing that county or city employees can get no witness fees for testifying in cases in which the state or municipality is a party when the trial is in the home town or the witness.

Senator J. T. Schain proposes a new election law amending the constitution to effect that petitions for independent candidates can be circulated until after the regular primaries are held.

Senator Johnson put in a bill making the quail season Oct. 15 to Nov. 15.

The senate passed a bill authorizing the governor, auditor and secretary of state to settle timber trespass cases, instead of the auditor alone, as at present.

F. A. Edmund, appointed boiler inspector of St. Paul, was confirmed this morning. Senator McNamee had him.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND DON'T KNOW IT.

To Prove what Swamp-Root, the Great Kidney Remedy, will do for YOU, Every Reader of The Herald May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Free by Mail.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and need attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root the great kidney and bladder remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root will set your whole system right, and the best proof of this is a trial.

Dear Sir:—I am, Jan. 11th, 1905.
"Ever since I was in the army, I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the past year it became so severe and complicated that I suffered everything and was much alarmed—my strength and power was fast leaving me. I saw an advertisement of Swamp-Root and wrote asking for advice. I began the use of the medicine and noted a decided improvement after taking Swamp-Root only a short time.
I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this, I had a doctor examine some of my water to-day and he pronounced it all right and in splendid condition.
I know that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my complete recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers I am,
Very truly yours,
I. C. RICHARDSON.

EDITORIAL NOTE.—In order to prove the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. The value and success of Swamp-Root are so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in The Duluth Evening Herald. The genuineness of this offer is guaranteed.

ASSASSIN IS A STUDENT ON AUTO CARS

Identity of the Murderer of Procurator Is Discovered.

Helsinki, Finland, Feb. 7.—The assassin of Sebastian Schonen, procurator general of Finland who was shot and killed yesterday, at his residence, by a young man dressed in an officer's uniform, has been identified as Karl Louhi Holmström, formerly a student at the Imperial Alexander University here. Holmström, who later lived in Stockholm, returned to Finland, Jan. 12. He maintained absolute silence under examination. Senator Aikman, who has assumed the duties of procurator of the senate, is directing an investigation of the crime. The wounds inflicted on the assassin by the son of Schonen are not of a dangerous character.

ST. LOUIS RAILWAY May Soon Be Controlled By Eastern Capitalists.

New York, Feb. 7.—Negotiations are, according to the World, under way between the North American company and Brown Bros. & Co. for the purchase by the former of control of the 60,000,000 street railway system of St. Louis. The negotiations are said to have been made, but there are several obstacles to be overcome, and pending a settlement of these, it is understood, no formal statement will be made.
The North American company recently bought control of several heating and power corporations in St. Louis. It also operates public utilities in many other large cities of the central and far West.

A COASTING PARTY HAS TRAGIC ENDING

Miss Annie Dunlavy Instantly Killed On West Second Street.

Skull Was Fractured In Collision With Telephone Pole.

While coasting on West Second street last evening, about 9 o'clock, Miss Annie Dunlavy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dunlavy, of 117 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, was almost instantly killed. The accident occurred near Fifth avenue west, on Second street.

Miss Dunlavy was a member of a coasting party, composed of herself, her sisters, Minnie and Mrs. Arthur Riddle, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Doughty, all of 329 Fourth avenue west; Walter Borgen, who is employed by Paine, Webber & Co., and his sister, Cora. The two younger girls had been visiting their married sister, who lives at 215 West Second street, and they and Borgen were tempted by the ideal coasting conditions to make up the bob-sled party.

They proceeded to the top of the hill at Eighth avenue west and Second street, and started down. Mr. Borgen was steering, and behind him sat his sister, Miss Annie Dunlavy, sat immediately behind Miss Borgen.

The bobs gathered momentum, and just at the corner one of the steering ropes snapped, and the sleigh got beyond the control of the steersman. It veered from the center of the road and headed directly for the telephone pole.

The next second the members of the party were thrown from the sleigh into the snow drift. Pigtails and hair whirled about their feet one by one, with the exception of Miss Dunlavy. She lay motionless, and when the others went to her assistance she was found to be unconscious.

The accident occurred almost directly in front of her sister's residence, and she was taken into the house and medical assistance summoned. Drs. Boyer, Patton, Linneman and McCuen answered the call of the horrified friends, but she was dead before any of them reached the house, never having recovered consciousness.

Death was caused by a blow on the base of the skull, which fractured the bone. One of her teeth was knocked out and she was bruised about the chest. Otherwise no wounds were visible to the eye.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunlavy were at their home in West Duluth when the accident occurred. They were notified by Coroner McCuen, and the father immediately called for the aid of the police.

Miss Dunlavy, who was 22 years of age, was well known and popular in the city. Until a few weeks ago she had been employed in Fremont's store at the ribbon counter, and previous to that in the employ of J. C. Webb & Co., and before that in the employ of Bondy's. She leaves six sisters, the Misses Minnie, Nellie, Grace and Kate, Mrs. Arthur Riddle, and Mrs. Ida Cassidy, of Virginia. Two brothers, George and William, are also living.

Her father, Andrew Dunlavy, was formerly president of the village of West Duluth, and is now employed as engineer of the Irving school.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made. The body was taken to Stewart's morgue, where the accident, and will be removed to the home in West Duluth today, where the funeral services will be held.

Thirty days annual sick leave for employees of state hospitals for the insane is provided for in a bill introduced yesterday by Representative J. B. Kelley, of Dakota county.

The Eberhart committee on freight rate discrimination will have another session this afternoon, when the Omaha road will come in for scrutiny.

The request of State Auditor Iverson for an investigation into the charges made against him by the House of Representatives, was referred to the committee on public accounts and expenditures, which is already engaged in an investigation of state officers and officials. In his communication to the house Mr. Iverson stated that he lost $75,000 by the failure of the auditor's office to comply with the law regulating timber cutting on state lands.

Blue Earth, Redwood and Swift counties were heard on yesterday in opposition to the proposed bill.

The house went into committee on the bill yesterday afternoon for the first time, and recommended to pass the bill appropriating $3000 to complete the wing of the state reformatory at St. Cloud.

There will be something of a fight when the senate takes up the bill on education, taking the state university and the normal schools into consideration, and the control and putting the purchasing of supplies for them under purchasing agents. Senator Peachey of the north wing of the senate will push the bill so as to include the state public school at Owatonna, and the fight will be on this issue.

State Auditor Iverson yesterday submitted to the house, and today to the senate, an abstract of the tax lists of the several counties of the state for the year 1904. The total of all taxes levied in the state for 1904 is $20,883,045.17, an increase of $1,000,000 over 1903. The total of all taxes levied for state purposes are $2,615,061.05, against $2,366,527.37 last year, an increase of $248,533.68.

The figures on valuation shows St. Louis county running runner-up in the state. Its valuation is $147,579,941. Ramsey's is $99,240,136, and St. Louis valuation is $92,195,136. The total valuation of the state is $345,597,110.

The total taxes levied in St. Louis county is $2,087,351.75, in Ramsey county $2,657,212, and in Hennepin county $4,628,954.61.

TREATMENT OF PILES.

Permanence of Cure the True Test.

Many so-called pile remedies will afford the user slight temporary relief, and the majority of those afflicted do not expect more than this.

The average sufferer, after having tried every preparation recommended for the cure of piles, comes to the conclusion that there is no cure except by an operation, and rather than undergo this "last resort," he suffers on, resigned to the situation, so far as may be.

The attention of those interested is invited to the following experience: "After ten years of suffering from blind, bleeding and protruding piles, and after using every remedy could hear of without any benefit, I finally bought a fifty-cent box of Pyramid Pile Cure and used it with such good results, I bought next a dollar box, which finished up the job. That was nearly six years ago, and as far as piles are concerned I am cured, and have never felt a symptom of them since."

Many others have used this remedy with the same results, and I always recommend it to sufferers with piles." C. H. Potts, Burlington, Vt.

Testimony like this should convince the most skeptical the Pyramid Pile Cure not only cures, but cures to stay. It is in the form of a suppository, can be applied in the privacy of the home, directly to the parts affected, does its work quickly and painlessly.

Druggists generally sell this famous remedy for five-cent packages, and sufferers are urged to buy packages now and give it a trial tonight. Accept no substitutes.

A little book describing the causes and cure of piles is published by the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., and is sent free to any address on request for the asking.

POSITIVE PROOF Should Convince the Greatest Skeptic in Duluth.

Because it's the evidence of a Duluth citizen.

Testimony easily investigated. The strongest endorsement of merit. The best of proof, recently.

L. P. Schneider, butcher at McAuley's Washington Market, and living at 210 West Fourteenth street, Duluth, Minn., says: "A statement I made in 1898, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, and which has been published in the local papers, very mildly expresses my opinion of that remedy. After suffering for a long time from pain through the back and joints, which made it almost impossible for me to stoop or lift anything without torture, Doan's Kidney Pills cured me, and the cure has been permanent. I am sure that I suffered the worst tortures of kidney trouble. Often the pain felt as if a sharp knife was piercing me. At night, although tired out, I could not rest or lie in one position without getting sore all over. The kidney secretions were irregular and contained a heavy sediment. Since I found this cure I have time after time advised others to use Doan's Kidney Pills, and I never miss an opportunity to speak well of them."

town lots in the state. In spite of the large area of St. Louis county, and the many acres of comparatively wild land, the value per acre of land is third of all the counties of the state. Hennepin county's average is $23.17, Ramsey's is $23.96, and St. Louis' is $25.12. The next nearest is Cass county, with an average valuation of $15.76 per acre. Lake county's average is $4.87, Cook's is $3.87, Lincoln's is $6.05, Aitkin's is $3.97, and Carlton's is $4.02.

St. Louis county is below the average in the average rate of taxation. Its rate is 24.75 mills, and the state's average is 24.77 mills.

OFFICERS DANCE

Annual Ball of Police Relief Association Is Held.

Policemen and Friends Tax Capacity of the Armory.

Duluth's chief of police stood in the balcony at the armory last evening, gazing down at the sea of faces that lay before him. All his trained detective powers were called into play.

"Some place in that gathering is the person I want," he said, "it's up to me to get him. Captain, you guard the main entrance. Detective Terry will take the north wing. Detective Schell will guard the rear entrances and watch the windows. I will take a fair-weather woman in a blue dress to escape as you value your lives."

Then the chief began his hunt on the armory floor which resembled a L-shaped car in the evening.

"She shall not escape me," he hissed. Suddenly his quick eye caught the figure of a woman.

"Ha," he exclaimed, "my long pursuit of Condon Doyle's works tells me that in the crowd there is a woman. He has given a description which was written on his card."

"It is he," he muttered heedless of his grammar in his excitement. "Madam, this is our dance."

"I believe it is," she fluttered, and the chase was on.

As a social, financial, gastronomic, gymnastic, artistic and musical society, the dance had all previous efforts looked to the past. Nearly 80 couples took winged feet to the floor.

They were having such a good time they forgot to notice it was crowded until it was too late to get out. The hall was brilliantly decorated with flags and garlands, and the music and the Miller hotel company's supper. And last but not least were a special mention.

Mayor Cullum dropped in about 9 o'clock and stayed for a while, watching the couples shaking their heels. He refused to be inveigled into the dance, but he did not mind looking on.

Those of the city who did not get on their feet in the minds of the wealthy affairs of state and several of the city officials, and a "proposed session on the plumbing ordinance."

The city officials, and representatives from the fire department and the Superior police force were also present, and last but not least the couples themselves.

The credit for the success of the affair is about equally distributed among the members of the Police Relief association, who received the receipts for the evening, and the decoration committee, composed of Officers Blair and Barber, deserves a special mention.

The following committees were in charge of the arrangements: Arrangements—Sergeant H. A. Fritz and Officers H. W. Towse and George E. Schulte.

THE ONLY CLUB

"Alex Hamilton and Federal Executive" Subject of Meeting.

Prof. Strong Deals With Views of Eminent Statesman.

"Alexander Hamilton and the Federal Executive" was the subject of an address delivered before the Unity club last night by Professor H. C. Strong of the normal school. His remarks were made up largely of quotations from Hamilton's speeches, as expressing the statesman's views on the right form of government.

Strong offered little other in praise or criticism of such opinions.

In the discussion following the address, Oscar Mitchell, Judge James J. A. Keyes and W. G. Joerns took part. All agreed that Hamilton had a remarkable intellect, but were of the opinion that the country did better to follow the lead of Jefferson. They were agreed on the point that a four-year term of office for the president was about right.

The club will not hold another meeting this year. There was to have been one more meeting on the evening of Feb. 20, when G. A. Tomlinson was to have been the speaker. It has been learned, however, that Mr. Tomlinson will be unable to be in the city at that time.

In beginning his address Hamilton had a man, was writing eloquently from Paris about the necessity, once in twenty years, of sprinkling the tree of liberty with the blood of tyrants. Hamilton, Washington, Madison and others were striving to introduce into the government features which would guarantee the civil and political liberties of all classes, without the necessity of putting down tyrants by bloody and costly wars. Several quotations from Hamilton's speeches in the federal convention of 1787 were given in support of this view.

The speaker expressed the opinion that Hamilton was an honest effort to devise a system of government which would at least give way to corruption, and most likely foster justice and guarantee liberty to all classes.

"On its merits as a means to this end," continued Professor Strong, "his plan may be profitably considered in connection with the plan of the framers of the constitution, and the rather extensive movement of the last campaign to nominate Mr. Cleveland for a third term."

"In Hamilton's plan for a constitution he deals with the executive, who was to have the title of 'the president of the United States of America.' The president was to have a four-year term, to be elected by electors, of which each state was to have a number equal to the whole number of its senators and representatives in congress. The electors in each state were to be chosen by the citizens of such state having an estate and inheritance, for the lives in land, or a clear personal estate of the value of 1000 Spanish milled dollars of the standard then prevailing. By this plan the president was to have a four-year term, and was to be eligible for re-election only by convention upon an impeachment for some crime or misdemeanor."

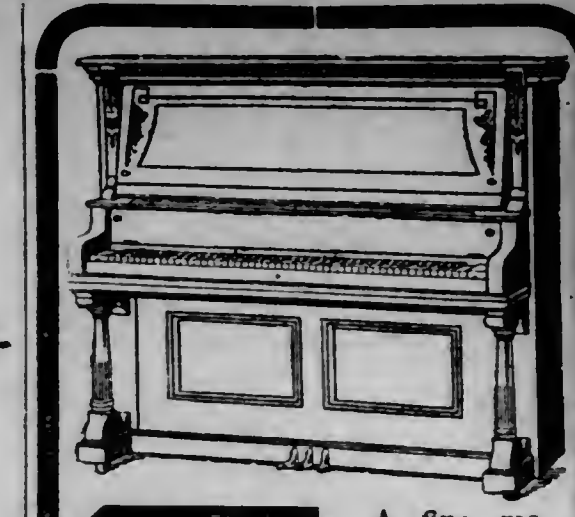

"In introducing an outline of his proposed constitution, Hamilton made a speech which seems to have answered a general question that a vigorous federal government ought to be established, and not another effort made at loose confederation, rather than definite and minute details; but in any stable government he conceived two features essential to its success—a stable branch in the legislature and a strong, conservative, incorruptible executive."

"When the convention of 1787 submitted to the people the plan for a constitution, which was adopted, among the attacks upon the proposed executive department were these: That too much power was given to one man; that the term of office was too long; and that the term should be seven years, but the man holding the office should not be eligible for re-election. Hamilton's plan would apply with more force to his own program and may therefore be given in support of it. The plan was to have a four-year term, and a discussion of the advisability of changing the term to seven years and making the president ineligible for re-election, or of leaving the constitution of the office as it is and breaking down the precedent of having a man step out at the end of his second term."

"By making, in the light of our history since 1787, a few comments on the need of a strong executive, the question of re-eligibility and the two-term precedent, I trust I may not appear to be trying to improve or even to elaborate Hamilton's arguments. On the first point we might note the difference between James Buchanan, who Mrs. T. F. R. in her reminiscences tells us, spent most of his time trembling in prayer, and Abraham Lincoln, who took at once the position that the issue could not be evaded and must be settled. Or nearer in both time and present personal interest, the absolute inefficiency of trust legislation before there was a president of sufficient courage to begin prosecutions under the Sherman law."

"On the second point it is interesting to note that Hamilton argued for re-eligibility on the ground that it would induce the chief magistrate to pursue a more upright course in the hope of being re-elected, while the principle is now attacked on the ground that it leads the chief executive to court popular favor and thereby to lose the independence and vigor which should attach to the office. If we admit the latter and then consider the number of men who have held two terms, the conclusion seems to me inevitable that the weakness is in the voters and not in the constitution of the office."

"As to the precedent regarding a third term, it is time the question be freed from sentiment and considered practically. To Washington, who was urged by a respectable element in the nation to assume absolute control of the weak confederacy and to have its army proclaim him king, there may have appeared special reasons for wishing to establish the custom he did. But we would now mean to show the dangers that loomed up so threateningly before him. If Abraham Lincoln could have lived and the policy in 1861 had been between him and Gen. Grant, there can be little question that the country would have profited by having Lincoln president for four terms instead of for one, succeeded as he was by Johnson for part of a term and Grant for two. If at any time a president who has served two terms seems to the people the best man to continue the work and administration policy in hand, why should they not be allowed to have him?"

DEEP WELL FREEZES.

Ice Forms 160 Feet Below Surface of Ground.

West Union, Ia., Feb. 7.—Water in a well 160 feet deep at Littleport was frozen during the recent cold snap. The well is on the property of William Curran, who states that the same condition has existed during every spell of extreme cold weather since the hole was drilled. The only theory put forward to account for the trouble is that a crevice exists in the rock the full length of the well, and within a short distance of it, which permits the cold air to reach the water, but why cold air should reach the water any more readily by means of a crevice than by the well shaft is not satisfactory explained.

BOAT CLUB MEETING

Effort to Be Made to Get Sixty New Members.

The members of the Duluth Boat club have started out with a determination to secure sixty new members for the following year. They have already, on the first day of the effort, secured half the number and expect to complete the quota in a few days and have names to spare.

The members of the club held a meeting last night at the Commercial club and a large number attended in answer to the summons of the board of directors to sign and talk over the matter of raising during the coming summer. The members present acted unanimously in favor of taking part in outside racing and it is likely the directors will adopt this policy.

The club decided that sixty new members must be procured and the following committee was named to see that such a number of new ones were listed: A. W. Frick, F. H. White, Don Delahous, Elmer W. George, Spencer W. Telford, and Julius H. Barnes. Special membership fees and dues will be charged new members in order to induce them to come in. The club will purchase two racing four-oared shells, one eight-oared shell and two new doubles.

TO EFFECT CHANGE

County Board Will Hereafter Hold All Day Session.

Committees Will Clean Up Work Day Preceding Meeting.

"The board of county commissioners of St. Louis county will hereafter adopt a different rule of procedure as to their monthly meetings," said Commissioner Neil Melms, of Evelev, who was in the city yesterday to attend the meeting of the committee on claims and accounts, and who left for his home this morning.

"From this time the county board will begin its sessions on the 9 o'clock in the morning instead of 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and will endeavor to finish its work by 3 o'clock in the afternoon, instead of holding sessions through to 6 and 7 o'clock, as we have been accustomed to do."

"This means that we will have more time to devote to the matters that come up for consideration. It will also permit the commissioners from the ranges to catch the afternoon train out for their homes."

"Instead of remaining over night in Duluth the day of the meeting, as has been the practice, we commissioners from the range will come to Duluth the previous day and remain over night preceding the meeting."

"The claims and accounts committee will also hold an afternoon session preceding the day meeting and go over all the bills and claims and have them ready for action by the board."

"Hereafter we shall also insist that the county attorney keep up his end of the work, and that he shall pass on the legality of all claims, as well as upon the form and execution, as he has done in the past. If the county attorney does not pass on the claims and bills and stamp them as either correct or incorrect in form and execution and a legal or illegal claim against the county, they will not be considered by the board as a body until he does so."

"Another thing that the commissioners will insist on is that either the county attorney or his assistants shall be present at the meetings of the board to pass on the legal phase of questions that arise. The board has had difficulty in the past in securing the attendance of the county's legal department when it is sometimes needed, and the commissioners propose to have some definite understanding regarding the county's last action. She asks the county attorney to be a strong man. She further alleges that Melms, who has been in the office of Melms, repeatedly urged her to become a public prostitute, claiming that she could earn enough money that way to support all three. Mrs. Martinson relates in the complaint how, on one occasion, when Melms was particularly ugly, he menaced her with a large knife and threatened her life."

As to thinking Mrs. Martinson testified to Melms' husband's indecency, she claims that he spent almost all of his money for liquor, but adds that "definitely Melms did not add to the misery of plaintiff except in depriving her of support, as defendant is a much more agreeable person when under the influence of intoxicating liquors than when he is sober."

She gives as a further ground for divorce that Melms is now serving a one-year term in the Michigan state prison on a charge of having been sentenced in Chicago to the county last year. She asks the custody of the child.

In this case Judge Benson has made an order limiting the time for appearance of the defendant to Feb. 15.

Another case in which divorce was filed this morning, this by Kate McFall against John H. McFall. Described is the charge of desertion, as defendant is a much more agreeable person when under the influence of intoxicating liquors than when he is sober."

NORWEGIAN COMEDIAN

Harold Stormoen of Christiana National Theater Coming Here.

Gustave E. Rimers is in the city arranging for the appearance here of Harold Stormoen, the National theater in Christiania, Norway. Mr. Stormoen will arrive here tomorrow and will spend several days here. His entertainment takes the form of readings from various plays, particularly those that appeal to the Norwegian people and he devotes his readings largely to the comic. In Chicago, Milwaukee and the many other cities in which he has appeared he has received very fine press notices.

Mr. Rimers expects to arrange for his appearance in Duluth Saturday or Sunday evenings, possibly under the auspices of some of the Norwegian societies.

BETTER THAN YEAR AGO

Passenger Agent Dixon of Milwaukee Road Has No Complaint.

"While the passenger business can hardly be said to be anything brisk at the present time," said W. B. Dixon, northwestern passenger agent for the Milwaukee road, who was a visitor at the local railroad offices today, "I can speak for the Milwaukee road that its passenger traffic for January shows up better than it did for the same month a year ago."

"There are periods in the passenger business as well as in all other lines of business, when there is a depression for a time, from reasons most unaccountable, but these are quite apt to be followed by another period when business is lively. Balancing it all up I think that the passenger department, for the year, has been holding its own and a little more, too."

BILL TO BE INTRODUCED

Federation Council Want Assembly Districts Established in Minnesota.

At the meeting of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor council in the Twin Cities this week, attended by Secretary W. E. McEwen, of Duluth, the matter of a bill for an act to establish assembly districts for the promotion of general public discussion and action upon measures submitted to the people, affecting the interests of the people, and providing for the holding of public meetings for such purposes, was taken up. Mr. McEwen is now putting the matter in shape to bring to the attention of the legislature, and the bill will probably be introduced the latter part of this week.

This will be the third attempt to have it passed by the legislature. The bill was originally drawn up by John A. Keyes, of Duluth. A strong effort will be made to have the bill become a law, but should the attempt fail Mr. McEwen says that he intends to change it into the form of an ordinance and introduce it before the city council of Duluth.

WILL BE TRANSFERRED

A LEAGUES HIGH

Nine Million Nickels Collected By Street Railway Company.

Nearly 130 Fares For Each Person In City.

Nearly nine million nickels were given to the Duluth Street Railway company during the year 1904 by the people of Duluth, according to the annual report of the company, which has been filed with the city comptroller.

The gross receipts of the company were $47,322.71, which means that $46,464 fares were collected during the year. Estimating the population of the city at 20,000, this would mean that every inhabitant of the city paid, on the average, 128 fares to the company during the year.

It is doubtful if any city in the country of the size of Duluth will show such a large average. On the other hand, however, the long lines make the Duluth system an expensive one to maintain. The net profit of the company, during the year amounted to $2,510.53, but the company claims that it is not a large amount and more in improvements to the system, extensions and new equipment. The gross expenses amounted to $44,812.18, of which amount $23,625.32 was for operation, $12,126.22 for damage claims, $2,744.96 for legal expenses, $8,295.63 for interest on bonds and $40,000 for interest on money advanced.

The company claims to have expended $13,385.97 during the year for improvements to the plant. The cost of the plant on Jan. 1, 1904, was $2,915,517 and on Jan. 1, 1905, it was $3,215,517. The company claims that it is not a large amount and more in improvements to the system, extensions and new equipment. The gross expenses amounted to $44,812.18, of which amount $23,625.32 was for operation, $12,126.22 for damage claims, $2,744.96 for legal expenses, $8,295.63 for interest on bonds and $40,000 for interest on money advanced.

SHOULD TRY IT.

Cullom Believes Rate Bill Should Pass Senate.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Senator Cullom, formerly chairman of the senate committee on interstate commerce, favors the passage of the Eech-Townsend bill for the regulation of railroad rates, and said that time does not remain for satisfactory discussion in the senate at the present session and that it is better to leave the subject of the bill to the next session, but as the house has given the question thorough consideration, and as the senate will not have time to consider it, it should be given to the country for trial.

AMEND INSPECTION LAWS.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The house committee on merchant marine and fisheries today authorized favorable reports on seven bills amending the steamboat inspection laws, in accordance with the recommendations of the board of inquiry on the "Gen. Slocum" disaster. One of the bills permits automobile inspection of boats, and another provides for the holding of public meetings for such purposes, was taken up. Mr. McEwen is now putting the matter in shape to bring to the attention of the legislature, and the bill will probably be introduced the latter part of this week.

Victims' Fears Made Him Snicker In Their Faces.

New York, Feb. 7.—"Sand Rock" Smith, the holdup man, sent for Capt. Steve H. Webb, for business about a clean breast of all his jobs.

"Sand Rock's" main contention is that he did not go into the holdup business for money, but merely to show how easy it would be to go about it. He had read all the stories of the holdup men and had gone to the theater several times to see Kyrle Bellew play "Raffles."

He was the easiest thing in the world, he said, to march into a man's house with a gun and scare the servant, and then make the man of the house produce his money.

"Sand Rock's" version of his first job.

"A few days after Thanksgiving I rang the bell of a house on Seventy-sixth street. It was a fine, big house. A woman, evidently the wife of the owner, opened the door. I pushed a revolver into her face and told her I had to have money. She gave me a gold watch and a diamond ring. I asked her for more and she gave me a bag of money. I took it and ran. I never saw her again."

"My dear man, I have no money with me this minute, but here take this. She handed me a big diamond ring she had on her finger. I took it and ran. I never saw her again."

West Duluth

Voters are turning out in satisfactory numbers in West Duluth today and it is believed that quite a large vote will be polled. In both the Seventh and Eighth wards the fight for alderman is very close, and a good deal of interest is manifested in it by the general public.

When at first it was believed that M. J. Filtratt, running for alderman in the Democratic ticket, would stand little chance with his opponent, Alderman favor of it. The proposed issue of bonds would probably benefit West Duluth more than any other one part of the city.

COASTING ACCIDENT.

held up because he thought he did not live in St. Paul, but the senator stated this morning that he had moved there, so no objection was made to the confirmation.

Representative J. R. Morley introduced a bill appropriating $23,000 to pay for stock killed upon the order of the state livestock sanitary board.

W. D. Washburn, of Minneapolis, withdrew his bill submitting tax amendments to the constitution and stated that he would introduce another along the lines of one put into the senate by Senator F. E. Smith.

L. H. Johnson, of Minneapolis, secured the passage of his resolution to send a committee of five to visit the various agricultural colleges at Menominee, Wis., to get information affecting his bill for co-primary agricultural schools.

Representative Roberts, of Hennepin, proposed a bill to become law, but he said all the information had been printed by the state of Wisconsin, but the resolution passed, 64 to 42.

The house was on the calendar for the first time today and passed the bill to complete the south wing of the reformatory at St. Cloud. This is the first bill to go through the regular routine.

FIVE BEARS And Two Men Have a Lively Mix-Up.

Blackduck, Minn., Feb. 7.—C. A. Angel and Jacob Miller, who homesteaded along three miles west of Blackduck, had a very lively encounter with five of the black bears last Thursday afternoon.

While passing the den, the senior Mrs. Braun, a mother watching the cubs, came out, and Mr. Angel quickly succeeded in killing the first cub. Upon hearing the commotion outside, four yearling cubs came out with a rush and the men who having only one gun, beat a hasty retreat, with the cubs in close pursuit. Mr. Miller then stepped forward and shot the cub, and together they started to slaughter the cubs, who were snoring in their beds.

For half an hour there was "something doing" every minute, but finally the cubs were overcome by the men and quickly scratched during the encounter. Mr. Angel brought them to this city Friday and sold the hides to a local fur dealer for $50.

Hinkley's Bone Liniment

For internal and external use.

Take it in, rub it on. It will quickly relieve the aching pains of rheumatism, make the stiff, aching joints flexible and painless. Goes right to the spot every time. Kills the pain. Why suffer when relief is so near and easy to you? and likewise at so little expense. The druggist has Hinkley's Bone Liniment.

Know it is a positive cure for rheumatism. Dave Grimes, Timmer, Duluth, Minn., writes: "I was a fearful sufferer from rheumatism and had grown doubtful as to what remedy to use. I bought a bottle of Hinkley's Bone Liniment and used it as directed. It relieved the pain and cured the disease, but after trying a small bottle of Hinkley's Bone Liniment I know it is a positive cure for rheumatism." Dave Grimes, Timmer, Duluth, Minn.

Hinkley's Bone Liniment is not only one of the oldest, but the one best all-round family medicine; there should be a bottle in every home.

FOR BOYS ONLY

Monster Mass Meeting Will Be Held Sunday Afternoon.

International Y. M. C. A. Secretary Will Address Boys of Duluth.

Plans are being made to hold a monster mass meeting of as many of the boys in the city between the ages of ten and eighteen years of age who can be packed into the building of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. next Sunday afternoon.

The mass meeting is for the purpose of giving the boys an opportunity to listen to an address by Edgar M. Robinson, the international secretary of the boys' department of the association who will come to Duluth from New York city for the purpose of attending the state convention which will open here Thursday.

Committees of the members have been appointed to give invitations to every school boy and working boy in the city to attend the meeting, and it is hoped to have 1000 boys in the building next Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Robinson is considered one of the ablest men in the Y. M. C. A. world. Under his leadership the boys' department has made rapid strides during the last five years, there now 53 associations doing special work among the boys, and having a membership of over 60,000.

Special musical programs will be prepared for both gatherings. At the Sunday meeting the program will include the singing of hymns, a cello solo by William Hall Sanford, a clarinet solo by Gilbert Ketcham, and an orchestra by William Harris. Arrangements are now complete for the convention which will open Thursday. The first session will be held in the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. J. S. Montgomery, of Minneapolis, will be the principal speaker of this session.

One of the most interesting meetings will be the closing session on Sunday afternoon, when Rev. J. B. Riley, of Minneapolis, will speak in the Lyceum. Dr. Riley is a very eloquent speaker, and is one of the most popular of the Twain Cities orators, being the pulpit of the First Baptist church.

EVANS WANTS REVENGE.

Causes Arrest of Prosecutor In Schaefer Case.

Bedford, Ind., Feb. 7.—Frank Evans, acquitted by a jury in the murder of Sarah C. Schaefer after a preliminary hearing jointly with Elmer Browning, who was bound over to the grand jury, the newspaper man, filed a writ of habeas corpus for the arrest and prosecution of Evans and Browning. Riley is charged with perjury and bribery. He was arrested and taken before Mayor Smith, where bond was furnished for $500.

As Riley left the mayor's office he repeated: "I am a law-abiding citizen and I will not be arrested on a charge of perjury." His arrest is based on his testimony in the preliminary trial of Evans and Browning, where he swore that he had not tried to sell the story of the arrest of the two men to certain newspapers, and that he was not in collusion with an attorney to prosecute the case, and that he was working for the reward.

In addition to the warrants against Riley three others were sworn out at the same time, charging three other persons with perjury. It is reported that these warrants are against "Duke" Cook.

Bartender

SUCIDE OF BARTENDER At Bemidji—His Divorced Wife Lives In Duluth.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 7.—Alex. McGinnis, a bartender employed at the Bank saloon, was found dead in his room at the Tremont hotel, Saturday night about 11:30 o'clock. Upon the commode by his bedside stood a small vial containing a few grains of strychnine sulphate, and from all appearances the man is a victim of suicide.

McGinnis arrived in the city about three weeks ago, and it was thought that he came here in quest of his wife, from whom he was divorced six years ago. He was staying with a family in this city, but after the first meeting she left for Duluth, he has been staying in that city at 242 East First street since the meeting.

PRICE

Copper Continues Firm and In Demand at Present Price.

Walker Looks For an Advance In Copper Shares.

Comer continued firm in price and George L. Walker reports a healthy demand for it and a legitimate situation at the present price. He also looks for an advance in copper stocks. In his weekly letter he says:

"Copper continues firm. Lake is selling at 15 1/2 to 15 3/4 cents and electrolytic at 15 1/4 to 15 1/2 cents per pound. That is a healthy situation in every sense legitimate and healthy is made apparent by the fact that copper for immediate delivery sells at a premium. Consumers are said to be finding it difficult to make contracts for deliveries in March, and the majority of the producers are all sold out up to the end of April.

It is now generally conceded in the trade that copper is not at all likely to decline below 15 cents, and there is no reason to believe that it will. As well as consumers will endeavor to prevent an advance above 15 cents. Producers feel that an advance to 17 cents per pound, which they may not be able to prevent, would cause consumers to discriminate in favor of substitutes, and that it would in the long run have a serious effect on the metal market. It really seems that it is not so much a question of the present price of copper as the price of copper up to it is of keeping it down.

Exports of copper for the month of January amounted to 12,000 long tons. This compares with 2,000 tons exported in January 1904 and an average of 2,000 tons per month during the whole of last year. For two or three months past local lead has been prevalent in European copper consumers, and has had some respect to the price of copper up to it is of keeping it down.

There is every reason to believe that copper is being consumed more rapidly at the present time than it is being produced, notwithstanding the high level of the price.

"Public attention is again being attracted to the copper share market, and conditions are such that increased speculation seems inevitable. There is now every reason to believe that the price of copper may average as high as 15 cents per pound throughout the present year. If the price of copper should rise to 15 cents, the United States will be nearly $30,000,000 richer in copper value than it was at the end of 1903.

Money will come into market for investment. The holders of the copper stocks listed in Boston have benefited on paper during the past year to the extent of $10,000,000. It is not likely that they will already secured having added to the value of their securities to the extent of $10,000,000. It is not likely that they will already secured having added to the value of their securities to the extent of $10,000,000.

A commission broker says: "We have just sold the last lot of 50 shares of Wolverine for a customer, and not a dollar of the money has been withdrawn from the office. The Wolverine was bought at an average of 50 per share. The seller has already begun to reinvest the money in other copper stocks."

Copper producers are such forceful promoters of their product, and within a few months from now investment interests will be attracted to the copper share market. Some of the most powerful business interests who are being produced by the enormous increases in fortunes that are resulting from the sale of such stocks.

As Reading, Erie and other railroad lines are being built, and a hundred thousand dollars worth of copper. If such a thing should happen it would cause a sensation in the Boston market. There are almost 10,000 shares of copper stock in the hands of investors, and the purchase of 10,000 shares would send prices up by leaps and bounds. We have recently been over the accounts of our month-trading customers. They are carrying comparatively few shares of copper stock, but a few copper cents that would not stand a substantial decline in the market and still be profitable.

"I believe copper stocks should be bought now for a substantial advance."

Menominee Justice to Give Trading Stamps With Every Marriage.

Menominee.—Justice Martin Van Den Berg will hereafter give trading stamps with every marriage certificate, "is an advertisement that appeared today, word for word, in the local newspaper."

"I haven't decided yet just how many stamps I will give with each certificate, but anyway I hope it will bring more business. Until last week marriage licenses were issued on an average of one a day, but the cold weather and the prospect of a corresponding advance in the price of fuel seems to have discouraged many."

Marquette—Relatives of Charles H. Donahue, son of John Donahue, a well-known farmer of West Branch township, were informed that he had been killed at Bruce's Crossing, west of Benton in Ontonagon county. Little more than the announcement of the death was received but it is reported that Donahue was loading logs at the time.

GOOD FOR PRINCE OR PEASANT

Beecham's Pills are known the world over; they are used by all conditions of people; they are the perfect remedy for all ailments of the bowels, whether they be of the prince or the peasant. They act on the liver as nothing else will, and they cleanse the system by reason of their mighty power. 25 cents a box.

Beecham's Pills cure all Bilious and Nervous Disorders, Sick Headache, Constipation, Weak Stomach, Indigestion, and all ailments of the bowels. They are recommended by physicians. They strengthen the muscular system, restore the long lost complexion, bring back the keen edge of appetite, and arouse into action the whole physical energy of the human frame.

Healthy Kidneys Are Vital

If Any of Your Family Either In This or Past Generations Have Been Troubled With Kidney Disease, Make a Test of Your Urine and Satisfy Yourself.

"Are you compelled to get up frequently during the night?"
 "Do you have pains in the small of the back?"
 "Do you have scaling pains?"
 "Are you troubled with vital weakness?"
 If the answer is "Yes" to any of these questions, your kidneys or bladder are diseased.

Gentlemen—Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which settled in my back. I could not eat nor sleep. My whole system was affected, and severe pains in my neck. Nothing helped me. One day when I was almost in despair, I read an advertisement of Warner's Safe Cure, which described my symptoms exactly. I sent for a bottle of your medicine, and I am glad to tell you that I was cured. I have the highest opinion of Warner's Safe Cure, and heartily recommend its use.—Miss Nellie Jones, 138 Vance St., Memphis, Tenn.

We receive thousands of voluntary testimonials like the above from our patients, who cannot say enough in praise of Warner's Safe Cure, which has cured them of their kidney and liver troubles.

DO THIS:
 Put some of your urine in a glass tumbler or bottle and let it stand twenty-four hours. If there is a sediment at the bottom, or a cloudy or milky appearance, your kidneys are surely affected. Sufferers with any of the above symptoms will be glad to know that Warner's Safe Cure will surely relieve and cure even the most stubborn cases, and that they can get a sample bottle absolutely free by writing for it. No living physician can prescribe a medicine for the kidneys, bladder, liver and blood that equals Safe Cure. It promptly corrects the bad effects of beer and whiskey on the system.

ANALYSIS FREE. If after you have made this test, you have any doubt as to sample of your urine to the medical department, Warner's Safe Cure Co., Rochester, N. Y., and our doctors will analyze it and send you a report with advice and an interesting medical booklet without charge.

Safe Cure is made of herbs, contains no harmful drugs, is free from sediment, and pleasant to take. Sold at all drug stores or direct; 50c, and $1.00 a bottle. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES. They are worthless and very often exceedingly dangerous. Ask for Warner's Safe Cure; it will cure you. WARNER'S SAFE PILLS move the bowels gently and aid a speedy cure.

Floodwood—Swan Peterson, who recently purchased the timber on sixty acres near Floodwood, Dickson county, from the Kirby-Carpenter company, is conducting logging operations on an extensive scale this winter. He is employing fifty men and seventeen teams in his operations. At present twelve loads of cedar are delivered daily at the mill. Several other loads are being cut. Peterson has already cut between 40,000 and 50,000 ties and 30,000 and 40,000 poles. In addition to the cedar he expects to bank about 50,000 feet of pine and 80,000 feet of hemlock and hemlock. Two teams are busy day and night with the road sprinkler. The deep snow has retarded operations considerably.

MacKinnon—Rev. Mr. Wells, of Kennebec, MacKinnon county, is a Baptist clergyman who spent several years in South Africa as a missionary. When in that country his wife suffered from sun-stroke, which robbed her of her reason. In the hope that home and home influences might restore her mental faculties he returned to his native village in York state, with the same object in view, he removed to the upper peninsula, locating at Palms, now Kennebec. Here he bought a piece of land, and engaged in poultry raising and general farming. He has spent much money in the hope of restoring his wife's reason, but in vain. He holds religious services in the school house at Kennebec every Sunday, receiving little if any earthly reward.

Iron Mountain—Joseph Rashford walked into town and brought with him a large owl that had attacked him on the road. While he was walking after dark the owl swooped down upon him and struck him with such force that he was knocked over. He fought the bird away but it continued to follow him and when near the settlement he caught it by the legs and after a hard tussle succeeded in killing the bird. His face and hands were covered with blood and scratches from the adventure. The owl measured four and a half feet from one wing tip to the other. The two sons of Henry Lesig were attacked by an owl one evening last week when coming from their barn. One boy's face was scratched and bleeding when he ran into the house. He lost his cap and as it could not be found later, it is supposed the owl made off with it.

Gladstone—The Viola Lumber company has decided to remove its mill at Masonville, Delta county, to Pike lake, on the Soo line, in MacKinnon county.

Bessemer—Captain Harry Weatherway of the Sunday Lake mine, fell down a shaft 130 feet and died shortly after being brought to the surface.

SOUTH DAKOTA.
 Sioux Falls—A warrant has been sworn out for Archie Barker on a charge of horse stealing. The charge is that he engaged a horse and cutter at the livery of C. C. Bray, and with a young woman, drove to Tea, a little town south of Sioux Falls, where the animal and cutter were abandoned and the couple boarded a train for Yankton. The young man, it is charged, borrowed Mr. Bray's overcoat.

Judge Carland of the United States court in this city dismissed the case of Susan Logan vs. James A. Langan, involving an interest in Turner county, S. D. The plaintiff alleged that Hugh Langan, now deceased, proposed to her that if she would take up her residence upon the tract of land and pay him one-third of the value of the crop she would begeth it to her in his will. In accordance with the agreement with Hugh Langan she moved from Iowa to the land, upon which she developed upon the death of Langan that James A. Langan, the defendant in the suit, had an interest in the land. He refused to carry out the terms of the agreement made by Hugh Langan. Judge Carland's decision holds that the bill of complaint should be dismissed for want of equity.

News has been received from Brighton, England, that an estate worth $500,000 has been left to Mrs. W. G. Thornton, of this city.

Deadwood—The First Congregational church is again without a pastor. Rev. J. F. Fudge, who came here three months ago from North Dakota, having resigned.

Belle Fourche—Judge W. G. Rice has decided the election contest over the office of county treasurer of Butte county in favor of Charles M. Richardson.

Rapid City—C. G. Tanner, one of the oldest residents in the Black Hills, is dead. He came to this part of the country in 1870, and was a prominent mining man. He once lived in the Twin Cities.

Huron—Frank Stewart, aged 22, eldest son of F. N. Stewart, assistant superintendent of the Dakota division of the Chicago & North-Western railway, died here of pneumonia.

NORTH DAKOTA.
 Fargo—There is a strong sentiment in the state for the abolition of the present board of railroad commissioners. The people regard it as absolutely without utility, and seem to care little for it as an ornamental feature. For six years nothing has been done. The board makes annual trips of inspection, stopping sometimes a few minutes at towns and running through them at a high rate of speed. Their inspection is a jinkety-jangle, and provides an opportunity for the commissioners to give their friends a trip over the state on a special train. It is proposed to legislate the present plan out of existence and give the governor authority to appoint a commission.

Mrs. John Snyder who has been operating a commission for several years, has been arrested on the charge of receiving stolen property. Many stolen articles have been found at her place and the police are after her on the charge of concealing a stolen car. Tom Farnham, a local crook, raised the Y. M. C. A. storage rooms and carried off dishes and paraphernalia, which were found in the Snyder place.

The first annual meeting of the intercollegiate Y. M. C. A. in this state closed after a two days' session. About fifty delegates from various colleges of the different educational institutions, and addresses were made by prominent workers in the national organization. A banquet at Fargo college was a feature of the meeting.

Charged with forcing his wife to leave the house and sleep in the cow barn when the temperature was 20 below zero, Frank O. Stangler, a German farmer living near Alice, in this county, was held under bonds for his appearance for trial.

WILD TIME IN TOPEKA

Over Bill to Establish State Oil Refinery.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 7.—The battle in the legislature between the backers of the bill appropriating $400,000 for a state oil refinery and the Standard Oil interests began yesterday. The feeling is so bitter that it is probable that the bill will be lost. The Standard Oil lobby has given force to the state, as well as to the capital.

A. L. Murdock, a prominent editor of the Topeka Press, said last night: "After a little the people of this country will rise up and demand a state oil refinery. They will not let the Standard Oil company rob and plunder, not forgetting to include in the general hanging a squad or two of high court judges. Then all this robbing and plundering and these ridiculous proceedings will stop. For my part I am ready for the hanging to begin tomorrow."

From Topeka, Kan., the carcass of the state refinery is in doubt. Its opponents declare they will never vote for an appropriation that is more radical than the wildest dreams of socialism. On the other hand, the people of Kansas are flooding the legislature with appeals and petitions. Meetings are being held throughout the oil district and committees aggregating hundreds of leading citizens are on route to Topeka to urge the passage of the bill.

DYING PRIEST

Said to Have Seen "Vision of Heaven."

Newark, N. J., Feb. 7.—That Monsignor George H. Donoe, rector of St. Patrick's Catholic church at Newark, described a few hours before his death a vision of heaven, is asserted by Philip Healey, one of his parishioners. Mr. Healey's son, who was with his father at the time, said that the rector called at Mr. Healey's home, and with much emotion said that he had seen and talked with the lad, either in an actual vision or in a dream. The spirit of the Healey boy asked for news of his parents.

If Constipated, Do This

This offer may not appear again. There is no catch about it. If Mull's Grape Tonic does not positively cure Constipation you are out nothing, as you may have the first bottle free. If it cures, which it will, tell others, that is all we ask. No remedy has ever before been known to cure Constipation permanently. Mull's Grape Tonic is not a physic. It is unlike anything you have ever used. It cures Constipation. If it did not, this offer would run us. The process is gradual but sure. You know from your own experience that physics, like Pills, Salts, Castor Oil, Mineral Waters, Injections, make you worse.

Where can Mull's Grape Tonic be had? Your druggist sells it. The $1.00 bottle contains nearly three times the 50c size, but if you will write today to Mull's Grape Tonic Co., 307 3d Ave., Rock Island, Ill., and give druggist's name, you will receive the first bottle free with full instructions. This gives you a chance to prove to you at our expense that it is a wonderful remedy and places you under no obligation to invest a penny. Only tell your friends about it.

 West Duluth Young Woman Killed While Coasting on West Second Street Last Evening.

L. A. Barnes, it is now conceded that he will make the best run of any man yet put in the field against the popular Seventh ward alderman, and many are today asserting that it would not surprise them at all to see Mr. Filtratt elected.

In the Eighth ward general opinion appears to be that W. B. Gotschell will win out over A. Hendrickson, Republican candidate for alderman. All of the candidates realize that the contest will probably be close, and have therefore been working energetically to get the greatest possible number of voters to the polls.

A good deal of interest is also shown in this part of the city in the bond issue question, chiefly as a result of efforts on the part of members of the West Duluth Commercial club, individually and collectively, and it is believed that nearly all of those who vote at all will pay attention to this proposition, and cross their ballot in

FRENCH MINERS SEEKING GOLD STRATA NEAR LAY-YO

GERMAN PROSPECTORS IN NORTH CHINA

The gigantic task of modernizing China is proceeding apace, despite the backward policy of the Dowager Empress and the greed of foreign investors and the superstitious of the Chinese official class. The investing public regularly swings between two extremes in its views of China, alternately being convinced that millions are to be garnered almost without labor in the Oriental Kingdom and disturbed by some disastrous event in Chinese exploitation, just as unreasonably deciding that the best of Chinese investments are altogether ruinous.

As a matter of fact, this vast territory with its millions of people to feed, rail-way systems and develop the actual mineral deposits of the empire with its cheap labor and tireless laborers, to careful investigators and intelligent workers represents a task, which, while gigantic, can be made to pour out millions in dividends to the courageous and practical financiers who are even now busily at work in widely scattered portions of China building harbors, laying down railroads and developing mines of coal, iron, aluminum, borax, sulphur, petroleum, copper, tin, lead, gold, silver, platinum, quicksilver, diamonds, and, in fact, every available mineral deposit known to nature has been lavishly distributed under the soil of old China.

A few years ago there appeared to be a sudden boom in industrial enterprises of all kinds in China, especially in mines and railways, and it looked as if China was about to enter on a period of great industrial activity. It is true that something has been done, but it seems as if many of the so-called concessions to foreigners existed only on paper. In his book on China, Lord

Charles Beresford gave some much-needed advice to investors. He asked: "Do people really understand what these concessions amount to? Are they merely to put some money into the pockets of promoters, or are they to do good work for both China and bondholders? Concessions may look most enticing on paper; can they really be given effect to; and, if so, will they at once, or ever, show the profits that people say they promise?"

The public cannot act too warily in these matters, and if they wish to avoid loss, they would do well to consult firms of good repute in China about any concession. Where is the region, what are its contents, how are the inhabitants inclined, how were the officials induced to support the scheme, what local difficulties are there to be encountered, what kind of carriage is provided for, and what demand is the new supply to find, meet or make? The small outcome which has resulted from the concessions which were reported some years ago prove that this advice was much needed.

China Learning From Japan.

A change is, however, coming over the Chinese, and they are learning a few lessons from Japan. They are no longer inclined to allow their country to become a happy hunting-ground for concessions for the purpose of enriching foreigners. They have the ability to manage such things themselves if they choose to exert themselves. In a recent report by the commercial attaché to the English Legation at Peking, it is stated that "For long it has generally been believed that little confidence is reposed in any Chinese undertaking subject to official influence. That assumption would now, however, appear to stand in need of revision, as everywhere native syndicates are being formed for the construction of railways or the opening of mines with Chinese capital only," so that, in future, we may assume that concessions to foreigners will only be granted on special and very strict conditions. The Chinese government is, indeed, trying to adapt itself to the new order of things.

New Control of Public Grants.

The control of mines and railways in China has passed from the hands of the Bureau of Mines and Railways into those of the lately-created Board of Commerce, which signified its taking over charge thereof by publishing new sets of regulations containing many features not likely to conduce to a rapid development or opening up of the country. The guiding principle therein sought to be established is that in all undertakings of this nature Chinese capital must predominate. If, in the case of a Chinese company, the aid of foreign capital has to be invoked, the amount must not exceed 50 per cent. of the whole; and foreign companies must reserve 50 per cent. of their share capital to be taken up by the Chinese. No mortgage can be executed for an amount exceeding 30 per cent. of the original estimate of the cost of construction of a railway or of erecting a mining installation, and then only machinery and buildings may be pledged. No lien can be given on the land. Within six months after the granting of any railway concession by the board to Chinese or foreigners, the survey of the line must be commenced, and six months after the completion of the survey construction must begin. The gauge is to be the standard gauge—4 ft. 8½ in. Applicants for railway concessions cannot apply for mining rights in connection therewith, and all contracts entered into must be subject to the approval of the board. No mining license can be applied for in respect of an area greater than 10 square miles the length must not exceed four times the breadth. Prospecting licenses, available for one year, only give the holder the right to make surface examination of the ground.

New Government Gifts to Foreigners.

During last year little was done toward extending existing mining concessions or obtaining new grants. The Peking syndicate has not yet commenced to lay down coal at Tientsin, and may find itself forestalled by German concessionaires in Western Chihli. They have lately come to an arrangement with owners of the iron deposits in Shantung for conducting ore on a joint-account basis. A British syndicate has acquired rights to work coal and iron over some 50 square miles in Anhui, about 200 miles from the mouth of the Yangtze, and is said to be very satisfied with their bargain. Experts have proceeded to the Upper Yangtze to bore for petroleum on behalf of a German syndicate, and antimony continues to come down from the native mines in Hunan. Last year there were delivered fully 3,000 tons of antimony and an equal amount of antimony ore. Japan took 2,000 tons and a large proportion average price of $32 per ton. The principal workshops, engine sheds and plant are at the Gare Fluviale, five and a half miles below the native city of Hankow, where, on the banks of the Hun River, the line commences.

Developing China—A Task for GIANTS

Hankow hopes by means of the railway to attract the trade of Eastern Honan, which has hitherto traveled via the Grand Canal and the Hun River to and from Chinkiang, and if the government bestows as little care on that waterway as it has of late been doing there is no reason why such hopes should not be realized. While the line from Hankow to Peking is making such satisfactory progress the same cannot be said of the line which is to link the capital up with Canton. The concession here was granted on the understanding that the funds employed were to be exclusively American.

The purely American status of the Yuchan Company having recently been called in question, complications have arisen and survey work has been suspended in consequence. A small experimental line, connecting Canton with the busy town of Pootshan, was opened last year, and is doing well. Trains on the main line are running now as far as Sanshin, but until some definite settlement of matters in dispute has been arrived at, they are not likely to go any further. Various surveys are being made for lines in different directions, but of these it is too early to speak.

Imperial Railroads Make Money.

The imperial railways of South China, whose mileage has now been brought up to 1,500 miles, afford a useful object lesson to both Chinese and foreigners of how a properly managed railway in finance and provision for loans are now fully provided for and the balance should furnish handsome dividends. Various extensions are being suggested, and no doubt these will be carried out as soon as possible. The Peking syndicate's line from Chinghua to Tao-K'ou (80 miles long) is finished, and is now open to traffic. The Peking syndicate is in a position to supply Tientsin with anthracite coal from Shansi. Favorable terms for conveying it to the Yangtze have been conceded, and if of good quality, the coal ought readily to find a market.

The need of a railway from Kowloon to Canton has been spoken of for years, although nothing definite has been done. Meantime, Portugal has obtained the grant of a line from Canton to Macao and the French railway is gradually working its way up to the Tunghai frontier, being open from Hanoi to Vietri and practically completed to Yunnan. It is evident that, through the combined efforts of Chinese and foreigners, the country is gradually being opened up and subjected to Western influences, and there can be little doubt that when the war between Russia and Japan has been finished there will be a great development of industrial enterprise in China. Whether this is likely to be of direct benefit to Europe and America is a subject on which there is certain to be great differences of opinion.

Center of South African Coals Experiment.

More than one visitor to Peking or Shantung has found it worth while to turn aside to Chingwangtao and observe the striking developments which are taking place at this new Chinese port. The main stimulus is the emigration of coolies to South Africa. In this connection buildings are being erected with great speed, at a rate positively never before seen in China. Twelve buildings are nearly finished for the accommodation of coolies, and a sort of camp has been arranged on the beach, with an exit toward the beach. Each building is 40 feet by 45 feet in measurement. Four more are in the course of erection, making 16 houses in all. Health and convenience are fully considered. The walls and floors are plastered with cement, and plank bunks are fitted up for sleeping in two tiers, provision being made for stoves in winter.

A large building has been erected for the examination of the coolies, with a bathroom heated by steam. There is a counting-house, in which the emigrants receive their advance of wages, doctors' rooms for medical inspection, emigration agent's office and emigration agent's train to be shipped in lighters to the steamer, where the steamer awaits them. All these offices and halls are in one building with cement flooring. If one building with cement flooring is not enough, some steamship company has arranged for their convenience could not be more satisfactory. Four large cookhouses of approved design have been constructed, with 16 large stoves each, holding sufficient "chow" for 1,150 men. A hospital is in course of erection and two camp stores. Buildings and sleeping quarters for native clerks have also been put up, and a good-looking foreign house has been built for the camp manager. All this work has been carried out, in addition to the usual construction work in connection with the breakwater, since July 7. It has been done under the supervision of Mr. W. R. Hughes, the mining company's resident engineer at Chingwangtao. The site of these buildings is at the eastern part of what was at one time the island, but is now a busy scene of human activity.

Thus it is evident that while the general Western public, swayed by sensational stories in less conservative papers, swings from absolute doubt to utter uncertainty as to the modernizing and development of the Chinese resources all the time the men from Europe, who understand the situation, are actually engaged in the real work of proceeding with this gigantic task of remodeling a crystallized race and developing those natural assets by the aid of science and capital, which ignorance has allowed to lie under the soil of the Flowery Kingdom for a thousand years.

was shipped to the United States.

An installation of machinery under German management has been put up at Wuchang to concentrate lead and zinc ores. The iron mines at Ta-yeh shipped 50,000 tons of ore (2,000 tons more than in 1922) to Japan, and as the iron works at Hanyang increased their output of pig iron from 75 to 120 tons a day they must have been supplied with 30,000 additional tons of ore and limestone. In return for a loan of 5,000,000 yen at 5 per cent, these mines have now been mortgaged to a Japanese syndicate for a period of 30 years. A Japanese engineer is to be engaged, and the imperial iron foundry undertakes to purchase 70,000 to 100,000 tons of ore annually at a fair price.

Coal mines are being developed in different parts of the country, and this is leading to the extension of industrial enterprise. In November, 1922, the government granted exclusive mining rights in the northwest of Fukien to certain Chinese and French capitalists, and a French mining engineer of high repute who has been prospecting there during 1923 has obtained a careful survey of the gold fields in the Shao-wu district. These are described as very valuable and worth working, and it is proposed to form a company with a capital of $1,200,000 to commence operations.

German Railway to Shantung Province.

With regard to railway development the most noteworthy event on record last year was the completion of the German line from Tientsin to Chianan, the provincial capital of Shantung, a stretch of 247 miles, now open to traffic, which is covered in one day, two trains daily running both ways. The first sod this line was cut in 1920, and the promptitude with which capital was raised for its construction and the energy with which the work was carried on are in striking contrast with the dilatoriness displayed by others who obtained concessions about the same time, and who have so far not driven a spike or laid a rail.

This road's earning capacity is already demonstrated, both as regards freight and passengers, and it is estimated that it will shortly supply Welshen, Choutsun and Chianan, the three largest trading centers in the province, with foreign merchandise. The Chinese government is becoming alive to the importance of railways, and has opened these three places to international commerce, and in the near future the railway ought to absorb the whole trade of Central and Northern Shantung.

Now that Chianan has been reached there is a natural desire to proceed with the construction of the Chianan-Techou and Chianan-Yehou sections of the Anglo-German trunk line from north to south, running parallel with the sea-coast. When these shall have been completed the next stage on the line of advance into the interior will be from Yenchow to K'ai-feng, and thence via Honanfu to Hsian. For, as soon as the Peking trunk line gets up to Jungtsi, on the south bank of the Yellow River, a Belgian group of financiers, known as the "General Railway and Tram Company," has to take up the construction of a line from K'ai-feng to Honanfu, for which they obtained a concession this year, with an option of carrying it on to Hsian, the capital of Shensi.

The Chinese government has for this purpose guaranteed a gold loan of $5,000,000 at 5 per cent, and has stipulated that the line must be finished within two years. Its total length will be about 126 miles; from Jungtsi east to K'ai-feng, 52 miles, and west to Honan, 84 miles.

The date on which a commencement will have to be made is not far distant, as in the course of the present year the northern and southern sections will meet on the banks of the river and work on the connecting bridge has already been started. The length of the bridge, which it is proposed to carry on screw piles, will be about 3,000 yards, when one may expect to travel between Tientsin and Hankow in 30 hours. The present terminus of the southern section of the line is Yench'eng, 222 miles from Hankow, and on January first constructed trains were running to Hsichow, 27 miles further on.

On the northern section similar progress has been made, the rails in January having reached Changte, in Honan. Chu Ma Tien Station, 39 miles from Hankow, marks the point where the great northern plain of China ends and the rise over the range of hills forming the borders of Honan and Hupei begins. As heavy trains from the north will here have to be made up into lighter ones for the Yangtze, extensive sidings have been laid down and workshops erected.

China Making Her Own Rails.

The track is reported to be well laid and ballasted and the bridges, consisting of steel girders on granite piers, are strongly built, but, with two or three exceptions, are only adapted for carrying a single track. The steel rails were all supplied by the Hangyang Iron Works, which last year furnished the railway with 15,000 tons of rails at an

W. B. Getchell, Dem.

Democratic victories in every doubtful contest but one resulted from yesterday's election, and of the eight aldermen elected, five are Democrats and three are Republicans.

Of the three Republicans who were elected, Watson S. Moore had no opposition. L. A. Barnes was practically certain of election before the votes were counted, and A. J. Lyle won out by a bit ten votes.

In addition to the five aldermen, the judgeship fight was nothing short of a landslide for Frank Cutting, the Democratic candidate, and the office which generally goes to a Republican by a larger plurality than any other, will be held by a Democratic nominee.

For an off year, the campaign which was brought to a close yesterday was one of the hottest ever held in the city.

The fourth ward was the center of the fight, and some hot campaigning was done by both candidates. The second, third, fifth, seventh and eighth wards were also scenes of warm fights, and the polling places presented animated scenes yesterday afternoon.

The bond issue of $100,000 for water and light extension was carried by a narrow margin, and all the charter amendments were lost owing to their failure to get the required three-fifths vote.

Probably the greatest surprise of the day was the showing made by Edward Ribenack in the fifth ward. His friends were confident that he would win out by a comfortable margin, but when the votes were counted, he was shown under by a vote of nearly three to one. The overwhelming defeat was due to the great personal popularity of Mr. Ribenack and his brothers, who have been residents there for a long time and prominent in business interests.

By far the most exciting contest was that between A. J. Lyle and Porter J. Neff in the fourth ward. Neff was defeated by Alderman Walker by two votes, and this year by A. J. Lyle by ten votes.

The defeat of Mr. Neff was due largely to the failure of Park Point to support him, as he expected. Lyle carried the hill precinct, as was expected, but Neff counted on about fifty votes in his own district to overcome this lead, and he didn't get them. The precinct across the canal gave him a plurality of but twenty-eight, in place of the fifty he had counted on. In the third ward Alderman Tessman made a surprisingly good run, and carried the ward by over 100 plurality.

NICE JOB FOR REYNOLDS.

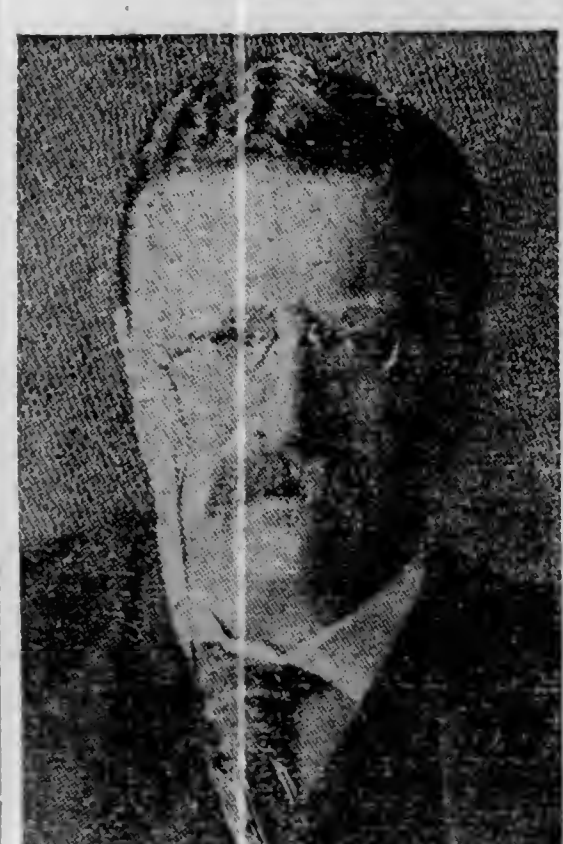

Washington, Feb. 8.—It is stated on high authority that James Burton Reynolds, of Massachusetts, has been decided upon as the successor to Robert B. Armstrong as assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of the customs. Mr. Reynolds, for the last several years has been the secretary of the Massachusetts state Republican committee.

GERMANY NOW CONTROLS THE TURKISH FINANCIAL SITUATION

Constantinople, Feb. 8.—Germany's victory in capturing the contract for the rearmament of the Turkish artillery threatens to result in a serious disturbance of Franco-Turkish political relations. The French ambassador here, M. Constant, proposes to leave Constantinople soon for Paris to consult with Foreign Minister Delcasse. Meanwhile the ambassador has informed the Turkish government that the French market is closed to any fresh Turkish loan.

Tweik Pasha, the foreign minister, tried to compromise the matter, offering to settle the Syrian railway question in a manner satisfactory to the French claims, and to purchase military equipment to the amount of $2,300,000 in France. The ambassador, however, demanded the expenditure of $5,000,000, being one-third of the value of the new armament with French gun-

CONGRESS COUNTS ELECTORAL VOTE FOR PRESIDENT

THEODORE ROOSEVELT, Declared Elected President of the United States for the Next Four Years, to Succeed Himself.

Washington, Feb. 8.—At 12:25 p. m. the senate proceeded to the house to count the electoral vote. Senator Fairbanks, who is to be declared elected as vice president, did not accompany the other senators to the house.

The senate arrived at the house shortly after 1 o'clock and President Ben T. Page, who presided over the joint session, announced the method of procedure. Senator Fairbanks, one of the tellers, announced the vote of Alabama for "Alton B. Parker, which caused laughter. An announcement of the vote for the Democratic nominee caused slight applause, as did the announcement of the first state for the Republican nominee, Miss Alice Roosevelt, daughter of the president, and a party of friends, occupied seats in the gallery during the count of the vote. When the announcement was made of the vote of Missouri, the Democratic vice president, Mr. Fairbanks, several senators sitting near him during the counting of the vote.

At the conclusion of the count, the tellers reported that Roosevelt and Fairbanks had received 225 votes and Parker and Davis 163 votes. President Page then declared that Theodore Roosevelt had been elected president and Charles F. Fairbanks vice president.

The joint convention of the two houses was then dissolved and the senate proceeded to its chamber.

THE DOMINICAN TREATY SIGNED

Will Be Submitted to the Senate For Ratification.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Minister Dawson has signed the Dominican treaty, from San Domingo, that the new protocol providing for the responsibility of San Domingo's finances by the United States, was signed yesterday. The document is expected here early next week and will be submitted immediately to the senate. It is drawn on the lines of the original protocol so far as concerns the administration of the customs by officials designated by the United States and the segregation of a portion of the customs receipts to defray the foreign indebtedness of this administration and that will be left to the senate to insert.

UNITED STATES WINS VICTORY IN THE FAMOUS GREENE-GAYNOR CASE

VALUABLE CARGO

Danish Steamer Sails From Norfolk Bound To Russia.

Said To Have a Submarine Boat In Her Hold.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 8.—The Danish steamer Nordhavet sailed from this port today bound for a Russian port with a cargo of agricultural implements valued at $700,000. The Nordhavet came from New Orleans, where the cargo was loaded. It consisted of 510 harvesters, 3200 reapers, 150 boxes of repairs and 10,200 bales of blunder twine. The value of the reapers alone is $200,000. The Nordhavet, which is of 2150 tons, carries a crew of twenty-six men. She took on 300 tons of coal at this port. The destination of the steamer is Novorossiysk, Russia. There was a report current that the Nordhavet carried a submarine boat, but this was denied by the captain. The steamer was under the command of Captain Schmidt, a German.

CONSIDERABLE DISCUSSION

Caused By Decision of British to Withdraw Infantry.

New York, Feb. 8.—The decision of the British government to withdraw all the infantry battalions from the West Indian colonies at an early date has been the occasion of considerable discussion in business circles during the last few days. The Herald's London correspondent, it does not appear to have come as a surprise to army and navy officials.

One man high in the military service stated that the move is in a way, the complement of what is being done in regard to British naval matters in the same locality. "It appears," said the officer, who has been in the West Indies for some time, "that the British government has determined to take President Roosevelt at his word and accept his definition of the Monroe doctrine. If the United States is prepared to prevent any territory in the western hemisphere from falling into European hands, if it is already under government by Americans, and in case of territory now owned by Europeans powers, from being taken over by other powers in Europe, then the necessity for Great Britain's maintenance of troops and troops in the West Indian possessions ceases, at least to a very large extent."

COCKRELL LEADS

In Eighteenth Ballot For Senator in Missouri.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 8.—The eighteenth ballot for a United States senator to succeed Senator Cockrell today resulted as follows: Cockrell, 2; Neill, 1; Finkbeiner, 1; Peck, 1.

JORDAN-MARSH COMPANY

Robbed of Nearly $100,000 By Employees.

Boston, Feb. 8.—Within the last five years the large dry goods house of the Jordan-Marsh company, according to the police, has been robbed of nearly $100,000 by employees. D. A. Carroll, a young man who was employed by the firm, was arrested Monday. Four men who were considered trustworthy will be arrested if the police can find them. A revolving clerk approved bills for $50,000 worth of goods in the last two years which the Jordan-Marsh company alleges it never received.

NORTHWESTERN LAW FRESHMEN BARRED FROM ALL ATHLETICS

Chicago, Feb. 8.—The faculty of the Northwestern university law school has taken a step in advance of the college conference rule which bars freshmen from competition on athletic teams for six months by issuing an order forbidding any student of freshman standing in that department from competing in athletics on any Northwestern team.

This rule will seriously affect the athletic teams of the university. Arthur Reuber, this year's captain of the Northwestern football team, and a candidate for pitcher on the varsity baseball team, will be barred, as will Thomas Van Ryn, the star half back of last year's eleven, and Albert Jenkinson, tackle. The track team will lose Grathberg, who did good work for the purpose of the university. It is thought the movement was prompted by wholesale desertions from the law school after the close of the football season just fall.

The Privy Council of England Decides In Its Favor.

Culprits Remanded Back to Canadian Courts For Hearing.

The Judge at Quebec Severely Rebuked By High Court.

London, Feb. 8.—The privy council rendered its decision this morning in the Greene-Gaynor case, in favor of the American government. The council reversed the two judgments of Justice Caron, of Quebec, April 13, 1902, and ordered the respondents to pay the costs of the appeal. The council's decision caustically criticizes the action of Justice Caron in releasing Greene and Gaynor and Caron's "extraordinary intervention," and adds: "When a prisoner is brought before a competent tribunal charged with an extradition offense, and is remanded for the express purpose of affording the prosecution an opportunity of bringing forward evidence whereby the accusation is to be supported, if in such a case upon a writ of habeas corpus a learned judge treats a remand warrant as a nullity and proceeds to adjudge the case as though the whole evidence was before him, it would paralyze the administration of justice and render it impossible for proceedings in extradition to be effective."

John R. Carter, second secretary of the American embassy, was present to hear the decision and also to watch the appeal against the decision of the supreme court of Canada in the case of the fishing steamer Kitty Dee captured by a Canadian cruiser on Lake Erie.

The decision simply reverses Justice Caron's judgment and leaves Greene and Gaynor under remand as before Justice Caron intervened.

The privy council this afternoon granted the United States leave to appeal in the Kitty Dee case after the vessel is returned to the custody of the Canadian court.

John F. Gaynor and Benjamin D. Green, were arrested in Savannah, Ga., Dec. 8, 1902, charged with embezzlement and defrauding the United States government together with Capt. Olin M. Carter in the performance of government contracts for the improvement of the Savannah river and the Georgia coast.

Gaynor and Green were arrested in New York. They entered an extradition plea to Georgia and when the United States commissioner decided that they were guilty of the crime, they were indicted, they fled to Canada. They had been at liberty on $40,000 bail each and this was forfeited. Efforts to locate them failed. They were taken to Montreal and held in the Hotel de Ville. A question arose as to whether they could be brought back to the United States. They were taken to Quebec. There was a big legal fight over this action and a Quebec judge issued a writ of habeas corpus, which was served on the jailer at Montreal, who delivered up the prisoners without notification to the extradition tribunal and the work of the court was quashed. Efforts to quash the writ of habeas corpus were denied by Justice Caron. After a long legal controversy, Gaynor and Green obtained their liberty within the limits of the province of Quebec. The United States government then appealed to the privy council of England, the highest court in that country.

FATE YET UNKNOWN.

Nothing Heard From Missing Captain and Crew.

St. John, N. B., Feb. 8.—No news from the scene of the wreck of the steamer Danara, at Musquodouit, has been received today and the fate of the missing crew, which the captain and fourteen persons left the sinking vessel is not known.

Prugh, pastor of Grace Reformed church, of this city, has accepted an invitation sent by Emperor William II, of Germany, to participate in the dedication of the new cathedral in Berlin, Feb. 27. Dr. Prugh will sail from New York on Saturday morning. He was invited to the dedication as the president of the general synod of the reformed church in the United States.

POLICE ARE DEFIED

Employers Refuse to Dismiss Strikers on Black List.

Medical Students at St. Petersburg Resist Police Interference.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 8.—The students of the military academy of medicine today struck on the ground that owing to police intervention it is impossible to carry on their education. They demand that the academy be closed until freedom is granted them. The police have forwarded to the employers of labor a list of prominent strikers asking for their immediate dismissal. The director of the Nevsky naval construction yard refused compliance and other employers are similarly disposed because many of the strikers are skilled artisans, who cannot easily be replaced. The police of Odessa have seized consignments of revolvers and cartridges destined for strikers in the Caucasus.

PEACE RUMORS AGAIN.

Tokio, Feb. 8, noon.—A report emanating from London, to the effect that the grand dukes of Russia, determined to secure peace, had asked the friendly offices of Great Britain, was published in Tokyo today. The foreign office denied any knowledge of the matter.

P-T ARTHUR REFUGEES.

Shanghai, Feb. 8.—This city is crowded with Port Arthur refugees. Most of them are orderly and nearly all have plenty of money, but many are sick and in need of medical attention. It is now making for the refugees with shelter pending the realization of steamship lines to take them to their various destinations.

STATE HISTORY IN PAINTINGS

Capitol Commission Outlines Plans For Six War Scenes.

St. Paul, Feb. 8.—The Capitol commission meeting yesterday at the new capitol building, outlined the plan for the commission to commission negotiations with noted artists of the country relative to placing six historical paintings in the reception and ante-rooms of the governor.

The commission was of the opinion that these paintings would add greatly to the artistic side of the new state house. The architect is to open negotiations for four paintings in the reception room of the governor, at a price not to exceed $100 for each painting, not including the frame.

The question of securing two pictures for the ante-room will be referred to the legislature for action.

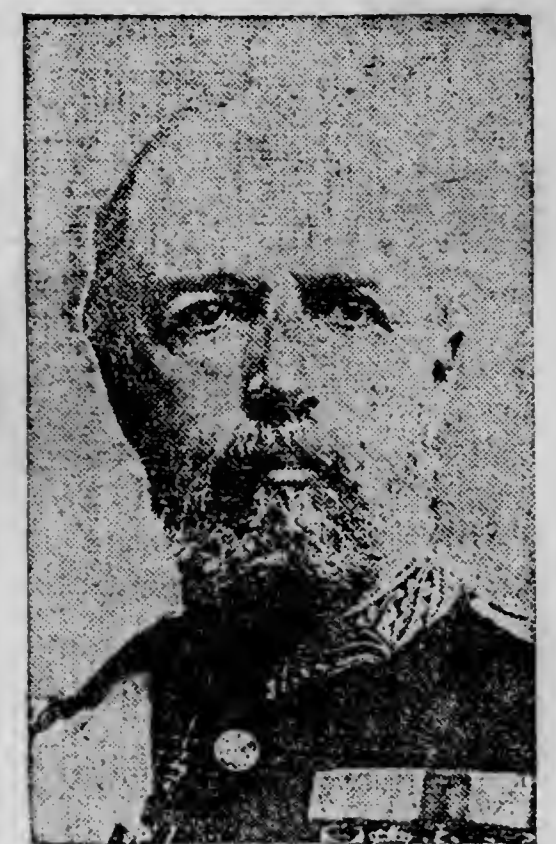

The pictures are to represent the following historical events: The battle of Gettysburg, the first Minnesota participating; the battle of Vicksburg, the second Minnesota participating; the battle of Missionary Ridge, the second Minnesota participating; the battle of Nashville, the fifth, seventh, ninth and tenth Minnesota regiments participating; the southwest Minnesota participating; the battle of the Little Bighorn, the fourth Minnesota participating; the battle of the Little Bighorn, the eighth Minnesota participating.

The two pictures for the ante-room are to represent the battle of the Little Bighorn, the first Minnesota participating, and the battle of the Little Bighorn, the eighth Minnesota participating.

A resolution was offered in the assembly asking congress to investigate the agricultural implement trust.

POOR QUALITY OF ILLUMINATING OIL SUBJECT OF BILL

KING OSCAR TURNS OVER GOVERNMENT TO CROWN PRINCE

Stockholm, Feb. 8.—King Oscar is indisposed and unable to transact state business. At today's session of the council of state, he handed over the reins of government to Crown Prince Gustaf until further notice. This is not the first time that King Oscar, who is 76 years old, has entrusted the crown prince of Sweden and Norway with the reins of government. He was compelled by ill health to do so in January, 1899, and was reported at the time that the people of Sweden and Norway wished him to abdicate. The king reassumed power in January, 1901.

MACHEN ET AL. REACH PRISON

Prominent Men Arrive at the Moundsville Penitentiary.

Moundsville, W. Va., Feb. 8.—Former head of the free delivery system of the postal department, August V. Machen, with Diller B. Groff and Samuel A. Groff, who were sentenced to imprisonment in the Moundsville penitentiary as a result of the postal investigation, arrived from Washington today. Eleven other prisoners were also in the party. Machen and the Groffs had nothing to say and appeared unconcerned. The absence of Warden Haddock, the prisoners will not be assigned to their duties until his return Thursday. Samuel Groff is broken in health and will not likely be put to work for some time. The trip from Washington to the prison was without incident.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

St. Louis, Feb. 8.—James N. Richardson, 50 years old, committed suicide today by shooting. Financial troubles are believed to have been the cause of his family for the suicide.

OPPOSITION TO THE FREE TEXTBOOK BILL

Voiced at Joint Meeting of the Committees on Education.

Strong Arguments Are Presented In Favor of the Measure.

FROM THE HERALD ST. PAUL BUREAU.

St. Paul, Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The compulsory free text book bill was the subject of a joint meeting of the committees on education of the house and senate yesterday afternoon, during which the subject was pretty well thrashed over and a number of different interests were heard from.

George E. Perley, of Moorhead, chairman of the house committee, presided, and there was a large attendance of interested parties.

The first speaker was E. C. Ives, of St. Paul, representing the Minnesota State Federation of Labor, which presented the bill, through Mr. Perley in the house, and Senator Cole in the senate. Mr. Ives said that he did not consider the bill a labor measure by any means, but thought it was much broader than that. The experience of Minnesota and other states that have tried it is that when the free text book system is once adopted it is never abandoned. One advantage is that school can be taken up at once on the beginning of the school year without waiting for a large percentage of the pupils to buy books. Their parents are neglected to furnish. Many poor people are unable to buy books at all, and others have to wait until pay day before they are able to do so. Buying at cheaper rates, as school districts do, better books, and the advantage of a wider variety can be had. In districts where the free system has been adopted, the result has been an increased enrollment. Comparing districts where free text books are the rule, with districts where the parents buy them, it is found that the cost is about $2 per year when the parents buy and 50 to 60 cents when the districts buy them and furnishes them. The objections to the bill are mostly

MARSHALL FIELD AND CO'S. MANAGER

JOHN T. SHEAHAN.

John T. Sheahan, who has been for seventeen years manager of Marshall Field & Co.'s wholesale warehouse, and is Corporal 2d Regiment Infantry, U. S. G. writes the following letter from 3535 Indiana avenue, Flat Six, Chicago, Ill.:

"I caught a cold which seemed to settle in my kidneys and affected them badly. I tried a couple of kidney remedies largely advertised, but they did not help me any. One of my foremen told me of the great help he had received in using Peruna in a similar case, and I at once procured some."

"It was indeed a blessing to me, as I am on my feet a large part of the day, and trouble, such as I had, affected me seriously, but four bottles of Peruna cured me entirely, and I would not be without it for three months salary."

The writers are small times that convey from the kidneys their excretion. The points of the kidneys is a sort of reservoir into which all the little tubes of the kidneys empty. All these tubes and canals are lined with mucous membranes very much like the membranes of the nose, throat or middle ear. The mucous membrane of the kidney is subject to catarrh the same as the membrane of any other organ. The catarrh may be acute or chronic. It may be of the dry or humid variety.

Whenever the kidney is affected by catarrh it is known as Bright's Disease. Peruna is the remedy for catarrh, whether it be of the kidneys, the bladder, the lungs or the pelvic organs. It is usually the first symptom of kidney trouble. At the appearance of the first symptoms Peruna should be taken. It is a powerful diuretic, often causing fatal results. Address Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanatorium, Columbus, Ohio, for free medical advice.

SLIPPERY WALKS

Are In Dangerous Condition In Many Parts of City.

Sand Gives Some Relief But Not In All Places.

The walks in some localities of the city are at present in a very dangerous condition, particularly so those on the avenues and on grades on the streets. A good many people have received nasty "umbles of life and measures should be taken to remove the ice from those walks or sand them. By so doing, serious injury may be saved pedestrians. For instance, the upper sidewalk on East Second street, coming down from the courthouse is in such a slippery condition that pedestrians are compelled to take the middle of the road and there be put to the inconvenience of dodging cars and vehicles that pass that way. Ice has formed at different points of this sidewalk and more particularly in front of the Central high school, so such an extent that it is positively dangerous.

SKATING RACE

Open Contest For Speed Championship of the City.

Norval Baptie, the American Champion, May Meet Winner.

The skating championship of Duluth will be decided at the Central Ice rink this evening, when six of the fastest amateurs in the city will contest for a gold medal valued at $15, which has been donated by George Pratt, the manager of the rink.

The names of the six skaters who have entered are Harry Webb, Louis West, M. Glover, Edward Smith, Alexander Gallagher and Howard Treado. The race will be skated in three heats. Webb and West will skate the first heat, Glover and Smith the second and Gallagher and Treado the third. The winners of the three heats will come together in the final.

The rink is 264 feet in length and 64 feet in width and nine laps will constitute approximately a mile, after allowance is made for what is lost at the corners.

The sporting editors of The Herald and News Tribune, together with a third person to be selected from the spectators, will act as judges, and the manager of the rink will act as the starter. It is the intention of the rink manager to arrange for a second race between the winner and the loser of the superior skaters for the championship of the Head of the Lakes. Norval Baptie, who recently defeated Harry Davidson of Canada, for the championship of America, is expected to be in Duluth during the latter part of the month and an effort will be made to induce him to meet the Head of the Lakes champion in a contest consisting of three mile heats. Baptie is looked upon as probably the fastest man in the world on skates, and the local skaters are anxious for an opportunity to meet him and learn just where they stand in the racing game. The winner of tonight's race will probably be given the chance to meet Baptie.

ALWAYS AT MEETINGS

Either County Attorney Or Assistant Are Regularly There.

County Attorney John M. McClintock takes exception to the assertion or insinuation in the interview published in the Herald, that Commissioner Neil McClintock to the effect that there have been county board meetings when neither Mr. McClintock nor his assistant, W. C. Crosby, were in attendance. Mr. McClintock said today regarding this: "I wish to say that never in the two years and two months that we have been in office has there been a county board meeting at which neither Mr. Crosby or myself were present. I do not care what Mr. McClintock or any other county commissioner says, it cannot be shown that such a thing has happened since we have been in office. I don't care to have the impression so abroad that we have been neglectful of our duty and any assertion or insinuation that such is the case is either a mistake on the part of the person stating it or is untrue."

COMPANIONS IN DISTRESS

Judge and Attorney Come Together On Common Ground.

A little comedy was enacted in the municipal court this morning when Judge Holmes and Porter J. Neff represented the plaintiff, John P. Neff, in a case against John P. Neff. As the attorney walked into the room and took his seat in front of the judge's chair, the court officers commenced to smile. "It looks like a case of companions in distress," said the attorney, "Shake." The defendant, John P. Neff, was the Fourth and the defeated candidate for the municipal judgeship then shook hands with their mutual misfortune and proceeded with the business before them.

Distress After Eating

Nausea between meals, belching, vomiting, flatulence, fits of nervous headache, pain in the stomach, are all symptoms of dyspepsia, and the longer it is neglected the harder it is to cure it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Radically and permanently cure it—strengthen and tone the stomach and other digestive organs for the natural performance of their functions.

Accept no substitute for Hood's. "I had dyspepsia twenty-five years and took different medicines but got no help until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Have taken four bottles of this medicine and can now eat almost anything, sleep well, have no cramps in my stomach, no burning and no distress." Mrs. WILLIAM G. BARNETT, 14 Otter St., Providence, R. I. Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

West Duluth

Joy resigns in the Dynamite club camp today over the fact that neither of its members, W. B. Getchell, Democrat, has been elected alderman from West Duluth. A member of the organization said this morning that the political fight was between Alderman David Sang and William Chesney, Democrat and Republican, rather than between W. B. Getchell and A. Hendrickson, who was running for alderman on the Republican ticket.

The results in both the Seventh and Eighth wards, so far as the election of aldermen were concerned, were not unexpected, although it was generally believed that the task was too difficult for any Democrat to tackle at the present time, in view of Mr. Barnes' record and great personal popularity.

"It was a fair and square fight all the way through," said Mr. Barnes, "and I am proud to have been elected."

"I fully appreciate what my friends have done for me during the campaign," said Alderman Barnes, "and wish to thank all of those who lent me their loyal support."

"I wish to say that never in the two years and two months that we have been in office has there been a county board meeting at which neither Mr. Crosby or myself were present. I do not care what Mr. McClintock or any other county commissioner says, it cannot be shown that such a thing has happened since we have been in office. I don't care to have the impression so abroad that we have been neglectful of our duty and any assertion or insinuation that such is the case is either a mistake on the part of the person stating it or is untrue."

Much satisfaction is expressed in West Duluth over the fact that the proposed $140,000 water and light bonds carried.

The bill of A. D. Larson of Grant county, authorizing county commissioners to condemn lands for courthouses and other purposes when they cannot buy at a reasonable rate, passed both houses this morning, under suspension of rules.

The senate also passed the bill authorizing the board of control to select a site and erect a new courthouse at Duluth, using half the net earnings of the old building to do it with.

Speaker Clague announced the following committee on the proposed resolution to go to Menominee, Wis., and to look at the agricultural school: Percy Johnson, Stone, Morley and Lynch.

Representative Clark of Rock, secured the passage, under suspension of the rules, of a bill that will permit the construction of a bridge over the Mississippi river from Elk River to Otsego, and the issuance of bonds therefor by the township in which Elk River is located.

Capt. Ray T. Lewis of Duluth, introduced two bills. One of them extends the personal property lien to include services for storing property, caring for animals, and repairing and making personal property. The other legalizes town orders heretofore issued where the town has received and used the money.

Representative Clague introduced a bill providing that school districts whose assessed valuation is more than $50,000 must keep school at least six months a year, instead of five, in order to get their share of the state appropriation.

Albert Baldwin is here in the interest of the Duluth board of trade. It appears that the proposed revised statutes, if passed as they stand at present, may deprive the board of some of its powers referring more particularly to its government and not to its vital functions, and he is here to investigate this matter and secure changes if the code is what it claims to be. The Duluth delegation will hold a meeting tomorrow afternoon to consider local measures.

STILLMAN H. BINGHAM.

GOES TO BAGLEY.

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. Woodcock, pastor of the First Congregational church of Cass Lake during the past two years, has resigned his position and will soon leave Cass Lake to make his home at Bagley, Minn., where he has accepted a call from the Congregational church of that place to be pastor of that organization. Mr. Woodcock made many friends while resident of Cass Lake, all of whom regret his departure.

A. B. Bernard writes from Washington to the effect that the compromise of releasing all the land embraced in the Minnesota forest reserve west and south of Cass Lake, which was agreed to by the federal government and the state of Minnesota, is all that the chief will concede in the matter of listening to the claims of Messrs. Bernard and Hartley, who have been at the national capital for several weeks trying to secure a portion of the area of the proposed reserve, which almost surrounds Cass Lake. Mr. Bernard intimates that a suit in the United States court, questioning the legality of the forest reserve, might be the only way to force the government to the table. He also asserts that Mr. Pinchot will agree to no further amendments to the federal law looking to diminishing of the original territory agreed upon.

A telephone company, to be known as the Cass County Telephone company, is being organized at Pequot, Cass county, the object of the company being to erect lines that will connect the large farming communities in the southern part of the county with the villages there. Mrs. Joseph Cassidy came down from Virginia this morning to attend the funeral of her sister, Miss Annie Dunleavy, who was killed in a coasting accident Monday evening.

Funeral services over the remains of Miss Anna Dunleavy will be held at the St. James' church at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The deceased was a member of the Lady Maccabees lodge and of the Blessed Virgin Sodality. A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kossier, Bay View Heights.

About 200 people attended the skating carnival, given at the Western Curling club rink last night by the Ladies' guild of the Holy Apostles' Episcopal church. The affair was a big success. The music was furnished by Flanigan's orchestra. Refreshments were served by members of the guild.

M. M. Clark, president of the West Duluth Commercial club, met with rather an odd experience the other day. Entering a downtown restaurant for dinner, later than the usual hour, he saw there was but one table in the place occupied. Hanging up his hat and coat, he turned around for the first time, noticed that the three men at the table in question were Simon Clark, S. W. Clark and his son, Laughlin, all calling attention to the fact that of the four Clarks only two were related, and that they represented four nationalities. M. M. Clark took the unoccupied seat.

Lots of fresh eggs, non-excellent butter at Murray Bros.

Miss Jane Myra Shannon, of Saginaw, Minn., and Stanley H. Stevens were married this morning at 10 o'clock at the St. James' church. Rev. Father Fechev officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brigham acted as bridesmaid and best man.

The funeral of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. William Summers will be held tomorrow morning, at 9 o'clock, from the St. James church.

ray of Wadena in the house, providing for the payment of state lands and the remission of three out of the first five years' interest on purchases when the buyers settle and improve the lands. Both bills raise the minimum price on state lands from $5 to $8.

The memorial to congress against the proposed drawback so far as it applies to wheat and flour, introduced by the senator from Minnesota, O. Thorne of Willmar, and in the house by John Elsch of Cottage Grove, was recommended to pass by the house committee on commerce, and in the senate there was a little debate over it.

Senator Thorne did not want the bill referred to the committee on grain and warehouse, of which he is chairman, but wanted it passed at once. There was objection to this and some discussion, after which Senator Thorne withdrew his objection and suffered the bill to go to his committee, after which he announced that there would be a hearing upon it tomorrow.

The bill of A. D. Larson of Grant county, authorizing county commissioners to condemn lands for courthouses and other purposes when they cannot buy at a reasonable rate, passed both houses this morning, under suspension of rules.

The senate also passed the bill authorizing the board of control to select a site and erect a new courthouse at Duluth, using half the net earnings of the old building to do it with.

Speaker Clague announced the following committee on the proposed resolution to go to Menominee, Wis., and to look at the agricultural school: Percy Johnson, Stone, Morley and Lynch.

Representative Clark of Rock, secured the passage, under suspension of the rules, of a bill that will permit the construction of a bridge over the Mississippi river from Elk River to Otsego, and the issuance of bonds therefor by the township in which Elk River is located.

Capt. Ray T. Lewis of Duluth, introduced two bills. One of them extends the personal property lien to include services for storing property, caring for animals, and repairing and making personal property. The other legalizes town orders heretofore issued where the town has received and used the money.

Representative Clague introduced a bill providing that school districts whose assessed valuation is more than $50,000 must keep school at least six months a year, instead of five, in order to get their share of the state appropriation.

Albert Baldwin is here in the interest of the Duluth board of trade. It appears that the proposed revised statutes, if passed as they stand at present, may deprive the board of some of its powers referring more particularly to its government and not to its vital functions, and he is here to investigate this matter and secure changes if the code is what it claims to be. The Duluth delegation will hold a meeting tomorrow afternoon to consider local measures.

WILL KILL CODE

Representative Dowling Predicts Its Fate If Presented Now.
He Advocates Laying It Over For Two Years.

"In my opinion the new code, if it comes up for passage at this session of legislature, will be killed," said Representative P. E. Dowling of Eveleth, who was in the city this noon on his way to St. Paul. "Scarcely a day passes that I do not get from eight to ten letters from people in St. Louis county protesting against some provision or provisions as laid down in the proposed new code.

"The fact of the matter is the new code is so full of glaring irregularities that to be satisfactory it will have to be patched up. I do not, therefore, believe that the legislature is ready to act on it yet. I believe it would be far better, in view of the many matters which are coming up demanding legislation, to put the code over for the next two years. That will give ample time for the people to get acquainted with all the irregularities, and all the necessary changes can be made to put it in shape for passage two years hence.

"The great trouble is that the commission went beyond their jurisdiction in preparing the code. The commissioners have not followed out the spirit of the law creating the commission and outlining its work. The intention was to have all the dead and down timber in the state laws wooded out, to have all the obsolete laws, the contrary measures and the incompatibilities cut out.

"The commission seems to have gone ahead and made up a new set of laws entirely which fall short of covering what they should."

Representative Dowling says that he has heard something about a move to get the pay of some of the St. Louis county officers increased, and he understands that the county commissioners, at their meeting this afternoon, will delegate one of their number to go to St. Paul and present the matter to the legislature.

The membership of the St. Louis county board have for some time past felt that the remuneration they have been receiving is not sufficient, in view of the fact that whenever they go out on any county road work, either to look over the proposed route for a road, or to inspect roads and bridges or work in progress, they are compelled to pay their own expenses in the way of transportation, team hire, etc. The range commissioners are now made an allowance of $100 per annum over the city commissioners, in view of the distance they have to come to attend the meetings. The commissioners favor an increase of salary, which will cover their necessary expenses while out on county road work.

THIRD BOND RECOVERED

Was Stolen From Manhattan Bank Twenty-Seven Years Ago.

New York, Feb. 8.—Dr. Lewis O. Wilcoxson, who is under arrest here, together with James A. Taylor of White Plains, N. Y., and James A. Smith of this city, in connection with the recovery of a $10,000 United States government bond stolen from the Manhattan savings institution in 1878 has received with his wife and children at one of the leading up town hotels here the greater part of the time for nearly three years. The recovery of the bond was made through the sub treasury in Wall Street, where it had been delivered by a bank messenger. Thirty of the same series were taken in the Manhattan robbery and this is only the third one found. Two others were recovered in 1890 by Inspector Byrnes. When Deputy Assistant United States Treasurer Mallory received the bond from the messenger in the course of business, he instantly recognized it because of the number and called Capt. Flynn of the secret service. They examined the paper and found no discrepancy except in the perfect substitution of one name for the other. The name Samuel Warren Miller appeared to have been written many years ago. The ink had faded nearly as much as that in which appeared the name of United States Register Allison, written below. The doctor said he made a large fortune in Alaska and Dutch Gila mining property and that Miller recently entered upon negotiations for some of the former. Miller, he said, offered to make the entire payment in United States four per cent bonds.

"These are as good as gold to me," Wilcoxson says he told Miller, and Miller thereupon produced the one which caused the trouble, explaining that by using it to bind the deal he could save brokerage. Recovery of the bond recalls the robbery twenty-seven years ago, of the Manhattan bank, one of the richest banks ever made in America. The burglars secured nearly $2,000,000 in cash and negotiable securities.

DOINGS IN MICHIGAN

Man Dies From Results of Terrible Experience In Woods.

Newberry—Robert Pollock died at the county house at Newberry, a week from the effects of his terrible experience while walking to the wood camps in a raging blizzard. Pollock fell down on the afternoon of Jan. 10 to walk to the wood camps. He missed his way from the road and was found lying face down in the snow, his hands and feet being frozen stiff. Pollock was too weak to withstand the shock of an operation and he died from the effects of blood poisoning.

Houghton—A bonfire made from poker tables, roulette wheels and other gambling apparatus, taken in a raid, has convinced the sporting fraternity that Sheriff Beck is not bluffing. The sheriff applied kerosene liberally and personally touched the match.

Gladstone—Charging that his wife had deserted him Albert Smith, of Gladstone, asked in the Delta county circuit court that a divorce be granted him from Bertha Smith. The decree was granted. The couple were married in 1886, and according to the claims of the husband his wife lived with him until 1888 when she deserted him. He claimed that she was given no provocation and that she had since refused to return to him.

Escanaba—Without the knowledge of friends or relatives, Miss Grace M. Banks, a society belle of Escanaba, and daughter of Dr. E. A. Banks, was married to John S. Tyrell at Chicago. The groom is a student at the university of Michigan and a member of one of the most prominent families of Ann Arbor. Miss Banks left Escanaba with the announcement that she was to visit with friends in Chicago, and the news of her marriage was a complete surprise. The young couple have been regarded as close friends for some time, but no hint was dropped of their coming marriage.

Manistique—James C. Smith, of the firm of Schwartz & Smith, boiler makers, of Manistique, came very near, if not entirely, losing the sight of his right eye by having the member struck with a piece of flying steel. He was engaged in drilling a piece of steel when a chunk broke off and was thrown with considerable force into his face, cutting a furrow into his nose and entering the eye just below the pupil, making a cut over the ball a quarter of an inch in length. It is believed that the eye will be saved, but it will be greatly impaired. The injury left the pupil elongated with a very bad cut above it.

SHOULD BE DONE

Superintendent Gilpin Comments on Grand Jury Recommendation.

Believes Accounts of School Districts Should Be Examined.

County Superintendent of Schools Gilpin favors having the accounts of the school districts checked up regularly by an examiner.

The last grand jury report contained some interesting statistics and showed some interesting investigations, probably none more important than that concerning the accounts of townships, villages and school districts. In that report, after criticizing the county board, it is pointed out that the accounts of the school districts are not examined. The methods prevailing in county affairs prevail also to a large extent in the townships, villages and school districts. The accounts are made worse by the fact that the accounts are not examined by the auditor. Their books are never examined or criticized, and the result is that their bills are never checked over. It is possible for one man in such a locality to control the whole expenditure.

A number of instances are cited and the following recommendations are made:

"In view of the above facts we suggest that the St. Louis county delegation in the legislature urge the passage of a law providing for an inspector or examiner of the books and accounts of the municipalities. We attach hereto the draft of such a bill prepared at our request by the county attorney. It has our approval."

The bill mentioned provides for the appointment by the judges of district court of an examiner of books of all village, township or school district whose audit examination is deemed useful, upon recommendation of the county auditor. The bill confers examination of accounts of counties of 1,000 population and over. It fixes the compensation of such examiner at not more than $5 a day.

This morning County Superintendent of Schools Gilpin was asked what he thought of the idea. He expressed himself as favorable to auditor of having an auditor to check up the school districts. Said he:

"Such an auditor would not only be proper for the sake of the protection of taxpayers concerned but would be a help to the trustees of the school districts, many of whom are foreigners and not conversant with the English language. An auditor for their accounts could set them straight and show them how to properly take care of the business of their schools. Such an auditor would systematize school district matters and I believe would work a great improvement over the present condition of things."

Asked as to whether he would favor an appointment as embodied in the bill—on recommendation of the county auditor, Mr. Gilpin said that he is opposed to an appointment of such an auditor. He declared that if books are to be checked up at all, it should be a regular annual audit made by the auditor and that every district should be submitted to the investigation every so often and not on the recommendation of the county auditor or anybody else.

Asked as to whether he would have a clerk who could be in the office during the week to take care of business that naturally comes up during the week while the superintendent is out visiting the schools. It was suggested to him that possibly such a clerk could be appointed and that the district auditor should be regularly checked up, no matter how the auditor was appointed.

SOUTH SHORE MAKES RATES

National Ski Tournament To Be Held at Ishpeming.

The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic road announced today its rates for the national ski tournament which is to be held at Ishpeming, Mich., Feb. 22 next. Special rates will be made to Ishpeming from all points on the road this side of Ishpeming. From Duluth and Superior the round trip fare will be $6.50 and tickets will be sold on the regular train Feb. 21, good returning Feb. 24. Other lines of railroads in Wisconsin and Northern Michigan are also making reduced rates for the tournament. It is claimed that some of the best skiers in the world are to participate. The prizes aggregate nearly $400.

ARE VISITING DULUTH. Traveling Freight and Passenger Men Rustle Business.

Another aggregation of traveling freight and passenger men from the Twin Cities arrived in Duluth today. The party were R. G. Brown, assistant general freight agent; John D. Ryan, traveling freight agent; W. C. Hathway, northwestern passenger agent of the Rock Island road; H. L. Wyand, traveling passenger agent of the Great Northern railway; and C. C. Carpenter, traveling passenger agent of the Santa Fe.

Railroad Personal.

Earl J. Martin, newly appointed passenger agent of the South Shore road, left yesterday on his initial trip to the ranges.

J. C. Overman, formerly connected with the general freight offices of the South Shore road here, has been transferred to stenographer's position in the city ticket offices.

SOME CHANGES IN RACE CONDITIONS.

Berlin, Feb. 8.—Allison V. Armour of the committee directing the transatlantic yacht race for Empress William's cup, has suggested three modifications in the conditions of the race that have been accepted by the emperor's representative, Rear Admiral Von Seem-Bismarck and the representatives of the imperial yacht club. The changes are that the start be taken on Tuesday, May 15 instead of May 13; the yachts must be of more than eighty tons register and auxiliary yachts also required to remove their propellers before starting; may have their sails on board during the race instead of leaving them in care of the committee. Among the yachts that will probably enter is Lord Brassey's old Sunbeam, which has long demonstrated her cruising qualities, having been around the world two or three times. It is likely that there will be two British entries, one German and probably five American entries.

No one would ever be bothered with constipation if everyone knew how naturally and quickly Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the stomach and bowels.

Presented With Ring.

E. S. Bothwell, who has been manager at Freimuth's for about two years past, has resigned and after a visit with friends and relatives in Marinette, will go to Chippewa Falls, where he will engage in business. The employees presented Mr. Bothwell with a handsome ring bearing the emblem of the Knights of Pythias, of which order he is an active member.

Holds Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Freimuth Benefit association was held last night. The report of the various officers were received and approved and the association was shown to be in a flourishing condition. After paying all the dues, a substantial sum is left in the treasury. The association is growing vigorously, many new members having been added.

F. P. Robinson was reelected president; Frank Fleishman, vice president; Miss Einger, secretary; Miss Parsons, treasurer, and M. Satter, collector. The following are trustees: Miss Everington, Miss Look, Miss Erickson, Mr. Baker, Mr. Rockwell, Mr. Downing. The sick committee is as follows: J. Harrington, J. Azinsky, Mrs. Lamb, Miss Russell.

SEVERE STORM IN THE SOUTH

Rain and Sleet Badly Interrupt All Lines of Business.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 8.—With rain and sleet falling over nearly every mile of country from the Ohio to New Orleans, the usual avenues of wire communication which have been demoralized since Sunday, today were from bad to worse. Nearly every branch of commercial life felt the interruption and the prospects for better conditions are not promising. The telegraph and telephone companies are fighting against tremendous odds. Enormous quantities of new material are required in a widely scattered area and difficulty is experienced in finding men. Business is accepted only subject to indefinite delay. The loss in revenues to the telegraph companies and to the brokerage houses controlling leased wires is enormous.

It is believed that it will be a month before communication is resumed over regular routes and it is estimated also that with the present large force of men, it will take three days before the wires are restored between Chattanooga and Atlanta alone, to say nothing of repairing miles of broken wires in Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana, Florida, Georgia and Alabama.

Trains were late on all lines entering the city. New Orleans reports delay in the arrival of railroad trains and unseasonably warm weather.

Burlington, Iowa, Feb. 8.—A driving snowstorm has been prevailing here for hours. Street car and railroad traffic is badly impeded.

ASSAYER REMOVED.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Smith H. Wooley, assayer in charge of the United States mint at Boise City, Ida., has been removed. It is charged that irregularities have been discovered in Mr. Wooley's accounts.

All Women Should Know About These Bargains at Freimuth's!

These are great days for money savers at Freimuth's—many, many articles needed now and for several months to come—styles that are desirable and safe for next season—on sale at immense reductions from regular prices.

Our fortunate purchase of the entire S. Bernhard stock of suits, skirts, waists, cloaks, etc., enables us to completely undersell each and every other house in the Northwest.

And we're doing it—doing it so completely, so thoroughly that unless you profit by present opportunities you'll surely have reason for later regrets.

BERNHARD SKIRTS—2 FOR 1—

Phenomenal selling, but good reason for it. You can afford to wear your old skirt for common and have a nice new one for best. Look at these prices:

$24	$34	$34	$84
For splendid walking skirts—a nice lot of Bernhard or any other house would sell up to $4.50.	The choice of about 35 skirts, fancy mixtures, business skirts, Bernhard priced at $6.50.	For fine cheviot dress skirts, trimmed with taffeta strapings—Bernhard's price $7.50.	And $10.00 and $12.50 for elegant dress and walking skirts—regularly $15 to $19.50.

BERNHARD WAISTS—2 FOR 1—

No wonder they're causing such a sensation—two waists for the price of one. Never before such opportunities in new and seasonable evening waists and shirt waists.

95c	$1.25
Choose from about one hundred sixty all wool flannel shirt waists at less than cost of the materials—choice 95c.	5 doz fine twilled German worsted waists, black and new greens, reds, etc., with black—a very great bargain, choice for.

FINE DRESS WAISTS.

Nearly a hundred—to be exact just 85—very pretty waists, in creams, champagne and ivory white—in new nets, Jap silks, crepe de chine, peau de soie and taffeta—at "two for one" prices.

The $9.50 kind, $4.50.
The $8.50 kind, $4.25.
The $7.50 kind, $3.75.

THURSDAY'S FUR BARGAINS.

Too many left on hand—these prices to immediately cut it down to low water mark.

BONSPIEL OPENS

Play Commences In Great Curling Event at Winnipeg.

Duluth Club Represented By Rink of Four Skips.

One hundred and forty-one rinks are entered in the great Winnipeg curling bonspiel which opens today in the Manitoba capital.

The Winnipeg event is by long odds the greatest curling event in the Western hemisphere. The crack rinks from every city of importance in Canada and all the curling centers of this country are entered in the spiel, and the best curling in the world can be seen at the contest.

Duluth is represented at the spiel by one rink, composed of four of the most experienced curlers in the Duluth club, A. H. Smith, R. J. MacLeod, Harry Hudson and A. S. Haig left Monday evening for Winnipeg and will enter the spiel which opens today.

All of the curlers are skips, and are rated among the best curlers in the world. It remains to be seen what they can do against the pick of the curlers in this country and Canada. There are a dozen or more trophies to be competed for at the bonspiel, which will continue for about ten days.

Among the cities which are represented at Winnipeg are: St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Sault Ste. Marie, Brandon, Portage, La Prairie, Toronto, Montreal, Quebec, Ottawa, Halifax, St. John's, Hamilton, London, Bradford, Leeds, Glasgow, Peterhead, Colingwood, Calgary, Edmonton, Prince Albert and a dozen other small towns in Ontario and the Canadian Northwest.

In addition to all these cities a score or more of rinks from the different clubs in Winnipeg will be entered, bringing the total number up to 141. The little town of Lindsay, in Ontario, is one of the most famous curling centers in Canada. The noted curlers' book from that town has generally been successful in carrying off more than its share of the prizes. Toronto and Peterhead are also having five different clubs, with from two or three score rinks in each.

It is against this array of talent that the Duluth curlers will be entered. They are not counting on bringing back more than three or four trophies, but they hope to learn some tricks of the Scotch dialect and pick up some good stories from the assembled followers of the "roarin' game."

ASKS PLATT'S EXPULSION

C. W. Post Files a Petition With President of Senate.

Washington, Feb. 8.—C. W. Post, of Duluth, Minn., who has interested himself largely in the establishment of a national post system, today filed with President Pro Tem. Payne, of the senate, a petition for the expulsion of Senator Thomas C. Platt from the senate. The petition is based on the allegation that Mr. Platt, as the executive officer of the United States Express company, is a party to a conspiracy to maintain high rates among express companies for articles shipped over their lines and he asserts that Mr. Platt has told representatives of his that he will oppose all legislation which would affect the company's interests.

RED CROSS IS REORGANIZED

Secretary Taft Is Made President of the New Board.

Washington, Feb. 8.—In pursuance of terms of the act of congress providing for the reorganization of the Red Cross, the incorporators of the American National Red Cross met at the state department today. About two dozen persons were present, but Miss Clara Barton was a notable absentee. Secretary Taft called the incorporators together. A temporary organization was effected through the selection of John W. Foster as temporary secretary, and Lieut. John Crawford, Admiral Dewey's aide, as secretary. Committees were appointed to report on by-laws and a form of permanent organization. The latter was effected through the election of the following permanent officers: President, William H. Taft; treasurer, Charles H. Keen, assistant secretary of the treasury; treasurer, Louis A. Brand; secretary, Anita Newcomb McGee; executive committee—Surgeon General W. V. D. Van Dine, U. S. N.; Francis B. Loomis, Judge Advocate General George B. Davis, U. S. A.; Medical Director John C. Boyd; Commissioner—James R. Garfield; Miss Boardman; Surgeon General Wyman. This committee was ordered to proceed at once with the organization, with branch Red Cross societies in every state and territory of the Union, and will meet again in the course of a few days.

THE RATE BILL

For Regulation of Freight Holds Attention of House.

Senate Committee Makes Favorable Report on All Treaties.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The house today again met an hour earlier than usual. The subject of the regulation of the freight rates still being under discussion, to the exclusion of all other business. The galleries were crowded, in anticipation of the interesting ceremony of counting the electoral vote.

Today's discussion was opened by Mr. Thayer (Mass.), who congratulated the president, the Republican party and the majority of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce for adopting what he declared to be a purely democratic measure. After characterizing the Hepburn bill as being also a democratic measure, he charged that it had been pulled down at the instance of the president as not meeting with his approbation. The Hepburn bill, he said, no more resembled the Townsend bill, which represented the position of the administration, than a jack rabbit does a race horse.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The senate committee on foreign relations by unanimous vote, today authorized a favorable report on the arbitration treaties between the United States and several foreign governments. An amendment was adopted providing for the submission to the senate of each claim to be arbitrated under the treaties.

Memorials from the legislatures of Colorado and North Dakota, praying for legislation looking to the fixing of railroad rates were presented and read.

FRENCH COUNT GOING

Because He Can Form No Balloon Club.

New York, Feb. 8.—Count Henry de la Vaux, the balloonist, who came here about four months ago to see the St. Louis exposition and interest Americans in aerial navigation by establishing a club devoted to the pastime, is on the eve of departing for Paris without having accomplished his objects, but with hope eternal in his breast so far as the future is concerned.

"Yes," said the count, "I had great ideas about forming a club devoted to aerial navigation in this country, more particularly for sporting purposes. I thought people like the Vanderbilts, for instance, who are interested in automobiles in a sporting way, might become interested in ballooning for the sport in it, but Americans seem to be too practical. They see no commercial possibilities, so they take no interest. "An American is afraid of anything that seems still up in the air, as you would say. He will spend $200,000 on a yacht, but a balloon? Mon dieu! What will it bring?"

INJUNCTION ADVISED Against Man Wanting to Marry Chicago Woman.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—He has offered to wager that he will marry me within six months; he has boasted of it in my presence and in the presence of my friends—woman's court complaint against suitors.

Mrs. Emma Thompson, 5614 Jefferson avenue, shed tears of emotion in Justice Quinn's court room Monday, as she charged Joseph B. Kent with offering to take chances with Gould as above. The judge advised her to get out an injunction against the man restraining him from making bets. Then the ballad had to knock with his given to restore order in the court.

Kent declared any remarks he had made to Mrs. Thompson had been on business matters, but Mrs. Thompson declared playing chances or making wagers was not a business.

"Now, I want to say right here, judge," she continued, "that man will be old, bald and gray before he marries me."

"I was trying to collect the rent, and not a wager," said Kent, who says he is manager of the first building which Mrs. Thompson is a roomer. "I just wanted to keep down the gas bills."

Justice Quinn knew nothing in the law to cover the case, and ended the puzzle by dismissing it.

This perfectly natural change in a woman's life is too often accompanied by painful, distressing symptoms due to female troubles and slight irregularities in her delicate organism.

The woman who passes this change without the development of tumors, cancers, or chronic invalidism enters a new field of happiness and usefulness in the domestic circle and in social activity. Her physical system should receive the necessary assistance at this critical period.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is exactly suited to woman's needs at this time. It strengthens and cures all derangements of the female organism, it overcomes the hot flashes and dizzy fainting spells, and all other distressing symptoms.

I Was in Bed for Three Weeks

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered a great deal during Change of Life. I flowed steadily for eleven weeks, and it made me so weak I was in bed for three weeks. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, although it was against my doctor's will and I had to hide it. I took it regularly until I had taken five bottles, and it brought me out all right, a perfectly strong, well woman. Any one can tell how healthy I am by looking at my picture, and any one can write to me, or my daughter about our wonderful cures.

Mrs. F. M. MURPHY, East Chicago, Ind.

The whole secret of safety at this time of life is thorough preparation before the change begins. Fortify the system with a course of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This wonderful medicine has carried thousands of women through this danger period.

No such helpful advice to women who are sick can be had anywhere as will be received free by addressing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

AGAINST MAFIA

Italians In the Pennsylvania Coal Region

Turn Upon It.

Alleged Mafia Leaders In Jail and Communities Afraid.

WILKESBORRE, Pa., Feb. 8.—There has been a rebellion in the upper end of the anthracite coal region against the Mafia, which for years has oppressed whole communities of Italian workers in the mines. Refusing longer to submit to the blackmailing, the face slappings, stabbings and shootings which have marked the operations of the Mafia barons, the Italians of Carbondale, Old Forge, Edgemoor and a number of small hamlets in the vicinity of these larger places have organized for their own protection, and already have sent several agents of the Mafia to jail. In Carbondale the St. Joseph Protective association is the name of the anti-Mafia organization, and in Old Forge it is called simply the vigilance committee.

The crusade against the Mafia started in Carbondale and was brought about by the murder of two members of the protective association, Joseph Flannery and Frank Ferraro, who were aiding in the arrest of a man accused of extorting money. Since then a mass of information has been collected concerning the different ways in which the Mafia operated and the number of its victims.

The main plan of the Mafia's operations was simple. The directions came from the heads of the society in New York. Agents were installed in each town or hamlet where there were a number of Italians. Usually these agents worked or made a pretense of working for a living, sometimes in the mines, sometimes conducting a small store or a saloon, but always with some apparent means of earning a living. These agents secured lists of victims, selecting those who could be readily intimidated, which were sent to headquarters. Every few weeks two or more strangers would come to the town selected for the scene of operations, and each of the marked victims would be called upon to pay the assessed fine. If he refused, he was threatened. If threats failed, and the case was considered of enough importance, another man was sent on from New York. The victim was pointed out to him, and in some manner the victim suffered.

Sometimes his face was slashed diagonally, indicating a scar which marked him for life. At other times he was stabbed in the legs or arms or shoulders, the agent taking care not to inflict a mortal wound. Sometimes the victim was shot in the legs.

After such an experience the victim or his relatives were usually glad to pay the assessment. Another method prevailed at Old Forge. There men known to be Mafia agents waited upon Italians and asked other men to join the Mafia. The initiation fee and monthly dues $10—this usually in the case of saloonkeepers.

The society was supposed to be beneficial. It was, but only to the half dozen Mafia leaders who were its officers. One man who refused to join told the police that seven men waited upon him, seven revolvers were thrust in his face, he was stripped, $40 was taken from his clothes, and he was forced to hand over $20 more, $10 for each man. The following month he was compelled to pay $10 dues.

Frank Glago, a saloonkeeper, objected to the society holding up a man for $10 in his saloon. Four men with razors then threatened to cut his head off unless he paid $50. He paid.

Jim Scorsio, a saloonkeeper, refused to join the society and was told that his house and saloon would be dynamited. He defied the men, armed himself and kept close watch upon his premises and was not harmed.

Peter Tennet, who also defied the society, received two letters, one demanding $1000 or his life, the other $2000, and saying that if he refused he would be killed on sight. He bought a shotgun and revolvers and went about armed.

The other night he saw a man running toward the hotel, and without waiting to ask questions fired and wounded him. The man was an American running for a late car.

When the citizens of Old Forge decided to run the Mafia gang out of town they captured and jailed Mike Strahan, John Roca, Peter Sola, Samio Strahan, Philip Gemini and Frank Scellitti.

Scellitti told the police another instance of the society's methods. He had a quarrel with a man, Sam Peglione, who has since disappeared and is suspected of being a leader of the Mafia. Later two friends of Peglione's waited upon him and said Peglione had gone to Philadelphia to get two men to eat Scellitti's face, but they could be kept away if he paid $15, their fare to Philadelphia and return. Scellitti's mother paid the money at once.

Quarrels were picked with other victims and the same game worked. Another scheme was to sell for several dollars tickets for raffles or balls which were new or held. Other victims paid money to get a big man who was in trouble out of jail, meaning a leader of the Mafia, who had, perhaps, never seen the inside of a jail.

A source of much profit was the establishment of a store by the Mafia.

The Italians were forced to buy from the agent on credit and at the end of each month were told they owed so much, usually far in excess of their bill. In fear of injury they paid.

One Mafia agent who reached the region penniless early in December sent $27 to his mother in Italy for Christmas. The postal receipt was found in his pocket when he was arrested.

Among these arrested is John Cosca, of New York, who is charged with shooting Pasquale Cerretti. It is alleged that both are Mafia leaders and that they are now looking for a victim of the spoils and Cerretti threatened to tell the police some of the secrets of the society.

Frank Minicello is charged with demanding $50 from Salvatore Petrotto under threat of cutting his throat and burning his house. Louis Scialo is accused by Albino Rossa and his wife with demanding $50 under threat of killing them and burning their house. The police are now looking for an "olive oil man," as he is called. He seemed to be the chief agent of the society and visited the region every month or so, ostensibly to sell olive oil.

He is known to have given the local leaders instructions as to how to handle a large sum of money, when the heads in New York demanded as their share.

Although the crusade has been successful so far, the Italians are fearful of reprisals by the Mafia. That is evident from the fact that the Mafia has created here remains here to a very marked degree. The Mafia has been active in home affairs, and regards crimes, especially those of the Mafia, as a disgrace. It could only buy them to fit a museum, and he prefers to keep his cash for other purposes.

He would rather clothe with the girl he loves, however, than to be a Mafia leader.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Alice Webb Duke was discharged from custody when arraigned in police court yesterday after having been held a prisoner at the request of the authorities of Nassau county, Texas, who had notified the local authorities that they had an indictment against her. An assistant district attorney told the court today that the Texas authorities did not insist that Mrs. Duke be held for extradition.

Mrs. Duke had been indicted on a charge of obtaining $500 from E. A. Hanna, president of the Commercial National bank of New York, by false pretenses in connection with a tobacco farm at Edfield, Texas. She had been held in prison since her arrest in New York in the liberation of her husband, Brodie L. Duke, from a sanitarium, to which he had been committed on complaint of his son, pending an inquiry as to his sanity.

TIME IS EXTENDED. Washington, Feb. 8.—Under an act of congress, approved by the president yesterday, all persons who have been held in custody in connection with the Greco-Turkish war, South Dakota, or lands in Devils Lake Indian reservation in North Dakota, will not be required to establish residence on such lands before May 1, 1905.

It is as simple a matter to keep your store busy as it is to keep a jail. You can't do either without expense, nor without keeping at it every day.

BUYING OF STOCKS

During the Past Week Were Mainly For Investment.

Bought With Cash Accumulated During Years of Labor.

New York Feb. 8.—Railroad securities have been very active during the past week and prices have advanced materially in the cases of the leading roads. The advance has not been confined to any particular class of roads, nor to roads of any one section of the country.

Union & Southern Pacific, in the West and Southwest, and Reading and New York Central, in the North and East, have all been in demand at good prices.

An analysis of the buying discloses that it is for investment purposes mainly, and that many persons who have accumulated cash during the past three years are steadily purchasing securities and making investments of money in other lines than those in which they have added to their fortunes.

In short, it is through desire to have more than one single source of income, and it often arises from business experience, that has taught investors that really may be unproductive when coal mines are profitable and that manufacturing enterprises are frequently dull and unproductive while railway bonds and stocks are enjoying prosperity, so the American people are annually becoming more and more desirous of having a variety of interests in which they may have a steady income at all times.

The new names that are constantly being added to the list of heavy owners of well-known securities brings to the front the fact that it is not alone citizens of New York and Boston that have added to their wealth in the few years just past.

Many of the present purchasers of stocks and bonds are men who are unable to hold them ten or even five years ago, and the swelling demand for dividend-paying or interest-bearing securities comes in great measure from cities remote from the Atlantic seaboard.

Let the reader remember and mark the changed financial status of many eminent citizens of Cincinnati since 1896, and the millions of dollars in Cleveland and that period were comparatively few and far between. So it is in Louisville, St. Louis, Chicago, St. Paul, Milwaukee, Duluth, Denver, Omaha, Kansas City, Butte, Salt Lake City, Seattle and San Francisco.

Twenty millions exist in those cities today where there was ten years ago, and the men and women who hold in the thousands and hundreds of thousands today, and were borrowers ten years ago, can be numbered by the thousands. These investors, who are the backbone of the country, are the persons who are today absorbing the gilt-edged stocks and bonds, and are enabling the railways to extend and develop in the manner in which they are doing.

It is these numerous investors who are making the Japanese, Cuban and Mexican loans. It is these savers and accumulators who are furnishing the money to open up the great mineral wealth of the continent, giving capital to many industrial enterprises, sustaining the credit of the country, and the present era in a thousand different ways.

Many of the active men of five years ago are not so active today personally as then, but their money is at work under their direction and doing important service in a most practical manner. It is not as if they are now in the country, and are exceedingly large class of people who live simply by investments and not by trade.

This is not as yet an impediment to their progress, but it is a decided advantage to the people of the country. The money they have accumulated wealth in the United States and in other countries, and are utilizing through their agents here their cash in the business of the country.

The millions that have gone abroad to build up and refurnish the dilapidated homes of the country, and the money that has been sent to the old world to build up and refurnish the dilapidated homes of the old world, are the result of the money that has been accumulated here.

SWINDLER NABBED

"Paper Collar Joe" With "Costly" Paintings to Sell.

Identified Before He Succeeded In His Latest Scheme.

New York, Feb. 8.—John Gray of the Constitution club, London, if there be such a gentleman, surely has just cause for a grievance against America just now, through the liberties that are being taken here with his simple English name. On the other hand, the art collectors and people of wealth and fashion in New York who have been called upon in the past few weeks by the smooth gentleman with English accent, who presents Mr. Gray's card, will be truly sympathetic when they learn who their Mr. Gray is—but their sympathy may be for themselves not less than for Mr. Gray—if he exists. He told of some of the visits made by himself to art collectors, to whom he said that he had been referred to them by Mr. Kirby, of the American Art association, and that he desired to sell them some choice masterpieces of painting.

He had stored with the bank of New Amsterdam. He explained that he was forced to get rid of the pictures, owing to an unsuccessful speculation. And he told the people, if they seemed interested, that his secretary would be glad to show them the details of the mere matter of trade.

George A. Dowden of Newark and New York, who has been well known for many years as a buyer of paintings, both for himself and for some country club yesterday told him that he had been a recipient of the attention of a man who represents himself as Mr. John Gray of London, who had been referred to him by Mr. Kirby, of the American Art association, and that he desired to sell them some choice masterpieces of painting.

and mustache; high forehead; looks somewhat like a Jew; a well-known buntero man. He formerly hailed from Philadelphia, but is well known in New York, Cincinnati and other large cities in the middle West. He is considered one of the smartest men in the buntero business.

Dond was arrested in Philadelphia during the centennial and sentenced to one year in Cherry Hill prison on Aug. 1, 1876, for playing his vocation on a stranger. He has been arrested time and again, but like all men in that line of business is seldom punished. He is credited with fleecing a man out of $300 in Pennsylvania in October, 1885, and in 1888 took a trip to Europe.

So he has had plenty of time to develop his English accent, and he might readily pass for a Britisher by reason of his large features. The accounts given of Mr. Gray's appearance coincide with the published descriptions of "Paper Collar Joe" in the points of the bald head, the keen, dark eyes, the muttonchop whiskers—once sandy, now sandy-gray—and the general all-round smoothness of manner and speech.

Capt. Steve O'Brien, the new head of the detective bureau, knows "Paper Collar Joe" well. Joe's last arrest, so far as recorded, was in 1896, when O'Brien was in charge of the bureau before, and when Joe, with his usual good luck, was discharged by Magistrate Mott. Capt. O'Brien expressed his disgust very plainly, and also talked about Joe's record. He was known at that time not only as one of the most successful all-round swindlers in the country, but as a man who had developed a taste for painting his exploits in his many lines of rascality, some of which have been described as positively brilliant. He was credited with being the originator of the oil painting swindle, through which many unfortunates have lost their money, and that he desired to sell them some choice masterpieces of painting.

TO COMPLETE GRASP OF THE BOARD OF CONTROL IN STATE INSTITUTIONS

Extreme of Board of Control Idea Is Presented.

Radical Changes in the Oil Inspection System Proposed.

Five-Year Contracts With School Teachers Are Desired.

FROM THE HERALD ST. PAUL BUREAU.

St. Paul, Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—By way of a change from the several bills now in, relieving the state board of control from its care of educational institutions, a bill came into the Minnesota legislature this morning, broadening the board's powers and completing its grasp of the institutions of the state, educational and charitable, as well as those dealing with the insane and criminal. It reached the senate through Senator C. A. Johnson of St. Peter and the house through A. J. Becke of Zumbrota. It throws a sop to the friends of the educational institutions by increasing the board's membership from three to five, and providing that at least one of its members shall be a person specially qualified to supervise matters of education. This board is to have absolute charge in all things of the state university, the normal schools, the children's home, the schools for defective, the prisons, reformatories, training schools, insane hospitals and sanitariums, and all other institutions of a similar character. The bill presents the extreme of the board of control idea.

The sessions of both houses were quiet, the level of debate having been about the only features being the bills introduced. The house broke the record for the session by voting in twenty-six bills. Many were copies of senate bills and many were local in effect and interest.

W. A. Hinton of Martin county introduced two bills, making radical changes in the oil inspection system. The first bill introduced, the house broke the record for the session by voting in twenty-six bills. Many were copies of senate bills and many were local in effect and interest.

Bills were introduced in both houses that will permit the boards of education in independent school districts to select teachers instead of merely annual contracts, as the cities do now.

A bill for a state copyright law having been introduced, Senator C. A. Johnson of St. Peter introduced a bill to amend the state pension bill, providing for the payment of pensions to the surviving families of soldiers who died in the Indian wars.

Summer schools for teachers, to be held in the normal schools and in other cities, were provided for in a bill introduced by Senator Eberhart of Mankato. The bill provides for a course of study in the normal schools, and the normal school presidents are to receive credit for attendance on these schools upon their normal school courses. An annual appropriation of $100,000 is provided for.

Senator W. W. Dunn of St. Paul introduced a new voting machine bill, to correct defects in the old one.

Representative J. H. Dorsey of Glenwood introduced a bill to amend the law for the payment of the dead, to be issued after examination by the state board of health.

Representative J. H. Dorsey of Glenwood introduced his bill taxing sleeping car companies, described elsewhere.

Representative J. T. Weiman of Anoka introduced a bill allowing the collection of damages for mental anguish resulting from negligence of telephone companies in handling messages, even in the absence of bodily injury. The damages are limited to $500.

Representative J. T. Weiman of Anoka introduced a bill providing that employees cannot assign wages without filing notice and a copy of the assignment with the employer and getting his consent. They are to be paid in advance for more than sixty days in advance.

Representative E. E. Adams of Farquhar Falls introduced a bill to amend the law for a nurses' home at the Fergus Falls insane asylum.

Senator Eberhart introduced a bill providing for the payment of the dead, to be issued after examination by the state board of health.

The Harwood committee to investigate grain weighing, asked for and received an extension of time of fifteen days.

Senator Campbell introduced a bill authorizing the state to buy land for the purpose of a government military reservation.

In committee of the whole the senate recommended Senator Duran's bill, requiring wood alcohol to be labeled with naptha, to pass.

DULUTH DELEGATION HOLDING A SESSION

Boarding of County Prisoners By Sheriff to Be Considered.

Hearing By Railroad Committee on Nolan's Reciprocal Demurrage Bill.

FROM THE HERALD ST. PAUL BUREAU.

St. Paul, Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Matters of more or less local interest will be taken up by the Duluth delegation, which means the delegation from St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties, at a meeting at the Merchants hotel this afternoon. For one thing, whatever there is in the demand on the part of county officers of St. Louis county for increases in salaries will be developed, probably, also the attitude of the delegation on this subject will be ascertained. So far as it has appeared now, it is strongly opposed to any salary raising unless it shall appear that the people of the county want such increases.

Sheriff W. J. Bates is expected here to ask for a new deal in boarding county prisoners, that will permit the county to make a contract with him for boarding prisoners, and to pay him 13 cents per meal for such work.

Two years ago, a bill was passed providing that until the first Monday in January, 1905, the sheriff might get 13 cents per meal, per prisoner, for boarding the county's charges. The bill provided, however, that after the first Monday in last month, the county should take charge, under the following terms: The sheriff will be required to board the prisoners quarterly in advance, whereas the complete board was to advertise for bids for furnishing of such supplies and provisions. Additional supplies needed during the quarters were to be purchased by the sheriff, and the bills therefor audited by the county board in the same manner as other bills. At the end of each quarter the sheriff was to make an accounting to the board of

NORWEGIAN STEAMER RUN DOWN AND SUNK

Standard Oil Steamship Crashes Into the Lief Erikssen at Sea.

New York, Feb. 9.—After having collided with and sunk the Norwegian steamer Lief Erikssen, off Cape Cod, Maine, Feb. 4, in a dense fog, on Feb. 4, the standard oil company's steamer City of Everett returned to this port today bringing twenty of the crew of the sunken steamer. The other two members of the Erikssen's crew were drowned, either in the collision or when the crew took to the boats. They were Oster Ostensen, the second engineer, and Johann Johansen, a seaman.

The City of Everett was bound from New York for Sabine Pass for a cargo of oil. Capt. Lundin of the City of Everett said today that when, in a heavy gale and fog, off Cape Cod, on Feb. 4, the Lief Erikssen was first seen crossing the bow of the City of Everett. The latter is a whaleback and has an overhanging, clear-shaped bow, which cut into the Erikssen's hull deeply and ripped her open far below the water line. Several of the bow plates of the City of Everett were stove in. Perceiving that the Erikssen was sinking fast her crew jumped into their boats and were picked up by the City of Everett. The City of Everett then returned to this port for repairs.

The Lief Erikssen was bound from Matanzas, Cuba, with a cargo of sugar for Philadelphia. She was owned in Bergen, Norway.

A BLIZZARD IN NEBRASKA

Snow Falling at Omaha With a High Wind.

Omaha, Feb. 9.—After twenty-four hours of moderate temperature, which broke the long continued severe cold spell, Omaha is again in the grasp of a fierce blizzard. Early today snow began falling, accompanied a strong wind. The foot of snow which has fallen here is about six inches. The wind is drifting and should the wind continue long it is feared business will be greatly impeded.

Norfolk, Neb., Feb. 9.—A strong and increasing northwest wind today lifted the large quantity of loose snow that has fallen over Northern Nebraska and South Dakota and threatened a severe blizzard.

Early trains from the West and Northwest are late. Stock is unharmed as yet, but will suffer if the storm continues. Severe cold prevails, freight trains are abandoned and snow plows are cutting drifts.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 9.—While conditions resulting from the long continued blizzard show a slight improvement in the Southwest, there is no betterment of the situation from the Mississippi to the Atlantic coast. The telephone companies in this vast area have been practically out of business since last Saturday night. The telephone companies' lines are in but little better condition and messages are being sent by train between cities where communication is interrupted. The storm has moved north and eastward, its effects being felt today in North Carolina.

Atlanta has been shut off twice since Sunday and nothing has been heard from there by wire for fourteen hours. As an evidence of the seriousness of the situation, a large corps of telegraphers arrived today in Montgomery, bringing hundreds of messages, under the impression that plenty of wires would be found there for the distribution of the accumulated business.

The situation in Montgomery, however, is not much better than that at Atlanta, and the messages will probably

FOR COUNTRY'S BEST INTEREST

Action of United States In Santo Domingo Is Considered.

New York, Feb. 9.—The action of the United States government in taking charge of the customs receipts of Santo Domingo, as for the best interests of the country, according to Judge John T. Abbott, who arrived here today on the steamer Cherokee. Judge Abbott is the representative of the San Domingo Improvement company, and since last April has been in charge of the customs house at Puerto Plata, under agreement with the Dominican government. Speaking of conditions in Santo Domingo, Judge Abbott said today:

The United States government took charge of all the ports of Santo Domingo on Feb. 1, except Puerto Plata and Monte Cristi. The former I still have in charge, while the latter is administered by natives.

All the money is turned over to the United States authorities. This arrangement is viewed with satisfaction by the large majority of the natives, representing the influential business interests and the landed proprietors. In fact, there is very little talk anywhere about the matter. The revolutionary element is not in evidence. It is generally considered that this action on the part of the United States is for the best interests of the country.

MEMORIAL GATEWAY. San Francisco, Feb. 9.—Mrs. Honora Sharp, widow of the late George F. Sharp, and the divorced wife of Judge W. L. Pierce, who died here today, has left $200,000 for the erection of an immense gateway to the Pan Hanie at the Golden Gate park as a memorial to her first husband. In addition to the accumulated business of the local charities, including $25,000 to the Salvation Army. Her estate is valued at $300,000.

Essen, Feb. 9.—A convention of delegates, representing the strikers of the entire Rhenish-Westphalian coal region, adopted a resolution today to return to work.

Lodz, Russian Poland, Feb. 9.—The local body of strikers did not return to work today and the men do not appear inclined to accept the manufacturers' terms. The outlook is by no means promising.

MANAGER ESCAPES PUNISHMENT FOR IROQUOIS FIRE

WILL J. DAVIS, Former Manager of the Iroquois Theater, Whose Indictment for Manslaughter Was Quashed.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—The indictment charging Manager Will J. Davis of the Iroquois theater with manslaughter on account of the loss of life in the theater fire was quashed today by Judge George J. Kersten. Judge Green of Peoria sat with Judge Kersten in the case. The indictment is quashed on the ground that the indictment fails to show any omission of duty on the part of Davis.

Judge Green announced that he agreed with the decision. He intimated that he will quash the indictments against defendants, Thomas J. Noonan and James E. Cunningham, whose cases are pending before Judge Green in Peoria. Will J. Davis was discharged from custody.

THE SENATORS WERE BRIBED

Alleged Agent Testifies That the Charges Are True.

Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 9.—In the senatorial bribery investigation, Joseph S. Jordan, who was accused of having been the agent of the four accused senators, took the witness stand and testified that the charges were true. Jordan, in his testimony, said that he was employed by Clarence Grande of the Phoenix Building & Loan association and was asked if he could go to any of the senators and make a money proposition to them for their protection in any investigation likely to be held.

Jordan said he went to see Senator Bunker and asked him if he cared to "do business."

Bunkers said he would see Senator French. On the next day Bunkers said he had not seen French and Jordan asked Bunkers if $500 would be enough for each senator's help. Bunkers said he would see French and Jordan said he would see French and Jordan said he would see French and Jordan said he would see French.

Two Persons Lose Lives and Twenty-Four Are Injured.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 9.—One man was killed, another is missing and is supposed to be dead, twenty-four people were injured, eight passenger cars and an engine piled in the ditch and a 200-foot bridge wrecked as the result of a broken rail on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad near Melbourne today. The wrecked train was the Overland Limited, No. 1, which left Chicago at 6:05 Wednesday night. There were nine coaches pulled by two engines. The broken rail was 300 feet east of a 200-foot bridge and the first engine passed over safely. The second engine passed over safely, but the third engine passed over the bridge which was eighteen feet high. The bridge was destroyed by the impact of the derailed train. The observation car on the rear of the train kept the rails.

Intelligence of the wreck was taken to Rhodes a few miles west of the wreck by Engineer Nichols of the first engine, who ran his engine to that point. Wrecking trains and medical aid were immediately dispatched to the scene. The injured were not taken to Rhodes and Melbourne, the two points nearest the wreck on either side.

The killed: H. M. MURPHY, conductor. A. A. MORSE, brakeman, missing and supposed to be dead.

The injured: F. H. Reid, Perry; George W. Lacey, baggage man, Chicago; C. W. Jensen, mail clerk, Cedar Rapids; David M. Way, Marion Junction; S. C. S. Lawson, mail clerk, Marion; D. A. Halligan, Moreland, Iowa; Clarence Ongman, Chicago; Anna Disinger, Perry; Minnie Taylor, Sheridan, O.; J. H. Wick, Chicago; H. R. Goyke, St. Louis; J. J. Huston, Omaha; Gus Bachraker, Holland, Minn.; Allen Jones, Sower, S. D.; Charles Minter, Boone; Edith Winters, Omaha; Charles E. Clark, Bayard, Iowa; M. F. S. Scott, Bayard, Iowa; J. C. Banks, New York; George P. Dewall, Omaha; Ralph Morrow, baggage man, Council Bluffs; W. J. Valt, mail clerk, St. Paul; J. E. Woolley, porter; P. H. Ray, engineer.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—General Superintendent D. L. Bush of the St. Paul road, said: "It is not nearly so bad a wreck as was indicated by first reports. Because of the bad weather, the train was not so heavily loaded as usual. But two of those injured are in a serious condition and their injuries are not believed to be fatal. There were several injured besides those whose names have been given out, but their injuries were such a minor character as to be unimportant. Traffic will not be greatly impeded, as we can use other roads to get around the wreck until the track is repaired."

DISPUTE TO BE COMPROMISED

The Franco-Turkish Difficulty Will Be Settled Satisfactorily.

Constantinople, Feb. 9.—The Franco-Turkish dispute it is now understood will be compromised, France securing an order for a share of the Turkish army destined for the rearmament of Turkey. Following the vigorous steps taken by Ambassador Constans, Tewfik Pasha, the foreign minister, submitted to the ambassador fresh proposals whereby the Germans will find the money to pay the Krupp's arrears owing by Turkey for previous armament and for a portion of the new batteries, while part of the loan to be contracted for by the Ottoman bank will be devoted to purchasing the remainder of the guns in France. This, together with the settlement of the Syrian railroad question, will, it is believed, satisfy the French demands.

MUST SERVE SENTENCE.

Supreme Court Affirms Decision in Richards' Case.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 9.—The Iowa supreme court today affirmed the decision of the lower court which sent ex-Deputy United States Marshal W. A. Richards to the penitentiary for eighteen years for complicity in the hold-up of a train at Des Moines, Jan. 1, 1903, and after torturing the woman by holding lighted candles under her feet, compelled her to produce a sack of money which she had that day drawn from the bank. In making their escape, Frank Baird, a noted crook, was shot through the body. He was arrested and convicted, and after a short time in the penitentiary, named Richards as the one who planned the robbery. Richards fled to Mexico, but afterwards gave himself up. He was convicted and given eighteen years.

NEW LOAN FOR JAPAN.

Tokio, Feb. 9, 11:30 a. m.—Vice President Takahashi of the Bank of Japan will leave for America and England, via Vancouver, on Feb. 17, to hold preliminary conferences with financiers of those countries regarding the terms of a fourth domestic loan. Minister of Finance Yoshino is arranging to meet Japanese bankers and capitalists on Feb. 13 to discuss the rate of interest and time for which this loan will run.

MONEY FOR THE SOLDIERS.

Tokio, Feb. 9, 11:30 a. m.—The emperor and empress of Japan have given 100,000 yen ($40,000) to the army and navy departments to purchase wines and delicacies for the soldiers of the national holiday, which will take place on Saturday next, Feb. 11.

PRESIDENT URGED

To Take Action Looking to Termination of Eastern War.

The Request Is Made By the Inter-Parliamentary Union.

Washington, Feb. 9.—President Roosevelt was urged today to take some action looking to the termination of the Russo-Japanese war. The request was made by the Inter-Parliamentary Union through the president of the organization, Representative Bartholdt of Missouri. Dr. Bartholdt explained to the president that the consensus of opinion among the members of the union and among European parliamentarians with whom he is in correspondence was that the president of the United States was the one man with the possible exception of the emperor of Germany who indicated no disposition to try to bring the war to an end, who might be listened to on the subject with favor by Russia.

The president gave Dr. Bartholdt no definite assurance beyond promising to consider the matter with Secretary Hay.

It is known to be quite unlikely that this government will take any action looking to mediation until some assurances have been received from both parties to the pending conflict that such action would not be unavailing.

Rome, Feb. 9.—In the chamber of deputies today Signor Succi (Republican) said: "It is now a year since hostilities between Japan and Russia began in the name of humanity and the brotherhood of peoples I express the wish that the butchery should cease. At the same time I hope that the Russian people may reach the accomplishment of their desire for liberty and call attention to the fact, the day I do so express myself in the anniversary of the foundation of the Roman republic."

The president of the chamber said he did not consider that this was an opportune moment for Signor Succi's statement, but he was sure all the deputies without distinction of party would join him in his wishes and hopes. The president's statement was greeted with much applause from the deputies and also from those occupying the tribunes.

SHAFTS ARE ALL SEALED

No Hope For Men In Mine, Even If Alive.

Calumet, Mich., Feb. 9.—All shafts at the North Kearsarge branch of the Osceola Consolidated Mining company, where 10,000 pounds of dynamite exploded yesterday, have been sealed at the surface. There have been no developments since the rescue party left the mine yesterday. Only one body has been recovered and at least five men are buried in the mine. They are dead beyond the slightest doubt. A drill boy, who was hurt by escaping steam, is lying. The hospital at the mine is crowded with injured men and mine officials are beset by relatives of the injured and missing miners. As all the openings into the mine are sealed, the fire will eventually be smothered, but when it will be possible to open any of the shafts cannot be said.

MAY SUCCEED KUROPATKIN

Grand Duke Nicholas Nicolaievitch Said to Be the Man.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—The Lokal Anzeiger says it learns that Grand Duke Nicholas Nicolaievitch will, in a few days, be sent to Manchuria, either to relieve Gen. Kuropatkin, or be victorious, and that Kuropatkin will have to report to him. Prince Leopold of Prussia, it is added, will go with him. Emperor Nicholas, it is understood, telegraphed an invitation to Prince Leopold, or be appointed commander-in-chief of the Russian forces in the Far East. The latter intended to go to Manchuria as an observer in September last, but the Siberian railroad was then regarded as unsafe.

The report that Grand Duke Nicholas Nicolaievitch may succeed Gen. Kuropatkin, or be appointed commander-in-chief of the Russian forces in the Far East was first circulated in September last.

RUNAWAYS ARE CAUGHT

Two Duluth Boys Intercepted By St. Paul Police.

Two Duluth boys were intercepted yesterday afternoon in St. Paul by the St. Paul police, and held awaiting word from their parents in Duluth.

The names of the two boys are Charles Wright and Hjalmer Abrahamson. They ran away from home yesterday morning, and took the afternoon train for St. Paul. Their parents learned of their departure and telephoned the St. Paul police, who intercepted the boys at the depot.

Neither of the boys had much money, and they could not give the St. Paul authorities any good reason for running away from home. Their parents forwarded money to St. Paul today to pay the transportation back to Duluth, and the boys will be placed on a train today in charge of the conductor and returned to their anxious parents.

The boys are about 15 years of age. The Wright boy lives in the Baldwin flats, and the other at 621½ West Third street.

INDOOR BASEBALL.

Company I Will Play First Division Team.

Company I and the First Division of the naval reserves will meet tomorrow evening at the Armory in the regular weekly indoor baseball game. Harris, the regular pitcher of the Superior team, has left the city, and within a few days past the assistant county attorney has gotten up a team, which asks the questions, with blanks, for answers.

Is the bill correct as to form and execution? Is it a legal claim against the county? These are the questions which the assistant county attorney was requested to certify the bills mentioned with the last-named form, but refused to certify what his chief had already certified to. These bills were passed over. Neither Mr. McClintock nor Mr. Crosby were present this morning, both having gone to St. Paul.

A resolution by Mr. Kugler, directing the county surveyor to bring the county road map down to date, was passed, and so was a resolution by Mr. Patterson, appropriating $900 for the humane society, to be paid in monthly installments of $75 each. This is an increase of $200 over last year.

The following resolution by Mr. Kauppi was adopted unanimously: "Resolved, that the county attorney be required to certify to all legal bills against the county of St. Louis before the committee passes on them, as follows: 'I hereby certify that the within bill is correct as to form and execution, and that the items therein are lawful charges for the services and disbursements appearing thereon to have been rendered and made, and that on its face the bill, as a whole, is a legal charge against St. Louis county.'"

"Resolved, further, that the county attorney be required to pass upon said bills at least two days prior to the monthly meeting of the board of commissioners. A resolution by Commissioner Kauppi to organize a town petitioned for in 53-17 was adopted, and the bill was called Kauppi in honor of the commissioner.

In accordance with a suggestion by the recorder and jury, Mr. Patterson introduced a resolution to investigate the advisability of buying rubber stamps and paper medals, for the seals in the county jail. This idea was adopted. This idea was created through the killing of a cellmate, the weapon used being a nail cover.

A place of opposition to the wishes of the county attorney and the grand jury came forth in the resolution introduced by Commissioner Kauppi, which was adopted. The resolution was adopted. This idea was created through the killing of a cellmate, the weapon used being a nail cover.

Constantinople, Feb. 9.—Reports are again in circulation that the sultan is dangerously ill. THOSE WHO HAVE DIED

Von Menzel, the Artist, Passes Away at Age of 90 Years.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—Adolf Von Menzel, the artist, died today. He was about 90 years old. His death was due to weakness superinduced by a severe cold. Menzel had been identified in the best of German art for sixty years and had been treated by this generation with that reverence and respect which German art shows to its old men. His quiet figure, about five feet with lat, was known to most of the people of Berlin. He was a man of the people, walking for pleasure and observing people. He sat in a certain restaurant almost every evening until last Friday, for an hour or two taking a glass of wine and walking home. Menzel's work was a masterpiece of observation.

CANADIAN TARIFF

Will Be Revised, Says Premier Laurier.

Ottawa, B. C., Feb. 9.—A big delegation of British Columbia lumbermen, boards of trade and manufacturers asked the Canadian government yesterday to place duty on American lumber to enable British Columbia mill men to secure the big markets in Manitoba and the Northwest. The delegation said it was the intention to revise the tariff, and that as soon as the finance minister reaches Ottawa the question will be immediately dealt with. He said he was impressed with the argument that the sawmill industry in Canada had to pay no duty on the finished product sent into Canada. The delegates are convinced that the duty will be imposed.

The County Board Again Appoints Him as a Road Foreman.

Prescribes Certification For County Attorney to Make on Bills.

The county board finished its monthly meeting this morning. Very little of importance was done except the passing of bills and a few resolutions of more or less importance. One batch of bills before the board was left unpassed because the commissioners find fault with the certificate of the county attorney. Mr. McClintock certified to the bills, using the old form of certificate, which was the effect that the bill was correct in form and execution. Further certificate was demanded by the county commissioners, and the county attorney added the words, "And on its face is a legal claim against the county." This was considered evasive by the county commissioners, and refused to certify what his chief had already certified to. These bills were passed over. Neither Mr. McClintock nor Mr. Crosby were present this morning, both having gone to St. Paul.

The fact that the committee on rivers and harbors has reported to the house a river and harbor bill which includes a provision for harbor maintenance at the head of the lakes by favoring the placing of the required money item in the sundry civil bill annually, thus obviating the necessity of reports on the work each year, comes as good news to the interests at Duluth and Superior who have been working hard in the past few weeks to secure a permanent or an annual allowance for this harbor.

The provision which the committee reported back favorably to the house practically covers all that the people up here have been working for. If the bill passes the house and senate without the maintenance clause being cut out, it will mean that the Duluth-Superior harbor will hereafter be annually provided for under the sundry civil bill, and money will be forthcoming from that source for any maintenance work that the government engineer in this district may regard as necessary. It will also mean that the large amount of work already accomplished at a considerable expense will not be lost as there will be funds available to do what dredging may be necessary from year to year to keep the channels from filling up.

An annual maintenance fund is a feature the last two engineers in charge of this district have been advocating. Maj. Charles L. Potter making a specially strong plea in his last annual report that something be done to provide an amount each year available for such work as may be needed, without waiting for the next session of congress, to appropriate. Maj. Potter pointed out that by having an annual maintenance fund the government would make a great saving in the long run for it would not cost so much to preserve in proper condition the improvements already completed as it would to do the work all over again a few years hence.

Van Stryke was well and hearty up to within a few weeks of his death, and even then he was not accidentally knocked out by a two-hundred-pound pupil in a friendly bout.

WITNESS TO THE HANGING

Of Mrs. Surratt Gives Recollections of the Event.

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 9.—Few men live in the United States whose duty has made them witnesses to a woman's hanging. One of these men is Henry Harrison of New Harmony, Ind., who was present at the hanging of Mrs. Surratt and three companions for the alleged murder of President Lincoln. The hanging took place in the military prison at Washington, D. C., July 7, 1865.

At the time of the hanging, Harrison was a member of the same company, and with Mr. Hubbard was doing guard duty at the Washington military prison. The charge against Mrs. Surratt is well known. She was accused of being the leading instigator of the crime, is alleged to have been sent to death in a barn near Washington, but few people know where his remains are buried. Harrison's recollections of the hanging are particularly vivid. He was present at the hanging of Mrs. Surratt and three companions for the alleged murder of President Lincoln. Berlin, Feb. 9.—Adolf Von Menzel, the artist, died today. He was about 90 years old. His death was due to weakness superinduced by a severe cold. Menzel had been identified in the best of German art for sixty years and had been treated by this generation with that reverence and respect which German art shows to its old men. His quiet figure, about five feet with lat, was known to most of the people of Berlin. He was a man of the people, walking for pleasure and observing people. He sat in a certain restaurant almost every evening until last Friday, for an hour or two taking a glass of wine and walking home. Menzel's work was a masterpiece of observation.

Will Be Revised, Says Premier Laurier.

Ottawa, B. C., Feb. 9.—A big delegation of British Columbia lumbermen, boards of trade and manufacturers asked the Canadian government yesterday to place duty on American lumber to enable British Columbia mill men to secure the big markets in Manitoba and the Northwest. The delegation said it was the intention to revise the tariff, and that as soon as the finance minister reaches Ottawa the question will be immediately dealt with. He said he was impressed with the argument that the sawmill industry in Canada had to pay no duty on the finished product sent into Canada. The delegates are convinced that the duty will be imposed.

MRS. CHADWICK WILL BE TRIED ON MARCH 6.

Cleveland, Feb. 9.—The trial of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, in the United States district court, has been set for Monday, March 6. She will be tried before Judge R. W. Taylor. The trial for beginning Mrs. Chadwick's trial was agreed upon at a conference today between Judge Taylor and District Attorney Sullivan.

ENDORSES IDEA

House Committee Adopts Maintenance Clause For Harbor.

River and Harbor Bill Now Makes Ample Provision.

The fact that the committee on rivers and harbors has reported to the house a river and harbor bill which includes a provision for harbor maintenance at the head of the lakes by favoring the placing of the required money item in the sundry civil bill annually, thus obviating the necessity of reports on the work each year, comes as good news to the interests at Duluth and Superior who have been working hard in the past few weeks to secure a permanent or an annual allowance for this harbor.

The provision which the committee reported back favorably to the house practically covers all that the people up here have been working for. If the bill passes the house and senate without the maintenance clause being cut out, it will mean that the Duluth-Superior harbor will hereafter be annually provided for under the sundry civil bill, and money will be forthcoming from that source for any maintenance work that the government engineer in this district may regard as necessary. It will also mean that the large amount of work already accomplished at a considerable expense will not be lost as there will be funds available to do what dredging may be necessary from year to year to keep the channels from filling up.

An annual maintenance fund is a feature the last two engineers in charge of this district have been advocating. Maj. Charles L. Potter making a specially strong plea in his last annual report that something be done to provide an amount each year available for such work as may be needed, without waiting for the next session of congress, to appropriate. Maj. Potter pointed out that by having an annual maintenance fund the government would make a great saving in the long run for it would not cost so much to preserve in proper condition the improvements already completed as it would to do the work all over again a few years hence.

New York, Feb. 9.—One of the oldest boxers in the world, Benjamin Van Stryke, is dead at his home here. He was 87 years old and had been an instructor in boxing on Broadway for the last fifty years. His pupils included bankers, brokers, actors and professional men.

Van Stryke was well and hearty up to within a few weeks of his death, and even then he was not accidentally knocked out by a two-hundred-pound pupil in a friendly bout.

WITNESS TO THE HANGING

Of Mrs. Surratt Gives Recollections of the Event.

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 9.—Few men live in the United States whose duty has made them witnesses to a woman's hanging. One of these men is Henry Harrison of New Harmony, Ind., who was present at the hanging of Mrs. Surratt and three companions for the alleged murder of President Lincoln. The hanging took place in the military prison at Washington, D. C., July 7, 1865.

At the time of the hanging, Harrison was a member of the same company, and with Mr. Hubbard was doing guard duty at the Washington military prison. The charge against Mrs. Surratt is well known. She was accused of being the leading instigator of the crime, is alleged to have been sent to death in a barn near Washington, but few people know where his remains are buried. Harrison's recollections of the hanging are particularly vivid. He was present at the hanging of Mrs. Surratt and three companions for the alleged murder of President Lincoln. COLD SNAP COMING

A Fall of Twenty-Five Degrees In Temperature Predicted.

Will Also Be High Northwest Winds and Snow.

A fall of 25 degrees in temperature is predicted for Duluth tonight by Weather Forecaster Richardson. At 7 o'clock this morning the government thermometer registered 10 above, and at noon stood about the same, but the weather man says that tonight the mercury will probably drop to 15 below.

The cold snap is following along in the path of the storm, which was central over Lake Superior this morning. Through Northwestern Canada, east of the Rocky mountains, a low temperature was registered this morning, and the cold is moving in a southeasterly direction, so that Duluth, as expected, will feel the full benefit of it very shortly. It will be accompanied by rather high northwest winds and slight snow flurries. If the wind is strong, as expected, there will probably be much drifting of the three inches of snow which fell yesterday, making some parts of the city appear to be in the clutches of a blizzard.

Yesterday's snow was badly melted in and about the city. The streets in many places were entirely bare of snow, and various were being brought into use to take the place of the snow.

The storm helped matters to a considerable degree, however, and now there is excellent sleighing on all the streets. The fall of snow did not greatly affect street car traffic. Some of the cars were late because of it, but no very great delay was experienced. A portion of the system was tied up at any time. Snow plows were in operation during the first part of the night.

Weak, Nervous, Worn Out Women

DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE PILLS.

The world is full of women whose daily life is one long struggle against diseases peculiar to their sex—whose days and nights are full of quiet, patient suffering. The head the seat of pain and pressure—the result of nerve depression and physical weakness brought on by uterine or ovarian trouble—the nerves on the edge—inclined to laugh or cry at anything—an ever present dragging in the back, hips and limbs—a feeling of utter weariness—lassitude and despondency. To these people Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are of incomparable value, having as they do the power to rebuild, to reinvigorate and resupply every organ, every nerve, every muscle with the lost energy, and to insure a complete return to health, strength and vigor again.

Mrs. John Bailey, of Jackson St., Penn Yan, N. Y., says:

"I was told that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills were a great nerve medicine, and as I needed one badly, I got a box. My nerves were very weak—I lacked ambition and strength and my heart action was very weak. I used the Pills as directed and they made my nerves quiet and steady—the heart action strong and regular, and the appetite good, my sleep became restful, and I feel altogether like another person. I think as a remedy in female complaints as well, they are the best. I have the headache and heavy, dragging feeling rapidly and easily—this I know from experience, and I am glad to recommend them." TEACHER

And Eight Pupils Dead From Scarlet Fever.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 9.—Owing to a severe epidemic of scarlet fever the schools of Peoria and Peoria county are suffering from the point of attendance. At present it is estimated that there are two-thirds of the country pupils stricken with illness, chief among which is scarlet fever. In the Pleasant Hill district worse conditions are reported and the disease has gained the greatest headway.

The school has been closed for the past six weeks and eight pupils and the teacher have succumbed to the dreaded disease. It is thought that the disease is being passed and that the contagion has at last been stayed, although serious complications are reported in many of the districts.

Lake Superior Forest Reserve

To the Editor of The Herald: I am, on account of the misapprehension and consequent prejudice which I have felt exist among some of your readers, seeing the recent editorial in The Herald concerning the proposed Lake Superior Forest Reserve, and the fact that the lumbermen to cut their timber instead of looking it for the benefit of the public, but such has been my view, and my first annual report for 1895 (see page 10).

The lumbermen and pine land owners have invested their capital in the forests as a means of their livelihood, and to get their capital back with good interest. They cannot afford not to be interested in the forest, and they will manage their pine lands on strict forestry principles. In all the lumbering they must go right on cutting and marketing the timber as fast as they can dispose of it or else meet with financial failure.

There is another matter—the proposed Lake Superior forest reserve—in which I feel that I have suffered prejudice from Duluth public, and which I would like briefly to discuss.

The only way in which the public can have the benefit of any permanent forest, unless a state should buy it—is under the management of the United States, which by which the president is authorized to set aside as a forest reserve any of the public lands of the United States which are better adapted for the production of lumber than for any other purpose, and which are better adapted for the production of lumber than for any other purpose.

The area of land, exclusive of water, in Cook and Lincoln counties is 2,240,000 acres. It is estimated that about 400,000 acres, or less than one-fifth, of this was of such a character that there had not been enough demand for it either for agricultural or for other purposes. It is to be subdivided by the government into small tracts, and the land is to be sold to the public. A personal visit to the country a year ago last summer confirmed this opinion.

On my recommendation the interior department withdrew this tract from market two years ago last June, with a view to establishing a forest reserve. After due examination of the land and report by the United States Interior Secretary, the president will decide whether, under all the circumstances, it will be best to set aside the whole or any part of the lands as one of the United States forest reserves.

I went outside the line of my official duties. But the law under which I work forbids me to investigate the extent of the forests of the state, the method used, if any, to promote the growth of timber, and any other important facts relating to forest interests; such information is my duty to try to create a public sentiment for forestry. Where such sentiment prevails there is less liability of forest fires.

The city of Duluth, from its situation, should take the lead in conserving our forest resources. I wish its people might feel a pride in having Minnesota's largest forest with such states as New York and Pennsylvania in national forestry.

REFUGEES FROM RUSSIA

Aged Couple Flee From Polish Reign of Terror.

Arrive In Duluth Unexpectedly, Greatly Surprising Their Son.

Fleeing from a state of affairs which they state resembles that existing during the French revolution, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Zalk arrived in the city last evening from Poland and surprised their son, Max Zalk, who did not even know they had left their home.

Mr. Zalk is over 50 years of age and his wife is 75. They formerly lived in Poland, but left there in 1894 and returned to their old home in Poland, where they have been living since that time. Mr. Zalk is a man of considerable means, while Mrs. Zalk is a woman of considerable means.

Such is the state of affairs pictured by Mr. Zalk and related to his son, who in turn described it to a Herald reporter. He and his wife, stating that conditions might become even worse and a veritable reign of terror be instituted, took what valuables they could carry easily and fled to America. They say they intend to spend the remainder of their lives here.

Mr. Zalk had left considerable sum of money on deposit in the First National bank here, when he went to Poland, and had never drawn it out. He is now able to support them, which, of course, he can do.

When they arrived in Duluth they state that they felt like kneeling down and kissing the paving stones, in their joy at again reaching a civilized land. Mr. Zalk here said that he had been in the city for some time, and that he was now in a free country and that she was no longer in fear from robbers and murderers.

Mr. Zalk had left considerable sum of money on deposit in the First National bank here, when he went to Poland, and had never drawn it out. He is now able to support them, which, of course, he can do.

When they arrived in Duluth they state that they felt like kneeling down and kissing the paving stones, in their joy at again reaching a civilized land. Mr. Zalk here said that he had been in the city for some time, and that he was now in a free country and that she was no longer in fear from robbers and murderers.

Such is the state of affairs pictured by Mr. Zalk and related to his son, who in turn described it to a Herald reporter. He and his wife, stating that conditions might become even worse and a veritable reign of terror be instituted, took what valuables they could carry easily and fled to America. They say they intend to spend the remainder of their lives here.

mercy of thieves, robbers and lawless characters. A condition of affairs resembling anarchy exists. Life and property are not safe, and the citizens are compelled to barricade their doors every night and keep watch with revolvers to protect themselves and their families. All money and valuables are buried and small banks have locked their doors and buried their funds and papers. All newspapers are subjected to a rigid censorship and nothing concerning the war or the conditions existing can be printed. All foreign papers must pass the censor when coming into the country, and anything likely to stir up public feeling is painted out with black ink.

All who can afford to do so are packing their belongings and taking refuge in neighboring countries. Germany, Austria and England are flooded with refugees from Poland and America is the haven to which all turn their eyes, although they have the funds necessary for the journey.

The people remaining at home are living practically without hope and in a state of utter desolation. Their sons and husbands have been sent to the war, and they never expect to see them again. The refugees are left at the mercy of the lawless element of society, and the municipal government is practically disorganized and unable to cope with the conditions.

County Attorney's Salary
Meeting.

While legislative matters were being talked over by the members of the county board yesterday afternoon, just after the meeting, County Auditor Halden said that he has seen in the press a statement that he and other officers are working in favor of the provision in the proposed new code to increase their salaries. Mr. Halden asserted that this is not only untrue, but that he is opposed to the provision for the reason that there are very few changes in the matter of his office so far as legislation is concerned and will be entirely satisfied if he have conditions as they now exist. He said that he has not discussed the matter with the board, but that he is of the opinion that it is working for an increase of salary may not be made in any way. Mr. Halden says that he has prepared a bill for legislative consideration, placing his office on its present basis. He and other county officers deny that there has been any move made by them to have their salaries increased.

The new code places the salary of the county auditor at $2,000 a year, or rather limits the salary to $2,000, the county board to fix the sum. At the county board meeting yesterday, this matter was brought up by Commissioner Hughes, who said that he had seen in the paper a statement that although there is no law between the county board and the county auditor's office at present, he wished to be considered unprejudiced in the matter of recommending that the official Mr. Hughes said that he is in favor of increasing rather than decreasing the county auditor's salary, but that he is putting it at $2,000 or $2,500 and leaving the county board to fix the sum. At the county board meeting yesterday, he said that he was not prepared to recommend that the county board should be empowered to appoint the assistant county auditor, but that he was in favor of increasing rather than decreasing the county auditor's salary, but that he is putting it at $2,000 or $2,500 and leaving the county board to fix the sum. DANCE.
Given by Union Bank, No. 1555, M. W. A., Tuesday evening, Feb. 14, at Great Eastern hall. Admission, 50c.

WEST DULUTH BRIEFS.
A dance will be given at Great Eastern hall, Tuesday evening, Feb. 14, by the Duluth delegation to discuss the matter of Duluth rank. M. W. A., No. 1555. Tickets, 50c.

The funeral of little Martin Stinson was held this morning at the St. James church, at 9 o'clock. Interment was at Calvary cemetery.

E. J. Sliger, of Butte, Mont., is a guest at the home of his brother James, Fifty-seventh avenue west.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. George Rothel.

Six new members were initiated into Camp No. 1555, Modern Woodmen of America, at the regular meeting at the Great Eastern hall last night. Harry Richards delivered an address on matters of general interest to the order.

Had Henry Richards left for the Pacific coast early in the week, as he had planned, he would have been a passenger on the Great Northern train which was wrecked in Montana Tuesday night. At the last moment Mr. Richards decided to postpone his trip until a later date.

A winter festival will be held at the Swedish Mission church, Sixteenth avenue west and Colby street, next Saturday evening. A fine musical and literary program will be rendered. The principal address of the evening will be delivered by Rev. A. P. Nelson, of St. Peter, Minn.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinson, 730 North Fifty-fifth avenue.

Frank Edmunds has returned from the Twin Cities.

G. A. Graham left yesterday for Saginaw, Mich., where he will visit for the next two weeks with friends and relatives.

Mr. Crosby said that he was going to St. Paul next night to attend the meeting of the St. Louis county delegation today and that if they would not pass a resolution upon him at the meeting today, he would not legislate against their interests in St. Paul this trip.

Regarding the proposed legislation to have an examiner of the townships, villages and school districts, County Attorney McChesney says he has sent copies of the proposed bill to the members of the grand jury's request to the members of the St. Louis county delegation in St. Paul and at the same time to the delegation will, in person, bring up the matter and urge that something be done about it.

Crookston Applies For Readmission to the Northern League.

St. Cloud Making Active Preparations For Entering the League.

Through a new board of managers, the Crookston Baseball club has made application to the Northern league for admission to the league. The Crookston club forfeited its franchise in the league last season owing to the failure to complete the schedule, but with the smaller salary limit the Crookston fans believe they can support a team, and they have made application for reinstatement, with a promise to pay for their own expenses and to start a team on a sound financial basis.

St. Cloud is losing no time in preparing to enter the league. The St. Cloud Northern league club, D. J. Laxdal and W. J. Price, the manager of the club, were in the city yesterday looking over the field. They consulted some of the business men who are interested in the game, and succeeded in convincing them that if St. Cloud could support an independent team with a salary limit of $800 per month, it could support a league team with a salary limit of $200 and make money.

The articles of incorporation for a stock company are now being drawn up, and some of the stock has already been subscribed in advance. There seems little doubt but that St. Cloud will be in the Northern league circuit next year and will start the season with the team on a proper basis.

With Crookston and St. Cloud in the league, the six-club circuit will again be complete, but it is planned to add Brainerd and Valley and Crookston to the league. The two latter towns joined each other and would be represented by one team.

This would give an eight-club circuit, oval in shape and with no very long jumps between any two cities with the exception of the trip up to Winnipeg. The six-club circuit was in a fair way to trip, for they always came $40 a game instead of $80, which was last year's figure, and the club will be a better system of mileage equalization, whereby those clubs which travel farther than the others will be able to make money on their extra expense.

The circuit committee will present its report on Feb. 14 at a meeting of the league executive to be held in Fargo.

Frank Ritter a

Tyndall—"A man with buggy and team forced me to drink. There is $50 in the German bank for my debt."

The message left by Frank Ritter, a Bon Homme county farmer, whose mysterious death a few days ago has resulted in the arrest of a stranger, is believed to be the charge of having murdered him. Ritter was found by his neighbor at his home by his wife, when she returned from the death-bed of her mother in North Dakota. Ritter was found by his neighbor at his home by his wife, when she returned from the death-bed of her mother in North Dakota.

Aberdeen—An Aberdeen farmer, suffering from a cold, died last night. He had been living in a little shack near Westport. He is believed to have died of a cold, and the cause of death is believed to be a cold, and the cause of death is believed to be a cold.

Pierre—Governor Elrod, on request of the governor of Iowa, granted a request for Frank Ritter, a man who was found by his neighbor at his home by his wife, when she returned from the death-bed of her mother in North Dakota.

Canton—The firm of Woods & Straw, for many years in the general merchandise business, has turned over its stock to Christ & Hansen, who have taken the business until the first of March, after which the two stores will be consolidated.

WHAT THE MINISTER SAYS Is Most Convincing.

"I thought I would write you what Pyramid Pile Cure has done for me. I had a most aggravated case of bleeding piles; indeed I dreaded when I had to go to stool. One fifty-cent box cured me. I feel like a new man. I have recommended it to others as being the most wonderful remedy known. It is indeed a great blessing to suffering humanity. You are at liberty to use this for all it is worth, and I hope it may do good." Rev. W. E. Carr, 355 No. Holbrook street, Danville, Va.

Clergymen (like all professional men who lead sedentary lives) are especially addicted to piles in various forms, and are continually on the lookout for a remedy which will give relief with little or no idea of obtaining a cure. Rev. W. E. Carr, 355 No. Holbrook street, Danville, Va.

Pyramid Pile Cure is a most effective remedy for piles in all their forms, and is especially adapted to the use of those who are afflicted with piles in various forms, and is especially adapted to the use of those who are afflicted with piles in various forms.

A little book describing the causes and cure of piles is published by Pyramid Pile Cure Co., 100 N. Main, St. Paul, Minn., and will be sent free for the asking. All sufferers are advised to write for it, as it contains valuable information on the subject of piles.

DOINGS IN MICHIGAN

Three Wrecks in Week on Wisconsin & Michigan Road.

Iron Mountain—A recent wreck on the Wisconsin & Michigan road, caused by a smashed switch stand, resulted, peculiarly, to say the least. The first engine of the double-header passed over the switch safely and ran into the sidetrack. As the wheels passed over, the switch stand broke and the second engine capsized on the main track. The train was going at a good rate of speed and the first and second engines were both wrecked. The switch stand, which was a double-header, was broken and the train was going at a good rate of speed and the first and second engines were both wrecked.

Norway—The Menominee river, which for half a century has been one of the great waterways of the state, is being forced to give up some of its wealth that has been concealed beneath its waters. Cress of men have been operating through the ice between the first and second engines, and the month of the stream since the beginning of the winter, hauling out sunken logs and timber. The river is being forced to give up some of its wealth that has been concealed beneath its waters.

Crystal Falls—Iron mines has increased the beauty on timber wolves from 3750 to 3750, making, with the bounty of $100,000, the state a $25,000 head. Wolves are increasing in the upper peninsula.

Menominee—Members of the Menominee common council have assumed a committee to investigate the request recently made by the club asking the council to purchase the Menominee river. The council has been asked by the club to purchase the Menominee river.

Munising—The damage suit of Frank Hollinsworth vs. Munising Manufacturing company, scheduled for trial in circuit court this morning, was postponed until a later date. The case is being postponed until a later date.

CLUETT, PEAODY & CO.,
MAKERS OF CLUETT AND MONARCH SHIRTS

The same firm has also completed a deal for the restaurant property of J. H. Irwin. The L. L. Morris store, owned by G. S. Hanson, was sold today to Gillen & Downes of Yankton.

There is an unusual amount of severe illness in this city at present. J. G. Laxson, chairman of the Republican county central committee, is suffering from pneumonia, and may not recover. Rev. J. W. Dibble, is the victim of Bright's disease and is not expected to live long. Mrs. M. W. Cuppett is seriously ill with rheumatism, which threatens her life.

Huron—Dr. W. H. Thrall, superintendent of the city water works, is suffering from pneumonia, and may not recover. Rev. J. W. Dibble, is the victim of Bright's disease and is not expected to live long. Mrs. M. W. Cuppett is seriously ill with rheumatism, which threatens her life.

The securing of a deed to the land adjoining this city water works, as it practically insures the passage of the bill now before the legislature appropriating money for the erection of buildings, for the state fair to be held here permanently. The officers of the Chicago and North-Western railway, very recently granted the request of the committee, and a deed to the land will be issued to the state.

Watertown—Last fall a sandbar formed across the outlet of Lake Kameoka. When the ice came the condition existed, and therefore no fish have been able to get into or out of the lake. Early this week there was a movement of fish from the Sioux river to the lake, and the result was a large catch of fish. The water was used as a place for fish pickering, and the fish were sold for a good price. The water was used as a place for fish pickering, and the fish were sold for a good price.

One of the implied objects of the association is to give the fishermen a better market for their fish. The association is to give the fishermen a better market for their fish. The association is to give the fishermen a better market for their fish.

One of the clauses of the constitution makes a provision which practically means that all the real estate concerns in the city of Duluth, Minn., will come into membership, for provision is made that a member of the association cannot "broker" business with an individual or firm not belonging to the exchange.

A new board discussed at some length the question of commissions which should be paid and under the constitution, the commission agreed to will be practically the same as those which have been in vogue on loans and real estate transactions.

REQUEST PROGRAM.
Concert Sunday Evening to Contain Choice Numbers.

Patrons of Flanigan's Third Regiment band will be afforded the pleasure of hearing their favorite numbers at the Lyceum Sunday evening, when the specially prepared "request program" will be rendered. Requests have been coming in in large numbers and unusually large program will be rendered.

George L. Tyler, tenor, accompanied by Gerald Topping, pianist, will render their popular series of renditions of latest American and English songs of the highest type.

On account of the length of the program no encore will be granted at last Sunday's concert. A sufficient number of selections will be included in the arrangement to insure long and interesting entertainment as usual and it is likely that the first and second engines were both wrecked. The switch stand, which was a double-header, was broken and the train was going at a good rate of speed and the first and second engines were both wrecked.

Norway—The Menominee river, which for half a century has been one of the great waterways of the state, is being forced to give up some of its wealth that has been concealed beneath its waters. Cress of men have been operating through the ice between the first and second engines, and the month of the stream since the beginning of the winter, hauling out sunken logs and timber. The river is being forced to give up some of its wealth that has been concealed beneath its waters.

Crystal Falls—Iron mines has increased the beauty on timber wolves from 3750 to 3750, making, with the bounty of $100,000, the state a $25,000 head. Wolves are increasing in the upper peninsula.

Menominee—Members of the Menominee common council have assumed a committee to investigate the request recently made by the club asking the council to purchase the Menominee river. The council has been asked by the club to purchase the Menominee river.

Munising—The damage suit of Frank Hollinsworth vs. Munising Manufacturing company, scheduled for trial in circuit court this morning, was postponed until a later date. The case is being postponed until a later date.

MR. SULLY: READING OF THE

SCARCITY OF MEN

Employment Agents Have Difficulty In Filling Orders.
Review of Railroad Work Planned For the Summer.

"There are fewer men out of employment in Duluth now than at any time since the unusual scarcity of laborers in the early fall," said G. S. Richards of the National Employment company yesterday. "Jobs are so much more numerous than men to take them, so far as woods and railroad work is concerned, at least, as to cause the employment agents real concern. For two weeks past it has been impossible for us to fill all of our orders for men, although we are shipping out a considerable number each day."

Small danger exists of there being a drop in woods and railroad work wages for some time to come. A raise in the scale is more likely. In fact, there has been a raise at several of the camps already, and more money is being paid for some classes of work than formerly. In addition to this, railway fare is being advanced in nearly every instance to out of town jobs. For two or three months the present season this was unnecessary. Just now the average wage for common classes of woods work ranges from $25 to $30, with a higher figure for the more expert workmen.

As The Herald has said before, this year will see a boom in the construction of new branch lines of railway. Of course there will be a consequent heavy demand upon the employment agents for laborers. There will be work for all, with good wages. Some of the preliminary construction work has already been started. In a letter addressed to The Winston Bros. company, which has the contract for double tracking the Duluth, Missoula & Northern line a distance of twenty-four miles, has just completed the first of the camps necessary to house the men while the work is being carried on. It is located at Grand Lake. This will be the only one created during the winter, but others will be built in the early spring and the work will be vigorously prosecuted with the approach of warmer weather.

I understand that men are already at work on the Soo extension, which is to run from Owatonna, Wis. to Ladysmith, Minn., a distance of twenty miles. Of course this job is quite a distance from Duluth, but this city will be depended upon to furnish a good many men for it. I understand that a contract for another 125 miles of construction work on the same line, extending from Ladysmith to Superior, will be let before spring. This will mean another large number of laborers.

"We have orders for men for railway construction work down in Michigan, where the Chicago & Northwestern line is laying a piece of track from Saunders to Leona, a twenty-mile run. Another and much longer extension will be laid for the same company the coming summer, although the contract has not yet been let. It will run from Gillette to a place in the vicinity of Green Bay, and will be a part of the system which is planned to make the shortest line between Chicago and the copper country. Later on more contract work on the same line will be let, I believe."

"Then there is the Soo extension from Thier River Falls and, nearer home, the new branch line on the ranges. One contract, taken from John Ramsey, calls for a two-and-one-half mile piece of track from Colton to the end of the line. Another spur is being run out from Eveleth, and it is understood that still more short extensions of this sort are to be made. The three miles of track to be laid above Fond du Lac by the Northern Power company will be another big job upon the labor market. More double track work, about seven miles of it, is to be done on the Great Northern, in the vicinity of Wrentham, Minn., so you see the year will come very nearly being a record breaker in railroad work, so far as this section of the country is concerned."

EST. 1847. Allcock's PLASTERS

Are a universal remedy for Pains in the Back (so frequent in the case of women). They give instantaneous relief. Wherever there is a pain apply a Plaster.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE

For Pains in the region of the Kidneys, or a Weak Back, the plaster should be applied as shown above. Wherever there is a pain apply Allcock's Plaster.

For Rheumatism or Pains in Shoulders, Elbows, Wrists, etc., or for Sprains, Stiffness, etc., and for Sore Throat, Coughs, Croup, etc., and for all other pains, apply as indicated.

Rheumatism, Colds, Coughs, Weak Chest, Weak Back, Lumbago, Sciatica, &c., &c.,

REMEMBER—Allcock's Plasters are the original and genuine porous plaster and have never been equalled as pain curers. Furthermore, they are absolutely safe as they do not contain belladonna, opium or any poison whatever.

Insist Upon Having Allcock's.

NEMESIS ON MAFIA'S TRAIL

But Masterson Is Rushing to Aid of New York.

New York, Feb. 8.—But Masterson, bad man, champion gun fighter, scout, and buffalo hunter, is coming to New York as a United States deputy marshal.

After a lifetime passed in tracking the buffalo to his lair and fanning the trigger of a single action "Colt's 45" or "Smith & Wesson" revolver, Masterson is now a deputy marshal, and is rushing to New York to aid in the fight against the Mafia.

Tomorrow Marshall Henkel probably will induct him into office and on the official badge. "Window insurance" will go up 50 per cent in the Italian quarter, for, although Bat shoots straight, his gun is so "all-fired" powerful the bullet may go straight through the chief of the black hand and do a lot of damage.

If you're a counterfeiter you want to be good after tomorrow, or Bat Masterson, the blood stained avenger of Butte, will be on your trail. Not that Bat comes from Butte. His fame is tied up with the fame of Dodge City. It is one of the western towns known as "the toughest town on earth." But Butte is the right word in this place. It sounds as if it belonged there, and sort of rhymes in English, and that's the essence of real literature.

What Bat Masterson didn't do in the old West wasn't worth doing. And now he is bound for New York to clean it up as he cleaned up Dodge City. The times have changed. The West became so quiet and respectable that Bat Masterson is not needed. He is off to East sends a hurry call for him.

DIPPED UNDER ICE.

Invalid Eighty Years Old Baptized by Elders.

Philadelphia, Feb. 8.—In an invalid's chair a woman past 80 years old and paralyzed in one side was wheeled out on the ice and baptized in the Delaware river. Those who saw her taken from the hole in the ice thought she had succumbed from cold. For a few moments she gave no sign of life. The woman is Miss Bradley of this city. She was baptized by Elder Skinner of the Church of God.

Attended by five clergymen, who walked on the ice in bare feet, the old woman sang in a feeble, tremulous voice as she was rolled in her chair to the

HOME RULE LAWS ARE SYSTEM LOOSE

Planned By Porto Ricans, Affecting District of Columbia and President Who Seek Rights of State. Takes Action.

Medina Drafts Measure Congressmen Said to Own Stock In Washington Companies.

San Juan, P. R., Feb. 8.—Even the most optimistic and patient Americans here are viewing with apprehension the anti-American spirit which seems to permeate the house of delegates, and which is evident all over the island. The most sensational political incident of the past week was an anti-American speech by Speaker Matienzo Cimron of the house, a leader of the Unionist party and who was for four years a member of the executive council as an appointee of President McKinley. Delegate Ochoteco declared that "Porto Ricans should ask for their liberty with their hands up, and not groveling on the ground." Other bitter speeches were made before the passing of the memorial to the United States congress demanding greater liberties.

Delegate Medina of Mayaguez still stands loyally for the independence of Porto Rico. He says that Porto Rico will never be content until she is free. The local press calls him the Patrick Henry of the house. Medina's plan is to declare Porto Rico an independent territory under United States protection. He says the United States shall have no power to interfere in the internal or external government of Porto Rico beyond the payment of a civil governor for the island, and this appointment shall be made by the president of the United States.

The governor shall be the commander of the insular military and naval forces, which shall be placed at the disposal of the United States in time of war, and also of the police. He shall be the United States representative in the island, with similar powers to those with which a consul general is invested; besides this the dignity of vice president of the congress of the state of Porto Rico shall be conferred upon him, he shall attend all the sessions of the congress as a passive member, furnish all the information that shall be required of him that he may be able to give, but shall have no voice or vote in the affairs of the island, except at such times as he may be called upon to preside. He is deprived of the power of veto, and can only exercise clemency in the case of criminals condemned for crimes other than those of fraud against the treasury of Porto Rico or the treasury of the United States.

He shall remove from office all public officials or functionaries convicted of crime, and fill the vacancies occurring in the state council in accordance with law. He shall annually report to the president of the United States and to the senate the condition of affairs in Porto Rico, and shall receive an annual salary of $5,000. His term of office shall be for a term of four years.

All persons taking the oath of allegiance to the state of Porto Rico shall be citizens of the same. Citizens of the United States and of Porto Rico are equally entitled to hold office in the country. The state of Porto Rico shall take no part whatever in the affairs of the United States besides placing its military and naval resources at their disposal in time of war, and it shall be the duty of Porto Rico, in every instance, to protect the rights and liberties of the confederation.

Merchandise imported from the United States shall pay no import duties in Porto Rico, except on such articles as silk, merinos, cashmeres, hosiery, perfumery, gold, jewelry, precious stones, furniture and other articles produced by manual labor, ready-made clothing, boots and such fancy articles as shall be provided for by law. The currency of the state of Porto Rico shall be United States coin and paper money.

The state of Porto Rico shall be divided into seven districts, as equal as possible as to extension and population, and each district subdivided into nine counties, which shall likewise be as equal as possible in extension and population. The seven districts shall be: San Juan, Ponce, Mayaguez, Caguas, San Pedro de Macoris, San Juan de los Rios, and San Juan de los Rios. The sixty-three representatives thus elected shall form a legislative body, which shall sit for thirty days each year from April 1 to May 5, and as often afterward as the governor may see fit to convene it for special sessions.

On the second day of its first session each of the seven senators composing the legislative body shall elect a councilor, and the seven councilors thus elected shall form the executive body, which shall be styled the state council. These seven councilors shall be the heads of the seven departments to be created, which are: The department of education, treasury department, department of vigilance (police), department of interior and department of health.

Freedom of thought, speech, worship and of the press is insured. The people shall be permitted to make use of what ever weapons or arms that may be needed for the safety of their persons and property. No person shall be obliged to give evidence in any judicial case, no matter what its nature may be, if he be not willing to give such evidence. No person shall be deprived of his liberty until the time for which he is arraigned be duly proven, and in every case he may give personal bail answering therewith whatever property he may possess.

TIARA OF ROYAL DIAMONDS.
Queen Alexandra to Emulate an American "Queen."

London, Feb. 8.—Queen Alexandra has been so impressed with the beautiful jewels worn by a well known American society leader in London that she has asked the favor that a superb tiara of sapphires and diamonds might be lent to Buckingham palace for closer inspection.

The queen was so struck by the beauty of the design, no less than the luster of the stones, that she decided to have some of her own gem stones set in a tiara, responsible, who is a Parisian.

The queen's tiara is in the form of a collar of enormous diamonds, with bars of still larger stones down the sides. The front comes down in a point and from this falls a long fringe of diamonds almost covering the chest. From each string of which are pendant cabochon emeralds, with diamond drops.

What Joy They Bring To Every Home

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature, and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

SERVICES SUNDAY

Will All Be Addressed
By Y. M. C. A. Convention Delegates.

Rev. James Montgomery
Will Address Opening Meeting.

Practically every pulpit in Duluth will be occupied by a member of the Y. M. C. A. Sunday morning and afternoon. The different congregations have requested that the prominent speakers who will be here for the convention which opens today, speak in the churches, and on Sunday the different speakers will be assigned to the principal churches in the city.

The delegates commenced to arrive this morning. A large number came in at 7 o'clock and the convention will be in session at 8 o'clock this evening. They will be given quarters at the Y. M. C. A. rooms and will be directed to the opening meeting which will be held in the First Presbyterian church.

The principal speaker tonight will be Rev. James Montgomery of Minneapolis. All of the regular meetings will be held in the First Presbyterian church. They are open to the public and ladies are especially invited to attend. The Sunday afternoon meeting in the Lyceum.

Tomorrow morning the prominent orator will speak on "The Twentieth Century Young Men's Christian Association." This will be followed by a reception of the delegates at the Y. M. C. A. rooms.

In the evening the quartet will give a song service, and Frank H. Burt of Chicago, will speak on "The Twentieth Century Young Men's Christian Association." This will be followed by a reception of the delegates at the Y. M. C. A. rooms.

William H. Tibbels, a surveyor, today filed a petition for voluntary bankruptcy with the clerk of federal court. Liabilities are placed at $2,422.35 and assets at $2, all of which is claimed to be exempt. The testimony is expected to be taken in the case of Charlotte L. Wells against Mendonah & Hopes and J. D. Zien, now being heard in federal court. It is thought that Tibbels will be discharged.

Today, Mr. Adson received advice from the company's representative at Houghton stating that if the Duluth people who expect to attend desire to get good seats they should attend to the reservations right away for the reason that the copper country is all stirred up over the hockey contests and that at least two weeks before the pennant game there will not be a seat to be had for love or money.

RATE BILL SATOHL IS PASSED

The House By Overwhelming Vote of 326 to 17. Extends Authority of Interstate Commerce Commission to Fix Rates.

By the Affairs of Catholic University at Washington. Pope Leo Monument Is Causing Trouble—Contract Made Twice.

Washington, Feb. 9.—By a vote of 325 to 17 today, the house, at 3:30 o'clock, passed the Esch-Townsend bill extending authority to the interstate commerce commission to fix railroad rates. The Davy bill, the Democratic substitute for railroad rate legislation, was defeated in the house, 151 yeas, 156 nays.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The house today entered upon the last day of discussion of the bills to regulate freight rates. According to the rule adopted Monday, the vote will be taken at 3 o'clock, first on the minority substitute, known as the Davy bill, and should it fail of passage, then on the bill known as the Esch-Townsend bill. Less than twenty-five members were in their seats when the debate was opened by Mr. Pierce (Tenn.), who, after announcing that the president, on the subject of rate legislation, was the greatest leader that has lived in the Republic since the Civil War, said he would support the Esch-Townsend bill. He, however, based his support upon the fact that William J. Bryan and the Democratic party had declared for such legislation.

Mr. Deamond (Mo.) while admitting the necessity for legislation, attacked the Esch-Townsend bill as being singularly lacking in its compliance with the recommendations of the president. He said it was not to be supposed that the courts would be eager and searching in an endeavor to find in it something on that subject which its authors themselves could not find.

Mr. Crumpacker (Ind.) said he would ungrudgingly support the majority measure. The stonewall bill came over from the senate and was laid on the speaker's table for reference to committee. The closing remarks for the minority were made by Mr. Williams (Miss.), who at the outset, declared that the house upon the fact that not only in the matter of rate legislation, but in several other particulars, President Roosevelt was beginning to assume a distinctly Democratic attitude. He said he had begun to hope that the president would see that it was altogether absurd to keep 20,000 more soldiers than were needed.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Mr. Lodge presented petitions from 1,042 Christian Endeavor societies, representing all the states and territories, and asking that the president be authorized to invite the governments of the world to send delegates to an international congress to meet at stated intervals to deliberate upon questions of common interest to the nations interested.

The agricultural appropriation bill was then taken up and on a point of order Mr. McFarland moved for the suspension of the rules for the purpose of accepting gifts of land for forest reserve purposes was stricken out.

Surprise Party. A farewell surprise was given last evening to Anton Sundquist, who will leave for New York on the Omaha tomorrow at 5:30 p. m. for a tour of inspection of the French coast. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. John Bodin, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sundquist.

Misses—Christine Burklin, Margaret Erickson, Lydia Anderson, Ellen Anderson, Ellen Granlund, Jennie Erickson, Ester Larson, Ester Erickson, Clara Sundberg, Anna Larson, Anna Hammarstrom.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Silbertin and daughter, Miss Irene Silbertin, left last evening for New York on the Omaha. During their trip they will visit with Miss Elsie Silbertin at her present study in New York City.

Charles A. Dunlap today received a telegram from his father, Mr. J. H. Dunlap, who now heads the list of Copper country men who have been elected to the Northern Pacific today for Portland.

Mr. D. T. Harding left this afternoon for Portland. Your can dine in privacy at Haley's restaurant. Twenty boxes.

Excursion Arranged. South Shore Road Will Run One To Houghton.

The close of the hockey season in the copper country, which will occur in March, particularly the prospective contest between the two winning teams for the pennant, is attracting no small amount of attention from the fans of that sport, even in this locality.

The closing game of the tournament is due to be played at Houghton, Mich., March 15. This will be the pennant game and the contesting teams will be the Rat Portage team, which is in first place in the league, and the team from Houghton, which is in second place at that time. The Rat Portage team has been Houghton and is said to be so far in the lead there is little chance of its being overtaken.

Local enthusiasts have been taking the matter of the pennant game up with the management of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic company and General Agent Matt Adson is now arranging for an excursion to be run to Houghton for the final game, with reduced rates. Just what concessions the South Shore road will make has not yet been announced but it is understood that the round trip rate for the occasion will be made such that no effort will be required to take out a large crowd of the Head of the Lakes enthusiasts.

Today, Mr. Adson received advice from the company's representative at Houghton stating that if the Duluth people who expect to attend desire to get good seats they should attend to the reservations right away for the reason that the copper country is all stirred up over the hockey contests and that at least two weeks before the pennant game there will not be a seat to be had for love or money.

EMIGRANT CAR IS THROWN OFF TRACK.

Meadville, Pa., Feb. 9.—A west bound passenger train on the Erie railroad struck a broken rail between Union City and Concord, Pa., this afternoon, resulting in an emigrant car being thrown into the ditch and turned completely over. Six emigrants were injured, but none will die. A dining car and an express car were also partially derailed but none of the passengers in them hurt.

FRENCH CRUISER MAY BE A TOTAL LOSS.

Paris, Feb. 9.—Dispatches reaching the ministry of marine lead to fears that the armored cruiser Sully of the French fleet, in Far Eastern waters, which, as announced yesterday, touched a rock in Allong bay, will be a total loss. Admiralty reports that the cruiser is still firmly fixed on the rocks and that it has been necessary to remove the Sully's crew.

The Sully is of 9,576 tons displacement, was built in 1901, and has twelve 6 inch guns, eight 4 inch guns, six 3.9 inch guns and five torpedo tubes.

CONVENTION OF Y. M. C. A. IN SESSION

Permanent Organization
Effectuated With Watson S.
Moore Chairman.

Proceedings of Morning and Afternoon—The Delegates Here.

The state convention of the Young Men's Christian Association opened this morning with a devotional service held in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church, and it was quite well attended by local and visiting delegates. Permanent organization for the convention was established by the election of the following officers:

Chairman, Watson S. Moore of Duluth; vice chairman, E. M. Stevens of Minneapolis; Dean W. H. Pattee of the state university, Thomas Owens of Two Harbors, C. J. Hunt of St. Paul, F. E. House of Duluth, E. W. Van Auker, president of Parker college.

Business committee—R. E. Squires

J. F. OATES,
Secretary of Chicago Y. M. C. A. and Prominent in State Convention
Now in Session Here.

of Winona, Abner Gran of Mankato. Committee to examine the report of the state committee—B. H. Van Auker of Parker college, W. D. Edson and W. H. Hayes of Duluth, William Graham of Winona.

Committee on resolutions—W. H. Wallace of Redwood Falls and E. A. Schulze of Duluth. Committee on devotional meetings—H. P. Goldard of Minneapolis, B. N. Wheeler and T. E. Upham of Duluth.

Auditing committee—L. G. Scott of Minneapolis, auditor of the Minneapolis & St. Louis railway, Milo Piske of Eveleth, State Secretary Hanson and Assistant State Secretary A. Donald.

The reports of the state chairman and state treasurer were to have been read this morning, but the delivery of these officers was prevented the matter was postponed until some future time during the convention.

E. W. PECK,
State Secretary of Y. M. C. A. of

During the morning an interesting talk was given by Assistant State secretary Eastman, who has been looking after the development of Y. M. C. A. work throughout the state. Mr. Eastman urged that more work be done in the country and that it is in the latter districts the greatest efforts should be put. He gave some interesting statistics to show the morals of young men in the country districts. He took Fairbault county as a sample district and declared that Fairbault will average higher morally than most counties in the state. According to his statement that county contains about 24,000 people, has four towns of fair size and has within its limits fifty-five churches. He found upon investigation that 12 per cent of the young men of the county belong to some church, about 15 or 16 per cent attend service on Sunday, 7 per cent of those over 15 years of age go to Sunday school, about 30 per cent under 15 years of age go to Sunday school, about 45 per cent belong to young people's societies in the churches and about one in seventy-five attend prayer meetings. He pointed out that only about one in four of those that attend Sunday school before they are 15 years of age are held after that point in life is reached. He spoke of one town he visited last year in an endeavor to start a Y. M. C. A. movement. Many of its citizens told him it was not necessary, because the town was of high moral tone. It contained 2,000 people and in one hour the evening he was there, Mr. Eastman counted 132 young men going into saloons. "So much for the moral town," added he.

Mr. Eastman said that at present the Y. M. C. A. work is confined to the cities, railroad and colleges, but he believed it should be pushed into the country districts.

After Mr. Eastman's address, Frank E. Anderson, Y. M. C. A. state secretary of Wisconsin, made an address on "Bible Study," which proved interesting.

Frank H. Burt, educational director of the Chicago institute and training school, and J. P. Oates of Chicago, conducting two Bible classes this afternoon, and later in the afternoon there will be conferences of the secretary of the work—college delegates, city railroad and district delegates—to be followed by an address by Fred S. Goodman, international secretary of Bible

Muskegon, Mich., Feb. 10—Charles H. Hackler, who has given to Muskegon a manual training school, grammar school, hospital, soldiers' monument, parks and various statues of civil war heroes, representing a money value of $250,000, died today. He was three days with heart trouble. Suffering a sudden relapse, he passed away while unconscious. Deceased was a member of the firm of Hackler & Hume. His wealth is estimated at fifteen millions. He is survived by his wife and three adopted children. The widow is seriously ill.

Algona, Mich., Feb. 10—Capt. W. Dana, said to have been the oldest vessel master on the Great Lakes, died here yesterday of heart trouble. He was 92 years old and was born at Montezuma, N. Y. As a ship builder he is credited with being type builder of the first three-masted vessel to sail the lakes.

Beloit, Wis., Feb. 10—Rev. S. W. Eaton is dead at the home of his son at Newton Highlands, Mass., aged 81. He was a pioneer minister in Wisconsin of the Congregational church. He began his work in the woods of Wisconsin, early in the forties and served the Lancaster, Wis., church as pastor forty years. He was captain of the Seventh Wisconsin Infantry during the Civil war. Burial will be at Lancaster, Wis.

"Advantage Is an Obligation."

On account of the inauguration of President-elect Roosevelt, March 4th, agents of the Pennsylvania lines will sell tickets, Chicago to Washington and return, at rate of $17.75. This reduction of fare offers an exceptional opportunity to visit the national capital. Excellent train service—through sleeping cars. Tickets will be accepted at "The Manhattan Limited," leaving Chicago daily at 1:00 p. m., reaching Washington 1:20, noon, next day, without additional cost. Agents of connecting lines will sell through tickets over Pennsylvania lines from Chicago and make sleeping car reservations for you. For full particulars, address G. L. Thomson, T. P. A., Pioneer Press Bldg., St. Paul.

Presidential Inauguration Ceremonies.

For the occasion of the inauguration of President Roosevelt at Washington, D. C., March 4, 1905, excursion tickets will be on sale Feb. 28 and March 1 and 2 via "The Northwestern Line" to Washington, D. C., and return at 4d for the round trip. Final limit for return, leaving Washington, March 18. City ticket office, 302 West Superior street.

Special Home-Seekers' Excursions.

On Feb. 21 and March 21, "The Northwestern Line" will sell special "home-seekers'" excursion tickets to points in Arkansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee at $25.00 for the round trip. For further information call at city ticket office, or Washington, D. C., and return at 4d for the round trip, 302 West Superior street, Duluth Minn.

A woman ceases to read store advertisements when she ceases to make purchases at stores—not until then. If you will cross-question your wife, after she has read the Herald, you will find that she is a little "hazy" about the status of the Eastern war, but that she has a sharp and clear notion of the "special sales" that are in progress at the various stores.

FORTUNES IN WAITING.

In spite of the enormous inroads made on this earth's great store of wealth, diamonds, gold, coal, iron and other materials, recent investigations have brought to light the fact that the most valuable treasure fields containing fabulous wealth still remain intact, says the London Chronicle.

Investigations have proved, for instance, that huge areas of the floor of the Pacific are strewn thick with immense deposits of nodules of pure manganese. In fact, a practical and economical method of recovering it, and the individual who does so will at once become rich beyond the dreams of avarice.

The most crying need of today is a substitute for Paris rubber. It is certain to be discovered sooner or later.

Malleable glass was manufactured and used by the Romans nearly two thousand years ago. But the secret has been lost. It seems odd that no one in this age of mechanical progress has been able to rediscover the method of manufacturing a tough and unbreakable glass. Whoever succeeds in doing so and making the discovery economically useful will reap a great reward.

Real photography in colors is still an open field and offers boundless opportunities for the inventor. In smaller matters, too, the list of wants thus supplied is endless. Jewellers, for instance, are still quite without any safe method of fixing pearls on jewelry, such as rings, where the gems are mounted without a surrounding setting.

WAYS OF FRENCHMEN. In Paris there is an institution which calls itself an "alibi office." It undertakes to prove that when one is really hiding in Paris he is at Biarritz, or some place equally remote, says the Chicago News.

The patron of the "alibi office" writes letters ostensibly from any address, and the "alibi office" has them actually read there, so that when they arrive in Paris they bear the right postmarks. This agency, moreover, offers its subscribers the advantage of an address in "the most aristocratic quarter of Paris," to which their correspondence can be sent, when will be opened by the management when the subscription is not forthcoming.

One result of the anticlerical policy now being pursued in France will be the enriching of the museums with a number of valuable works of art. These are the pictures of the crucifixion which have been removed from the walls of the various houses of the Louvre. In the past, the court a picture of Christ on the cross hanging behind the president's seat and the witnesses were supposed to look on it at the moment they took the oath. On their removal some of the opponents of the government declared that the witnesses would no longer feel bound by their oath and would perjure themselves without scruple.

A guessing contest of unprecedented business gave the leading daily newspaper of Paris, the Petit Parisien, its circulation of 1,500,000. The contest consisted in guessing the number of grains of wheat in a certain sealed bale. The aggregate prizes, including a first prize of $600, amounted to $10,000. It is said that during the competition, in which mail bags took part, the circulation attained the almost incredible number of 2,500,000 a day.

A special staff of 500 clerks had to be engaged to sort the wagon loads of correspondents which arrived every morning.

THOSE WHO HAVE DIED

Muskegon, Mich., Feb. 10—Charles H. Hackler, who has given to Muskegon a manual training school, grammar school, hospital, soldiers' monument, parks and various statues of civil war heroes, representing a money value of $250,000, died today. He was three days with heart trouble. Suffering a

STONE in the BLADDER

Quickly Dissolved and Removed Without Danger by Warner's Safe Cure.

Stone in the bladder is one form of kidney trouble—a chronic ailment. The kidneys are so diseased that they are no longer able to remove all the uric acid and other poisonous waste matters out of the blood. The uric acid accumulates in the bladder and forms into little lumps or stones, which pass away from time to time in the urine. If they are of large size they seriously injure the delicate tissues of the urinary organs, causing inflammation, great weakness, and not infrequently convulsions and death.

When the gravel becomes so large that it cannot be passed the uric acid backs up through the blood, poisons the whole system, and the sufferer dies in terrible agony.

There is only one way to prevent uric acid poison, and this is to dissolve the gravel without delay and get it out of the system by taking Warner's Safe Cure, the only medicine that can be taken with safety.

Gravel, or stone in the bladder, Bright's disease, diabetes and every other form of kidney disease. It acts on the delicate tissues of the kidneys, removes the diseased, worn-out parts, and replaces them with new tissue, purifies the blood, cleanses the circulation, and weakens the torpid liver; assists digestion and tones up and strengthens the whole body; enables every organ to do its work properly and efficiently.

Nearly every man and woman has the germs of kidney disease in their system, and should make a test of the kidneys at least every two or three months.

Let some uric acid be in a glass for 24 hours; if it is cloudy or smoky, or if particles float in it, or if there is a reddish brown sediment, your kidneys are diseased and there is not a moment to lose. You should at once get Warner's Safe Cure. It is absolutely pure, made entirely of herbs, contains no dangerous drugs, is pleasant to take, and is prescribed by doctors and used in hospitals everywhere.

Safe Cure is sold at all drug stores, 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

ANALYSIS FREE.

If after making this test you have any doubt as to the development of the disease in your system, send a sample of your urine to the Medical Department, Warner's Safe Cure Co., Rochester, N. Y., and our doctors will analyze it and send a report, with advice and medical booklet, free.

Refuse Substitutes and Imitations. They are worthless and very often exceedingly dangerous. Ask for Warner's Safe Cure; it will cure you.

WOMAN LEADS ROBBER GANG

Pittsburg Police Are Now After Mrs. Nellie Prince.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 10.—Nellie M. Prince of this city, for three years leader of the famous "Pittsburg gang" of crooks, is being sought by the police of Pittsburg, Pa., for a $10,000 robbery in which three department stores were looted.

Mrs. Prince is a native Iowa, having resided in Des Moines when this city was the rendezvous for the Pittsburg gang. She is well known to the officers in St. Paul and Omaha, where she was connected with department store robberies which did not come to light through prosecutive measures of the return of the goods.

She is the pal of Robert Roberts, better known to police officers as "Guerilla," the famous diamond thief. He married Miss Nellie McKissick, daughter of a large mercantile firm, years ago, expecting to get a fortune. When McKissick died he left his fortune in trust and his estate never fell to his daughter, although she has received the bulk of the money from it amounting to $50,000 annually.

Roberts lived in his band of crooks a man named Prince, who was nabbed eight years ago at Fairbury, Neb. Mrs. Roberts was sent to Fairbury with $5,000 cash and told to get Prince out of his scrape. She liberated the man and fell in love with him at the same time. Roberts accepted the situation and secured a divorce, and Prince married the woman a few months later. Prince and a pal named Tom Good were killed in a fight with police at Quincy, Ill. Mrs. Prince headed the band, which made headquarters at "The Blue Bird" in Chicago, a gambling house and saloon.

Chief of Detectives Harlin has information that Roberts and Mrs. Prince are again pals, and that they have been operating in several of the western cities. A $50,000 garment was taken from a department store last fall, and Roberts and Prince were believed to have been in most of the crowds which cheered the president when he last left town.

Mrs. Prince started her career as a thief when a girl attending Brower school in this city. She was a fine dancer and a skilful gambler from the cloak rooms at school.

Roberts and Mrs. Prince make the best pair that I know of in the country," said Chief Harlin. "They have been the perpetrators of every deal in which they are caught."

CHINA TO GET BACK

The Money Paid For the Boxer Massacre Expended.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Secretary Hay, with the president's approval, has practically decided that the $200,000 which China paid to the United States for the expense it was put to in aiding in the suppression of the Boxer rebellion will be returned to China after the war.

Mr. Hay fears that if returned before the end of the war it might produce jealousy among the neutral powers, which might lead to a plan for the preservation of China.

This government's total award in the settlement of the Boxer trouble was $250,000, of which $200,000 was for the payment of claims of citizens and missionaries, and most of the latter has been paid out.

Mr. Hay believes that the money can be returned to China without a special act of congress, and he considers that this country is not honestly entitled to it, because it was spent in protecting American citizens from an uprising for which China was not responsible.

PRESIDENT'S DRIVER KILLED. Washington, Feb. 10.—One of the president's carriages was being driven from the White House to the stables today, an automobile frightened the horses and they ran on the sidewalk, striking an iron fence. The carriage was upset and the driver, Julius Wheeler, thrown to the ground and injured. One horse was cut by the iron fence.

TO LOAD FOR VLADIVOSTOK. San Francisco, Feb. 10.—Arrangements have been made for the British steamer Glen Turret to dock and begin loading a cargo of 800 tons of hay. It is presumed that this freight is intended for Vladivostok, but little information can be obtained from the customs directly interested in the steamer or cargo. The Glen Turret lately arrived in Oakland from Singapore.

THE SUNSHINE OF SPRING. The Salve that cures all skin diseases is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Cuts, Burns, Itches, Bruises and Piles disappear before the use of this salve. It is the same as the sunshine of spring. Miss H. M. Middleton, Thales, Ill., says: "I was seriously afflicted with a fever sore that was very painful. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me in less than a week." Get the genuine. Sold by all druggists.

West Duluth

Because she carried out a promise made at the bedside of a dying woman, it is claimed, Mrs. L. Berard, 5115 Gosold street, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of petty larceny. She was arraigned before Judge Flack, in justice court, and the hearing was set for tomorrow.

The complaint was made out by Lewis Buchanan. He asserts that Mrs. Berard stole some clothing belonging to his dead wife, and places the value of such wearing apparel at $25, although the police say $1.50 or $2 would be nearer right. In explaining her act yesterday, Mrs. Berard said:

"The clothing belonged to Mrs. Berard's children. On her death bed she asked me to see that the little ones were sent to relatives in Michigan, because she did not consider her husband a fit man to care for them. He did not treat her or the children right, and she died in fear of him. I had no use for the clothes. I was merely carrying out the wishes of my dead friend."

Mrs. Berard bears an excellent reputation in West Duluth and is believed to be eminently respectable.

DANCE. Given by Uniform Rank, No. 1555, M. W. A., Tuesday evening, Feb. 14, at Great Eastern hall. Admission, 50c.

WEST DULUTH BRIEFS. For that cough, use White Pine Lung Balm. City Drug store.

The Duluth Pedic club was entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Grace B. Flannery, on Fifty-second avenue west. Cards and dancing were features of the evening.

It is expected that some of the successful Republican candidates will deliver addresses at the regular weekly meeting of the West Duluth Republican club tomorrow evening.

An entertainment at Gilley's hall tonight, given by the Daughters of Erin. All members are requested to be in attendance early.

Our prices of prescriptions are 40 per cent below regular rates. City Drug store.

The West Duluth Commercial club will hold a regular meeting this evening. Nothing of special importance is scheduled to come up for consideration.

For real estate, loans and fire insurance, see F. E. Watson, 312 Central avenue.

A business meeting of the Calendar circle of the Westminster Presbyterian church will be held this evening, at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Simons, on Sixty-eighth avenue west.

An event of much interest recently was the marriage of Miss H. Goshaw and Cullen W. Brown, at Carlton, Feb. 4. Mr. Brown, though recently from Winnipeg, has resided formerly in Onondaga, N. Y., and Mrs. Brown will reside with the bride's parents, Third avenue west and Second street.

and beat all comers at tennis. Before he left he won the Ireland scholarship, a prize only gained by one member of the house of commons beside himself.

He entered the house as a follower of Mr. Gladstone after his great triumph in 1880, and from his early Radical tenets he has never deviated one hair's breadth. In 1882 he was appointed solicitor general, Sir John Lubbock being attorney general.

Sir John was a good chancery lawyer, but not a ready speaker, and he had the duty thrown upon him of answering all kinds of arguments against the home rule bill. The young Tories rejoicing in his discomfiture, piled him with all manner of inquiries, and he presented a melancholy picture, baited by them day after day. He conquered them, however, by a touch of human nature which appealed to them. He left the house for a hasty dinner, but was sent to return a few minutes afterwards and to search for something on the treasury bench. When that something was discovered to be a very much-smoked briar root pipe, which had fallen on the ground, uproarious cheers from the Tory benches greeted Sir Robert and he was tortured no more.

ONE CIGARETTE. Parted Pennsylvania Couple Almost at Altar. Sharon, Pa., Feb. 10.—"Stop smoking cigarettes and I will marry you one year from today."

That is what Mary Irish said to John Nicholas one year ago. The two had been sweethearts since they were children and it became an accepted fact that they would marry when Miss Irish reached a proper age.

John promised and kept his promise so well that at the end of the year's probation he was accepted and the marriage license was issued in Youngstown.

Just what the couple possessed of, he cannot tell, but when he returned to his affianced wife he was smoking a cigarette.

"I can never be your wife," Miss Irish told him. "A man so weak can never make a good husband." To all his pleadings and promises she was deaf. So the marriage license was returned and Nicholas, angry and disappointed, threatens to bring suit to recover his presents.

DOYLESTOWN, Feb. 10.—There was surprise at the courthouse when David Williams of Fallsburg, who had just been declared a lunatic, drew forth from his pocket a roll containing $28. A second later he drew another wallet containing more than $100 from a bag in another pocket, and by the time he pulled out the third roll, making in all a total of $181, Judge Stout and the court officers were dumbfounded. Williams was supposed to be penniless. He had hoarded his money, he explained, that he might have it in case of emergency. His money will be placed in the Bristol Bank, and he was taken to the Norristown insane asylum.

BILL IS TO BE PIGEON-HOLED. House Will Not Act on Statehood Matter This Session.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The expressed opinion of Republican leaders of the house today indicates that the result of the caucus to be held this afternoon on the statehood question will be a strict adherence to the caucus action of the party. April 15 last, on the same question, the house took the form of a resolution that two states should be made of the four territories. With this resolution repeated, the disposition of the statehood bill will be a simple matter. It has, under the bill of the house, been referred to the committee on territories. There is nothing to indicate that this committee will bring the bill into the house at the present session of congress. This course will obviate the risk of submission to the senate amendment to the bill, with the consequent opportunity for the success of the motion through a union of the democratic vote and sufficient republican members to make a majority. The advocates of the bill in its present form claim to have forty-five republican members of the house who will vote with the democrats to concur. This is three more than the number required. It is to obviate the success of this plan that the bill will be allowed to remain in committee until the expiration of the Fifty-eighth congress, March 4 next.

SIR ROBERT REID Has Good Chance to Be Lord Chancellor.

London, Feb. 10.—Sir Robert Reid, who, according to all precedents has first claim to be lord chancellor in the next Liberal government has one conspicuous quality, the absence of his self-assertion and self-advertisement. His manner is as simple and unaffected now that he has achieved the greatest position at the bar as when he joined it in 1871. He is still "Bob Reid" to all. He was educated at Chetenhall college, a public school of which the first boy was the present Lord James of Hereford, then Henry James, whose pupil, when reading for the bar, Sir Robert afterwards became. He entered the classical department and rose to the head of it. He won a scholarship at Balliol, and was not neglected—he kept wicket in the Oxford eleven Jeffersonville, Ind., Feb. 10.—With the new year has come an end to Jeffersonville as a Gretna Green. This Ohio river town has for years been a favorite with young couples anxious to assume the responsibilities of married life. Hundreds of young people from far and nearby communities have come here on excursions and departed happy, at least for the time being, in connubial bliss. But it is all to be changed now. The matter came to be a nuisance in one particular and a source of annoyance in another. The new year brought Jeffersonville to the field and relinquishes to Michigan City, in the northern end of the state, any advantages that may come from the distinction as a place of rendezvous for young couples. Marriages can be performed at short notice,

FIGHT FOR TRIAL

Among Friends Being Made By Kentucky Feud Leaders.

Question Up to the Court of Appeals at Frankfort.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 10.—Shall James and Alexander Hargis and Sheriff Ed Callahan be brought to this (Fayette) county for trial on an indictment charging them with complicity in the murder of Tamm Marshall, James Cockrell at Jackson, or shall the proceedings be quashed on the ground that Breathitt county, where the murder occurred, alone has jurisdiction?

This is the question all Kentucky is asking. It has been put up to the court of appeals at Frankfort, where it will be argued today, an order temporarily restraining the Fayette proceedings having been made.

The indictment in Fayette county is based on an old statute giving one county permission to proceed in criminal cases in another county when the other county is not properly exercising its jurisdiction. The theory of the prosecutors is that Breathitt county is completely under the control of the Hargis family and that there would never be any proceeding against them whatever the evidence might be.

If the decision of the court of appeals should be against the defendants, it is feared troops will be needed to take them to Lexington, their friends are loyal and would fight to the death for them. The defendants fear the "vendetta" is stacked against them at Lexington, though they say they will go there peacefully if the court so orders. They assert their county alone has jurisdiction over the crime with which they are charged.

It is said a reign of terror has returned to Jackson since these troubles began. The people are afraid to speak of the indictments, and do not dare to venture an opinion, with the exception of those who sympathize with the indicted men. They are held in their dwellings by loyalty. A gentleman who has been in Jackson for a number of years and whose opinion is worth consideration, says:

"The people away from here have no idea of the conditions which prevail here. There is a state of constant fear, well grounded, and a great many do not dare to go to their homes after dark."

A newspaper correspondent, when asked why he would not send reports when his paper had specified what was wanted, admitted that it was through fear. He said he had had a "little trouble" with Alex Hargis about something he had sent off to the paper about him, and that they had not spoken for several months. He said he was afraid to send out anything which was detrimental to the Hargises because he has to live here and does not care to put his life in jeopardy.

"I sent all that I am not much of a writer," he said. "I am not much of a writer." Special Bailiff Marshall says he does not anticipate any trouble in arresting the men if the court orders them to be taken to this county for trial. He says he is sure that this county has the proper jurisdiction, and says he will go to Jackson to serve the warrants just as soon as he is ordered to do so by the court here. Chief Marshall has been subjected to a great deal of trouble by people here who believe he failed to do his duty when he went to Jackson last week and, after being treated like a prisoner, as he says, by the Hargis-Callahan faction, returned without the prisoners. It is the contention that no matter what argument the accused men advanced to the special bailiff he should have brought them here and allowed them to make their arguments in the court, and not to the officers sent to arrest them.

Another fact which has come to light indicates that the records of Magistrate Edwards in Jackson were tampered with and that false entries were made tending to show that warrants had been issued against the Hargises and Callahan.

According to the record kept by the Breathitt magistrate the warrants were issued based on an affidavit of one Henry Freeman, who alleged that he saw the Hargises and Callahan in the second story of the courthouse while the shooting was being done, but a resident of Jackson who arrived here Wednesday said he had a conversation with Freeman in Jackson Sunday, and that Freeman told him that he and his wife were in Morgan county on the day on which the warrants were alleged to have been issued on his affidavit, and that he knew nothing of the warrants being issued or heard of them until last week, after the shooting had reached Jackson, that indictments had been returned here.

HAPPENINGS IN DAKOTAS

Jury Finds Fargo Woman Has Been Conducting a "Fence."

NORTH DAKOTA. Fargo.—The jury brought in a verdict of guilty in the case of Mrs. John Snyder, who has been on trial this week on the charge of conducting a "fence" for second-hand stores on lower Front street has been the favorite place for petty thieves to dispose of their booty, and the police are determined to break it up.

Ferguson was much surprised to hear of the death of J. D. Moulder of Aurora, Ill. Mr. Moulder was state agent here for the McVick company, which has been in the agency at Aurora. He was in Fargo several days and returned East just a week ago.

Pure Food Commissioner Ladd has issued an open letter to the public regarding the bill regulating the sale of proprietary medicines in this state. The measure, introduced by Representative Sweet of Fargo, at the request of the commissioner, provides that all patent medicines containing more than five per cent of chloroform, opium, morphine, opium, cocaine, bromides, iodides, must bear a label in black letters on a white background showing the true name and per cent of each of the foregoing constituents. The bill has aroused the manufacturers of proprietary medicines, and protests are being sent to the newspapers and legislatures from all over the state.

The manufacturers say the order will break out the business in this state and will compel makers of the goods to give up secret formulas. Commissioner Ladd explains that this bill is only aimed at the stuff that contains rank poisons, and manufacturers are not required to state full formulas merely the net content of the poisons that come under the restricted rule.

Grafton.—A large force of men is at work on the outcrop of the Soap hill at Ardock, where it crosses the Forest river at James Carpenter's place. The line enters Walsh county at the southeast corner, coming straight to Ardock, from there it goes on to the northwest corner, coming for two and one-half miles, then straight south three miles, then north five miles, diverging northward a little to Medford postoffice, and from there northwest to the county line.

The January term of the district court, which has been adjourned from week to week awaiting the trial of the Hargis-Hamson murder trial at Pembina, has been called for Feb. 20.

Disarm.—The resignation of E. S. Tyler of Fargo, as state bank examiner, reached Governor Slesinger today. D. K. Brightbill of Chicago will succeed him, but the appointment may be made for several days. Tyler has been confirmed as national bank examiner.

SOUTH DAKOTA. Webster.—James D. Byness, a businessman, for many years a resident of this place, but more recently of Waukegan, was found dead in the room of Charles Johnson's saloon. He was a physical wreck from the use of strong drink, and he is now found acute alcoholism the cause of death.

Yankton.—Yankton has many cases of death, and being treated like a prisoner, as he says, by the Hargis-Callahan faction, returned without the prisoners. It is the contention that no matter what argument the accused men advanced to the special bailiff he should have brought them here and allowed them to make their arguments in the court, and not to the officers sent to arrest them.

Another fact which has come to light indicates that the records of Magistrate Edwards in Jackson were tampered with and that false entries were made tending to show that warrants had been issued against the Hargises and Callahan.

London, Feb. 10.—On May 1, 1894, a Hamersmith butcher, James Robert Wells, who was also a bookmaker in a small way, was murdered on Barnes Common, in very mysterious circumstances. A few days ago, the third victim of the Hamersmith murder was made the police.

George Frampton, aged 41, a pianoforte maker, called at the Hamersmith police station, and said he wished to give himself up for the murder of Mr. Wells. Frampton was charged on this confession with the crime, which he had committed and signed, was read in court. It was the effect that at the time of the murder he was working at Kilmann's piano factory, that he had betting transactions with Wells, and that the latter owed him £20, and said he could not pay as he had no money.

The statement continued as follows: "I asked him for the money in his shop several times. On the day of the murder I saw him in his shop between 11 and 2 p. m. He would not pay me, and I went on for the crime. He was made the police. When he got near the cemetery, I asked him again for my money, but he would not get it. I had a bar of iron under my coat that I had taken from Kilmann's factory. I was tired, and I struck him on the back of the head with it. Frampton was remained in order that he might be kept in custody as to his mind, and the police attach little importance to the confession, and the murder of James Wells is likely to remain what it has been for nearly eleven years—an unsolvable mystery."

At ten minutes before midnight the sound of a police whistle drew a police sergeant to a spot on the common near Queen's road. There he found Mr. Wells bleeding from terrible wounds on the head and with both hands cut. He died next morning.

Alfred West was arrested and charged with the crime. He established an alibi on indisputable evidence, and was discharged.

A fortnight later Alfred Welch surrendered himself to the Hamersmith police as the murderer, but a few days later he repudiated his confession, and was discharged. The case was then adjourned until Sunday May 21, 1903, when Arthur Barker, a painter, called at the Hamersmith police station, accused himself of the murder. This also proved to be an illusion.

MILLINERS BANKRUPT. New York, Feb. 10.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Sullivan, Drew & Co., wholesale dealers in millinery, one of the largest concerns in this line in New York. The petition was entered on behalf of three creditors for small sums, and alleges that the firm is insolvent. The assets are large and the estimated liabilities are $500,000.

LADY CURZON SAILS. London, Feb. 10.—Lady Curzon of Kedleston, wife of the viceroy of India, and her three children, sailed for India today on the British steamer Arabia. A crowd of friends bade them farewell at the docks.

GREAT REDUCTION SALE OF THE DULUTH CONSIGNMENT CO.

We are forced to move on account of high rents! We must vacate our store within fifteen days and we are compelled to sacrifice our entire $25,000 Stock of Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing, Dry Goods, Ladies' and Men's Furnishings, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Etc., at less than the actual cost to produce the raw material. Don't miss this opportunity.

This is the first sale of this kind that the DULUTH CONSIGNMENT CO. has ever before offered. It may never occur again, and in order to prove to you what tremendous sacrifices must be made we mention a few of the extraordinary bargains that we'll offer during this fifteen-days' sale. Bear in mind that this stock which we offer at sacrifice prices is NOT 30 YEARS OLD AND NOT MOTH EATEN. We have only been in this business for two years, and OUR STOCK IS FRESH, CLEAN, UP-TO-DATE MERCHANDISE. Being unfortunate in losing our present store we are forced to sacrifice the entire stock at prices that will meet the purse of every one in Duluth and vicinity. This is no money-making scheme. We are over-stocked with good merchandise, and it is almost impossible for us to move the entire stock, and THEREFORE WE DECIDED TO TAKE A BIG LOSS and to sacrifice the stock. Such an opportunity you cannot afford to miss. Every man, woman or child ought to take advantage of this great opportunity. We, the DULUTH CONSIGNMENT CO., have always been considered THE ONLY BARGAIN STORE IN DULUTH. We advise every one of our customers not to miss this great chance. Come in and bring this ad with you so you can get exactly the goods mentioned here. Our store was closed Thursday and Friday to remark and rearrange the stock.

WINTER IS QUIET

Not Much Doing In the Northern Minnesota Towns.

Edward R. Corcoran of Bemidji Predicts a Lively Summer.

Edward R. Corcoran, who was in the city from Bemidji yesterday, says that business conditions in the Northern Minnesota towns, along the Western branch of the Great Northern, are rather dull just now. The indications, however, point to a busy summer.

"I suppose it is always quiet through January and February. This is certainly true of Bemidji, anyway, but the business interests are not at all discouraged, for such periods are of annual occurrence, and are always to be expected. The development of the country tributary to my home town will be even more rapid this year than it was last, and that is saying a good deal, for farmers and other people looking for a chance to make money by securing a tract of cool land at the low price now prevailing flooded into the northern part of the state in large numbers.

"The new road between Bemidji and Red Lake, when completed, will be an important factor in the development of the country, for it lends through an ideal farming region. The crops they can raise up there are truly surprising. Particularly is this true of hay and grain. You mark my words, that district, or a considerable part of it, will yet rank high as a grain producer. Already the vegetables and grasses raised there cannot be beaten anywhere else in the state, or the United States, so far as that is concerned. "While there appears to be nothing definite regarding it, we entertain strong hopes that the Minnesota & International road will be further extended towards International Falls, the coming summer. The completion of the road will mean a lot to Northern Minnesota. I have heard that the survey has been changed, or is about to be changed, so as to go around the big swamp lying between Northome and Maple, rather than through it, as first planned. The swamp, which measures nearly nineteen miles across, makes railroad construction work very difficult and expensive."

HEARING GIVEN BY DULUTH DELEGATION.

mind to be his deputy. The county board had only recommended an increase of $1,000, but he thought this was an oversight. At a meeting yesterday, he said, the board decided not to adopt a new resolution until they heard what had become of the old one, but informally the members had told him it was all right. He said the extra help was much needed, as the work had doubled in the last five years, and he had had to pay out money from his own salary for extra help, trusting to the county board to repay him. Associate County Attorney Wilson, G. Crosby supported the request, and so did County Auditor Halden.

Mr. Halden arose specifically to refer to the reports that certain county officers of St. Louis county were going to ask for more salary. He said that he had come down to St. Paul especially to say that he wasn't one of them, if there were any such. He had noticed that the code increased his salary $1,500 a year as soon as anyone, and had called the fact to the attention of the St. Louis county delegation, stating that he did not desire an increase in salary, having been elected to serve for $3,500, and that he was content to be left alone.

While he was on his feet the matter of the code, as touching upon St. Louis county's interests, was brought up, and Mr. Halden said that there was hardly a county officer that it did not materially affect. Senator E. B. Hawkins suggested Mr. Halden draw up a list of amendments putting things back on the present basis, and this was agreed to. Mr. Halden said also, that there are certain laws now applying only to Ramsey county that will apply to St. Louis after this year's census, as St. Louis county's population will then be large enough to put her in the class covered by these laws. Unless it was desired that they should apply to St. Louis county, they should be looked out for. He was thereupon requested to include these in his report.

Wilson G. Crosby, in behalf of the county board, brought up the matter of changing the law on boarding county prisoners so as to permit the board to contract with St. Louis county to board prisoners at 10 cents per prisoner per meal, instead of 13 cents, as stated in The Herald yesterday. During the last two years the rate was 11 cents, and since he came in, under the 1898 law, the county board has been paying the bills that Sheriff Bates has been boarding prisoners at a cost of 8 1/2 cents per meal to the county. He said the sheriff would be satisfied with such a deal as proposed if he keeps the residence in the jail.

"Isn't the sheriff getting sufficient compensation?" asked Senator Hawkins. "Yes," said Mr. Crosby, "but the question is whether the county board would be able to do better than 10 cents per meal, the rate proposed. While undoubtedly the sheriff would make 12 cents profit under the deal, it is not a question whether the board of this would be better than the deal that he has a right to make, and it would go to those selling supplies to the county."

"I would rather raise the sheriff's salary if he is not getting enough," said Senator Hawkins, "because I do not believe in the fee system."

"This is not a fee system," said Sheriff Bates.

"No, but it is practically the same," said Senator Hawkins.

Mr. Crosby also brought up the question of paying employees on county roads. He said that the law now requires that everybody having a claim against the county, including every laborer on the county roads, must swear out his bill and let it go through the regular routine. The practice, perhaps, unlawfully, has been to have the foremen swear out the bills for a bunch of men, and then if the foremen swore wrongly, they did go wrong under the law because they swore regarding something that had no standing under the law. Therefore he thought that the system should be legalized, to save laborers on roads the expense of going before notaries to swear out their bills. It was also suggested that the time that bills shall lay over be limited to fifteen days instead of thirty days.

City Attorney Fesler said that the municipal court of Duluth was affected some, and that the city charter was probably touched also, but that they would have amendments to submit later that could be adopted without objection, he thought. He stated also that within a short time he would have prepared in accordance with the suggestion of the city council an enabling act permitting the city to make its bonded debt limit elastic to the further degree of permitting the people to vote on bonds for a municipal lighting plant, and the county to issue such bonds if the people approve.

There was no discussion of any of these propositions by any of the members, except that as to the last one mentioned by the city attorney, Senator Hawkins said that the idea of limiting bond issues was a good one, and should not be attacked carelessly. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chairman, when an executive meeting will be held to pass upon the matters brought up yesterday.

The house committee on banks and banking held a meeting yesterday afternoon in which it was decided to recommend for indefinite postponement Representative Hud's bill to put private banks under the supervision of the bank examiner.

This was done because the committee favored the more stringent measure introduced by Senator Eberhart, which prohibits private bankers from using the terms "bank," "bankers" or "trust company," after Jan. 1, 1906. A similar bill will be introduced in the house by the committee, and a joint meeting of the banking committees of both houses arranged for later.

A number of private bankers appeared to protest against the bills, and while the committee was in session an institution that had existed ever since there had been money, and intimidated the board of this would be better than the deal that he has a right to make, and it would go to those selling supplies to the county."

In order that the range towns may have parks and park boards like the cities of larger growth and population, Representative E. B. Dowager of Duluth will introduce a bill shortly to the effect that towns and villages and cities under 20,000 inhabitants may buy lands for park purposes, and the governing bodies may appoint park boards by a majority vote. The money spent must not exceed 10 per cent of the revenue of the community.

The Eberhart committee to investigate freight rate discrimination held another extended meeting yesterday afternoon, at which G. S. Loftus of St. Paul board of trade claimed that a switching charge of $3.50 per car on packing products from South St. Paul to the Northern Pacific terminals in St. Paul, and then to Duluth and the copper country, was, in fact, a rebate, because the Northern Pacific pays $2.50 of this to the Great Western road instead of taking the full amount out of the shipper.

H. B. Still of the Northern Pacific explained that the charge was necessary to meet the competition of roads carrying freight from Chicago, though he admitted that usually the roads absorbed all of the switching charges. Mr. Loftus said the Northern Pacific protected a reduced rate on grain products to Carlton and Ashland. The published rate on such stuff was 6 cents to Carlton and 3 1/2 cents to Ashland and Iron River, and he produced a witness who had seen a letter from Mr. Still offering to pay to carry the stuff for 2 cents and 1 cent, respectively.

Mr. Still said this was a "milling-in-transit" rate, and that it was in addition to the regular rate. Also, that because Smith & Co. of Carlton said they could not do business on the rate suggested, the road had reduced it to 1 cent and half a cent, and had covered it by a published tariff now on file with the railroad and warehouse commission.

Probate Judge Middlecott yesterday suggested to the St. Louis county delegation a bill making the state pay the expenses of conveying insane patients to the asylums instead of the friends. The state now pays the expense of conveying criminals, and he thought the same rule should apply to insane patients.

THE CHURCH AND STATE

In France Will Be Absolutely Separated By New Bill.

Paris, Feb. 10.—The Rouvier ministry has presented in the chamber of deputies the draft of a new bill for the separation of church and state. This measure has been anxiously awaited owing to the doubt raised from friends of Former Premier Combes concerning the sincerity of the new ministry in carrying forward the policy of separation. When, therefore, Minister of Public Instruction Mienvenue Martin presented the bill in the chamber of deputies, it was greeted with long applause.

The text of the new measure makes the separation of church and state definite and conclusive, but omits a number of details of the Combes bill, which had aroused antagonism.

First—Abolition of the concordat, whereby the relations of church and state were established.

Second—The termination of all government aid and subsidies to religious sects or functionaries.

Third—Formation of church associations into civil corporations amenable to the same laws as other organizations.

The bill comprises thirty-two articles and the text of article one is as follows:

"The state, henceforth, neither recognizes nor contributes to any religious denomination. Public establishments of religion now existing are suppressed. All religious budgets of appropriations of government departments or communes are suppressed. The exercise of religion is hereafter free under the sole restriction that exercise must accord with public order."

The article abolishing the concordat says: "All laws and orders relative to the public organization or recognition of a religious denomination are abrogated, particularly the law ratifying the convention between the pope and the French government."

It is expected that the bill will be voted on before the end of July.

THE SUNDAY CONCERT.

Evening Request Program Longer Than Usual Ones.

One of the most popular concerts of the winter Lyceum season will be rendered by Flaxen's Third Regiment band next Sunday night, when the "request" program will be presented. The arrangement of the offering will not be completed until the latter part of the week, so that as many favorite numbers may be included as possible. Director Flaxen announced several weeks ago that he would devote an entire concert to favorite numbers of his patrons. Requests have been coming in in a gratifying manner each day since that time and it is likely that the program will be much longer than the usual offering, including encores. Owing to the length of the concert no encores will be granted Sunday night.

With each successive week the members of the Third Regiment organization have afforded their patrons better music and it has been pleasing to the players to note that their audiences have grown larger. Without doubt the present season is the most popular ever played by the local organization.

George L. Tyler, tenor, will continue his series of renditions of latest modern English and American songs. The opening number of the program will be played promptly at 8 o'clock.

CONKLIN AND SIGOURNEY Will Play Final Game For Billiard Championship.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—The deciding game in the amateur billiard championship of the United States will be played tonight, between W. H. Sigourney of San Francisco and Charles F. Conklin of Chicago. These two men are now tied for first place, both having won five games with one each on the losing side. Gardner of New York, who was tied with Sigourney for second place until the conclusion of last night's game with the Pacific coast team, took fourth place by losing four games won and two games lost. Fourth prize goes to Charles S. Norris of New York and fifth place to Charles Thresh of Boston. These two players, who were tied for fourth place, played off the tie last night and Norris won.

The game last night between Sigourney and Gardner was won by Sigourney by the score of 200 to 105. With a run of 57 in the second inning, the Pacific coast player took a commanding lead, which he steadily increased to the finish. Sigourney's average for the game was 10.32. Gardner made a high run of 46 and his average was 6.14-23.

BOY PARDONED. Albany, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Governor Higgins yesterday granted a pardon to Alexander Stewart of New York City, who was sentenced in 1888, when he was 14 years old, to serve twenty years in Sing Sing prison for killing another boy. "Tim" Stewart is conditionally free, and the boy goes to the "George Junior republic" at Freedville, N. C.

It does not obey its rules he is to be sent back to prison.

ONE PRISONER BURNED. Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 10.—During a fire in the Raspberry Park city jail yesterday fifteen prisoners escaped and one, William Hall, was afterwards found dead, presumably having been suffocated. As soon as he died the fire broke out, and Bryan went to each cell and released the prisoners. The officials believe the affair was the result of a plot by the prisoners to escape.

KILLS HANGMAN, SAVES HIMSELF

Russian Criminal Stabs Executioner and He Is Acquitted.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 9.—Murderers in most countries shorten their lives by their crimes, but Stanislas Lokin, a notorious Russian criminal, managed to save his neck by committing a second murder after he had been condemned to death for the first.

Lokin, while imprisoned at Moksha, had killed a fellow convict under atrocious circumstances. Under the prison discipline laws he was condemned to death by hanging within five days.

On hearing this sentence, Lokin exclaimed dramatically: "I shall be alive this time in five years." In spite of his boast the condemned man stood on the scaffold on the fifth morning. The ropes were already around his neck. Suddenly with a fierce movement he wrenched himself free, and dashed upon his executioner and stabbed him to the heart.

Extraordinary results ensued. The jail authorities declared that second murder had been committed. Lokin must be tried for it before being executed for the first. When the trial began, the authorities regarded it as a mere matter of form, but Lokin's advocate made the amazing defense that his client had committed nothing worse than justifiable homicide, he at the time he shot at his judge from the back of his head.

The jury accepted this argument and acquitted the prisoner. The authorities, therefore, determined to carry out the first sentence. Lokin must be tried for the first. When the trial began, the authorities regarded it as a mere matter of form, but Lokin's advocate made the amazing defense that his client had committed nothing worse than justifiable homicide, he at the time he shot at his judge from the back of his head.

It appeared that at the last moment Lokin's friends had raised a plea that as the original sentence, that the murderer should be executed on a certain day.

YOUNG FORGER.

Boy Expert Through Watch-Father Indorse Checks.

Greensburg, Ind., Feb. 10.—Glen Turner, 11 years old, is under arrest here on a charge of forgery. He was probably the son of a forger. He made the checks payable to bearer, in small amounts, and signed the name of his uncle, Joseph Stevens, a wealthy capitalist near here. He made small purchases at the store and was paid the difference between his purchase and the amount of the check in cash. Although he succeeded in passing a number of checks, they were small, and their value does not reach $20.

To the police he told how he had carefully watched his father, Indorse, checks written by the same uncle, and how he had taken one of these checks and made a duplicate as a model for his forgeries. He was a leader of a gang of small boys who systematically robbed a number of stores during the holiday season.

PART OF PLAN

To Get Workers South
By Inducing Immigration.

New Orleans Hopes to Become Great Immigrant Port.

New Orleans, Feb. 10.—If the movement on foot here is successful and there appears every reason to believe it will be so, New York will find itself outwitted in another way by resourceful friends of the port of New Orleans.

It is proposed by the projectors of this scheme to bring the better class of foreigners now dumped on Ellis Island every year into America by the way of New Orleans, and to get as many as possible to settle down and cultivate the immense area of fertile ground that awaits their coming in the great valley.

Nearly 1,000,000 foreigners of all classes and trades are annually poured into New York from the immigration station on Ellis Island. The great Mississippi valley gets very few of these immigrants. Its only show now is annually three or four shiploads of Sicilians, who are sent out upon the sugar plantations and become acceptable cane cutters.

The projected movement has for its purpose the indefinite increase of the direct immigration into New Orleans. Up to this time, the entry of foreigners has been discouraged by the fact that New Orleans has had no station into which the imported laborers can be landed for inspection. This defect will be remedied by the construction of an immigration station of popular subscription. This will be located to the United States bureau of immigration and, with the cooperation of the White Star and other steamship lines that have already pledged support, it is thought that thousands of immigrants will every year be diverted from the New York gateway and sent out into the fields of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Texas and Tennessee.

The project was given its first impulse by the Southern passenger bureau, which appointed a committee composed of the heads of the passenger departments of the Illinois Central, the New Orleans & Northeastern, the Southern, the Louisville Nashville and others. With General Passenger Agent Hanson and Smith of the Illinois Central and New Orleans & Northeastern at its head, this committee went to Washington and secured a promise of cooperation from Commissioner Sargent. It returned with the assurance from the government that, if New Orleans would build her own immigration station, the government would lease it and give its influence toward diverting desirable immigration this way.

Now the projectors are leading themselves to the construction of the immigration station. The projectors are leading themselves to the construction of the immigration station. The projectors are leading themselves to the construction of the immigration station.

There is a great demand in the South for settlers. The valley is teeming with rich lands that are entirely unoccupied and which could be had for a song. The railroads have in many cases settled deserving foreigners upon good ground. Groups of these are now doing well in the vicinity of Brookhaven, Hazlehurst, Milledgeville, and other places.

At the latter place an Italian have, under the helping influence of the Illinois Central railroad, the culture of strawberries with great success. Strawberries from the farms of these settlers will find markets in St. Louis, Chicago and Kansas City.

General Passenger Agent George H. Smith of the New Orleans & Northeastern railroad, and chairman of the committee to which has been assigned the duty of selecting a location for the New Orleans station, and of financing the project, says:

"There is no doubt that this committee will shortly be able to report a suitable location and a plan of financing that will meet the requirements of the case. When this is done it is intended to invite Commissioner of Immigration Sargent to visit New Orleans and approve the plans, and make such arrangements as will result in the renting of the station to the United States government for the purpose for which it is intended."

The very great need of the states tributary to New Orleans—Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, Alabama and Tennessee—for settlers to occupy the vast acreage of unoccupied lands, the very great demand for laborers in the sugar, cotton and rice fields, as well as the demand by the lumber interests for additional labor is so great that the South has virtually outgrown its supply of negro labor. It is proposed now not only to supplement the enormous supply of labor but also to populate the vast area of fertile soil that awaits the coming of man.

The committee, which called on Commissioner Sargent in Washington recently was assured of his hearty approval of the project. He also assured that after a suitable local station was provided for the accommodation of the inspection service, the government would pay a reasonable rental for such place.

It is impracticable to increase the direct immigration through the port of New Orleans without a suitable landing station, as the entry without such a station would be a violation of the laws which the owners are unable to stand.

"In this connection a strong effort will be made to bring into the South through direct immigration from the North of Europe. The immigrants from Northern Europe is much more desirable than the negroes who have up to this time composed the bulk of the immigrants brought to these shores."

OFFICERS FOR CHINESE ARMY

Queer Company at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 10.—A gorgeous Chinaman, in purple and fine linen, has been sent to Los Angeles as an envoy of the Chinese emperor to inspect the queerest military company in the United States.

More than sixty meek and lowly heathen who, by day, drive vegetable carts, wash clothes, or act as house servants, have cut off their queues and formed themselves into a crack infantry company, with the latest military equipment and an American officer, Capt. Bontech, to drill them.

Until the arrival of Imperial Commissioner Wong, it has been a mystery to Los Angeles people; they have been frankly stated: it is to train officers for the Imperial Chinese army. The company has just been publicly appeared at and will make another on Chinese New Year.

Previous to Wong's arrival the company was in secret in the city of Chinatown. Its stunning public debut was made at the Pasadena tournament on Jan. 1, when it was reviewed by Wong and by Homer Lee, the young white man who inspired its organization.

Loa is still in the early thirties, but has some strange influence over the Chinese. He acquired his military rank during the Boxer uprising in China, but after his graduation from Stanford university.

The whole Chinese quarter has caught the enthusiasm. When the soldiers appeared in their new uniforms to make their debut, the quarter was wild with excitement. The unaccustomed Chinese were packed with gesticulating Mongolians, who denuded the sound of their chattering fargon.

Most of the cadets who are working to get into the commissions are of vegetable peddlers, who drill every night in the week until late hours, although they are obliged to begin their day's work at 2 a. m. In spite of this seemingly hardship they don't seem to get enough of drill. After the company was dismissed, the Chinese can be seen at the street corners solemnly coaching clumsy friends in the intricacies of "right face" and "port arms."

Among the sergeants are two who, in their zeal, enlisted as cooks in the white militia in order to see the maneuvers of the Chinese, where the state troops were with the regulars under command of Gen. MacArthur.

The uniform chosen for the company is gorgeous. The main color is blue touched off with a yellow so bright that it resembles fire-cracker explosion.

They were received at Pasadena with salutes of applause from white spectators. They drilled like West Pointers. No one turned to greet the minutiae. Each man kept his face in a state of wooden passiveness. Even a street light, in which the police joyously chanted, did not win a look from them, although they were forced to almost step over the combatants.

DOINGS IN MICHIGAN

Charles Erickson Found
Not Guilty of Murdering Adams.

Memphis—After being out but ten minutes the jury brought in a verdict Thursday freeing Charles Erickson of the charge of murdering his brother-in-law, Gus Adams at Nathan, Sept. 23, 1903. The case was tried at the trial of Fred Sieman, on a charge of murdering his wife, Mrs. Adams, at Nathan, Wis., called. Sieman lived in Nathan, Wis., and murdered his wife here at the home of a relative named Smith and nearly succeeded in severing his jugular vein. He was sentenced to life in prison for the crime and given a full pardon for clemency on the ground of intoxication. He went during the testimony of Charles Erickson.

Calumet—Another immensely important mining deal has just been consummated by Charles A. Wright and wife of Hingham, Mass. The deal is the purchase of the mining property of the Amalgamated Mining company of Boston, all Eagle Harbor, interest in the mineral lands formerly owned by the Amalgamated Mining company, which was owned by Wright, over ten thousand acres in all these tracts form part of the immense Lake Superior property acquired by Wright, under option and which will be purchased by a company to be organized to develop them. Iron Mountain—The board of supervisors of Iron county has increased the bounty on wolves from $5 to $25. At the present time the state pays $7.50 on each wolf, so that for future killings the county will pay $17.50, unless the bill which is now before the legislature passes, increasing the state's share.

Randville—Sol Frazer, a well-known logger who has operated in the Menominee river country for many years, had a very narrow escape from being killed at a camp near Randville, Dickinson county.

but it scraped the side of his head, knocking him down and out for several days. He had a very close shave from a serious injury.

Escanaba—There is apprehension at Escanaba that the city is to experience another epidemic of typhoid fever such as swept over the city early in last spring. Physicians refuse to discuss the question, but it is said that four patients have been taken to the Delta county hospital within the last two days suffering from the disease. An epidemic of grip has been raging in the city for nearly three weeks, and the members of many families have been confined to their homes for several days, although in but isolated instances have the patients been seriously ill.

AMOUNT IS FIXED

Annual Income on Park Point System Must Be $3,429.

Guarantee Will Be Reduced According to Hydrants Ordered.

When the Park Point water system is installed it will be done on a guaranteed annual income on the part of the petitioners of $3,429. This is an 8 per cent income, based on an estimated cost of $42,869, for putting in the system. The matter was discussed at some length yesterday, at a meeting of the board of water and light commissioners. The commissioners took under consideration the two bids arriving at the amount that should be guaranteed. One bid was guaranteed 8 per cent income on the cost of the total length of pipe to be laid, at an estimated cost of $150 per foot, the expense of laying a 6-inch water pipe and a 4-inch gas pipe in ordinary earth excavation, and not including the hydrant rentals.

This basis was figured on the cost of 18,083 feet of pipe, and an additional expense of $5,000 for laying the pipe across the canal. An 8 per cent annual income would figure out $3,429. The board, however, determined to adopt the second basis of arriving at the amount, and will treat the Park Point petitioners as it did the petitioners from the normal school and the Woodland districts. On the second basis the one adopted, an 8 per cent income must be guaranteed on the entire estimated cost, inclusive of the hydrant rentals. Figuring on this basis the guaranteed annual income must be $3,429. In order that the latter plan may be equalized for the petitioners with the first plan, it will be necessary that the Park Pointers secure the installation of twenty-three hydrants. If the council will consent to a larger number of hydrants the amount of the guaranty will be accordingly reduced for the private consumers, the hydrants being figured at $40 each per year.

In the case of the Woodland water system, the income from rentals has already increased to such an extent that it is larger than the original 8 per cent guaranty, so that the guaranty has now been dropped. In the Normal school system, the income of the department has so increased that the guaranty of $500 of the state normal school has been reduced to $400. Manager Chase has been directed by the board to request plans and specifications from the city engineer for laying the pipes across the canal, the bids on the actual work to be advertised for at the proper time. The city engineer will also be requested to furnish plans which he didn't have in stock, is still trying to explain.

OLD SETTLER DIES.

Familiar Figure on the Street, Passes Away.

With the death of Alfred Swanson, which occurred this morning, one of the most familiar figures on the streets of this city passed away.

Mr. Swanson was one of the oldest settlers in the city, and for a score or more of years he has been engaged as a teamster on the streets of Duluth. He was about 55 years of age at the time of his death.

He resided at 311 East Ninth street. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

ONE PERSON KILLED IN TRAIN COLLISION

Laredo, Tex., Feb. 10.—Passenger train No. 4 over the National Railroad of Mexico, known as the Mexico-St. Louis express, which left here yesterday morning, collided with freight train at Currier.

It is not definitely known how many persons were killed. Officials in this city said they had no details. It was later asserted by an employee that the telegraph operator at San Antonio, the first station north of Currier, reported that one person had been killed.

HOME REQUISITES.

A home may be fitted out in luxurious style and yet if lacking in small conveniences be destitute of comfort, says the Philadelphia Enquirer.

No more artist or furnisher can supply these. The mother or daughter must attend to them, the little things needed in daily experience.

One who has felt in the dark for a match-box only to find it gone from its place, knows the disappointment that ensues.

One who has required a string in a hurry understands the perplexity that may arise from the want of a ball of twine or a box or bag filled with short cords.

It is troublesome when one wishes to write a memorandum and has no lead pencil at hand. If the pencil be accessible but pointless, matters seem all the worse.

How easy it is to take a stitch in time when everything necessary is at hand, and how difficult when the case is vice versa.

Spools of cotton of various numbers, silk of different hues, needles of graduated size, war, emery and sharp scissors—a good supply of these greatly expedite the work of the needlewomen.

In the matter of writing, when the desk is well stocked with stationery, pens, good ink and postage stamps, there is inducement to prompt correspondence.

"Looks to me," said Manager Lajotte last evening, to the Cleveland Plain Dealer, "as if the American league has almost a monopoly upon the left-handed throwing outfielders. There are a dozen that I can recall, and perhaps there are a few among the youngsters recently drafted or purchased."

That I don't know about, says the collector of the National league outfielders is not quite so good, but I am sure of a few. Cincinnati has two, southpaws, Dooly and Seymour, both former pitchers; Chicago has one, Jack McCarthy, while Philadelphia has three, Lush (not our Billy), Roy Thomas and McCormick, secured from Pittsburgh."

The merchant who wasn't sure whether Herald advertisements were read and who, to test it, advertised an article which he didn't have in stock, is still trying to explain.

THE CITY'S HEALTH

Monthly Report of Department Shows Few Contagious Cases.

West Duluth Shows Up Well In Birth Statistics.

Only one death from the so-called contagious diseases was reported in Duluth during the month of January according to the monthly report of the health department.

This death was from an attack of diphtheria, followed by paralysis. There were no deaths from scarlet fever, smallpox or typhoid.

The city is comparatively free from contagious diseases at the present time. There are only seven cases of diphtheria and six cases of scarlet fever under quarantine, with a few patients at the smallpox hospital, most of whom came in from the range towns and the lumber camps.

Tuberculosis, pneumonia and cancer were the chief causes of death during January. Out of the fifty-five deaths which occurred during the month, five were caused by tuberculosis, five by pneumonia and five by cancer. There was only one accidental death during the month and no suicides.

The other forty deaths were about equally divided between a score or more of diseases.

Estimating the population of the city at 75,000 the annual death rate figured on the basis of fifty-five per month would be only 9.3 per thousand of population.

The total number of births reported during the month was 106 of which fifty-seven were boys and forty-nine girls. These figures show a natural increase in the population of the city during the month, of fifty-one or at the rate of 612 per year.

A feature of the statistics is the large number of births reported from West Duluth. Nearly one-half of all the births came from that part of the city.

Committee to Meet.

The public affairs committee of the Commercial club will hold a meeting at 8 o'clock this evening to hear reports of sub-committees on matters of public interest which they have been looking up.

Douglas, chairman of a sub-committee, will report that the general sentiment of taxpayers and business men is in favor of a downtown site for the new courthouse, and F. A. Patrick, for another sub-committee, will make a report on the city's contract with the Duluth General Electric company.

To stop and start a train costs as much as to run it a mile. In stopping, but frequent stops are still more expensive.

Judge Dibel in district court yesterday afternoon ordered the recovery of O. H. Simonds, and confirming his final report.

For Oursat will give a party Tuesday, Feb. 14; friends cordially invited.

The force in the county engineer's office is working hard these days making real estate statements for the request of the St. Louis county delegation.

The taxes and the indications are that the taxes will be paid earlier than usual. Persons property taxes are being paid rapidly as well.

Quite a number of the county officers have this week been in St. Paul to discuss proposed laws and the new code of the St. Louis county delegation.

Auditor Hadden, County Attorney McClinck and Assistant County Attorney Crosby. A number of the members of the county board, probably all of them, will attend the regular weekly conference of the St. Louis county delegation in St. Paul next Tuesday, to discuss the proposed code so far as it will affect this county, as well as other laws desired.

Capt. M. Morris of 12 East Third street is seriously ill at his home. His case is something of a puzzle to the doctors, but they are believed to be suffering from an enlargement of the heart.

Charles Sing and Hor Yok Tank, two Chinamen arrested on the charge of being in the United States without the proper certificates of legal residence, were arraigned before United States Commissioner Pressnell this afternoon. An adjournment was taken in both cases to Feb. 14 to allow of the collection of further evidence against them.

Services will be held this evening at Temple Emanuel, owing to the fact that the building is being in progress. Sabbath school will be held Saturday and Sunday as usual.

I. R. Babcock, city, 22 years of age, died yesterday in St. Luke's hospital of pneumonia. He comes from Mount, Ohio, and efforts are being made to find his relatives there, but so far no success has been met with.

COURT ROOM TOO SMALL

Crowd at McCutcheon-Powers Case Necessitates Closing Doors.

So many men flocked to the federal court this afternoon to listen to testimony in the McCutcheon-Powers case that it was necessary to lock the doors of the rooms, all of the seats having been taken. Miss McCutcheon was called to the stand at the opening of court. Her testimony regarding her life while in Hibbing, was practically the same as that of her mother. She said she had worked in the different capacities of clerk in the post office, clerk in a grocery store, extra telephone girl and clerk in grocery and confectionery stores. She also stated that Mrs. McCutcheon had had for a time baked bread for a living.

Her acquaintance with Powers began, she said, in December, 1902. Her conversations with him in the store were frequent.

"Did Mr. Powers at any time have anything to say about going riding? Mr. Hollister asked.

"Yes, sir. One day he overtook me and hailed me from his rig, asking me to go riding with him. I laughed, but otherwise paid no attention to his request."

"She testified that later, in the store, he asked her to go riding, finally consented to accompany him. This was about Jan. 3, 1903. She went out with him in his rig at different times after that, she said, and the second time this occurred: "While tucking the robe about her he put his arm around her waist and tried to kiss her. She became angry, she said, and he did not repeat this attempt."

Mr. Powers refused to take any security for the first $200 loan, she asserted, saying that to him $200 meant no more than 6 cents would mean to him.

She said Powers wanted her to accompany him to Portland, but she refused to go. The witness stated that, although she had received several notes and letters from Powers, she had kept only the two written on the 14th and 15th, because he had made her swear to destroy all written communications received from him.

TO IMPROVE WARROAD

Senator Nelson Will Ask an Appropriation of $35,000.

Washington, Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator Nelson today gave notice of an amendment he will urge to the river and harbor bill, providing for an appropriation of $35,000 to further improve Warroad harbor by dredging a channel 100 feet wide and 7 feet deep from the inner end of the channel dredged in 1904, to the boat landing at Warroad with a turning channel at the inner harbor.

The senate today passed the bill making Texas City, Texas, a sub-port of entry. Much Duluth capital is interested in this place.

Representative Bede late yesterday afternoon secured the passage of a bill granting the Rainy River improvement company certain rights for the improvement of Rainy river and Rainy lake.

ORDINARY FIREMEN

Of Steam Heating Plants

Need Not Be Licensed.

St. Paul, Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—In a decision written by Justice Brown, the supreme court holds that the state law relating to the licensing of engineers does not extend to firemen in ordinary city buildings. The defendant in this case was Fireman at the O'Brien block here, and was arrested because he did not have a state license to operate a boiler. The law, as interpreted by the supreme court, is intended to refer to steam boilers generating power for the operation of machinery.

A Jackson county district court verdict reversed by the supreme court today bears on the extent to which a witness may be asked embarrassing questions in cross-examination. In this case the defendant, Stephenson, was charged with the murder of his wife and regarding his wife of a neighbor and regarding the questions, overruling objections to them. Chief Justice Start says they were too aggressive and irrelevant.

Other cases decided were: Moses Ferguson, respondent, vs. Betsy Trevorton and A. A. Trevorton, appellants, Wilkin county. Judgment reversed and new trial granted.

Selma Reed, applicant to have registered certain lands, respondent, vs. Fredrick P. Siddal et al. defendants, Aaron Carlson et al. appellants, Hennepin county. Judgment affirmed.

Within the next two weeks the treasury of Ramsey county will be enriched to the extent of $2,000 as a result of four supreme court decisions handed down today. The decisions were in reference to the suits of the board of county commissioners against Former City Treasurer P. E. Edmund and Former County Auditor Dennis M. Sullivan jointly, and a joint suit against O. H. Arosen and W. R. Johnson, respectively county treasurer and county auditor during the time, W. B. Bourne committed his forgeries of redemption and refundment warrants several years ago. The supreme court sustains the district court verdict obtained against the aforesaid suits of the board of county commissioners, which, with interest accrued, will amount to about $2,000.

RAILROAD RATE BILL IN WISCONSIN SENATE.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 10.—The state administration railroad rate measure was introduced in the senate today. It provides for an auditive commission of three members to be vested with power and authority to require adequate evidence, to prescribe just and equitable rates, charges and regulations, to govern freight and passenger rates, to correct abuses and prevent unjust discriminations and extortion in the rates of freight and passenger tariffs and all other railroad service within the state.

AGAIN NO CHOICE.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 10.—The twentieth ballot of the joint session to select a successor to United States Senator Cockrell was taken today without result. Adjournment was then taken until Monday.

CHARGE OF LIGHT BRIGADE.

As told by Sergt. Macauley, who died on Jan. 6, 1905: On the morning of Balachava I was in a tent with eight comrades, and only two of them returned at night. I rode through the charge on the left but one, the outside man being called Herbert. We had not gone far before Herbert was killed by a cannon ball. A moment or two after my right-hand man had his head taken clean off by a round shot. His trunk kept upright on the horse for several yards, and then fell over near me. Men and horses now began to fall very fast, and we galloped as hard as silver would carry us.

We got among the guns at last, and if it was a proud moment for us the feeling was short-lived. We fully expected to be supported, but when the smoke cleared we discovered that what we took for British troops were in reality Russian Cossacks. They came for us in a perfect cloud, and we faced about and rushed right into them. There was an awful clash of swords and almost before we could realize it we had cut right through them. This opened a passage for the remainder of the brigade, and was the only real bit of fighting we had; the other was only slaughter.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

CONFESSES TEN

Hoch Admits That He Has Had That Many Wives.

The Much Married Man Reaches Chicago From New York.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Johann Hoch, indicted for bigamy, suspected of murder, and man of many aliases, arrived in Chicago last night and for several hours after reaching here was interrogated by the police with small results. The train bearing Hoch, and Officer Loftus, who held him in custody, was due in Chicago at 5:45 p. m., but it was 7 o'clock before it rolled into the La Salle street station. A large crowd had gathered to see the famous prisoner, but contrary to general expectation, there were none of his alleged wives to greet him at the station. Mrs. Emilie Fischer-Hoch declared that she would not come to the station under any circumstances and she was there, Mrs. Marie Goerke-Hoch asserted that she was willing to help the police, but that was all. "I will help you in any way I can," she declared, "but I'm not so crazy to see him."

Hoch had evidently expected a number of his wives to meet him at the station, and he was plainly disappointed that they did not come.

Where are those fourteen wives you talked so much about?" he asked of Officer Loftus.

"I don't see any of them," replied the officer as he passed through the window out of which Hoch had been peering. "There is nobody waving handkerchiefs at us."

I guess you have been joking me about that part of the business," said Hoch. "Anyway, there could not be fourteen of them, for I never had that many. There seems to be a lot of women who think I am the only man in the world who could marry them and get away with some of their money. Anyhow, not even one of these women are here."

He said O. J. Hoch chuckled gleefully as though he considered it a good joke on the officer who had brought him back from New York.

When Hoch and Loftus alighted from the train, the detail of six policemen who had been sent to the depot to meet them, were able to collect the crowd only with great difficulty. The people pushed and moved in an excited manner as they strove to get a look at him. When he was recognized a number of people jeered and booed at him. The police hurried Hoch into a patrol wagon and started for the East Chicago avenue police station, a mile distant.

Out side of the station, a third crowd was gathered, and it was larger and more obstreperous than the others. It was found necessary to call officers from the rest of the station before the walk could be cleared sufficiently to allow the prisoner to be taken into the office of Police Inspector George Shippy.

Chief of Police O'Neil, as seen as he headed the crowd, drove over to be present at the interrogation of Hoch. This was commenced at a few minutes after 7 o'clock and is still in operation three hours later.

Hoch admitted at the outset that he had married Marie Goerke-Hoch and that the marriage was illegal. He would admit nothing else.

During the evening five women, who claimed to be the wives of Hoch, called at the police station and were placed in a separate room under a guard of several policemen. One of them, Mrs. Emilie Fischer-Hoch, saw him for a minute, and saluted him with the exclamation: "You old hog; you got me again, didn't you?"

Hoch made no reply to this, but smiled as though he considered the affair of $750 rather a joke than otherwise.

Later the five women were, one at a time, admitted into the office of the inspector, and each one of them identified Hoch as the man to whom they were married.

Mrs. Ellen Hoppe at first declared that she had married Hoch, but later said she was not sure about it.

Inspector Shippy asked: "Hoch, did you marry this woman?"

"No," replied Hoch, "but maybe I will if you don't hustle her out of here pretty quick."

When Mrs. Marie Goerke-Hoch was admitted into the room, Hoch, for the second time declared that he had married her, but that the marriage was illegal. He also confessed to having married Mrs. Emily Fischer-Hoch, when she was shown into the room.

A physician who attended Mrs. Walcker-Hoch, the last wife of Hoch, identified him as the husband of Mrs. Walcker and showed him a bill for $100 for attendance upon the woman.

"Oh, yes," said Hoch, "I remember something about that. Bring it around in the morning. I'll still be here," and he laughed heartily at his joke. At midnight Hoch was still being questioned by the police, but had confessed nothing of any murder.

The examination of Hoch by the police was concluded shortly after midnight and just before his close he confessed that he had married ten women. Hoch also admitted that he had intended to commit suicide, and that the white powders found in a fountain pen taken from his room in New York city was arsenic, which he had purchased with the intention of killing himself.

The names of two of the women married by Hoch were not disclosed by the police, the other eight were:

Mrs. Julia Steinbrecher, married in 1884.

Mrs. Julia Marie Walcker, married Dec. 12, 1904.

Mrs. Mary Becker, St. Louis.

Mrs. Anna Henderson, married in Hammond, Ind., Jan. 2, 1902.

Mrs. Marie Goerke, married in 1904.

Mrs. Mary Rankin, married in 1894.

Mrs. Martha Hordahl, now of Pasadena, Cal., married in 1895.

Mrs. Emilie Fischer, married in December, 1904.

NEBRASKA PLANS

Great Campaign to Add 100,000 to the Population.

Special Commissioners Are to Be Sent to Europe.

Omaha, Feb. 10.—Nebraska is preparing a whirlwind campaign for settlers and the promoters of the campaign confidently expect to see the number of inhabitants of the state increased by fully 100,000.

It is believed that a large part of these new settlers will be drawn from the farms of Pennsylvania, Ohio, the New England States and the South, although an effort will also be made to show the factory workers throughout the crowded eastern cities that they can, by coming to Nebraska, in a few years, be in independent positions, instead of slaving day after day for comparatively meager wages.

But the efforts of the men behind the campaign will not end there. They will also endeavor to influence immigrants to come direct from Ellis Island to Omaha, here to be distributed to different parts of the state, according to their desires after learning the resources of the different counties. The business men of the entire state are crowded over the proposition, and if the fame of Nebraska is unsung throughout the Union this summer and fall, it will be because the plans have failed.

First, the solons of the Nebraska legislature are to be asked to devote two per cent of all the state taxes to an advertising fund. This itself is an enormous amount, but even this sum is to be only the nucleus of a still greater fund which will be subscribed by the different commercial bodies of the state.

A moving picture show, similar to that used by the Nebraska commission at the St. Louis Exposition, will be sent East, and will show in hundreds of the smaller towns throughout the sections to be canvassed. The "show" will be free, and in addition to an hour's display of interesting moving pictures, depicting scenes in Nebraska, a good lecturer will explain to the audience the pictures thrown on the screen.

Among other scenes used there will be one of an immigrant arriving on the range and taking up a homestead. The building of the old house will be shown. Another set will represent the same homesteader plowing and breaking the ground, sowing and reaping and feeding cattle, and eventually the Nebraska farmhouse and home of today will be exhibited standing in the place of the old sod house with which the start in life was made.

There will be hundreds of thousands of pamphlets distributed over the country, calling attention to the magnificent public school system, the finest in the country, which has placed Nebraska at the head of the educational column and has given her the lowest percentage of illiterates of any state in the Union.

One-eighth of all the land in Nebraska belongs to the permanent school fund.

For the immigrants, special commissioners will meet all steamers, and agents will even be sent into Europe in endeavor to persuade them to come to Nebraska to settle.

GRAVE TROUBLE FORESEEN. It needs but little foresight, to tell, that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead unless you take the proper medicine for your disease.

Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., old. DEVOTED TO FORMER QUEEN

Ex-Empress Eugenie Is Deeply Touched By Old Guardsman's Fidelity.

Paris, Feb. 10.—When the Empress Eugenie arrived last week at the Hotel Continental and stepped from the electric coupe which had been sent to the station to meet her, a tall and soldierly-looking old man of some 70 years, stood, with bowed head, and saluted in military fashion.

In the brilliant days of the second empire the old soldier formed a part of the empress' bodyguard, and it is said that he conceived a strong platonic love for his sovereign, which made him the butt of his comrades.

The empress frequently visits the city over which she once reigned so brilliantly, but even the newspapers hardly notice her comings and goings. The old soldier, however, never fails in his fidelity, and stands in one of the corridors through which the empress is bound to pass, so that he may salute his former sovereign as she arrives at the Hotel Continental.

He invariably brings a magnificent bouquet of violets or roses, which are placed in the empress' drawing room.

The empress is deeply touched by the old man's devotion, and would long ago have attached him to her household, but he would scorn to become a domestic, and has always steadily refused to leave Paris. On the boulevards the tall figure dressed in a shabby old cloak and slouch hat, is a well known character.

DESERVED POPULARITY. To cure Constipation and Biliousness by greatly moving the bowels and acting as a tonic to the liver, take Little Family Risers. These Famous Little Pills are mild, pleasant and harmless, but effective. They are the only pills that can be taken with safety by the young and old. Best medicine for weak women. Sold in guarantee by all druggists, at 50c a bottle.

Later the five women were, one at a time, admitted into the office of the inspector, and each one of them identified Hoch as the man to whom they were married.

Mrs. Ellen Hoppe at first declared that she had married Hoch, but later said she was not sure about it.

Inspector Shippy asked: "Hoch, did you marry this woman?"

"No," replied Hoch, "but maybe I will if you don't hustle her out of here pretty quick."

When Mrs. Marie Goerke-Hoch was admitted into the room, Hoch, for the second time declared that he had married her, but that the marriage was illegal. He also confessed to having married Mrs. Emily Fischer-Hoch, when she was shown into the room.

A physician who attended Mrs. Walcker-Hoch, the last wife of Hoch, identified him as the husband of Mrs. Walcker and showed him a bill for $100 for attendance upon the woman.

"Oh, yes," said Hoch, "I remember something about that. Bring it around in the morning. I'll still be here," and he laughed heartily at his joke. At midnight Hoch was still being questioned by the police, but had confessed nothing of any murder.

HAS "SPIRIT"

PLAYMATE

Boy Often Holds Conversation With His Unseen Friend.

McKenzie, Tenn., Feb. 10.—McKenzie has a strange psychic phenomenon in the person of Willis Miller, 6-year-old son of Capt. W. B. Miller.

Willis has a spirit playmate with whom he converses and "plays," as he calls it, every day.

Willis calls his spirit friend Raymond, and he has heard him say, "My name is Raymond, I will be there directly," and immediately he will go out of the family room into the hall or the yard under some large shade trees where he will converse with Raymond sometimes for an hour.

The conversation does not resemble childish prattle, but rather that of persons of mature years, and to those who do not see the spirit-talker it sounds like talk over a telephone.

Willis was very much distressed Christmas morning because Raymond did not get up any presents, and cried some of his into the hall for him, and there they talked and played for some time.

Raymond has never entered the family room, but Willis says he will come to see them all some day. He says Raymond told him not to let any of the other members of the family go with him to their meeting place at present.

This week Willis started into the parlor, having answered Raymond's call, as he says, when one of his sisters started with him, but Willis would not allow her to enter the room. When she entered it later, Willis was standing at the window in animated conversation with Raymond.

The family noticed the conduct of Willis about a year ago, but thought it only child's play.

Where Willis heard the name of Raymond is not known; he has never had a playmate by that name, and this makes a considerable degree of personal charm and both display much cleverness of stage.

The piece is well staged. The performance is a first-class one all the way through, and deserving of even a larger patronage than it was accorded last evening. It will be repeated tonight and tomorrow afternoon and night.

No one would ever be bothered with constipation if everyone knew how naturally and quickly it could be cured. Electric Bitters regulates the stomach and bowels.

TEN BITTEN BY MAD PUPPY

All Seek Treatment at Pasteur Ward in New Orleans.

New Orleans, Feb. 10.—One of the most remarkable cases, or, rather, corps of cases, yet treated at the Pasteur ward of the City Hospital comes from Meridian, Miss. Mr. R. Grant, with his wife and four children and three servants were all bitten by a great dane puppy, which died from what the physicians think was rabies, although the full test has not been completed as yet.

Mr. Grant bought the puppy from A. G. Campbell, president of the First National bank of Natchez, Miss., and when the dog had been with him for one of his weeks he was shipped to Meridian.

When making inquiries as to the shipment of a dog to New Orleans, he learned that the mother had disappeared and could not be found, and that for reason the puppies were sent out before the second month of the year.

Mr. Grant's boys made a playmate of the dog, and soon taught him to snap at their heels, but when the puppy really made itself out to bite one of the children they resorted to the old system of a whip to check the development of bad habits.

Last Sunday the puppy showed signs of bad temper, and on Wednesday the cook reported that she thought one of the puppies had been hurt.

Mr. Grant found the dog under the kitchen range, and, carrying it out, looked at its eye and found it injured, he thought, from a blow from a whip. Mr. Grant followed her husband into the kitchen and found the dog attempting to put it upon the head. The animal snapped at and bit her badly on one of her fingers, next next day Mr. Grant drove into the carriage shed where the dog was kept, and noticed that the animal was acting strangely.

His son was with him in the matter Monday, and he concluded that the animal was trying to get at their heels. Finally Mr. Grant called the dog to him and, with some hesitation, it answered. He reached out with his gloved hand and the animal bit through the glove and tore into the flesh of the thumb and forefinger.

That afternoon Dr. Brock, a veterinarian, came in and found the dog in a state of rabies, and from another source he learned that a litter of pointer puppies while they were with her to a sufficient extent to inoculate them with the poison.

The puppy, had, during the few days of its illness, bit Mr. Grant's four children and three servants. It was also learned that Dr. Watson's little boy had been bitten by a dog, and when the child saw the animal he at once identified it.

FRESH LAID EGGS
While This Ship Is on the Sea.

Baltimore, Feb. 10.—It is not every man who goes to see that can enjoy freshly laid eggs as a companion to his breakfast bacon, but Capt. Thapric of the German oil tank steamer Burgermeister Peterson has, by a careful study of the genius poultry, been able to do so.

On board he has a flock of chickens that receive much of his attention, and as a reward for his kindness they average twelve eggs a day from November to May.

Capt. Thapric's fad is the breeding of chickens and raising pigeons. The homing pigeons are carefully raised from the eggs—all on board, with the exception of two pairs to start the family, having been taken on the ship.

An incident of the instinct of the homing pigeon was developed on board the Burgermeister Peterson on her present trip to Baltimore. Last Friday when the vessel was off Hog Island, making her way to the capes, the pigeons took an exercise fly, and all but one returned. At 3:30 p. m., after the ship had steamed seventy miles from the time the bird was missed, it came on board.

The ship had made almost two sides of a right-angled triangle from the position where the bird was lost. It was assumed that it had flown around the land, cutting off the ship and joining it when thirty miles inside of the capes, having left when the steamer was fully forty miles up the coast.

COURT MAY RACE A HORSE

Memphis Judge Is Considering Legality of Entering Runner.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 10.—Whether or not the chancery court of Shelby county will enter a horse in the races to be run at Montgomery Park in April is a question which is at present being deliberated upon by Chancellor Heskell.

The matter is before the court through a bill which was filed by the chancellor, together with the answer of the defendant, William H. Darragh, and the real party in interest, the state of Tennessee.

Through this suit Darragh sought to attach a horse valued at $500, and in attachment was run on the animal, which was demolished at one of the stables connected with the race track.

In Williams' injunction bill he asked the chancellor to appoint a receiver to take charge of the horse and investigate its racing ability by entering it in races to take place in the future. He further asserted that the defendant would object to the entry of the horse in the races, and that the entry of the horse would necessarily have to be done in violation of the law.

Chancellor Heskell is expected to render his opinion in the matter Monday morning, and until that time the attorneys interested are rather anxiously awaiting the result.

WITNESS OF STEEL
Is Brought Into Damage Suit In Texas.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 10.—The crown sheet of a locomotive boiler, an enormous piece of steel, six feet tall and as many wide, and weighing several hundred pounds, was introduced as evidence in the trial of the case of Action Halamada and wife against the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe railroad for damages on account of the death of their son.

The crown sheet was transported to the court room by a gang of men in the employ of a transfer company and was placed upright inside the railing, near the jury box.

The young man, Tony Halamada, was killed while working as a fireman, and the plaintiffs are seeking to prove that the crown sheet was subjected to too great a pressure.

PLANS READY FOR
Carnegie School at Pittsburgh to Cost $25,000,000.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 10.—The architects employed by Andrew Carnegie to plan the buildings which will constitute the Carnegie technical schools of Pittsburgh have just finished the task. These buildings will cost thirty-two acres.

Mr. Carnegie expects to expend at least $25,000,000 in erecting the buildings, equipping them with the most modern machinery and appliances, and endowing them with a sum sufficient to insure their maintenance for all time.

Work will begin on the first group of buildings early in the spring. Mr. Carnegie hopes to live long enough to see the whole vast system of schools in operation.

It is his purpose to make this technical institute the great monument of his busy life. Every branch of scientific and industrial pursuit for both men and women will have its special department in the institute.

The buildings to be first erected are for the schools for journeymen and apprentices in the various industries. It will be the earliest possible date.

As rapidly as one group is finished work will be started on the next. It will take ten years or more to finish the whole scheme.

The women's school will have for its principal aim the training of women to earn their livelihood. Its purpose will be to give them a technical training in various industries, and to increase their earning power. Millinery, dressmaking and other trades most suitable for women will be taught.

To Sue Woman For Breach of Promise.

Altoona, Pa., Feb. 10.—Yee Sing, a well-to-do Chinese laundryman, contemplates a breach of promise suit against Louise Schultz, of Johnstown.

THE MINING INDUSTRIES
Final Report Completed By the Bureau of the Census.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The bureau of the census has just published its final and complete report on the recent census of the mining industries of the United States.

This census was conducted in collaboration with the United States Geological Survey. It relates to the calendar year 1929 and forms a part of the general work of the twelfth census of the United States, being one of the special inquiries provided for in the legislation relating to that census.

These inquiries were not to be taken until after the main reports presenting the data collected by the enumeration of 1929 relating to population, mortality, agriculture and manufactures had been completed. A summary of the statistics relating to mines and quarries has already been presented to the public in a preliminary report published by the bureau as a bulletin about six months ago. This report was issued in a bound volume of 112 pages.

The statistics compiled in the elaborate tables comprise data on the value and quantity of the output of the mines, the cost of supplies and materials, the miscellaneous expenses, the number of employees, the number of salaried officials, the kind and amount of power used, the amounts paid for contract work, etc.

The layman taking up this report will find that it contains a vast mass of statistics, and the gold and silver of the industry, but for minerals and such as bauxite, tungsten, uranium, and vanadium.

The report is far from being a mere compilation of figures. It is descriptive and analytical text. It contains a discussion of the scope and plan of the mining inquiry, a historical review of the mining industry in the United States, followed by a discussion of the statistics for the industry as a whole, and then a detailed analysis of the mining industries of each state and territory, and it appears from this that the mining industry in the District of Columbia are the only political divisions of the United States in which the sound of the miner's pick is not heard.

This discussion is followed by a series of reports on the various branches of the industry, and of diagrams presenting the results of the inquiry for separate minerals. These reports were prepared by different experts, most of whom are men of established reputation as authorities on the subjects which they discuss. This method of presentation makes it easier for the reader to find all the data relating to any particular state or particular mineral in which he may be specially interested.

The volume contains a large number of plates illustrating mining processes or mining machinery, and of diagrams presenting graphically statistics of production and prices. In the appendices are given the schedules of questions used in collecting the information, the instructions to the special agents employed in the work, and the instructions for revising all in the report.

Everybody's liable to itching piles. Rich and poor, old and young—terrible the torture they suffer. Only one sure cure, Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment. Absolutely safe, can't fail.

The report is far from being a mere compilation of figures. It is descriptive and analytical text. It contains a discussion of the scope and plan of the mining inquiry, a historical review of the mining industry in the United States, followed by a discussion of the statistics for the industry as a whole, and then a detailed analysis of the mining industries of each state and territory, and it appears from this that the mining industry in the District of Columbia are the only political divisions of the United States in which the sound of the miner's pick is not heard.

This discussion is followed by a series of reports on the various branches of the industry, and of diagrams presenting the results of the inquiry for separate minerals. These reports were prepared by different experts, most of whom are men of established reputation as authorities on the subjects which they discuss. This method of presentation makes it easier for the reader to find all the data relating to any particular state or particular mineral in which he may be specially interested.

The volume contains a large number of plates illustrating mining processes or mining machinery, and of diagrams presenting graphically statistics of production and prices. In the appendices are given the schedules of questions used in collecting the information, the instructions to the special agents employed in the work, and the instructions for revising all in the report.

THE MINING INDUSTRIES
Final Report Completed By the Bureau of the Census.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The bureau of the census has just published its final and complete report on the recent census of the mining industries of the United States.

This census was conducted in collaboration with the United States Geological Survey. It relates to the calendar year 1929 and forms a part of the general work of the twelfth census of the United States, being one of the special inquiries provided for in the legislation relating to that census.

These inquiries were not to be taken until after the main reports presenting the data collected by the enumeration of 1929 relating to population, mortality, agriculture and manufactures had been completed. A summary of the statistics relating to mines and quarries has already been presented to the public in a preliminary report published by the bureau as a bulletin about six months ago. This report was issued in a bound volume of 112 pages.

The statistics compiled in the elaborate tables comprise data on the value and quantity of the output of the mines, the cost of supplies and materials, the miscellaneous expenses, the number of employees, the number of salaried officials, the kind and amount of power used, the amounts paid for contract work, etc.

The layman taking up this report will find that it contains a vast mass of statistics, and the gold and silver of the industry, but for minerals and such as bauxite, tungsten, uranium, and vanadium.

The report is far from being a mere compilation of figures. It is descriptive and analytical text. It contains a discussion of the scope and

TEACHER ELPPES

With Fifteen-Year-Old Pupil and They Are Wed.

The Villagers Now Understand Why He Was Studious.

Dresden, Tenn., Feb. 10.—Young Willie McCaleb, 15 years old, and his former teacher, who is now his bride, though she is 29 years old, must go into exile as a result of their elopement.

The indignant father of the lad has made this the condition upon which he will refrain from beginning proceedings against the woman on a charge of kidnapping his son. So the happy couple will trek to Arkansas next week. Despite the sentence, neither shows the slightest regret.

The bride says she would be happy in a desert with her youthful lover, while Willie indignantly declares he would follow the woman to the ends of the earth.

"Arkansas is a pretty good state, and I wish when you come to go to the bottom of the thing, we will be happier there, where people don't know so much about us, than here, where we would both be made to feel our position. So we'll be off without leaving any hearts."

They will take with them the woman's 8-year-old child.

It is an extraordinary love story this elopement furnishes.

Miss Bettie Brown of Russell, a small village near this place, was the bill makes the board of regents appoint "honorable persons as educators, persons of means as usual."

A DARING CRIME

Burglars Enter Store of Robert Krojanker By Front Door.
Secure Furs Valued at $1500 and Escape Unmolested.

Burglars entered the store of Robert Krojanker, at 12 West Superior street, between 10 and 11 o'clock last evening, and got away with furs valued at from $1,500 to $2,000.

The entrance was effected by breaking open the front door with a jimmy and the burglars evidently made no attempt at concealment, but boldly walked out of the front door again with their plunder and escaped without leaving a clue.

The burglary must have been committed between 10 and 11 o'clock. Owing to the extreme cold, there were but few persons on the street at that time, and the burglars were not molested. The prescription clerk in Wirth's drug store across the street noticed the door open at 10:45 p. m., but thought nothing of it, believing that the proprietor had come down to the store for some errand.

Officer George Steele noticed the door open at midnight when passing to the East end, and made an investigation which resulted in the discovery of the robbery. Police headquarters and Mr. Krojanker were immediately notified and a race of the thieves could be discovered.

Mr. Krojanker is busy this morning taking an inventory of his stock to estimate his exact loss. About thirty-five collars and coats were stolen and three personal effects. The loss varied in price, some being worth $50 or $60 and others not more than $25 or $30, but Mr. Krojanker stated this morning that they would average $30 apiece, making a total of at least $1,500.

The personal effects were worth $100, $150, or $180, making a total loss of $1,500, or nearly as it can be estimated at present, although more goods may be discovered missing.

The goods stolen were too bulky to be carried away by one man and there must have been at least two concerned in the work, and probably assisted by a third man in a sleigh.

Officer Steele found a silver of wood and a piece of the back on the floor when he entered, and five uniform indentations on the floor, which might have been made with an ice pick.

The furs stolen were some of the choicest in the stock, and Mr. Krojanker believes that the thieves had an expert knowledge of furs.

ITS MERIT IS PROVED RECORD OF A GREAT MEDICINE
A Prominent Cincinnati Woman Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Completely Cured Her.

The great good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is doing among the women of America is attracting the attention of many of our leading scientists, and thinking people generally.

The following letter is only one of many thousands which are on file in the Pinkham office, and go to prove beyond question that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound must be a remedy of great merit, otherwise it could not produce such marvelous results among sick and ailing women.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"About nine months ago I was a great sufferer with womb trouble, which caused me severe pain, extreme nervousness and frequent headaches, from which the doctor failed to relieve me. I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and within a short time felt better, and after taking five bottles of it I was entirely cured. I therefore heartily recommend your Compound as a splendid uterine tonic. It makes the monthly periods regular and without pain; and what a blessing it is to find such a remedy after so many doctors fail to help you. I am pleased to recommend it to all suffering women."

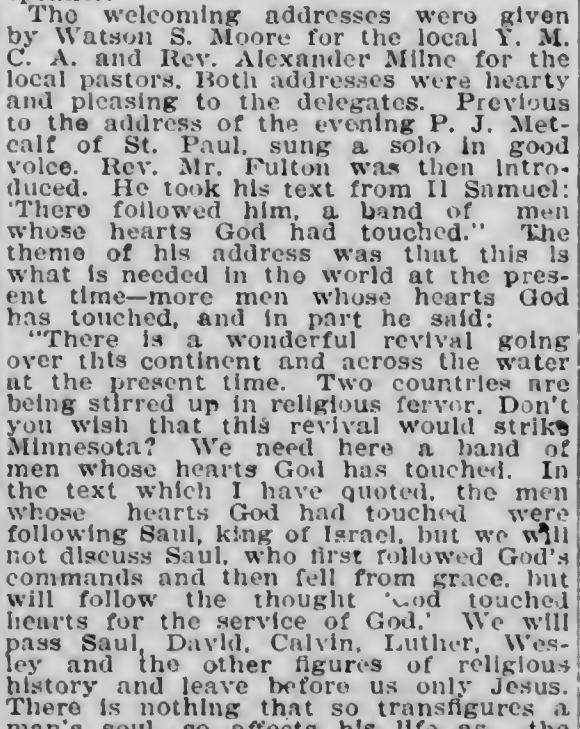

Mrs. Sara Wilson, 31 East 3d Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

If you have experienced of painful menstruation, weakness of the stomach, indigestion, bloating, leucorrhoea, flooding, nervous prostration, dizziness, faintness, "don't-care" or "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, backache or the blues, these are sure indications of female weakness, some derangement of the uterus or ovarian trouble. In such cases there is one tried and true remedy—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

ARE VERY HIGH

Butter and Egg Prices Are Still Soaring Skyward.

Egg receipts have been exceptionally light during the week, and the market is very firm. The price has also risen to 25 cents per dozen, which is the highest figure reached this winter. The fresh eggs are selling at retail for 30 cents, and even at this price the grocers have found it difficult to secure enough to supply the demand. The cold storage supply is about exhausted and the fresh eggs have to be relied on to supply the market. The present cold snap is likely to hasten the depletion of the market, and other slight rises in the price is expected.

CANADIANS WIN

International Contest With Americans at Bonspiel.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 10.—The feature of yesterday's curling bonspiel was the annual international competition between Canadian and American rinks. The Canadians putting up an equal number of rinks against the entire American contingent. The result was a victory for Canada by twelve points, but play was exceedingly close all through, the Americans being slightly in the lead before the last ends were played. Flavell of the "Lindsay," a Canadian skip to lose by game. The scores were: Flavell, Lindsay, 7, vs. Thompson, Havermont, 8, D. 10. Rochem, Winnipeg, 15, vs. Stough, St. Thomas, D. 20. McGonaghy, 13, vs. Smith, Duluth, 8. McKenno, Indian Head, 12, vs. Edward, Drayton, N. D. 6. Totals—Canadians, 47; Americans, 35.

BOOKKEEPER GOES WRONG.

Grand Forks Man Alleged to Have Embezzled.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 10.—J. E. Lewis, head bookkeeper of the Grand Forks Mercantile company, has been missing for a week, and experts working on his books are alleged to have found shortages aggregating $35,000.

Lewis had gradually accumulated large real estate holdings all of which he had placed in his wife's name. Negotiations are under way for the immediate transfer of his property to the mercantile company as partial or entire indemnity for his losses. Lewis is about 45 years old and has a wife and three children. He has the reputation of being the soul of honor.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

John Jacobson Meets Death at Pike River.

Bleak, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Jacobson, of Pike River was killed instantly at his home. He and other men were hauling a large boiler. The unfortunate man was riding on the boiler. In some way he lost his balance and was thrown under the boiler, and his life was crushed out. Jacobson made his home in Bleak for years until recently, when he went to Pike River and took up a claim, on which he filed last week. He was 25 years of age and leaves a wife and four children to mourn his death.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

Deputy Prosecutor Fletcher has dismissed the charge against Elmer Brown, who was held to the grand jury after a preliminary hearing jointly with Frank Evans, charged with the murder of Miss Sarah Schaefer. The prisoner was at once released.

As a result of the bribery scandal in the California legislature, Senators Dunsen and French were arrested on warrants issued by the grand jury. The sheriff is expected to secure the arrest of Evans and Emmons, who have also been indicted.

By the explosion of a boiler in the Central Union Gas company's plant at New York Friday morning, four men were killed and a fire started which destroyed the building, causing an estimated loss of $100,000.

President McMahon of the Blast Furnace and Smelters' union says that the furnace workers employed by the United States Steel corporation and independent firms are demanding a 5-hour day this spring. He said the local unions had acted favorably, and formal action would be taken at the next convention of the union. Instead of giving the men an 8-hour day, the employers, it is said, will compromise on an advance in wages.

CATARRH IS INTERNAL SCOFULA.

This Theory Advanced Several Years Ago Has Been Found True.

"It does not appear to me," said Mr. S. F. Boyce to a Herald reporter, "that one tenth of the people realize what a terrible thing Catarrh is. Everyone knows how unsightly a disease eczema or scrofula is. Even the name, scrofula, is enough to make one shudder at the thought of it. Well, Catarrh, is just an internal scrofula. The trouble is people don't see it and are inclined to let it go from bad to worse before doing anything. Catarrh, or internal scrofula, is really an eczema of the mucous membrane or lining of the nasal passages, bronchial tubes, the stomach, the lungs, liver or kidneys, in fact it does not confine its ravages to any particular part of the system, but attacks the weakest parts first."

Plenty of remedies may be had that afford temporary relief, but Mr. Boyce says that Muc-Tone is the only one he knows of that really cures. Muc-Tone works exactly opposite to all the cures that have been offered heretofore. Muc-Tone does not burn the inflamed surfaces as snuffs, powders, vaporizers and inhalations do, and then when the numbness works off leaves you worse than ever.

Muc-Tone, as its very name implies, cures by tending the Mucous Tissues and restoring the membrane to its natural healthy state. The Muc-Tone is a medicine such as Muc-Tone, which is carefully and scientifically prepared for one purpose, to cure Catarrh. It is not a cure-all, but it is a cure for Catarrh. It tells him it has cured them and they will guarantee a cure or refund the money you pay him.

W. E. Richardson, for the committee

"Woman is a great institution," said the Superior street barber, as he ran his fingers roughly through the locks of a hapless victim. "There would be nothing doing without her. She is what makes the world go round, so square, so crooked, so crazy and everything else. She is what makes the money and what spends the money, and the bad part of it all is that the money she spends is not always her own."

"You may not think so, but it's a fact that in most cases a woman is a good deal, directly or indirectly, with the making of a fortune. Just as often, it is true, she is connected with the spending of a fortune, but then, what of it? If a man can't take care of that which he has, why let them have it as he has it, and who can take care of it, say I."

"You see, it was out in Fargo, in the early boom days, that the idea of joining these three elements into a joint trust for the benefit of man-clear out with my outfit, but I rejected the offer on the spot.

"The fame of the Garden of Eden spread over that section of the country like a rash of erysipelas, and just as thoroughly, too. The news was likewise sweet as syrup, and the boys continued to gather like flies around a lamp of sugar that had been dipped in water. The poor girls were worked almost to death, and so busy were they that they didn't get time to even smile at anyone individually, let alone talking to them. They would merely pick out a bunch of a dozen or so fellows, well grouped, and cast one stentorian, facial illumination in their direction, like a hunter taking pot shot at a bunch of quail sitting under a bush in a snow bank, and the "Money was fairly swamping me," smiles were about as effective as shot, besides having the advantage of bagging the game without actually killing it.

"My help stood up nobly under the strain, however, and didn't lack of board, where they had been drawing from $2 to $4 per back home. They had jumped at the chance to come, and even with the hard work didn't seem to be sorry they had left their happy homes. To have ten or twelve hands some fellows, fairly tumbling over themselves to receive a morsel at their hands, was a pleasant sensation, and they rather liked it. They smiled naturally, and it didn't require any reminder from me to keep them at it. You see it was in the corner that they were to be decent, and very free with their smiles.

"Oh, yes, I drew up individual contracts with all of them. They were to stay six months at the salary mentioned, and if they left before that time they forfeited $50 cash. I held that out on their wages. The wisdom of this clause became evident very shortly.

"I saw there was no sense in working the ladies to death right away, killing the goose that laid the golden egg. So I was pretty out of the country, staying six months at the salary mentioned, and if they left before that time they forfeited $50 cash. I held that out on their wages. The wisdom of this clause became evident very shortly.

"The plan was very simple. It was no more nor less than to start an ice cream soda business. I had no money, but pretty, unmarried young ladies to wait on the guests. I knew the quality of the ice cream wouldn't count for much, so long as the waitresses were of the right stuff and you bet it didn't.

"I was so sure that I had a money-making scheme that I started in big right away. There were twelve girls, real beauties, all of them. I called my place the Garden of Eden. I have been told that there was only one woman in the only original Garden of Eden, but you hear, you know, and anyway I thought I would be original. From the street, through the big plate glass windows, you could see the flowers blooming in my garden, and you can bet that out there on that someone prairie them flowers looked as fresh and sweet as any roses ever did. And they were, too, for I took care to see that all of them were creatures of standing and looked up their pedigree for generations back, and in some cases had the ministers go bond for their good behavior.

"The rush the first day nearly swamped us. We ran short of ice cream soda, so before noon, and served coffee and cake the rest of the day. A delegation of saloon men came around and offered me $500 cash to

"There was a rush of fellows right away."

"cream and five minutes conversation with a pretty girl to the fact that the five minute cause that fetched them, and they came tumbling in like a school of herring into the fisherman's net, and with just about as much chance to escape. They had been away from womanhood so long, making money out there in the West that they were fairly helpless when basking in the company of my flowers, as I always called them. Money came easy to them, and the $2 admission fee was small change.

"Money was fairly swamping me. It was coming in so fast. The bill got to a crackling box and set beside it, to add the superfluous change, and when that got full we used potato sacks. But even then I wasn't satisfied. I tucked up another sign saying that the girls would be pleased to go out walking during business hours at the rate of $5 an hour, cash in advance. I had a fine window over the $50 due me for an unexpired agreement it was understood between the girls and myself that they were not to go out with any of the fellows after dark, without my permission. They wondered a little at it, but I told them it would injure trade, and they fully realized this after they had been working for me a few days.

"There was a rush of fellows right away, but I would let only six dollars out at a time, so my trade wouldn't be entirely spoiled. This netted me fair profits, however, the first afternoon bringing in $40 in addition to my other profits. Seeing how things were going, and going to go, I sent a special agent to find more girls, and within a few days they were arriving in bunches. You see I am a far-sighted man, and realized that all the others wasn't going to stick by me, in the face of the great popularity. And I was right, for by the end of the first week two of the girls had gotten married. I had earned their forfeit yet, but being of an honest sort they refused to enter double harness until their husbands had paid over the $50 due me for breach of contract. Every last one of the other ten were married before the end of the next week, but by that time they were coming in pretty fast, and I always had a fresh supply on hand. The men were coming, too, from miles around. Some were from hundreds of miles to the West, looking for wives, for women were even more scarce towards the land of the setting sun.

"It wasn't long before the newspapers got hold of what was doing and then I got thousands of dollars worth of free advertising. The fame of the Garden of Eden spread from the coast, and soon hundreds of letters from alleged beautiful females were flooding in on me every mail. Some contained photographs, the most of them, in fact, and it wasn't long before I had over 800 select pictures of the opposite sex, ranging from homely to the rare and handsome sort. Then another idea struck me. I let it be known around what I had on hand and advertised on the quiet that for $5 a dozen I would allow any man to go through the lot and pick out the girl he wanted for a life companion.

"That idea was quite a popular one, too, and it wasn't long before every photo in the lot had been looked at a score of times. You see, as soon as fellow would see one dozen he would want to see some more, and in a case of this kind I only charged him $2 for the second dozen and $1.50 for every dozen thereafter, and it was dirt cheap at that. When he picked out the girl he wanted to correspond with I would give him her address for an additional $5. Of course it wasn't long before I had several competitors, but in view of the extensive advertising my business had received I always had the major share of the patronage.

"All good things must come to an end sometimes, however. After I had amassed a snug little fortune of $40,000 in two months time I felt in love with one of the girls myself and married her. She was a demure little maid, of pure quaker stock. In the run of business I hadn't had time to look up her pedigree the way I had the rest of the bunch. There was no use of an investment just into her past, for her purity of character and purpose was never more clearly stamped on a woman's face, and such a beautiful face, with eyes that looked at you as if you were the most remarkable being on earth, and it was a rare privilege to love you, and administer to your wants. For depth and crystal clearness Lake Superior in her best moments couldn't be in it with them eyes. Why, you could look down into them and see her angel soul floating about on the bottom.

"She captured me right off, and we were married before she had been in town four days, although, in her extreme modesty and shyness, she objected strongly to such unseemly haste. She wouldn't have consented to go into the holy bonds of wedlock so soon.

"The Garden of Eden was dynamited," but she was afraid her fond parent, a millionaire banker in the East, who by reason of his cruel method of treating her, had been the cause of her leaving home, would arrive and take her back. She cried softly when telling how she had been ill-treated at home, and I could have killed the brute of a father on the spot if he had been about.

"I never learned just how it happened, but I was pretty out of the country, staying six months at the salary mentioned, and if they left before that time they forfeited $50 cash. I held that out on their wages. The wisdom of this clause became evident very shortly.

"I didn't open up again. My wife persuaded me to let her have the money enough to last us the rest of our natural lives, and that it was vulgar getting the coin that way, and how she wanted to go East and buy a farm, back somewhere in the green hills, where she could have me all to herself. I was a broad sort of fellow, and a cow or two, by way of variety. The way she painted it, the picture was a masterpiece. At her suggestion, here starting, I drew all my funds from the bank, in bills of large denomination, and placed them in a safe, and I carried a fortune with me.

"The boys gave me a great send off into Fargo—brass bands, speeches and all. I was a broad sort of fellow, and a cow or two, by way of variety. The way she painted it, the picture was a masterpiece. At her suggestion, here starting, I drew all my funds from the bank, in bills of large denomination, and placed them in a safe, and I carried a fortune with me.

"I was in a heaven of bliss until we got to New York. Arriving at the eastern metropolis, we drove to a swell restaurant and had a big feed. My bird of a wife sugared my coffee for me and stirred it, incidentally dropping some sort of a drug into the cup. I remember climbing into a cab, and, after that, though I did run across a block from the restaurant. She disappeared entirely, and I have never seen her since, though I did run across a block from the restaurant. She disappeared entirely, and I have never seen her since, though I did run across a block from the restaurant.

"Here's your ticket, sir, sixty-five cents—hair cut, shampoo and a shave. 'Next!'"

HE DENIES REPORT

State Health Officer Never Disparaged Duluth Water Supply.

Somebody Misunderstood Remarks Made By Dr. Bracken.

Dr. H. M. Bracken, secretary of the state board of health, whom it was reported made an attack on the purity of the water supply of Duluth, in a recent talk before a class of students in the state university, has most emphatically denied ever having made any disparaging statements, in fact, he claims that he has not delivered any address at the university at all and has reason to believe that the city is supplied with good water.

The report is said to have reached the ears of a number of people in Duluth through a student attending the university, and it was positively known that the state health officer had never by word or deed done any "knocking" about the present water supply. The report reached members of the local water and light commissioners and they were about to take steps to communicate with Dr. Bracken, when Secretary Eva, of the Commercial club, notified them that the public affairs committee had already heard the same report and had fully investigated it.

The following letter written to Secretary Eva, by Dr. Bracken will fully explain matters.

"Yours of Jan. 28 received and I must state that I am much surprised, indeed, I have not delivered any address at the state university. I lecture before medical students, but I certainly have not said that Duluth was one of the most unhealthy cities in the country, for I know better. Nor did I attack the purity of Duluth's water supply, for I have never been to Duluth at present the general water supply of Duluth is good.

"I may have referred in a lecture before medical students to the typhoid epidemic that Duluth had about ten years ago, and I may have mentioned in which the water was polluted at that time. Some student may possibly have misunderstood me and thought that I was applying conditions at present.

"I am fairly familiar with the typhoid records at Duluth, now, speaking upon the question of typhoid fever about a year ago at a public meeting I took particular pains to point out the typhoid cases in Duluth at the time were largely due to importation from surrounding districts for hospital treatment at present.

"I trust that this is sufficient explanation, but if the rumor you quote has been given general publicity, I am sorry that I am in it in order that I can contradict it."

THE AMERICAN IN PORT ARTHUR. From a Secret Agent in Port Arthur.

On the whole I think the few English people in Port Arthur are very much excited by the bombardment that were the people of other nationalities. Some of the English are, however, some were just bundles of nerves, others are really good fellows, and I have been ready to go on a spree with them.

"I never learned just how it happened, but I was pretty out of the country, staying six months at the salary mentioned, and if they left before that time they forfeited $50 cash. I held that out on their wages. The wisdom of this clause became evident very shortly.

"I didn't open up again. My wife persuaded me to let her have the money enough to last us the rest of our natural lives, and that it was vulgar getting the coin that way, and how she wanted to go East and buy a farm, back somewhere in the green hills, where she could have me all to herself. I was a broad sort of fellow, and a cow or two, by way of variety. The way she painted it, the picture was a masterpiece. At her suggestion, here starting, I drew all my funds from the bank, in bills of large denomination, and placed them in a safe, and I carried a fortune with me.

A Strenuous Worker

Michigan Leads Arizona In Production Only One Per Cent.

Apathy In the Share Market Likely to End Soon.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—While official figures of copper production by Arizona and Michigan will not be made out for fully six months, and for Montana will not be forthcoming at all, enough of the big mines have given out their products for 1904 to permit a very close approximation of the final figures, and these show that Michigan leads Arizona by only one per cent, during 1904, of about 15,000,000 pounds for Michigan, and nearly 14,000,000 pounds for Arizona. The territory, which soon is to be Uncle Sam's, is the largest and most productive of its present anomalous form of government and made a territory also, made the largest gain, both actually and relatively, of any of the American copper fields. Relatively, the most largest and most productive of its present anomalous form of government and made a territory also, made the largest gain, both actually and relatively, of any of the American copper fields.

The geology of the northern and eastern portions of Keweenaw county is most interesting, and the copper bearing Keweenaw formation reaches unbroken to the tip of the peninsula. Owing to the flattening of the strata the copper belt is much wider toward the end of Keweenaw county than in any other part of the Lake Superior district. When given rail communication, which is absolutely essential to successful mining operations, the present day, considerable exploratory work is likely to be undertaken, and the finding of a few profitable mines would follow therefrom. The marvelous changes effected by a railroad never have been exemplified better than in the case of the Copper Range line, built through a wilderness less than six years ago, yet today a handsomely paying property with an exceptionally heavy freight tonnage and running suburban trains from Houghton to three towns of several thousand people each, which were not upon the map at all when the construction of the line was first begun.

"Hermit stores" are obsolete. You can live in Duluth without using gas or electricity, without sanitary improvements, your house, without riding on street cars—if you want to be a hermit. And you can run your store without advertising—if you want to be a hermit store. But it won't pay.

The Central American states also supply considerable quantities of rubber, the total amount being nearly 1,000,000 pounds per annum, and the total from the other Central American states amounting to about 200,000 pounds annually. From Mexico the quantity imported in 1904 amounted to 26,000 pounds, and in 1903 to 19,000 pounds. Colombia and Ecuador supply each about 200,000 pounds, and the British East Indies about 500,000 pounds.

DEMAND FOR INDIA RUBBER

For Use In Manufacturing In United States Growing.

Washington, Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The growing demand for India rubber for use in manufacturing in the United States is illustrated by some figures just presented by the department of commerce and labor through its bureau of statistics. They show that the value of India rubber imported into the United States has grown from $10,000,000 in 1884 to $41,000,000 in 1904, and that the total value of India rubber imports in the period 1881-1904 is, in round terms, about $140,000,000. This increase in the value of rubber imported is due in part, however, to an advance in price, the average value per pound of the imports of India rubber (including gutta-percha) having been in 1884 45 cents, and in 1904 70 cents. The total quantity of rubber imported, a crude state in 1884 was 2,072,543 pounds, and in 1904 6,183,758 pounds.

A comparison of the importations of rubber in 1904 with those of 1884 suggests not only the growth of demand in the United States for this article, but the recognition of the importance of husbanding the rubber resources of the world. In 1884 the only rubber imports were crude rubber and gutta-percha. In 1904, however, there was not only crude rubber and gutta-percha, but also about 15,000,000 pounds of "gutta-fodolone" or "East Indian gum," a product of Borneo, which is used in the manufacture of rubber goods. In 1904 the total value of rubber imports was $41,000,000, and in 1884 it was $10,000,000.

FLOSSIE M'CUTCHEON TELLS HER STORY

Tells of Alleged Relations With Powers—Adjourned to Monday.

Federal court is not in session today; Judge Page Morris yesterday afternoon announced that an adjournment would be taken to 10 o'clock Monday morning. At the close of court yesterday Miss Flossie M'CUTCHEON, a witness in the sensational suit of Mrs. Mary A. M'CUTCHEON against Albert H. Powers, in which $50,000 damages are sought for the alleged ruin of the girl, was still on the stand.

The young woman bore up well under the questioning of Attorney H. H. H. She occupied the witness stand from the opening of court at 2 o'clock until it closed nearly three hours later, and told the story of her relations with Powers without a break, except in one instance, when, in relating a supposed scene between herself and the man who is charged to have ruined her, she broke into sobs. She cried quietly for a moment and the court room was without a sound. Then she resolutely wiped her eyes and the examination was continued. "There was a further sign of tears. Once or twice there was a faint suspicion of a smile on her face, but otherwise her expression remained unchanged. The corners of her mouth twisted upward and she met the argument of the attorney in suppressing a smile when telling how Powers, leaving her room at the back of the store one morning before daylight, stumbled over some obstruction in the store and fell. The recollection seemed to amuse her.

The early portion of Miss M'CUTCHEON's testimony was in confirmation of that given by her mother regarding the young woman's early life and relative to the different kinds of employment she had been engaged in while at Hibbing. Numerous letters and notes, all them claimed to have been written to the girl by Powers, were introduced in evidence. They were not at all sensational, and for the most part arranged dates and places for meeting her. They were not signed by Powers, but in the usual place of the sender's signature bore such names as Annie Murphy, Jack, James Blair, and Jane L. She was addressed as "Dear Jim" in some of them. She said that at the time when Powers went to Oregon he had not saved communications received from him, because he had made her promise to destroy them.

One letter the girl testified as having been written to her by Powers while on the coast, under date of Oct. 25, 1903. This was signed "Your dear cousin, Annie Murphy," and asked that she meet the writer at the day to talk over business matters. She testified that in response to the letter she came to Duluth and met Powers on Oct. 30 or 31.

"I met Mr. Powers at the depot," she said. "It was raining and I had no rubbers or umbrella and my feet and the bottom of my skirts were wet, for, as you were covered with water, Mr. Powers had an umbrella. He took me east on Michigan street. I thought it strange he should take a back street and asked him why he did so, mentioning the lambskins crowded before the employment offices. He said I mustn't talk that way and that he was only a lumberjack himself. "We went to Bailey's restaurant and had lunch. When we finished it was raining so we, his suggestion, went to the Merchants hotel, going in through the side entrance. I went upstairs and he stopped at the desk and then followed me with a man who had a key. He closed nearly three hours later, and told the story of her relations with Powers without a break, except in one instance, when, in relating a supposed scene between herself and the man who is charged to have ruined her, she broke into sobs. She cried quietly for a moment and the court room was without a sound. Then she resolutely wiped her eyes and the examination was continued. "There was a further sign of tears. been strong and in good health. "I wanted to go to Oregon but Mr. Powers would not let me, although he had often spoken of my going out there to get a timber claim. I begged and begged him to let me go, but he refused. Then I cried and still he refused. He made him a little angry and he took me by the shoulders and said: 'Now you are going to be a good little girl and do as I tell you.' "After we had returned to Hibbing, and when my condition did not improve, he wanted me to come to Duluth to see another doctor. He gave me $40 and I came the next day. I did not see the doctor he named but I did see another one who told me just what was the matter, and after refusing to have anything to do with me, further than to lance a sort of a large pimple that appeared on my face, saying that to interfere would be a penitentiary offense, he gave me a scolding.

"I didn't like to give up, because Mr. Powers had always told me to keep a stiff upper lip, but I returned to Hibbing and told Mr. Powers what had happened. It was Jan. 8 or 9 that I was in Duluth that time. We often talked about my condition after that and finally he persuaded me to go to the Superior doctor again. He paid my expenses and he took me to his cousin from Michigan to stay with me. The doctor told me that in all probability I would die if I did not submit to an operation. I was very much frightened and after good deal of persuasion of the same kind, he said the time had come when I was to have the operation. He said I was very sick and I was taken to the St. Francis hospital in Superior.

"I didn't get any better after the operation. The doctor called on me three times a day. I hated the sight of him. In a few days he said if another operation would set in and I would probably die. DULUTH TEAM BADLY BEATEN

Hockey Players Receive Bad Drubbing at Two Harbors.

A terrible drubbing was administered the Duluth aggregation of hockey players called the "McDonalds" at two Harbors last evening. The two Harbors men won out by the score of 25 to 0. The Duluth team will be strengthened today by Earl and Al Devitt of the central high school team. Cullen and McDonald, and a second game will be played this afternoon with practically a new team. The first game last evening was as follows:—

WIFE BEATER IS SENTENCED

Judge Windom Gives William Manthey the Maximum Sentence.

On the evidence that it was his custom when intoxicated to pick up any handy article and throw at his wife, William Manthey was yesterday given a sentence of ninety days in the county jail for beating his wife. Mrs. Manthey testified that her husband had been in the habit of beating her for thirty-five years past, and that he failed to support her and that she has depend on her husband for sustenance. Do you think your wife is compelled to give you the privilege of beating her every time you go on a spree? asked Judge Windom. "She has done wrong to shield you so long. You are a drunken loafer; no use to yourself or to your family." He was given the maximum sentence for the offense.

THE LABOR WORLD

Union Objects to School Janitors Doing Carpenter Work.

Commissioners Will Be Asked to Stop the Practice.

Stone masons, Monday evening, in the Axa block.
Tug firemen and linemen, Monday evening, in the Lyceum building.

Machinists, Tuesday evening, in the Ajax building.

Carpenters, Tuesday evening, in the Kalamazoo block.

Musicians, Tuesday evening, at Army hall.

Cigar makers, Wednesday evening, at the Kalamazoo block.

L. T. P. A., Wednesday evening, in the Kalamazoo block.

Electrical workers, Thursday evening, at 221 West Superior street.

On the trades assembly to see that the union was paid $27 by the meat cutters. This amount, it was explained, was paid a union orchestra to keep it from playing at the picnic with the non-union band, to make up for the losses sustained by the union men as a result of the breaking of their engagement. Delegate Tunell, representative of the butchers, said the services of the band had been donated. Only the orchestra was hired, and all members of that belonged to the ranks of organized labor. A committee of seven, consisting of Delegates Perault, Alexander, McDonald, McDowell, Boltz, Tunell, Westgaard and Peter Nelson, was appointed by President Sharlet to make an investigation of the complaint and report back to the assembly.

The steam engineers entered a complaint to the effect that a local clothing firm was employing a non-union engineer and asking the assembly to take some action in regard to getting him to either join the union or quit his job. A committee, consisting of Delegates Perault, S. S. McDonald, Alexander, McDonald, Peterson and Tunell, was appointed by the president to interview the firm in question and see what could be done in regard to the matter.

Financial Secretary McDowell reported that on Feb. 15 the assembly had $446.93 to its credit in the bank.

The organization committee reported progress in its work and said that before the next regular meeting of the assembly it would probably be accomplished in the way of organizing new unions.

The delegate from the Roller-makers' union reported that the brief strike of the 100 men employed by the Northwestern Steam & Ice works and the Goshic companies had been settled in a manner satisfactory to all concerned, and that the men had returned to work. Both sides made slight concessions, said the delegate. His announcement of the settling of the strike was greeted by loud hand clapping.

Delegates reported on trade conditions of their respective unions as follows: Butchers, good; building laborers, dull; carpenters, dull; cigar makers, fair; leather workers, good; machinists, fair; printers, good; painters, decorators and paperhangers, good; plumbers, fair; sheet metal workers, fair; steam engineers, fair; tailors, fair.

Credentials of new delegates were received as follows: L. Stephens, O. E. L. W.; John Charrier, painters; A. Haakansen, I. Westgaard, musicians; Richard Richter, Charles Beyer and Andrew Hedberg, bakers and confectioners.

The bakers and confectioners will give their annual ball on the evening of March 4.

George Skinner, a well known carpenter of the city and for some time a delegate to the trades assembly from his union, has gone to Chicago to reside.

The Prophet, Jeremiah, asked: "What has the stone to the wheel?" And so today may be asked: "What is the advertising to the store?" It's a mistake, of course, to advertise in a poor medium, but a greater mistake not to advertise ENOUGH in a good one.

Signs of Increased Industrial Speculation Are Multiplying

When Lawson put crimp in it, and kept the general run of small speculators and investors from getting the good things that the "big fellows" got and are still getting. The big fellows had more sense than to be scared off by the Boston false alarm, as the general public to print a bond that would allow a stockholder to get in where they yield no more than bonds the small investor will take the bonds every time. The bonds supply what may be called the public investment demand. The public investment demand is the industrial stock again now just as it did four years ago. There is plenty of reason for this.

are therefore selling at prices that make the dividend yield more attractive than the yield on common stock. The company keeps its eyes open can see the improvement in industrial conditions that is under way. It is not so easy to see the improvement in the railroad business and railroad deals are scarce. The company's stock price activity shows at the tops of the smokestacks, in the newspapers and in the strongest evidence of the industrial revival yet. During January there were produced 1,776,500 tons of pig iron and 1,307,500 tons were consumed, 31,000 tons of the 403,000 left over from December being used up. This 1,776,500 tons of pig iron produced during January was the biggest monthly record in the history of was greater than the production of May, 1903, when the previous high record was made. Every ton of that pig iron means work for men and mills. A very great proportion of it means earnings for some industrial corporation, a share in the ownership of which is offered to every man with a little money, through the

The big fellows did buy the stock around 50 because they had taken the trouble to assure themselves that the $7 a year dividend could be depended upon. The price had fallen to $10 and it is expected not to investigate now. It is expected to keep on in its old habit of buying stocks because they are

TWIN CITIES SHOW INTEREST IN DULUTH

Water Power Development Awakening Them to Importance of the Head of the Lakes—Realty Men Down There Look For Boom in Real Estate Here—Doings of the Week.

"Do you know why Duluth is being talked about a great deal in the Twin Cities at the present time?" asked a local real estate dealer, who has just returned from a visit at these points. "It's because they have begun to wake up down there to the possibilities that are before Duluth by reason of the development of this great water power which has so long been dormant and which they foresee means great industrial progress for this city within the next few years."

"The fact of the matter is some of the Minneapolis and St. Paul real estate men have the notion that Duluth expects to have a boom this coming year or two years in property values and they are making inquiry here themselves with a view of picking up favorable investments."

"Here in Duluth we have not been talking 'boom' nor do we want it. Our experience with 'boom times' was disastrous and those who are interested in the welfare of the city, as well as their own, are not looking forward to any more bubble movements."

"We real estate men of Duluth have been looking forward for many long years to the consummation of this great water power scheme, and now that the thing is financed and actual construction work is to be started within a few days or weeks, and the certainty, as we see it, that our dreams are to come true, we seem to be simply rubbing our eyes, pinching ourselves to see if we are awake, while all over the country, in the larger cities, moneyed interests have been given a jolt and are sitting up over greater developments that are bound to follow."

"In my mind the development of the St. Louis river water power is the greatest thing that has ever happened for Duluth. In the advertising line alone it has drawn the attention of the country. The noise about the future prospects of Duluth, but how few have ever stopped to realize the great advantages that are in store for this growing young city, for such it is as yet, has over those city spreads out over greater territory, as Superior, or the Twin Cities."

"Here in Duluth, we know positively where the center of the business interests is to be now. In 1905, 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909, 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913, 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, 1936, 1937, THE SWEDISH LUTHERAN MINNESOTA CONFERENCE

At the Bethany Lutheran Church February 21 To 27.

Delegates From Minnesota, Dakotas, Wisconsin, Michigan and Iowa.

The Conference Will Hold Sessions Every Day and Evening.

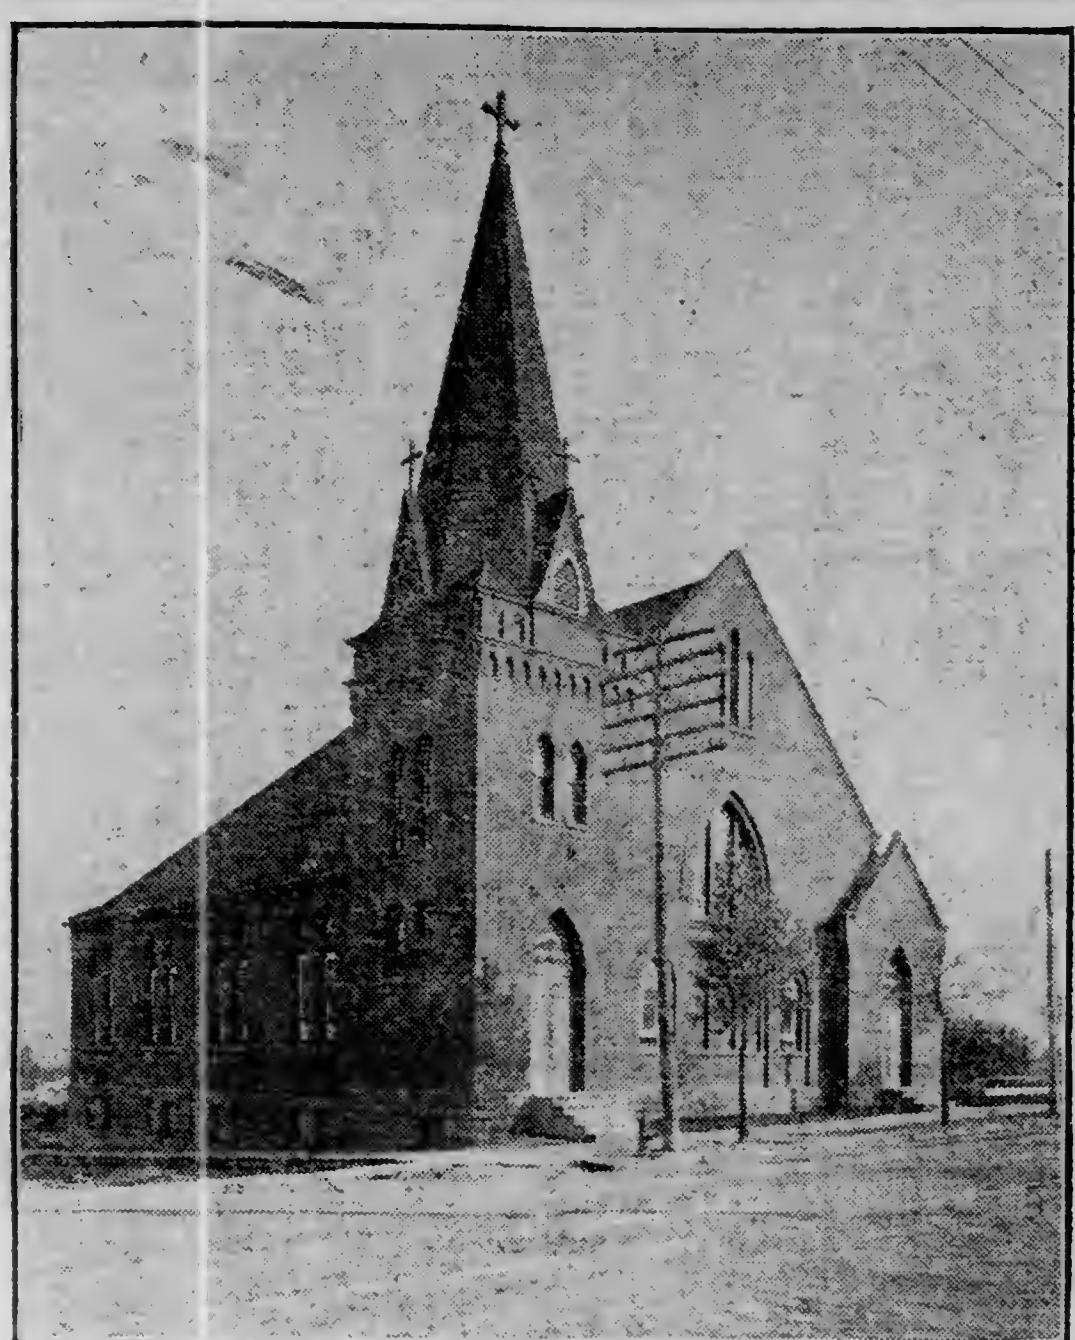

REV. A. P. MONTÉN,
One of Leading Swedish Ministers.

Duluth will be the scene of a notable gathering of clergy and lay delegates of the Swedish Lutheran denomination during the week of Feb. 21 to 27. Beginning on the first named date the Minnesota conference of the Swedish Lutheran churches will be held at the Bethany Lutheran church, at the West end.

Delegates will be present from all over Minnesota, from the Dakotas, Wisconsin, Michigan and some from Iowa. Arrangements already received indicate the presence of about 125 of the Swedish Lutheran ministers and 150 lay delegates. These will be entertained for the week in the homes of Duluth people, arrangements now being made in the homes of Duluth people, arrangements now being made with that end in view by a committee composed of Charles Lindahl, chairman, B. E. Vellberg, Charles Johnson and Andrew Andren.

This conference will bring to Duluth some of the most prominent divines in the synod, of which this district is a part. Among these will be Dr. Fredrik, president of the conference; Dr. E. Nordberg, of Vasa, Minn., president of the Augustana synod; Dr. C. J. Petri, pastor of the Augustana church at Minneapolis; Rev. C. J. Carlson, of the Minneapolis church; Dr. Telleson, of the English city mission at Minneapolis; Rev. L. P. Bengtson of Winthrop, Minn.; Rev. L. G. Almén, Rev. J. Magny, Rev. J. V. Soderman, Rev. J. O. Cavallin, Rev. A. Hault, Rev. G. O. Schoborg, Rev. G. Rast, of Red Wing; Rev. A. F. Montén of Duluth; Rev. G. Peterson, Rev. J. Lundquist of Chicago; Rev. E. J. Werner, Rev. J. N. Brandelle, Rev. S. L. Schoborg.

BETHANY CHURCH, WHERE SESSIONS OF SWEDISH LUTHERAN CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD.

Wilson, Rev. J. T. Kjellgren of Scandinavia, Minn., and others.

Sessions of the conference will be held every day and evening, the morning and afternoon meetings devoted to business affairs of the denomination and the evenings to sermons, addresses and concerts.

The Swedish Lutheran church supports several schools, orphan homes and hospitals, besides the home and foreign missions and the business sessions will deal largely with the affairs of these institutions.

The meetings will be held at the Bethany Lutheran church, at 9 o'clock in the morning, 2 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

The evening services, as well as the special services on the Sunday included within the dates of the conference, will be conducted by various ministers who attend the conference.

Tuesday evening, Feb. 21, President Fredrik will deliver the opening address and sermon. The liturgy will be read by Rev. J. A. Krantz of the Ellin church at West Duluth, and Rev. L. P. Bengtson of Winthrop.

Wednesday evening Rev. L. G. Almén and Rev. J. Magny will deliver the sermon.

Thursday evening the conference will take up the discussion of the various city missions. Rev. J. V. Soderman will address the delegates on the missions at Duluth and Superior; Dr. C. J. Petri will talk about the Minneapolis city missions, and Rev. C. J. Carlson will treat of those in St. Paul.

Home missions will be the topic for discussion on the Friday evening meeting and the discussion will be led by Rev. J. O. Lundberg. Dr. J. Telleson will address the conference about the English missions at Minneapolis.

Saturday afternoon the conference will turn its attention to the discussion of Sunday school affairs and the discussion will be led by Rev. J. O. Cavallin. Rev. A. Hault and Rev. G. O. Schoborg.

Arrangements are under way for an elaborate concert Saturday evening, which will include the singing of a cantata composed by Prof. A. F. Lundholm of this city by a choir of sixty voices, led by Prof. Lundholm himself.

The Orpheus male quartet will sing several selections and Prof. George Tyler and Roy Prytz will render solos. Sunday morning, at 10 o'clock, the Bethany Lutheran church a communion service will be held, the officiating clergyman being Rev. G. Rast of Red Wing, Minn. The liturgy will be read by Rev. G. A. Stenberg, and Rev. J. V. Soderman.

In the afternoon there will be a children's Sunday school festival, at 3 o'clock, conducted by Rev. G. Lundquist of Chicago. Rev. G. Peterson and Rev. E. J. Werner.

The young people's meeting of the conference will be held Sunday evening, the liturgy being read by Rev. J. N. Brandelle and Rev. S. L. Schoborg, and the address of the evening being delivered by Dr. E. Nordberg, president of the Augustana synod. Rev. J. T. Kjellgren of Canada will also speak.

While the visiting ministers are here arrangements will be made for services at the various Swedish Lutheran churches of this city and Superior Thursday and Sunday of the conference. The address of the conference will be held at the First Swedish Lutheran church in Duluth, the Ellin church at West Duluth and at the churches in Superior, Old Superior and Billings Park, across the bay.

The only thing likely to be lacking at the coming conference is the presence of Dr. A. F. Elmer, pastor of the Bethany Lutheran church, who has always been an active factor in the conference. Dr. Elmer, who recently went to Hot Springs, Ark., for a several weeks stay for his health, and it is quite doubtful if he will be able to return in time for the conference.

BLOWING OUT THE ST. LOUIS RIVER DAM

Beginning the Work of Providing Duluth With a Supply of Cheap Electrical Power.

VIEW OF DAM AT THOMSON ON ST. LOUIS RIVER AFTER SECTION WAS BLOWN OUT.

SECTION OF DAM AT THOMSON BLOWN OUT A FEW DAYS AGO.

The two views presented herewith show one of the first steps taken in the development of the water power of the St. Louis river by the Great Northern Power company, Monday, Jan. 30, forty feet of the dam across the river at Thomson was blown out. This was an amount sufficient to lower the water of the river to its normal level, and it is this which was sought, in order that a complete examination may be made of the bed of the river at the point where the new dam is to be thrown across.

The old dam was 440 feet in length and 13 feet high, and has been standing for fourteen years. It was built of white pine timbers, 12 by 12 inches in size, in the days when white pine was not so scarce as now, as is shown by the excellent quality of the timber used. The dam is now being removed, and these timbers are being saved for use in other construction work which the company will have to do.

An even dozen of dams are to be built by the company for the creation of its surface reservoir at Thomson. Eight of these will be retaining dams of concrete, three earth embankments, and one overflow dam. The reservoir will be a lake of respectable size, one and a half miles long and a half mile wide.

Next week the contract will be let for the construction of the canal from this reservoir at Thomson to the hill above the point where the generating station is to be located. It will end at the ferry, from which the pipe lines will lead to the station below, and through which the water will be dropped 25 feet. The construction of this canal is a very large piece of work, the largest contract the company will have to let. It will involve the removal of 100,000 cubic yards of rock, and 350,000 cubic yards of earth besides other work of considerable magnitude.

Altogether the work which will be under way within a very few weeks and which will continue throughout the year and longer, will give employment to 1,000 men. The territory between Fond du Lac and Thomson will be a very lively place.

The amount of work the company will do in the next year and a half is enormous. Few people realize what it will amount to. Some conception may be obtained by the statement that the combined capital and surplus of all the banks at the Head of the Lakes would not pay for it.

The work will not end with this first installation by any means either. It is more than probable that the completion of the first installation of 30,000 horse power will be followed by immediate work upon a further installation and that these will continue with but little interruption until the full capacity of the river is developed.

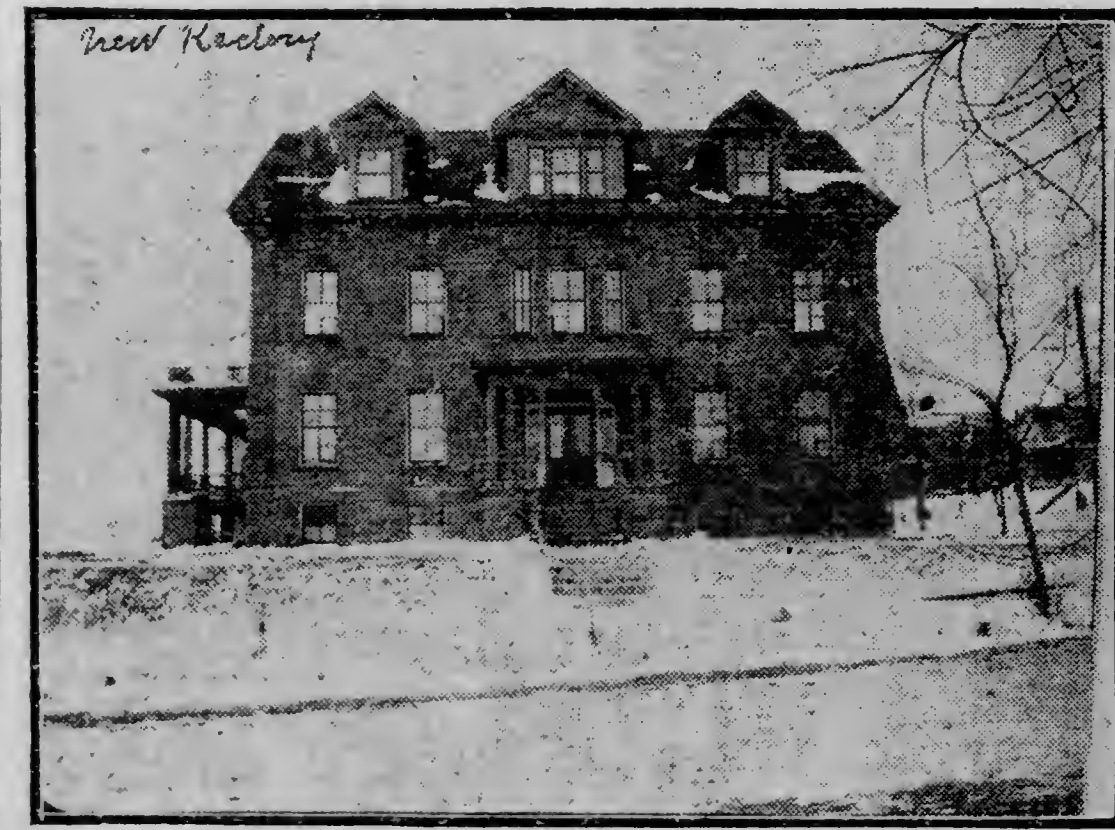

DEDICATION OF CHURCH OF ST. JEAN BAPTISTE

Impressive Ceremony Will Take Place on Sunday Afternoon.

Sermon to Be Delivered By Rev. M. F. Fallon of Buffalo.

NEW CHURCH OF ST. JEAN BAPTISTE AT TWENTY-FIFTH AVENUE WEST AND THIRD STREET.

NEW RECTORY OF ST. JEAN BAPTISTE CHURCH.

Local Catholics will take part tomorrow in the solemn dedication of the new church of St. Jean Baptiste, which has recently been erected at the corner of Third street and Twenty-fifth avenue West by the congregation, which for years has met in the church at Eleventh avenue West near Superior street. To the untiring efforts of Rev. Father Guillet are due the success of the congregation in obtaining the magnificent new structure, and tomorrow some of the most prominent Catholic clergy on the continent will take part in the dedication services. The sermon in the morning is expected to be preached by his grace, Archbishop Langevin of St. Boniface, Manitoba, Canada, one of the Canadian dignitaries of the Canadian Catholic organization. The dedication as a whole will be under the auspices of the Missionaries Oblate of Mary Immaculate, the order of priesthood to whose care the congregation of St. Jean Baptiste was assigned by Bishop McGlockick of this city some years ago.

The congregation was organized in 1884 when the French population, of which the congregation is made up, was comparatively small, but the congregation prospered, thanks to a zealous priest, Rev. P. B. Champagne, backed by energetic members of the congregation. The old, and now discarded church at Eleventh avenue was dedicated on the feast of the Assumption, Aug. 15, 1888, and in 1892 the church was enlarged and a basement built. In 1901 it was partly destroyed by fire and was then rebuilt.

At the death of the then pastor, the late Father Leuret, Bishop McGlockick called upon the Oblate fathers to take direction of the parish, which that order accepted and Rev. Father Leuret took charge in November, 1902, remaining until the following March when the present pastor, Rev. D. Guillet, arrived with Rev. O. Robillard. Father Guillet found the church too small for the rapidly increasing French element and began his successful effort for a new church. As a result of his work the whole of block 45 in the West end was purchased of the Western Land association and now two fine buildings, a church and a rectory, stand at the corner of Twenty-fifth avenue West and Third street as monuments to his labors.

The church, which was opened for public worship on Jan. 8, of this year, has a fine basement above ground in which school is held, German & Liège of Duluth are the architects of the building and Alexander Roberts is the contractor who built it.

Tomorrow morning at 10:30 high mass will be celebrated by Rev. P. Magnan, O. M. S., of Winnipeg, assisted by Rev. C. Cahill, rector of St. Mary's church, Winnipeg, as deacon, and Rev. O. Plourde of Duluth as sub-deacon. The sermon will be given by Archbishop Langevin of St. Boniface, Manitoba, should he arrive. The musical program will be as follows:

REV. M. F. FALLON, O. M. S.,

H. Dumont's "Missa Regia" (Gregorian).
"Kyrie".....Harmonized by Boucher.
Choir and La Brosse's Orchestra.
"Gloria"....."Gloria"....."Sanctus"....."Agnus Dei".....Offertory, "Ecce Sacerdos Magnus".....P. Rampis Communion....."Oremus Pro Pontifice".....Gregorian

At 2:30 in the afternoon, the Catholic societies of Duluth and Superior will meet in the school at Twenty-fifth avenue West. At 3 o'clock the clergy will leave the rectory and will enter the church in solemn procession. The members of the societies will follow and then the doors will be thrown open to the public. After the dedication of the church, Bishop McGlockick will speak briefly, Archbishop Langevin will make a short address after which the sermon will be delivered by Rev. M. F. Fallon, O. M. S., of Buffalo, N. Y. The ceremony will be brought to a close by the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The musical program for the afternoon will be as follows with La Brosse's orchestra in attendance:

Overture—"Ecce Sacerdos Magnus".....P. Rampis
"Laetatus Sum".....Gregorian
"O Salutaris Hostia".....La Suez
"Oremus Pro Pontifice".....Gregorian
"Tantum Ergo".....Minard
"Laudate Dominum".....Ch. Groulx
Rev. Father Fallon is a native of Kingston, Ontario. He received his classical education in the university at Ottawa, Ont. After a course of studies he entered in to the Order of the Oblate Fathers. Going to Rome for his theological studies, he took the highest degree with distinction. Though a young man, he has been appointed provincial of his order in the East. He resides at Buffalo, N. Y., where the Oblate fathers have a beautiful church, a large classical college and a juniorate.

The reverend father will lecture in the Lyceum theater on Tuesday evening next. His subject will be "Daniel O'Connell—a model Catholic layman—the Liberator of Ireland." Rev. Father Fallon is a prominent member of the Knights of Columbus.

ADVENTURES OF ABE FINKLESTEIN

Experiences of Former Herald Newsboy, Who Has Been All Over This Country and In Asia and Australia.

The adventures of Abe Finklestein, a former Herald newsboy, form an interesting narrative. The young man, who is now 22 years of age, was employed as a carrier on The Herald for over eight years. In 1900, when he was just 15 years of age, he left Duluth, determined to see something of the world, and during the four years which have elapsed since that time he has visited almost every state in this country, traveled through Mexico and seen parts of Asia and Australia.

He secured a position on the steamer W. H. Gilbert and worked his way to Cleveland, where he left the boat and secured a position as a deckhand on the yacht Idler, which was owned by James Corrigan, of that city. For nearly two months he worked on the yacht, and left it just two days before it sank with six people on board, about fifteen miles from Cleveland.

From Cleveland he went to Chicago, where he remained for about two months working at odd jobs. He then decided to go to the Pacific coast, and took the only way open to those who do not have the ready cash to purchase a ticket. He ran the bumpers, the "band language" and freight trains from Chicago to San Francisco. The trip consumed eighteen days.

When he reached San Francisco he secured a position as a saloonman on the Pacific Coast Steamship company's steamer Unatilla, plying between San Francisco and Seattle. In this way he visited the Puget Sound cities, and on his return to San Francisco left the steamer to take a position on the United States transport Meade, which was just starting for the Philippines. On this trip he visited Honolulu, Guam, Nagasaki and Hong Kong, in addition to Manila. On his return to San Francisco he left the Meade and went with the Spreckels Steamship company, securing a position on the steamer Sonoma, which was starting for Australia. On their way they stopped at Auckland and the Tahiti islands.

"Pago-Pago, in the Tahiti islands, is the most beautiful city I ever saw," he said in describing his trip. "It is a city of about 150,000 people, most of whom are natives. It has a magnificent natural harbor, which is surrounded by high banks, covered with the most beautiful foliage. The water is very blue, and altogether it is the most beautiful place you could imagine."

"The soil on the Tahiti islands is very rich, but the natives are very ignorant and don't know how to cultivate it. They live mostly by fishing."

"Auckland in New Zealand, is a regular English city. Sydney, which was the only Australian port we stopped at is about the size of San Francisco, and a little smaller than Melbourne. It has a lively city and seems to be growing rapidly."

"When we landed in Sydney I had a funny experience. On the way over I had been quarreling with a young cadet, but we could not fight it out on the boat. Just as soon as we touched the dock, we had our coats off and they finally fished us out we shook hands."

"When we returned to Frisco I was idle for a couple of weeks and got to going around among the athletic clubs. Here I fell in with Tommy Guilfeather, who was left, featherweight champion pugilist of the Pacific coast. He taught me several tricks in boxing, and when I finally left San Francisco for Texas, I was pretty handy with the gloves.

"At El Paso I got an opportunity to get into the ring in place of a man who failed to show up for a fight they were putting off. The other fellow weighed 160 and I only weighed 130 but he was clumsy and I got a draw out of it."

"I had another fight some weeks later in Fort Worth and got the decision in eight rounds. From Fort Worth I went up to Hot Springs, where I fought a preliminary to Battling Nelson. I fought with a nigger named Young Murray and on out after seventeen rounds. But I was so badly used up that I was in bed for two days, and then I swore off prize fighting. I have never been in the ring since, but I have acted as second at a number of fights. I helped train Battling Nelson for his fight with Max Baer, Mayfield and Williamson."

"While I was in Texas I crossed over into Old Mexico. The Mexicans are the greatest gamblers on earth. They will bet their shoes and shirts and trousers on the chicken fights they have down there."

"Down in Pedros I got into a card game with a Mexican. We were playing a game called 'con-can' and I was winning. He began to get mad and finally pulled out a long knife and laid it on the table. I was unarmed and I was going to fare badly with me so I looked for a chance to get away. We were playing on the depot platform while I was waiting for a train. A freight train came along and I waited for it to get started. Just as it was beginning to gather speed I grabbed the money I had in front of me and jumped the freight. The Mexican grabbed the knife and started after me but I got away all right and rode the freight to the next station."

"I saw a funny variation of a 'ball fight' down there. They put on a yellow mule from Missouri against a bull. They fought for nearly an hour. The mule kicking with his heels and the bull using his horns. They finally called the fight a draw."

"From Hot Springs I went to New York and spent several months working in different towns through the East, picking up odd jobs, and going to the next town as soon as I turned enough to travel on. From New York I went to Chicago and got a job there as grand stand messenger at the race tracks. I have been there ever since, and I am going back just as soon as I finish my visit home."

"I am going to stay in this country. I never saw any other I liked better, during my travels and no other city that I liked better than Chicago."

THE NEWEST
TAILORED PRODUCTION

The Newest in the Man-Tailored Production.

In this model there is no question as to whether it is a dressmaker's or a tailor's model; the trim and crisp effect, the faultless cut and fit, the mathematical precision of every plait, seam and fold all proclaim it the man's model. The little coat has a very jaunty effect with its shallow vest of white bunched in black soutache, the rounded corners of the front and the smart flare of the coat skirts over the hips. The skirt is the new model that is full at the top and plain at the waist. The skirt is particularly good with its nine gores well spaced, each with a backward turning plait stitched down to below the hip, and its release marked by a little watchspring coil of plain black soutache. These little coils are used on the jacket, too, to excellent effect, and the impression made by the whole costume is that it is a type of the best that the tailor's art has to offer.

A Novelty in Plaid.

Those blurred designs are far and away the prettiest thing that has been offered in the somewhat overdone shepherd's plaid and small checks, in brown and cream they are particularly soft and becoming, and are seen to excellent advantage in the woolen costume where a fine soft glove suede of a deep brown is used for color contrast and relief. The collarless neck is faced with this, and brown and gold laid, with fancy buttons, makes a pretty trimming. The little blouse is drawn down snugly to the deep swathed centre of suede, two little straps overhanging in front. The sleeve is a welcome novelty with its long cuff that shapes over the hand. The skirt is in plaited gores, stitched down over the hips, and then flaring to the plain stitched hem.

Fascinating Little Blouse.

These dainty little blouses are the perquisite of youth and slenderness in the tailor-made styles, and there are few models that are so graceful and so becoming to the average girlish figure. The most production in them make the centre or belt quite a prominent feature, in many instances running it up half way under the arm. Shirrings over the shoulder make for brightness and fullness at the same time, and the fronts are allowed to drop over the belt in two long strap or stole ends. The sleeve, too, is full and puffy, with a down-turned cuff that hangs over the hand. The skirt is very attractive. Front and back are plaited and decorated from belt to hem with stitched plaids and straps; the sides are circular and have a deep circular dounce applied at knee depth, several stitched straps making a heading, and a Tassin dounce interlacing thalochini make the correct drape which distinguishes the new Russian models.

Collars, Necks and Neck Dressings

Some Sensible Hints of Fashion News Concerning Your Throat.

In the matter of collars it would seem that our girls, and even the grown-ups, too, have yet a lot to learn. If ever the classical injunction "Know thyself" needed practical and personal application, it surely is in this same matter of collars.

The vogue which has attended the collarless coat brings the matter of the inner collar right into public view and incidentally to public attention. A walk down the avenue of a fine afternoon, a tour through the shops, or even a Sunday morning in church will open one's eyes to the sins of omission and of commission in this respect which our sister women commit, all unconsciously, and to their own detriment, if not their positive disreputability.

The woman who has carefully studied the shape and contour of her features in the mirror, taken into account the relative size of her neck, throat and chin, must soon, if she have any eye at all for proportion, make up her mind as to what size, height and style of collar is most becoming to her, and wisely stick to that one; or, when fashion demands, alter it in conformity with the passing style. But alter its proportions? Never!

The collarless blouse, and especially that of the lingerie variety, has made a prolonged and a persistent bid for popular favor. That it is a very pretty style—for those who can wear it—none will deny. But it must be very carefully managed. Just the right effect is to be gained. Many of our girls who pride themselves upon some real or fancied resemblance to some one or another of the younger actresses who are prominent in the public eye make quite a fad of having frocks and blouses and the like in exact copy of those worn by their idols upon the stage. Pretty Ethel Barrymore detests collars, and has every possible frock made without them, and all of the schoolgirls who worship at her shrine follow suit, but not always, it must be confessed, with the degree of success that attends their model.

Just at present the Parisians are making a great fuss over the stiff linen collars and cuffs which they wear with their quite dressy blouses. Of course, with the usual Parisian taste, they have embroidered and punched holes in these only to sew them up again for some more man one time said of his wife's embroidery, and then they add frills of the sheerest linen with a dainty hemstitch and, perhaps, a row of petit pois for a finish. Over here we wisely keep those stiff starched collars where they belong, and that is in the shirtwaist box. They are deemed suitable only for the severe tailor-made shirtwaists of madras, linen or chertise. Another instance where we form our own opinion of style and refuse to follow a bad example, even though it emanate from the beloved Paris.

With even the dressiest of gowns the collar is supposed to be transparent. Usually it is of lace, lined with a little soft chiffon, and with little featherbone rods run in at intervals to support it around the throat. These little rods are best run in in a slanting fashion; they are then less likely to make the neck or throat uncomfortable.

The very newest things in the collar bone are of moderate height, and the collar that tickled the ears and caught in the invisible hairpins wherewith the little scolding locks at the back of the coiffure were held in check, have vanished, and there is a sweet reasonableness in the new models which will commend them universally.

The question of lining the collars that are in suite with the silk and satillene blouses is a vexed one. The stiff canvas linings are far too heating to be comfortable, and comfort is what the modern woman demands before everything else. Gone are the days when she made a martyr of herself for the sake of so-called style. Now it is comfort that rules, and whatever is or threatens to be uncomfortable is quickly thrust aside and forgotten.

The Covert Coat.

For between-seasons purposes there is nothing that fits in so well as the woollen covert coats. When fashioned after the severe tailor-made styles they remain in good standing from one season to another. In the later ones there is evident a tendency to repeat the little nuances of fashion that obtain in other modes of dress, and the sleeves are usually the method of their introduction. The covert coat illustrated shows the length that is favored for spring wear, coming well down over the curved of the hip. Back and sides are carefully fitted, and the fronts have a single dart either side. All the seams are stripped, and an air of length and slenderness is attained by the addition of extra strappings on the front. The sleeve is fuller than the usual tail model, and buttons over cuff style, at the wrist.

It is the tailor-made girl who rules the roost at present, so far as fashions are concerned, anyhow!

The return, or rather revival, of the modes of the Victorian era put her rather to the background, for their sloping lines, their excess of frills and ruffles, their gobs and blots of draped skirts were anything but concomitant with the styles which she has elected shall be here.

And everybody is glad that those trying and really foreshortening fashions are relegated to the backwoods. The tailor-made girl would none of them from the start. They were styles that could be reproduced—and successfully at that—in all manner of inexpensive material. They could be run up by even the most inexperienced seamstress; and even when the richest of silks and velvets were employed, they did not show up for half their worth.

If there is one thing more than another that the tailor-made devotees demand, it is that their gowns shall show up for their full value. The work of the best tailors is expensive, even in its simplest forms; and, as one of them remarked the other day: "Whatever is the use of paying a hundred dollars for a gown if it cannot show that perfection of cut, of fit and of finish which the best types of the tailor-made always display; and of whose cost and value there is not a dissentient opinion."

And he only voiced the sentiments of each and every one of his customers in that sapient remark! From the plain and severe costume trotter, which we have over here freely translated as the trotter or trotting costume, and which has been accepted as the correct style for the morning and promenade gown, right on up to the picturesque dinner jacket of velvet or brocade that is worn with a cloth skirt of different line and texture, the tailor-made girl remains true to her elected mode. And in the new and novel lines which Dame Fashion demands shall distinguish the fashionable figure, the work of the high-class tailor is seen at its best.

The fitted lines that shall define the curves of the figure—there are no angles to anybody's figure any more—are really best expressed in this style. For morning wear the costume trotter referred to takes on a delightful variety as to styles. There is that fascinating little blouse coat which is so gracious and so becoming to the growing girlish figure. Whether it is bloused to sag all around above the deep boned centre, or whether it be drawn down snugly, but not at all tightly, in either or any event this smart little style is the perquisite of youth. The woman whose shoulders round or even stoop in the very slightest degree would better leave it severely alone, for the vaguest tendency to round shoulders is emphasized in a positively cruel and disgusting manner in this otherwise smart little jacket.

The coat, with its full complement of seams, each one of them displaying either lapped or strapped finish, and with that portion below the waistline cut with a really smart flare, is the cleverest expression of the season's style. Vests or waistcoats are a prominent feature; and when they are made separate, as they ought to be, quite a repertoire can be effected to these.

The picturesque modes of the Louis periods were bound to attract favorable attention from the tailors. Here the perfection of cut and of fit must be apparent at the first glance, else the costume were a failure. The fitted body portion, with its smart vest of luxurious materials, the extravagant sleeves, the hip basques, which must show just such a proportion of duple and not a fraction more; all of these are items which receive their due use of recognition at the hands of the tailor.

And between these there are charming little costumes which can be made to fit in a variety of occasions. The new materials for woollen costumes are varied, ranging from the heaviest of the coverts and tweeds to the sheerest and silkiest of colleses, satillene, velveteens of a chiffon finish, and other like weaves, that every taste and design of gown can be suitably developed. In the satillene and unfinished woollens there are some charming checks and broken plaids of blotted and unobtrusive design that are really charming. The willow greens, medium browns, tans and the new blues shading on sapphire tones are really exquisite in these; and the silky softness of the material but adds to their attractions.

The covert coat must not be forgotten in the resumé of spring styles, for it fits in well with any wardrobe, no matter how large or how small. This year's woollen coverts are all of them very light in tone and follow the lines of the figure faithfully.

After Picturesque Modes.

That the voluminousness which prevails in other departments of dress should find expression in the dressier types of the tailor-made was but to be expected. All of the precision of the tailor-made is seen in the model of the picture, and yet quite an amount of dressiness is apparent as well. The material is one of the new made finished satillene in a soft shade of cinnamon brown, on which the black braidings show up to advantage. The coat is fashioned after the Louis models, the little rest effect being in velvet overlaid with white cloth motifs embroidered in gold. The basques are attached at the hip line, cut away in front and very full, indeed, in the back. The sleeve is a very full elbow puff running up in a braided box pleat to the collar. The skirt is laid in 15 gores, each with a turned under pleat, which is pressed flat and left unstitched from above the knee. A velvet facing and a double row of machine stitching make the required finish at the hem.

THE LESS SEVERE TYPE OF THE TAILORMADE

ATTRACTONS AT THE LYCEUM

"The Show Girl" Will Be Presented on Monday Night, and Daniel Sully Will Return in "Our Pastor" on Thursday.

B. C. Whitney's production of "The Show Girl," or "The Magic Cap," which will be at the Lyceum Monday, is a revival of R. A. Barnett's Boston Cadet extravaganza, transformed into a regular attraction by that veteran musical extravaganza producer, Edward E. Rice. It is described as "a jolly bit of timuleyery," in two acts. The book is by the author of those former great successes, such as "1492," "Excelsior, Jr.," "The Girl From Paris," "Little Christopher," etc. H. L. Hertz, co-author of "The Tenderfoot" and E. W. Corliss have contributed most of the music, the timeliness of which is largely responsible for the cordial reception accorded the piece in New York city, and the other large Eastern cities where it has been played.

The music is very tuneful with catchy melody turns and stimulating, though simply enough to be caught by the audience. Especially is this so of "Over the Plumber's Room," "Champagne and Terrapin," "In Zanzibar," "Come Down Mister Man in the Moon," the latest New York novelty and sung by Miss Hilda Thomas as a chorus of thirty pretty and stunning girls.

At the head of the company is Hilda Thomas, which includes Sam Mylie, Lou Hall, Estelle Bird, Sid Forester, Josephine Floyd, Bert Walworth, May Sweeney, Charles E. Parcor, Blanche Bertram, Louis Langford, Edna Glover, Thomas Shaw, La Scott, M. B. Streeter, Edna Sweeney, Herbert Mustard, Nellie Wilson, Raymond Apollo, Nellie Dowdell, the Belmont quartet, the Railway Sisters, the Danes Dandies, and thirty pretty singing and dancing girls. Twenty new musical numbers have been written for this production.

DANIEL SULLY

To Play Return Engagement Next Thursday.

Daniel Sully, whose fine play "Our Pastor," was presented by him at the Lyceum Tuesday evening and made a strong impression, will play a return engagement at the same theater appearing Thursday evening. Those who saw the performances this week will prove the best advertisers Mr. Sully can have. For those who did not, it may be said that the piece is a comedy drama in three acts. Mr. Sully appears as Father Dally, the pastor of a little church in an Idaho frontier town, where his efforts to adjust the affairs of his parishioners and their neighbors lead him into many difficulties, some personal danger and several awkward situations. However, his quick wit, unfailing humor and an abundance of that typical American quality known in the West as "sass," carry him safely through all his troubles and he succeeds in settling matters to the satisfaction of everybody concerned.

FEBRUARY ATTRACTIONS. The attractions that are to play at the Lyceum during the present month are of more than ordinary interest. William A. Brady's production of "Girls Will Be Girls" will be here Feb. 20.

"The Virginian," with Dustin Farnum in the leading role, and Frank Adams as Trampas, will play Feb. 21 and 22.

Edna Wallace Hopper in "A Country Mouse" will be here Feb. 25.

Closing the month will be George Ade's comedy "The County Chairman."

Great Testimonial To Be Tendered To Joseph Holland—Disruption of the Weber-Ziegfeld Combination Said To Be Due To Anna Held.

New York, Feb. 11.—What will probably be the latest testimonial ever tendered an American actor will be given some afternoon in March at the Metropolitan Opera house in aid of Joseph Holland, a player of repute, and whose popularity is unimpaired. Mr. Holland is suffering from an illness which makes it impossible for him to appear on the stage, and he is being nursed in his home by his wife, who is also suffering from the same ailment. The testimonial is being given by the managers of the Metropolitan Opera house, who have been very kind to him during his illness. THE BILL AT THE METROPOLITAN

"The Lighthouse By the Sea" to Be Given Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Comments upon the scenic equipment of "The Lighthouse by the Sea," which comes to the Metropolitan Feb. 16, 17, 18, including a matinee Saturday, have been most enthusiastic, and it would seem that the acme of stage realism has been reached in the marvelous electric storm which takes place in the third act. The curtain rises upon a scene of great beauty; the full moon slowly lifting itself from the shimmering waters of the broad Atlantic as it lazily beats upon the rocks of the light house which towers high in the air. Soft, fleecy clouds that lazily by on a gentle breeze, which gradually freshens, and the waters grow restless as thick, heavy clouds gradually obscure the moon. The heavy boom of the surf as it rolls and breaks upon the shore is now mingling with the howling of the wind, and lends weirdness to the dastardly work of the villains, who, with the screaming wind and the boom of the surf, the audience is moved to a high pitch of excitement, and as she crashes her torch through the window of the great light, and it flashes forth a path of safety for the steamer almost upon the rocks, pent up enthusiasm is relieved by a whirlwind of applause.

FOR THREE WEEKS.

Metropolitan Will Present Vaudeville to Its Patrons.

Three weeks of vaudeville is what Manager Gordon will offer the patrons of the Metropolitan and the people of Duluth, beginning Monday, Feb. 20. Since putting on the previous show, which ran one week, Manager Gordon has received many inquiries as to when he would again offer similar entertainment, and so general seem to be the after a terrific fight with Calhoun Gale, the blind lighthousekeeper, he found him insensibility, extinguish the light, destroy the stairs and abduct Flora, his grand-daughter. The steamer which the villains hope to destroy is now seen heading toward the jagged rocks at the mercy of the waves, which rise mountain high and break over her. Realizing the utter helplessness of the situation, Mitty snatches a torch from the hands of a life saver, dashes up the rocks, and as she steps upon the clothes line leading to the great light, the storm bursts forth in all its fury, and all this while the original storm, the angry clouds, torn by broad and vivid flashes of lightning, is seen moving toward the light, her body swaying with the blast of the tempest, the roar of heaven's artillery, mingled unity for the delicate characterization in this line of work.

When Hattie Williams goes starring next season she will be seen in the role of a musical comedy fashioned on "The Girl from Paris," which was a laughing success years ago. It is also likely that the principal support will be given by Edwin Fox, who will play the role of the "bait" in the cause of the principal roles are excellently suited to Miss Williams and Edwin Fox, and the prospects for this combination look pretty good in advance.

When they told Lillian Russell that her daughter Dorothy had filed suit in Chicago for a divorce from her young husband, with whom she eloped about a year ago, she smiled at the report, and reported to have smiled that good humored smile born of much experience and the knowledge that the old case of like matter, like child.

Lee Harrison, who has been "at liberty" since the closing of the Liberty theater in New York, has accepted a monologue written for him by George M. Cohen, and will plunge into vaudeville with the act this week.

Miss Margaret Wycherly, who was booked last week to introduce the Yeats Irish dramas to New Yorkers, has been compelled to temporarily at least abandon that project. Miss Wycherly is suffering from congestion of the lungs, and has been ordered South as soon as her health will permit her to move.

Laura Burt has secured the dramatic rights to the novel, "John of Strathmore," which is being adapted by her husband, Harry Sanford. Miss Burt intends to produce this play most likely next season.

George Edwards, the London musical comedy magnate, after a fortnight in this country, is being launched in America. Commenting on theatrical conditions as he found them, he saw in America. Commenting on theatrical conditions as he found them, he saw in America.

There are too many theaters in New York, and how it is possible to obtain good attractions for them all is a mystery to me. New showhouses are entering the field here now with about the same rush as characterized the building of hotels a short time ago.

The great number of playhouses now struggling for public favor, can stand only one thing—a theater crash, in which a number of the music boxes will be closed. But this does not alter my belief that New York is the greatest theater city in the world. It stands alone as an amusement center, with its many beautiful theaters and their magnificent shows. The best American actor I think have made familiar for the last ten years.

E. S. Willard met with a dire failure in his production of "The Lucky Dorian," and that play by the late Wilson Barrett is to be laid aside for the revival of "The Brighter Side." This is the charming adaptation from the French of Alfred Capus, which Mr. Willard introduced to this city under the title of "The Optimist," some time back. The change in title was due to a claim made by Sydney Rosenfeld that he has a play and the title of "The Optimist." Mr. Willard has also made important changes in his company, and will strengthen it materially before starting his tour in the new play.

Jefferson DeAngeli will be the first of the American stars to appear in the new Waldorf theater in London when that house is opened in the spring. He will remain in Gotham with "Fantasia" until time to sail for London with his entire company and production. The Waldorf is to be devoted entirely to American musical comedies and productions, and Mr. DeAngeli will be the first of the stars to go to the DeWolf Hopper, Alva Rebas and others will follow as the occasion warrants.

Play Templeton, who was engaged to play Lady Holyrod in "Enchanted," to not appear in the revival of that piece, after all. Miss Templeton is suffering from a severe cold, and has been advised to seek rest until her managers, Klaw and Erlanger, have their new production ready for rehearsal. Messrs. Fisher and Tisley are now looking for a new successor of Edna Wallace Hopper.

John Drew, in the course of some reminiscences of the late Mrs. Gilbert and her play "The Girl from Paris," told an interesting anecdote of Augustus Daly to illustrate his strong instinct for rehearsal. In the case of "The Girl from Paris," Mr. Daly's aggressive punctuality, and after the date for production had been set, he and other dates were mentioned disappointingly. Mr. Daly wrote his own dramatization—the play was produced in America, in which the world theater Daly's strong instinct for rehearsal. Mr. Daly wrote his own dramatization—the play was produced in America, in which the world theater Daly's strong instinct for rehearsal.

And here lies the point which proved the superiority of Mr. Daly's judgment. When his version was compared with Willard's, it was found that the novelist had completely overlooked the startling possibilities of this character. Mr. DeWolf Hopper did not appear in his play.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell is reported to have recovered from her recent illness and it is announced that she will soon return to New York and begin rehearsals in other parts than the "Conceit." "The Girl from Paris" is expected to come to New York, where it is played for four weeks to poor business. Other cities didn't take kindly to Mrs. Pat's new piece. Maybe that had something to do with her illness.

Friz Schell was unable to slug at a recent performance of "Edna" at the Broadway theater. Money was refunded to the audience, and he was sent home. When "Babette" was presented in Kansas City a year ago, Friz Schell was out of the cast—she was in St. Louis. She was booked for two weeks. The first week she was sick, and the second week she was out of the cast. It is a wonder her manager didn't let her go. It is that has to refund the money.

George Ade will write a new play for production by Henry W. Savage. Just before he sailed for Porto Rico, Jan. 11, he signed a contract, agreeing to write a play to be called "The Second Time Around." This means that Mr. Ade will continue to write plays for Mr. Savage, who has had "The Second Time Around" in mind for a long time. Mr. Ade, before sailing, "It will be a comedy of ten plays, so-called musical comedies, and the youth in order to get a possession of his father's fortune, has the old man in mind for a long time. Mr. Ade, before sailing, "It will be a comedy of ten plays, so-called musical comedies, and the youth in order to get a possession of his father's fortune, has the old man in mind for a long time.

In his new play, "The Way to Kenmare," Andrew Mack impersonates a young Irish-American, the first act of the play being laid in this country. Dan Mack, who is a native of Ireland, but a mere boy was taken to America. His mother's good name is in question and the lad goes back to Ireland to defend the heritage of his mother and to fight for his rights in property in the Emerald Isle. Of course he conquers his enemies, carries off the pretty girl, and is a bluish hero from rise of curtain to its fall. The comedy, which is by R. E. Rose, shows four scenes—home in America, the exterior of an Irish inn, the ruins of an old Irish church, and a hall in Castle Kenmare, Ireland.

Lizzie Hudson Collier, the new leading woman with Orla Sullivan in "The Harvester," could not well help adopting the stage as a profession, having been brought up in a theatrical atmosphere from her infancy. Her mother was a well known amateur actress in "Old Greenwich Village" in New York City in the old days, and her mother, James Collier, who played with Edwin Booth before some of us were born.

The latest threat from the David Belasco camp is to the effect that he intends to secure theaters in Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago and St. Louis.

Madge Carr Cook, the star of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," and Eleanor Robson in "The Woman in the Case," are competing attractions in Boston this week. Rather interesting when you know that Madge Carr Cook is the proud mother of Miss Robson.

Amelia Bingham is putting on "The Climbers," "The Frigate Mrs. Johnson" and other plays of her repertoire in Pittsburgh, where she is the leading lady in a reorganized stock company. The name of the production and it will be musical, not daffy.

Frank L. Perley, it is said, is negotiating for the lease of the Cleveland theater in Chicago. The Cleveland was closed by the authorities after the ironing fire, and Mr. Perley expects to have it open and spend several thousand dollars in improvements to meet the city's stringent fire regulations in regard to theater construction.

George Ade's new comedy, "The College Widow," is nearing its first performance at the Garden theater in New York. The piece will run there the entire season.

Don't underestimate the importance of articles in these musical productions and directs the performance. Eva Tanguay's musical director missed the train at Nashville and his inability to get to Loganport, Ind., that night caused the canceling of the company's engagement in that city. No musical director, no show.

When Orla Skinner goes from his hotel to the theater he puts his room key in his pocket and keeps it there until he returns. This is the way he brought it about. Once on a time a gentlemanly burglar saw Mr. Skinner throw his key down on the hotel counter and then start for the theater. Mr. Skinner was occupying room No. 412. When the burglar went up to the key clerk and asked for 412. Naturally, the clerk handed over the key. He was busy, and he wasn't paying any particular attention to room No. 412. When Mr. Skinner returned after his performance at the theater he asked for his room key. It was gone. He went upstairs and found the door open and the room in a state of disorder. Incidentally, he missed a $10 overcoat, a suit of clothes valued at $20, and a number of other articles of lesser value. Mr. Skinner had packed his booty in two of Mr. Skinner's suit cases and had gone out of the hotel unnoticed. Mr. Skinner has been taking his hotel key with him.

Walter Jones, who last season figured in a slow comedy called "The King" (the comedy went to sleep finally), is one of the principals in Frank Perley's production of "The Girl and the Band."

In the days when Tim Murphy was enjoying fame as a star in "A Texas Steer," Charley Hoyt, who is currently once asked him why he didn't use his full name. Tim blushed and said, "I don't want to be called Tim Murphy."

"Why don't you spell the name out?" said Murphy. "They borrowed the rest of it to give you a last name."

While New York has been experiencing one of the dullest theatrical seasons in its history, the theaters in Philadelphia and Boston have been playing to capacity. James K. Hackett in "The Forayers of a Bull," and "The Second Fiddle" are two notable successes now running in Boston. Both were fairly successful in the metropolis.

Three old stage veterans occupied the boards in Portland, Or., last week. One was J. H. Stoddard, another was Joe Murphy, and the third was Edwin Booth. The "Kerry Gow" with financial success, and the third was Charles B. Sanford, who played with Edwin Booth before some of us were born.

NEW YORK THEATERS

A Week of Serious Drama With Fitch's "The Woman in the Case," Sudermann's "Honor," Berton and Gyp's "Friquet" and De Mille's "Strongheart." 28 28 28 28

New York, Feb. 11.—Let it be understood at the start that Clyde Fitch's play achieved a success—the word triumph would not put it too strong—and it is in that fact that "The Woman in the Case" presented a peculiarly interesting theatrical case. In the audience that watched Blanche Walsh battle for Broadway recognition in this drama was Clara Bloodgood, Elsie de Wolfe, and Mary Manning, former Fitch stars who comedies that play. But Mr. Fitch did not lose sense of human nature and all the other qualities that make literature of a play. In no instance was the play property in the case that it seemed well nigh impossible that the same mind had created them and this, "The Girl With the Green Eyes." "The Way of the World" and "The Girl With the Green Eyes" brought good rewards in money to Mrs. Bloodgood, Miss de Wolfe and Miss Manning. It is in just proportion to the conceded excellence of the play. But Mr. Fitch did not stand absolutely alone among American dramatists (as many critics sincerely believe he does), has at least made for himself a position shoulder to shoulder with the best, and yet, though he is a rich man, he has seen inferior playwrights risk more money because they paraded to this popular taste. It must have been in a moment of disquiet at this fact, or perhaps quite amiable recognition of it, that he wrote "The Woman in the Case." The play is a masterpiece in its ever-moving narrative paused neither for common sense nor characterization, and in the broadest and most conventional sense. The hero, who had all the unimpeachable earmarks of a hero, was accused of having murdered his best friend, and the heroine, who was just as positive in her own mind, was accused of having murdered her best friend. OPENING GAME EXPERT AS BOXER

Fast Basket Ball Match
at Armory Monday Night.

Duluth and Superior
Teams Will Play a Return Game.

The first regular basket ball game of the season to be played in Duluth, will be pulled off Monday evening at the armory between Company I of Superior and the team from the first division of the naval reserves.

The game will be of interest owing to the excellent game which was played in Superior last week between the two teams. It was probably the closest match ever played at the Head of the Lakes, the score being 17 to 16 in favor of Company I at half time, and 34 to 24 at the end of the second half. On the play-off Company I scored first on a foul throw, and Congdon won the game for Duluth by throwing a basket from the field, which left the score 32 to 3 in favor of the Duluth men. Company I is looking for revenge, and will endeavor to turn the tables Monday evening.

The naval reserves have a fast team, numbering among the players three of the old Zenith Athletic team, Peterson, Smith and Deighton. Deighton and Smith have played together for seven years, having played six years on the Y. M. C. A. team, and they know each other's game perfectly. Congdon, Wilkins and Skelton have all had experience on Y. M. C. A. teams, and with the others make up what is probably the fastest basket ball team that ever represented Duluth.

Company I has several old normal school stars on its team, including Connolly, Moran and Clements, and several former members of the Nelson Dewey high school teams.

Duluth's players have been practicing steadily on the Y. M. C. A. floor and also in the armory, and they are in the best of condition for the game Monday night. If they are again successful they will probably arrange for a game with one of the teams from the Minnesota National Guard in the Twin Cities.

The teams will line-up as follows:

ally-known that McCaffrey was the first paid referee in America, but such is the case. He was the first official referee at the St. Nicholas Athletic club, and refereed all the championship contests brought off at that famous clubhouse.

After retiring as a boxer, McCaffrey was matchmaker, physical director and official referee of the Manhattan Athletic club, New York, the swiftest organization of its kind in America several years ago.

FIGURE SKATERS

Will Hold Contests For Annual Championship.

New York, Feb. 11.—Details of the annual national championship figure skating competition of the Amateur Skating Association of the United States have been announced. It was decided to hold the event on Feb. 24 at the St. Nicholas rink. Seventeen sections were selected to make up the program. The sections contain everything that is known to figure skaters. The competition is open to amateur figure skaters of the world.

Judges selected by the committee for competition are Louis Rubenstein, Montreal, Canada, who won the world's championship for figure skating at St. Petersburg, Russia, in 1902, Frank P. Good, of Brooklyn, winner of the American figure skating championship in 1926 and James B. Story, of Manhattan, American figure skating champion in 1929.

An international favor is given to the coming competition by reason of the fact that Ulrich Salchow, of Stockholm, Sweden, winner of the world's figure skating championship in Davos, Switzerland, in 1929-30 will compete.

LOSS OF BOSTON'S

Infield Stars a Heartbreaker to First Baseman.

Fred Tenney has had to take all kinds of throwing over since he lost the sweet companionship of Lowe, Long and Collins. It would have been tough enough to lose any one of these artists, but to lose the three was certainly heart-breaking.

Lowe's loss was deeply felt by Tenney, and it showed that one veteran is worth a lot of colts as a general rule. These veterans can do far better work on the field so familiar to them than they can elsewhere. Long utility failed after he left Boston, while there is no doubt at all he could have worked with satisfaction had he remained in Boston.

So it was with Tenney, who is not to be with Detroit next season, according to the latest news from that quarter of the country.

Long quit the team when he could have stayed, but Lowe was allowed to go. Of course, Collins made good. A younger man, he was able to stand the change where the others could not, and, like Tenney, he has been a decade in Boston.

Hamilton was another player cast aside, and it proved a decided mistake, for no improvement has been made on him; in fact, no player has been played in the outfield since his departure who was in class or near it. Still he is outside of the major league.

TINY JOCKEY

Winning Honors at Ascot Park, Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 11.—The new star among the jockeys' firmament is R. "Pud" Dan, a little fellow who can ride at less than twenty pounds. He sprang to the front as a race track pilot of horses this winter, and all of his successes have been achieved over at Ascot Park, the course situated at Los Angeles.

During the month of January he won twenty-nine races, and second sixteen times, and third twenty-one. He is a little fellow, but he is a real winner. He is a little fellow, but he is a real winner. He is a little fellow, but he is a real winner.

KING KELLY

Squared Fine By Shaking Dice With the Umpire.

"Mike" Kelly, some times known as "King" Kelly and the "Big" Kelly, now dead, furnished material for more baseball games than any other player that ever gained repute in the national game.

Minor bases, of Cleveland, relates a narrative of days long ago, which is an excellent illustration of Kelly's versatility.

"I was in the old Weddell House one summer night in the '30s talking to Umpire Gaffney, when the swing doors were open and about half of the players on the Chicago team—King Kelly in the lead—marched in. The game between Cleveland and Chicago that day had been a stormy one, and Gaffney had assessed fines right and left.

"Kelly had been the chief offender. Drawing at first a $5 penalty for disputing a decision, he had called Gaffney names at $5 or $10 a name until he owed the National League $50. Kelly had left the ball park vowing he would attend to Gaffney later. I expected trouble when Kelly came in, for it wasn't his first visit to that part of the hotel that night.

"Hello, Gaff," Mike shouted, as he stepped the umpire. "Have a drink—and your handsome man." "One throw," "Much obliged, Kel," said Gaffney. "I'm not drinking today."

"Say, Gaff," Kelly went on, "how much did you soak me today?" "An even $50," replied Gaffney, very quietly.

"Reported it to the boss yet?" "Not yet," was the reply.

"Tell you what I'll do," said Kelly, grabbing up the dice box. "I'll shake you to see whether it's $100 or nothing."

"Gaffney started to walk away. "Come on, Gaff," he came, the other players called.

"So he came back. "Horses," asked Gaffney. "None," Kelly. "One throw."

"Gaffney spilled out aces and fours. Kelly turned the box topside up and, lifting it again, disclosed three aces.

"All right," said Gaffney, "the fine don't go."

"Come on there, fellows," shouted Kelly, starting for the door; "let's go and spend that $50."

YOST WILL PLAY

Michigan and Minnesota May Come Together This Year.

Basket Ball Team Goes East—Gossip of the U.

According to the present outlook it seems very probable that Minnesota will meet Michigan on the gridiron next fall.

Coach Yost and Manager Baird are credited with having made statements to the effect that the Wolverines are now ready to forgive the Gophers and give them a place on their schedule for the coming fall.

Out of the thirteen men that earned football "M's" at Michigan last year, eleven are expected to be back, while a much smaller proportion of veterans will be seen in Minnesota's line-up. In view of this fact and also in view of the fact that Michigan's treasury needs replenishing, it is reported that the Wolverine management is favorable to a game with Minnesota.

The Minnesota Daily has the following to say in regard to the proposed game: "Could anything show any plainer what has been Michigan's real reason for refusing to play Minnesota heretofore? And yet even such a large proportion of her old men coming back, concurring as it does with a much smaller percentage of returning veterans, the fact that the Wolverine management is favorable to a game with Michigan is a strong indication that the Wolverine management is favorable to a game with Michigan."

"But, notwithstanding these facts, and that Yost is confident that the best prospects ever on record at Ann Arbor are in the horizon for next year, Minnesota is just as untrusting as ever, and though our own prospects are far from rose, we are willing to give Michigan a game, and thus have the Western championship settled once for all on the gridiron instead of being prolonged into a three months' battle of attrition."

"Perhaps we are not true sportsmen, according to the Ann Arbor idea. At least we are not sportsmen in the sense of the 'fun' there is in it. On the contrary, they go into such a game with a heart-felt resolve to do or to die. But at least they never hold 'dirty work' against a player who has done his duty strenuously of a hard game, and never yet have they refused to play with a foe because they were dangerous."

"If Minnesota plays Michigan this year, as seems probable, and gets a victory, she will have a word to say. If the opposite result occurs, we hope that Michigan will exercise equal self-restraint."

Wisconsin will play Minnesota on Northrup field, Nov. 4. The schedule requires that the game be played in Madison, but owing to financial reasons this arrangement has been changed. Wisconsin's colors are already and the athletic board of control therefore decided to transfer the game to Minneapolis. Among the other big teams which Minnesota will meet next fall are Iowa and Northwestern. These three, with Michigan a likely possibility, will give the Gophers a heavy schedule.

Wednesday night the Varsity basketball team will leave on its Eastern trip, which will be the most extensive ever taken by a Minnesota team. Eleven games will be played, and some of the largest Eastern schools will be met, among them Columbia and Chicago.

The personnel of the squad is made up of Hugh Leach, Tuck Kiefer, Farco, Helon, Leach, McKee and Brown. The schedule is as follows:

Feb. 11—Washington Continentals, Schenectady, N. Y.
Feb. 12—Columbia University, at New York.
Feb. 13—Company E, Schenectady, N. Y.
Feb. 14—Dartmouth College, Dartmouth, N. H.
Feb. 15—Williams College, Williamsburg, Mass.
Feb. 16—Ohio State University, Columbus.
Feb. 21—Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

et, Ind. Feb. 22—Chicago University, Chicago.

Fans at the university have been in considerable doubt lately as to whether or not they were going to have a basketball team this season.

Certain members of the athletic board have said that the season was too short in Minnesota and that they were not in favor of a team that could look for nothing but defeat year after year at the hands of colleges, where it was possible to get three or four months each year more than Minnesota could possibly get.

At the meeting of the board last Monday night, however, it was decided that Minnesota should be represented by a nine this spring, provided Manager Reed could arrange a schedule which would suit the board of control and warrant the support of a team. The time in which to arrange such a schedule is exceedingly short, but both this and a good team are likely possibilities.

Ed. Rogers will not coach the Carlisle Indians this coming year. Although the students and members of the team are very much satisfied with Minnesota's famous captain and coach, the athletic board of the school was unable to come to an agreement with Rogers over the salary.

What Rogers will do now is not known. His reputation as a football coach is so firmly established all over the country that he has already received offers from several universities to take charge of their teams next fall. He will probably come West.

PUMP-HANDLE PUNCH.

Claim That New Blow Is Wonder Worker.

Enter the pump-handle punch! George Gunther, the dusky Australian, known as "the Melbourne Kangaroo," is the man who has discovered the new blow.

Unlike Kid McCoy's corker, or Bob Fitzsimmons' solar plexus, the point of contact of the pump-handle blow is the most vulnerable part of the man's scrapping anatomy—the jaw.

When the pump-handle lands it's only two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine—out.

The victim of the blow immediately enters the Elysian fields, and he usually doesn't wake up until the next morning.

What is the pump-handle punch like? Did you ever see a man in a wooden pump handle and try to entice the cooling beverage from its carbonated retreat? Do you remember that when you tried to handle it, it flew up and very likely hit you in the jaw? That's the origin of the pump-handle punch.

Just like Newton when he watched the apple fall and discovered the law of gravitation, the Kangaroo, when he was tending his flocks in the bush, studied the principle of the fly-back to the old wooden rod.

The pump-handle punch is delivered with the left hand. Only skillful, ambitious, dexterous fighters can use it at all. The pump-handle is a fly-back from a blow and the plan has been by the ear. Just the instant that the opponent believes that the right is unharmed, the left hand comes down and the pump-handle reaches the spot, says the New York Telegraph.

The pump-handle is delivered in a moment after a feint, when a boxer is apparently off his balance so he cannot hit back. The opponent is whizzed by his guard to protect the other parts of his body, believing the lightning cannot strike twice in the same place before the recovery.

By studying the principle of the fly-back to the pump handle the Kangaroo is on the high road to pugilistic fame.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN CHALLENGES CORBETT.

St. Louis, Feb. 11.—After an absence of more than twelve years from the ring, John L. Sullivan last night publicly challenged J. J. Corbett to a return match. Sullivan declared his sincerity.

"I am on the level," he said, "I can lick Corbett and all I ask is another chance. I am not all in. Eight months to train in is all I ask. I am willing to fight, winner take all."

In reply to the challenge Corbett returned from Cincinnati late last night.

"My answer to Sullivan's challenge is as follows: I wish he had the health and youth to be able to fight me or anybody else. That's all the bad luck I wish the poor old fellow."

DULUTH RINK WINS AND LOSES GAMES.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 11.—The Duluth rink won and lost their games at the bonspiel yesterday. Hurdon won the challenge, 9 to 8, from Andrew of Morden and was defeated, 12 to 12, by the American Abell trophy by Tinkley of Russell. Last night's match, Winnipeg against the Duluth rink, was an easy victory for the Winnipeg.

George Tebeau, by his tactics in running the affairs in the American association, has earned the title of "George Tebeau" shapes the policy of the organization on every question, and usually succeeds in accomplishing what he sets out to do. He owns the Louisville and Kansas City franchises in that league, and is the author of the well-known minor league measure favoring the increases in the drafting price, which scheme the American league vetoed at the recent meeting of the national baseball commission at Cincinnati.

SPORTING Gossip

News of the Week In the Athletic World.

Summary of Baseball, Basketball, Skating and Rowing Events.

The revival of basketball in Duluth is pleasant news to the admirers of the game.

The members of the First division of the naval reserves have put a strong team in the field, probably the strongest that ever represented Duluth. Monday evening the team will play Superior a return game, and the chances are good for another victory. If successful, it is to be hoped that the team will be able to get a game with one of the Twin City organizations, preferably the University team if it could be induced to come to Duluth for a game on its return from the Eastern trip.

Basketball was formerly a very popular sport in the city, but it has languished for two years, and its revival is a timely one.

No trouble or expense will be spared by the boat club members this year to get a winning crew. The sum of $150 will be spent on new racing equipment, putting the club on a first-class basis in this respect, and every member who knows anything of rowing or who believes he can learn, will be urged to turn out and try for the crew.

The victory of Duluth, the speedy young Duluth skater in the race for the championship of Duluth held Wednesday night, was well won. The skater was a full mile, and it is the case of the time, and it is the case of the time, and it is the case of the time.

Baseball prospects for 1935 are beginning to look bright. St. Cloud is taking up the project with an energy that promises to accomplish good results. A stock company is being organized, and the stock subscribed among the merchants to a sufficient amount to place the team on a good financial basis. The new club will send a representative to the meeting to be held at Duluth, Minn., to make arrangements for the entrance to the league.

Crookston is planning to reorganize its club, appoint a new board of directors, and send a representative to the meeting to be held at Duluth, Minn., to make arrangements for the entrance to the league.

ONE OF THE BEST KNOWN HORSEMEN IN AMERICA

THOMAS C. McDOWELL.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 11.—Thomas C. McDowell, connected with the new racing circuit, is a self-made man.

His father, Col. Henry Clay McDowell, the noted trotting horse breeder, for many years president of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' association, was a man of means and gave him every advantage.

Young McDowell made the most of his opportunities and early began to look out for himself and to be independent. He took a fancy to thoroughbred horses, although on the farm the famous Ashland, where Henry Clay located the foundation stock of some of the great racing families his father had been able to come to the fore.

FIGHT IT OUT

Crookston and Fergus Falls Both Want League Franchises.

Manager Van Praagh Has Signed Three New Players.

Crookston and Fergus Falls will have to fight out the question of which city will be the eighth club in the Northern league. The other seven cities have been selected by the circuit committee and it is now practically certain that they will have teams next summer, but the eighth club is yet to be chosen and the choice lies between these two cities.

The circuit as constituted at present includes Duluth, Winnipeg, Fargo, Grand Forks, St. Cloud, Brainerd, Breckinridge and Wahpeton. The last two cities are represented by one club.

St. Cloud has already organized its club and has commenced signing players for next year.

Edward Hazen, the vice-president of the league will leave tonight for Brainerd and will meet President Laxdal there to consult the business men of the city in regard to the Brainerd club. The city is assured of a club next year and the trip is to complete the arrangements, and raise the necessary funds to start the team on a proper basis. St. Cloud has already formed a stock company and the greater part of the funds are raised.

The next proposition will be to complete the arrangements in Wahpeton and Breckinridge and to decide between the Crookston and Fergus Falls claims. The latter city is thought to be preferable and if the arrangements are satisfactory it will probably be selected.

The Duluth club will be represented by a new team next summer if the circuit of Manager Van Praagh will do the work. Three new players have been signed during the last week and the Duluth manager has strings out for half a dozen more.

The Duluth club has three left-handed pitchers. Nordin of last year's team will be back and two new ones have been signed. They are Dennis Coyle of Akron, Ohio, and John Heinke of Boyd, Minn. The latter is a school teacher in Boyd. He played with Wisconsin university and with the Appleton, Wis., team. Coyle played with independent teams in Ohio and is said to be a fast man.

The other man signed this week was Ed Milten, an infielder from Chicago. Milten played for two years in the majors last year he had a fielding average of .95 and a batting average of .30. He can run 100 yards in 14 seconds and stole thirty-two bases last season.

Wilkes will also be available for the team and Manager Van Praagh expects the two new players to be ready for the outfielders during the coming week.

VALENTINE DAY PARTY

St. Valentine's Postman

By WALDON FAWCETT.

A prosaic world is wont to declare that the observance of Valentine's Day is suffering rapid decadence, but as a matter of fact, it is merely that the form of celebration of St. Valentine's festival is undergoing a change. The old-fashioned plan of exchanging sentimental greetings on this special holiday for lovers is, perhaps, passing in so far as grownups are concerned, but only to be supplanted by a new source of merriment, not unlinked with sentiment, namely, the Valentine Day party. Assuredly there is no other occasion during the year that lends itself so readily to the quaint conceits of the hostess ambitious to entertain in a novel way.

The fancy dress costume party is pre-eminently the favorite on Valentine's Day, or, perhaps it might better be said, that St. Valentine's Day is the favorite occasion for these assemblages of fantastic attire. The Valentine fancy dress function may be a card party or a more or less pretentious masked ball, or mayhap, as is usually the case, just a simple house party, which is, after all, the ideal way of entertaining on this carnival date. As an innovation we have even had of late years the Valentine tea, when the hostess pours the social beverage for her guests at a table liberally adorned with hearts and other significant decorations; but since in this work-a-day world few men can spare even the last fraction of an afternoon, there is at such events a consequent dearth of the sterner sex, without whom no valentine affair could be a complete success.

The popularity of Valentine's Day as an occasion for fancy dress frolics is doubtless due in great measure to the wide range of appropriate costumes suggested by the occasion itself. The guests are sometimes invited to come as "characters of romance," or to personate the famous lovers and sweethearts of history, such as John Albin and Priscilla, Evangeline and Gabriel, Romeo and Juliet, etc. More frequently, however, the costuming is left wholly to the ingenuity of the wearers, and thus we may find among the fair guests cupids, queens of hearts, "modern St. Valentines" in the guise of postgirls and other portrayals equally suggestive of tender sentiment.

The decorations for a valentine party are obviously an important consideration. Rose color and white should be the predominating hues, and even the lamps and gas jets should be equipped with shades of pink crepe paper or silk in order that they may induce a subdued illumination and be fitting to a sentimental occasion. Although not universally known, mistletoe is almost as appropriate an adjunct on Valentine's Day as it is on Christmas. Preferably it should be placed on a chandelier or in a doorway in such manner that it will not be readily noticed save by sharp eyes. Often the mistletoe is intertwined with a bow and arrow or a little plastic cupid, and the party afford an excellent opportunity for the exercise of ingenuity. In many instances the cards of invitation are adorned with water color representations of hearts or Cupid's bow and arrow and some valentine hostesses have sent through the mails to their prospective guests heart-shaped pieces of cardboard with the invitation penned on the face of each. The present day fad for the souvenir postal card has also provided another medium for summoning St. Valentine's subjects.

To provide the happiest and most ingenious plans for entertaining her guests is, of course, the chief ambition of every valentine hostess. The true traditional ceremony of St. Valentine's Day was the drawing of a sort of lottery, followed by ceremonies not unlike what is generally called the game of forfeits, and some modification of this old English pastime is a feature of many present day valentine gatherings.

The origin of the time-honored Valentine's Day games is veiled in obscurity. It is certain that St. Valentine, who was a martyred Roman priest of the third century, had nothing to do with the matter, yet in old Rome on Valentine's Day the names of the young women were placed in a box, from which they were drawn by the men as chance directed. Another observance that has been handed down from time immemorial and is religiously followed by many twentieth century American girls is that of ascertaining fate's decree from will waters. Each young lady writes on bits of paper the names of all the young men of her acquaintance and after all the slips of paper have been rolled in clay they are simultaneously dropped into a tub or tank of water and the first name to rise to the surface is, according to this mysterious verdict, declared to be the lady's valentine.

Birds are supposed to choose their mates on St. Valentine's Day and ghosts are thought to walk of the night of this day, which latter belief serves as the foundation for introduction of many weird games in which graceful figures wrapped in sheets are supposed to learn, by aid of magic art, the true sentiments of the awed and mystified masculine guests. Sometimes each arriving guest at a valentine party is met with the salutation "Good morning Valentine." If the person so addressed can repeat this salutation ere the welcome has finished speaking he must be rewarded by a small present.

A heart contest, after the fashion of a donkey party, is a popular Valentine's Day diversion. A large heart is cut out of turkey-red calico and sewed on a sheet. In the center of the heart is fastened a small arrow, cut from white calico or other cloth. Each guest is provided with a cardboard arrow with a pin in it. As each one takes his turn he is blindfolded, turned around several times, in order that he may be confused as to locations, and then left to put his arrow in the white heart if he can. He must pin his arrow at the point where he first touches the sheet and is not allowed to feel his way to the goal. After all the guests have tried their skill, a prize is awarded to the one whose arrow is nearest the center of the white heart, while a consolation prize is bestowed upon the poorest marksman.

Target shooting may be made a most enjoyable feature of a Valentine amusement program if the Valentine party is held at a residence where there is a long hall, an attic or other apartment of sufficient size for such archery practice. The targets for this sport are very similar to ordinary targets, save that instead of circles there are hearts, each of a different color, and placed one within another, with gradual reductions in size as the center of the target is approached. The bows and arrows are tied with bits of ribbons of corresponding colors. The young women choose the arrows and the young men select the bows. Partners for the shooting-match are those whose colors are in accord.

The person in charge of this Valentine archery has couplets for each color, which are read on each trial of skill, the couplet to be read being determined, of course, by the color of the section of the target to which an arrow has sped.

These couplets include the following:

"If your arrow hits the white,
Watch! Your lover comes tonight."
"If your arrow hits the blue,
The one you love will prove true."
"Wealth and pleasure and yellow gold,
But no true love does this heart hold."
"If your arrow hits the red,
You, I fear, will never wed."
"If your arrow hits the black, Something good your love doth lack."

At the conclusion of the contest prizes are distributed to the winners and losers. Heart-shaped boxes of bonbons, heart-shaped match safes and tiny baskets of the familiar candy hearts inscribed with couplets are among the approved forms of reward.

Partners for refreshments may be apportioned by the distribution of pieces of pasteboard hearts, each of different size and shape; the pairing off of the guests being in accordance with the matching or mending of the shattered hearts. Or, if preferred, each guest may be given half a heart and left to discover the identity of the partner fate has assigned him by finding the other half of the quotation written upon his half heart, and which was, of course, penned complete upon the whole heart ere it was severed.

For refreshments are served sandwiches cut heart-shaped, angel food cake, cookies baked in heart-shaped tins and other appropriate delicacies. Presumably there is a fancy cake with pink and white frosting which is announced to contain a ring. Each guest is allowed to cut his or her own slice from this cake and the finder of the ring, it is prophesied, will be the first to be married. Music is almost invariably a feature of the valentine party and usually the choice falls on love songs such as "Because I Love You So," "Annie Laurie," "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "Coming Through the Rye."

A lately invented pastime for valentine evening is a "heart hunt." For this quest 200 or 300 tiny hearts are hidden in all parts of the rooms where the hunt is to be held, some of the hearts being broken and the parts concealed in different places. The hunt continues for a specified length of time and at the expiration of this interval prizes are awarded to the guests who have captured the greatest number of the elusive emblems of the day. Card parties on St. Valentine's night are usually announced by invitations which proclaim that "Hearts will be trumps," and the guests may be met at the door by a postman who presents to each arrival an envelope which is found to contain a heart-shaped program—white for the women and red for the men. For the benefit of persons arrange-ing valentine parties there may be appended the supposed significance of several of the emblems extensively used on such occasions: An arrow, a wounded heart; a dove, a neck spouse; Cupid, too many lovers; hymeneal torch, thrice married; altar, you will wed your choice; pierced hearts, a broken engagement; and clasped hands, you will wed this year.

WALDON FAWCETT.

The Point Where

Love Should Halt.

There are few of us who do not admire and applaud the girl who is constant and true—no matter what the circumstances may be—to the man who wins her heart's affections. We delight to read the stories of poets and romancers, which tell of a girl's constancy—how by remaining true to her "Prince Charming," she helped to overcome all obstacles to their union, and perhaps won back her lover's affections when he was inclined to desert her for the charms and fascinations of another girl. And should we become acquainted with such a girl in real life we hold up her constancy as an example for all members of her sex to follow.

It may sound rank heresy to say so, but it is the greatest pity in the world that constancy of this character is so extolled. Not that the girl who refuses to be shaken in her allegiance to the man she loves, and ultimately leads him to a happy life by her trueheartedness, is undeserving of admiration and praise. The fault lies in the fact that by holding up such a case as a splendid example to their sex many girls get exaggerated notions and ideas as to how far constancy should be practiced in love affairs.

The result is that they are very often foolishly constant. They do not temper their love with common sense. The reader may smile, and say that "we are blind and cutesy common sense from the average girl's mind. But in many cases this is only because she possesses false, romantic and sentimental ideas as to what a girl's duty is to the man she loves.

Many a girl has ruined her life's happiness by remaining true to a man quite unworthy of her affection, through a mistaken sense of duty. Then, again, there are girls who have betrothed themselves to a man, persist in marrying him, although they are fully aware that, to a certain extent, their affections have been alienated from him by another man. Such an act cannot possibly be regarded as constancy, although some girls may think it is the embodiment of that virtue. Rather is it the duty of the girl under such circumstances to break her promise and pledge, knowing, as you do, that every word of your solemn vow is perjury, is wrong, and a good girl should not even permit herself to contemplate such a step.

It is also the greatest of mistakes, in the majority of cases, for a girl to remain constant to a man who, by his behavior, forfeits her love.

Some men are contemptible and cowardly enough to take advantage of a woman's love by threatening to ruin or kill themselves if she gives them up. A girl must know that a man who would utter such a despicable threat is an unworthy specimen of his sex, deserving no one's pity or compassion.

And there is the girl who remains constant to a man who has no reasonable prospect of marrying for many years to come. Her position is extremely unfortunate, and it is most difficult to advise her as to the limit to which her constancy should go. If a girl in such a position feels that she could not possibly love any other man and, in fact, no other member of the opposite sex has any attractions for her, there is nothing to be said against her remaining constant and true to the man she really loves. Nothing is to be gained by marrying a man for a home alone, and a girl had far better remain single and true to the man who will work if she will wait, rather than marry a man who does not really love, but who can shorten the period of waiting.

was made Tuesday, and the patient is doing as well as could be expected. Dr. Schmidt, who has been assisting Dr. Bray, returned Wednesday to his home at Chisholm.

Al. Howerton was over to Eveleth transacting business on the railroad. Dr. Howerton is confined to his room on account of a attack of typhoid fever is recovering slowly from a relapse which set in last week.

Mrs. J. C. Fleming and children have returned after a few weeks visit with their mother at Chisholm. They have recently engaged in the undertaking business.

W. W. Browne who has been a resident here for the past nine years sold out his drug business here this week to Frank Butler, who is moving into the former's place. Mr. Browne has also disposed of his property here and expects to move his family from here. It is not yet known when or where he intends going. Messrs. Myer and Shank bought the property which consisted of two business buildings and a residence.

Supt. John Lott of the Milwaukee milk attended to business at Milwaukee a few days for the company.

Alfred Lundberg, employed in John Talbot's grocery store, has purchased the building of the latter's store and expects to open a restaurant in the building. He bought it from Axel Johnson.

Miss J. C. Purney who has been on the side for a few weeks is again able to sit up.

second to none on the range, a large and well furnished room on the second floor being used by the "single fellows" who pass the nights and most of their time there, ready at a second's call to run out the fire apparatus. But it is not a question of time that the fire department headquarters will have to be enlarged when the time comes that the building is equipped with a splendid steam heating plant, which is in charge of J. J. Gaudry.

The building is equipped with a splendid steam heating plant, which is in charge of J. J. Gaudry. The building is not being used at present, but is a great improvement on the old one. The big record safe has been moved to the new building and will be placed in the vault in the spring.
